SETH AND DAN

"Speaking about stubborn peor le always reminds me of poor Seth Cox of Indian Quich," said an old pioneer from Mariposa county.

"P'r'aps, though, he added, glancing around inquiringly, "you fellows never heard of him."

A withered old miner from Nevaing Dan when he rolled over.

"And he'd 'a' won, too!' howled
Byan as he looked at the hands. da county hinted that "mebbe he was related to the Bill Cox who was hanged at Red Dog in 1861."

This the Mariposa man disputed on the ground that Seth during his Then Ryan wanted the match de-clared in favor of Seth, but the boys lifetime was too squere a man to have even been a thirty-eighth consin to the chap who had come to such an ignominious end at Red Dog.

"Why, sho," he went on, turning from the Nevada man to the four other bystanders, "Seth was as square a man as I ever met in California. He would fight if necessary and would drink as much as the next man, and what more was wanted in those days?

"But that ain't what I was going to tell you about. You see, Seth had one fault, and that was stubbornness of the cussedest kind. All one had to do was to take a stand on anything, and Seth would as naturally take a hitch on the contrary side and outhold your hand some-how, even if you had all trumps. "Seth was marshal of Indian Gulch, up our way, as far back as 1862, and, being so stubborn, he carried things pretty much his own way. If they didn't go his way, they were not likely to go any way. "Now, sho, just to give you an idea of how stubborn Seth was I'll tell you of a little incident. He had a discussion with a miner about turkey buzzaras, and just because the miner said they were stinking things Seth maintained that they were second to nothing in the poultry line. Well, the miner thought he'd take a fall out of Seth and the next day brought him a turkey buzzard and dared him to eat it—yes, wagered him $20 on it. Did he win?

Why, sho! "Seth ate the buzzard, and as he was picking the bones inquired if there was anybody else around who was anxious to pay him for eating one of the most delicious morsels in the world. That was Seth all over. He'd never give in on anything he undertook, sho!" And the Mariposa man refilled his glass.

"One day," he resumed briskly to say something, "a new miner, who said he hailed from Chinese Camp, ambled into the Gulch and made himself quite popular before night, treating everybody time and again at Red Ryan's saloon. As Marshal Se'h thought it his duty to make the acquaintance of the strange pilgrim who was so well heeled apparently with dust, it was not long before Seth and the newcomer, who said his name was Dan Fletcher, were bucking against each other at poker.

"Now, sho, that was all right, but Dan, while they were playing, began to tell how he had made the pilgrimage all the way from Poor Shoat to Angels and cleaned out every poker sharp on the road. Seth in his bull-headed way said he reckoned if he had met Dan on that journey Dan would have had to take to the willerness for want of clothes, he

"Then there was a hurricane of n argument, and finally Seth boasted that he'd put everything he had up against all Dan had and play poker until one or t'other was busted. Dan jumped at the offer, and would have been so cleaned out.

arrangements were made.

"The game was to be played in a room at John Hansen's hotel; and each man's wealth was represented by twenty-five twenty dollar pieces, which they used as chips. Seth, as marshal, proclaimed a holiday in lown until he had cleaned Dan cut, then he promised a big Lurrah. The whole town was gathered around Hansen's place, and at latervals of in hour signs were hung out as to the game. One time it would be seth is a hundred ahead and at another (France of the control of Seth is a hundred ahead and at another 'Even game, with Dan's ante other 'Even game, with Dan's ante op.' There was lots of betting on the result. Red Byan wagered his aloon against a claim that Seth would win. And, sho, all the time seth and Dan sat there flipping their cards like machines and not noticing anything outside of the ame.

"About 10 o'clock that night Dan "About 10 o'clock that night Dan as out $200, and when some of the oys took up supper for the players for they hadn't eaten anything, ou know—he growled out to take away, as no man could play cards and eat and drink too. Seth was so tubborn that he wouldn't stop eller, for fear Dan would think he as weakening. The boys set down he supper and left 'em. In the orning breakfast 23 put down orning breakfast was put down longside the untouched supper. Il they wanted was half a dozen ew decks of cards. They had worn ut four packs. Sho, no mistake, "Well, now, there's no use drawing out the agony on a thing cards.

med out so serious as that game, a anybody at Indian Gulch can ill you to this day, Seth and Dan ayed there for five days and for a nights, a seesawing and a seewing, but each as stubborn as the her and determined not to give in hey hadn't touched the meals we ok up to 'em, and they hadn't slept ther. You may say it's impossible, at just go to Indian Gulch, and a can prove it. The two men can prove it. The two men re like skeletons, and Seth was so weak that he could not deal the cards and swear at the same time. "On the evening of the fifth day some of us boys met at Ryan's and decided in the interest of humanity to interfere and make Seth and Dan wouldn't have it. Bets were de-clared off and the game called a draw. Seth and Dan had used up sixty-seven packs of cards, and their golden chips were worn as smooth

"We buried 'em side by side that day, but now comes the strangest part of the whole thing, and to show you what stubborn critters they were—that night there was a light in the room where they had been playing, and as sure as I'm here there sat Dan and Seth as natural as life, a flipping their cards and tossing their chips by the light of the ghostly candle. Maybe they didn't have that whole hotel to themselves! Sho, I guess they did! Nobody'd go nigh it. Hansen went an honest man's house and ruin his business. But nothing seemed to interfere with the game. Every night for a week Seth and Dan sat up playing, while the whole Gulch gazed at the light in the window and shivered and swapped ghost stories. At last Ryan one night said he had a mind to see how the yame swood, and he climbed up to peep in the window. Just as he did so we saw a flash of light shoot across the room, and three minutes afterward

Hansen's place was in a blaze.*
"Ryan said that as he looked in the window Seth had caught Dan cheating and had thrown the candle at him. The place was burned to the ground, and Indian Gulch felt relieved to think that the ghosts

"I should say so," gasped one of

"But sho as I'm here, gentlemen, there was a bluish blaze seen around the ashes of the burned building the very next night, and there Seth and Dan, looking as if they were made of chalk, were observed sitting on a pile of rocks that had been Hansen's chimney dipping their Gulch was scared in good earnest.

But some of us got together and de-cided that Setn and Dan must go. We dug 'em up and carted 'em five miles up a canyon and there buried em. We never saw them again in Indian Gulch, but soon afterward seen two whosts sitting under a tree and playing. But, sho, gentlemen, where are you going?"

The shriveled old miner from Nevada turned as he followed the othyou're going to yank 'em all over the country, why, go it alone." And the Mariposa man was left alone.

"Well, sho, I'm durned," mutter-ed the narrator of Seth Cox's adventures. "Reckon I'll go back to the Gulch tomorrow, where the folks are sociable and mannerly."—

Lake Dwellings in Ireland.

Probably the first records of lake dwellings were made in Ireland, where this method of habitation has been in existence from remote periods to comparative recent times. There is documentary evidence that some of the Trish crannogs were in existence and occupied in the time of Elizabeth. They were usually approached in cances and were not connected with the shore by a gangway. In Scotland a large number of similar structures have been dis-

Getting in Deeper.

Once at a reception in London an indiscreet gentleman said to Lord

North, "Who is that uncommonly ngly lady opposite to you?"

"That uncommonly ugly lady, sir,

"No, my lord," said the querist, trying to save himself; "I mean the one at her right."

"That, sir, is my daughter."

CASTORIA

The Kind You Wave Always Bought

Bears the Garly Bills

- The bent of a man's mind doesn't

-When a man sits down suddenly and unexpectedly he realizes what a

- Things that formerly came to

- The world is charitable enough to forgive the man who writes poetry be-those who waited now go to those who bard world thin is.

necessarily prove that he is intellec-

San Francisco Call.

covered.

is my wife."

"This was too much, and Indian cards as lively as ever.

were gone."

the auditors.

cause he needs the money. except a young father.

THE PUNGENT CLOVE

its Use in Cookery and the Medicinal Properties of its Oil. The clove is a well and widely mown spice of which millions of quit until they got into condition. But, sho, when we went up in the morning they were both stretched out on the floor dead—yes, siree, dead. Each had five cards in his hand, and Selh was clutching his last $20 as if he had just been callounds are marketed and consumed every year. In cookery it is employ-ed either by itself or combined with other spices in innumerable sweet preparations, such as cakes, pies, preserves, puddings, sauces, cordials and candies. As it is very pungent, care must be taken not to use it too freely. It is a valuable addition to the flavor and keeping qualities of both sweet and sour pickles. It is excellent also for the flavoring of certain meat dishes, as croquettes, boned and pressed fowl, etc. The baked or oiled ham, after the rind has been taken off, acquires a much enjoyed flavor from the cloves with which it is the custom of some cooks to dot the surface. The medicinal properties of cloves are similar to those of allspice and cinnamon, and the oil, emulsified or diluted in some way, is said to be an excellent and quickly acting remedy for nausea and stomach cramps, and it is generally prescribed for toothache. Wherever it can be conveniently employed this oil is an excellent antisentic and presenting and cellent antiseptic and preventive of molds and mildews and is also, to around crying almost and saying he didn't see why two stubborn galoots couldn't stay where they were planted instead of coming to haunt some extent, a repellent of insects.

The clove, from the French clou, a nail, is the flower bud of a tall and beautiful evergreen of the myr-tle family distinguished botanically as Caryophyllus aromaticus. The elongate part is the tube of the calyx, while the four parted head is externally the four sepals inclosing the rounded corolla, the divisions of which are united at their tips and cover the clustered stamens, also arranged in groups of four. By soaking cloves for a time in warm water all these parts may be unfolded for examination. The blossoms, when allowed to develop, are deep crim-son, arranged in clusters and of a most entrancing fragrance, and, re-lieved by the profuse dark green, pointed, oval leaves, are very showy. The succeeding fruit resembles a small olive in form and when ripe is bright red or purple.

The clove tree is a native of the Moluccas, but is grown throughout the East Indian archipelago, in some parts of Africa and of the West Indies, where it is highly esteemed as an ornamental evergreen, as well as for its choice product.

In preparation for market the buds are carefully picked while still green and slowly dried in the smoke of wood fires until they assume the brown color of the familiar spice. The ripe fruit is also, to some extent, dried and prepared for use and is sold as "mother of cloves," as are also the fruit stalks, but neither of these compares in pungency and aroma to the flower buds.—St. Louis

Days Chosen by Suicides.

some prospectors came down from the hills and said that they had Years ago the great apostle of ers in their hasty exit.

"I did think," he said, "you'd have the decency to let them two cusses rest in their graves, but if cause would account for the frequency of both occurrences in "the month of leaves and roses." Whether such is the fact or not, it is certain that there are generally more suicides in June than during any other month of the year, and few of them are committed on rainy or what are known as dark and unpleasant days.

The Fourth of July, Thanksgiving day, Christ has and New Year's day, as well as the venings preceding them, are also favorite times for committing suicide. To these may be added the anniversary of one's birth or marriage.—Exchange.

Puritanical Treatment of Boys. In Miss Earle's book, "The Sab-bath In Puritan New England," a story is told of Dr. Dakin hearing a noise while he was praying in a church at Quincy. The minister opened his eyes to discover the cause and saw a red haired boy clutching the railing on the front edge of the gallery, while a venerable deacon clutched the boy. At last the balustrade gave way and boy and deacon fell with a crash. The deacon then led the boy out of the meeting house and swishing sounds, accompanied by wails, were soon heard from the region of the horse shed.

The Number Two. In many of the legends of the North American Indians two witches or medicine women play a con-spicuous part. This may be merely a curious coincidence, but more probably it is the result of some half forgotten superstition connect-ed with the number two.

In the old world two has an evil representation, and so far as monarchs have been concerned it certainly seems to have been an un-lucky number, most of those who were second of a name having had troubled reigns or met with untime-

this signature is on every hor of the genuine Laxuitive Brome-Quining Tablets to remedy that curies a cold in one day

-A waman always does as she pleases, and it is up to a man to please

- A diplom is is a man who tells his -There is no fool like an old fool | wife everything that happens not to Many Regross May Move to Mexico.

Washington, March 26 .- Advices scoived at the Mexican embassy here tell of the recent importation to that country from the United States of 100 negroes who will be employed along the line of the Vera Crus and Pacific railroad. This move is experimental and is being watched with considerable interest. If successful results ensue, it is said that large importations from the southern States will follow in the effort to solve the present problem of finding laborers in Mexico who are alike competent and willing to work.

To an Alabama negro named McKelvin is given the credit for inducing members of his race to emigrate to Mexico. McKelvin was at one time employed on a large Alabama plantation, but later went to Mexico, where he claims to have found better wages. He returned to Alabama and distributed large circulars among the negroes telling of the advantages of the Mexican country and of the opportunities it offered young negroes who wanted work in the country. His circulars also contained as an inducement the assurance that the negroes would not be subject to the order of "white | would you?" trash." This last feature apparently proved a drawing card, for McKelvin had no trouble in persuading 100 negroes to return to Mexico with him, where he found work for them at $1.50 a day. Most of this first importation plantation of George C. Sanborn.

So far the negroes, it is said, are quite satisfied and are in turn proving satisfactory to their employers. Mc-Kelvin has made the claim that he will be able to induce a million of his race now in the Southern States to emigrate to Mexico, and several railroad contractors are endeavoring to arrange with him to return to the States and canvass the south for laborers. areturn trip within the next few months .- Special to the State.

The Hat Was Shot.

"I was out in Montana last "all." said a Pittsburg man, "and one day Lrode into a small town and saw a stranger parading around with a silk hat on. Five minutes after I had caught sight of him a cowboy opened fire on that hat from a distance of about two hundred feet. Six bullets were fired, but the tender foot never turned, nor let on that he heard the shooting.

"In ten seconds the gun was releaded and there was another fusilade. There were a hundred people looking og and shouting and laughing, but the tenderfoot kept his cack to the shooter by hanging on to the coattails of othuntil the twelfth shot had been fired. Then he calmly turned about, removed essimism noticed that June was the his hat and pland it on the ground, favorite month for marrying and and stepping back a rod or two he committing suicide. As he thought drew his gun and shot it to pieces. one was about as bad as the other, it | The remains were yet smoking when seems evident that he believes one he picked them up, crossed the square and holding the handful of old hat out to the cowboy humbly said:

"If you have a couple of months to spare, I might be willing to teach you how to handle a gun."

"But hadn't the cowboy's bullets hit the hat?" was asked.

"Every blessed one of them," replied the drummer, "but no one knew it except the tenderfoot, and he destroyed all evidence by his own shooting. The crowd took it that the cowboy had missed and raised a laugh on him, and when he straddled his cayuse and loped down the street, he looked as homesick as a dog a thousand miles from home."

He Observed Orders.

One of our well known contractors and builders, while superintending the erection of a large brick building, was approached one day by a late arrival from Ireland, who applied for a job, and was employed as a hodearrier, after being instructed that he must always carry up a certain number of bricks in his hod, says the Philadelphia Ledger.

One morning the supply of bricks ran out, and although!doing his best, the man could not find the usual number to make up his load. After gathering every brick in sight, he found he was still one brick short of the usual number.

In answer to a loud yell from the street, one of the workmen on the fifth story staging shricked down: "What do you want?"

"Throw me down wan brick," said Pat, pointing to his load, "to make me number good."

To Care a Cold in One Day Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refurd the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signa-ture is on each box. Price 25c.

-Men need soft hearts in hard

-Better be a good servant than a bad son. -It's a curious thing that women genuinely weep at weddings and pre-

- Speaks for the dead-tomb-- The real estate dealer's success depends on the ground he gains.

tend to at funerals.

Breaking It Gently.

After the ship which had come from New Zealand was tied up at the wharf Larry O'Brien was told off by his shipmates to call upon Mrs. McCarthy and break the news of the death of her husband, which had occurred on shipboard the preceding summer. The Brooklyn Esgle tells how he did it:

"Good morning, Mrs. McCarthy!" said he. "Is Denny in?" "Denny?" said the surprised wo man.

"My Denny? No, he's not in. Is the ship in?"

"Sure it is. And Denny's not got home yet? That's quare-unless something has happened to him." "What would happen him?" Mrs.

bioCarthy asked anxiously. "There's plenty of things can happen a man," said Larry delicately. 'He might have got hurted or he might have tool sick with the fever. But there's on comfort, as Father

McGinnis said once, and that is that time heals iv'ry grief." "What do you mean, Mr. O'Brien?" "I mane that if anything happened to Denny you weuldn't feel as bad about it a few months after it happened as you would right at the time,

"I suppose not," said Mrs. McCarthy. "I mind whin I lost me first husband I thought I'd never get over it. But, as you say, in a few months it was aisier to bear."

"Then, Mrs. McCarthy you'll be have been employed on the La Junta glad to know that it's now four months-nearly five-since Denny died. Sure, it can't grieve you now as much as it would if you known it at the time."

> - The surest way to stay poor permanently is to try to get rich quick. - It takes a woman to do ignobie things in a spirit that ennobles her.

- A little touch of spring, a dash of imagination, a flavor of forbidden McKelvin, it is understood, will make fruit -and you have a first-class scan-

> - A woman considers hat she makes a man a good wife when she won't let him go to the club on a rainy night for fear he will catch pneumo-- Women expect their husbands to > live up to the heroes of their favorite novels and their sons to those of the - Nine-tenths of the pianos now > made are upright, but the same proportion of pianists are downright nui-- "Like father, like son," says the old saw. But a girl may like the > son without having any use for the old man. - Quite a number of men have managed to mount the ladder of fame > ers. - Although 3 woman may have everyhing that money can buy she will not be happy unless she is allowed to speak her mind.

— Montana has a Milk river—but ers of the Cox Manufacturing Company will be held on TUESDAY, APRIL 25, 1903, in the City of Anderson, at the Farmers and Merchants Bank at 12 o'clook w. F. COX,

President. - Montana has a Milk river-but it is mostly water. - Many a man's settled opinions are settled by his wife. - Men laugh at feminine folly, but it fools them just the same.

Graceful Women

A taste for perfect figure is inseparable from a leve of the beautiful. The scents of the helictrope, violet or rose are as precious as the lovely flowers whose breath they are, and while the lives of flowers are brief and we can only enjoy them for a day, the beautiful woman gives the pleasure of her fragrance to us as a permanent bleasing. The sweet, pure breath of the babels suggestive of innocence and health—the soft fragrance of a beautiful woman suggests to the senses purity, health and elegance; she is the refinement of civilization; she is indicative of a desire to please, an index of good taste, and an unerring badge of gentility.

Bradfield's Female Regulator

egulating those lunar periods in women, perof no wrinkles, pale cheeks, tortured nerves shapeless figures. It is certain, sure and i. It is Nature's remedy, and there is no such g as cheating nature. The druggist may r some other remedy and call it "just as good" is deceiving the purchaser; but the menstrual ans will not be deceived by 2t, a permanent ry is often the result.
ry our Regulator. Of all druggists, $1.00.
Treatise on Women mailed free. THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.

Notice of Final Settlement. THE undersigned, Administrator of the Estate of Jas. M. Ramsey, deceased, hereby gives notice that he will on Friday, May 1st, 1993, apply to the Judge of Probate for Anderson County for a Final Settlement of said Estate, and a discharge from his office as Administrator.

W. S. RAMSEY, Adm'r.

April 1, 1903

41

5

Notice to Creditors.

ALL persons having demands against the Estate of G. W. Maret, deceased, are hereby notified to present them, properly proven, to the undersigned, within the time prescribed by law, and those indebted to make payment.

C. S. MARET,
C. E. MARET, Executors.

A . ril 1, 1903

Paine's Celery Compound

in the muscles, joints, and tissues, is caused by uric acid which gathers in the blood. To get rid of this poisonous acid which produces the rid of tius poisonous acid which produces the irritations, pains, agonies, inflammations, and swellings peculiar to rheumatism, Paine's Celery Compound should be used without delay. No other medicine gives such prompt, cheering, and happy results. It is the only medicine that prevents a return of the dreaded disease. Paine's Celery Compound braces the nerves, the blood is quickly cleared of all irritating poisons, tissue and muscle are built up, and the digestive organs perfectly toned. Do not treat with indifference the slightest rheumatic symptoms; the early use of Paine's Celery Compound will save you weeks and Celery Compound will save you weeks and months of suffering. Mr. S. D. Conway, St. Louis, Mo., was permanently cured by Paine's Celery Compound after repeated failures with other medicines and physicians; he says:—

"I am 64 years of age, and have lived in St. Louis 27 years, and all this time with the exception of three years, I have served in the Engineers' Department as Inspector. Last winter I contracted rheumatism and was laid up. I tried all remedies and doctors, but all failed until I struck Paine's Celery Compound, which has made a permanent cure in my case. I have recommended it to many, and they have used it with the same result."

FOR HOME USE AND ECONOMY

Anderson County Mutual Benefit Association of America.

The Anderson County Mutual Benefit Association of America writes the cheapest insurance of the day. The plan is to take one thousand people, men and women, bind them together in a business way to help each other in time of need and trouble. You only pay when one dies. If you join now your first payment pays you up until January, 1904, unless we lose one of our members, If the hand of Providence should sever the silver thread that holds the life of one of our loved ones, friend or neighbor, who would have the amount and pay expenses paid out on death claim. Consider the matter, examine and study our plan. You are, receiving insurance o protect your family at actual cost. Don't stand back, let our agencies write you up at once. The Anderson County Mutual Benefit back, let our agencies write you up at once.

If there is anything you wish to know in regard to the policy cell on any of the agents and they will take pleasure in explaining the policy to you. Remember this is the only opportunity ever presented to you at actual cost. You owe it to your family, you owe it to your self to secure their protection in case you are taken away from them. If you are over thirty years of age this is the only chance you will have of getting in. After 1,000 members have been secured no one over thirty gets in, and he only to replace a deceased member.

J. M. PAYNE, Sec. and Treas.

Notice Annual Meeting.

THE annual meeting of the Stockhold-

March 25. 1903.

CURSE

WHITE RIBBON REMEDY

No taste. No odor, Can be given in glass of water, tea or coffee without 1 ilent's knowledge. White Ribbon Remedy will cure or destroy the diseased appetite for alcoholic stimulants, whether the patient is a confirmed inebriate, a "tipler," social drinker or drunkard. Impossible for any one to have an appetite for alcoholic liquors after using White Ribbon Remedy.

Indorsed by Membars of W. C. T. U.

Mra. Moore, press superintendent of Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Ventura, California, writes: "I have tested White Ribbon Ramedy on very obstinate drunkards, and the ourse have been many. In many cases the Remedy was given secretly. I cheerfully recommend and indorse White Ribbon Remedy. Members of our Union are delighted to find an economical treatment to aid us in our temperance work."

Druggists or by mail, $1. Trial package free by writing Mrs. A. M. Townsend, (for years Secretary of a Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

218 Tremont St. Boston, Mass. Sold in Anderson by ORE, GRAY & CO.

Sept 17, 1902

18 19

Valuable Plantation for Sale.

THE undersigned offers for sale a Farm of 240 acres, well watered. There are three wells on the place, and a new barn has just been erected at a cost of $200. There is a large, fine, newly painted dwelling-house, with eight rooms, and two tevant houses—one with five rooms, and the other with four—on the Farm, all in thorough repair. The land is well adapted to cotton or grain, and is a fine location for a Physician, the nearest being eight miles distant. It is in a fine community, and convenient to school and church. My reason for selling is that I am too old to manage the farm, and want to retire. Terms and price reasonable.

G. H. BURTON,
Longmires, S. C.
March 18, 1903

39

40

General Recair Shop.

ALL kinds of Blacksmithing, Wood Work, Painting, Stimming, Rubber Tires and Rubber Horse Shoeing. All done at short notice by first-class work-men. We don't claim to be the only men. We don't claim to be the only first-class workmen in town, but as good as any in the South. Our work shows for itself. Work and Prices guaranteed. Call and see our work and get prices. Bring your Buggies and have them repaired and made as nice and good as new for Spring and Summer drives.

Yours for business,
J. P. TODD.
P. S.—Horse Shoeing a Specialty.
March 11, 1903

Notice of Final Settlement. THE undersigned, Administrator of THE undersigned, Administrator of Estate of Mrs. Lizsie S. Terrie, dec'd, hereby gives notice that he will on Tuesday, 14tr day April, 1903, apply to the Judge of Probate for Anderson County, S. C., for a Final Settlement of said Estate, and a discharge from his office as Administrator.

M. M. HUNTER, Adm'r.

March 11, 1903 38 59

Which? A lean and potash-hungry soil, wasted seed, wasted labor and idla CURES RHEUMATISM gins-A MORTGAGE. Or, plenty of Potash in the fertilizer, many bales and a busy gin-A BANK ACCOUNT. our books. They are money win-ners. We send them free to WORKS 98 Nassau St Foley's Honey and Tar for children, safe, sure. No opiates.

New Yor

Peoples' Bank of Anderson. ANDERSON, S. C.

We respectfully solicit a share of your business.

CITY LOTS FOR SALE.

SITUATED on and near North Main Street. Five minutes' walk Court House. Apply to J. F. Clinkscales, Intelligencer

Wall Papering and Painting.

THE undersigned has a superior lot of Wall Paper and Bordering which I will sell in the roll at a very low price. I will also Paper and Paint your house at a satisfactory price. If you need any papering or want your house painted give me a trial.

Feb 11, 1903 84 6m CAN YOU BEAT THIS?

I am ready to do all kinds of Wagon and Buggy work prompt. Just think of it! I will Rim and Tire your Buggy Wheels a new, first-class, for $6.00 a Set, and the regular price is $7.50. Now I guarantee my work to be first-class and to give perfect satisfaction; if not your money returned. All Spokes glued in. I will give you low prices on all Wagon and Buggy Work. What about your horse? Does he interfere, stumble or travel bad? If so bring him and let me stop it. You will find me on the corner below Jail.

W. M. WALLACE.

Foley's Honey and Tar cures colds, prevents pneumonia.

A SMALL INVESTMENT

IN h. ling Stocks often leads to for-tune. No other industry will yield such large profits.

Agency for Douglas, Lacey & Co., New York, and others.

Gold, Silver, Copper, Zino, Lead and Quicksilver Mines in Californis, Colora-do, Nevada, Arizona, Idaho, Montana, British Columbia, Mexico and Peru. - INVESTIGATE. -

Remember, we solicit subscriptions to the Capital Stock of reliable Gold Mining Companies as an investment, the same as subscriptions to Cotton Mili Stocks are made, and have nothing to do with selling futures on margins or speculation in Mining Stocks. Information furnished by W. H. Frierson, J. N. Sutherland, Investment Brokers, Brown Building, South Main St., upstairs, room 3.

MONEY TO LOAN,
Feb 4, 1903
33

S. C. BRUCE, DENTIST.

OVER D. C. Brown & Bro's. Store,
South Main Street.
I bave 25 years experience in my profession, and will be pleased to work for any who want Plates made, Filing done, and I make a specialty of Extracting Teeth without pain and with no after pain.
Jan 23, 1901

Foley's Kidney Cure makes kidneys and bladder right.

Blue Ridge Railroad. Effective Nov. 2, 1902.

12 | 10 | 8 | 4 A M P M P M P M 8 8 25 8 10 8 15 9 00 8 15 9 00 5 25 9 19 19 5 29 9 19 6 08 Cherry 10 00 2 45 7 01 nerry.

J. R. ANDERSON, Superintendent. EXPERIENCE

handsomely litestrated weekly. Largest of dation of any selectific journal. Terms, $3 : ar : four months, $1. Bold by all newsdealers MUNN & CO. 30 (Condeny, NOW YOU Branch Office, 635 F St., Washington, D. C.

Anpone sending a shetch and descriptio, and quickly ascertain our opinion free whether as invessed in in probably patentiable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patentia