George E. Prince, John O. Watkins and Ernest F. Cochran left last week for the mountains, where they are spending a few days fishing and hunting.

R. M. Martin and J. Reuben Vandiver, two clever young men of this County, who have been living in Texas a year or more, returned to Anderson last Saturday. They say there is no place like home.

There was a warm time in Anderson last week. But the soldiers were encamped in Camp Frost. Still they could hardly be supplied with ice enough. And no water in a name, anyhow.—Laurens Advertiser.

Gov. Heyward and his brigade of Coloreds had the time of their lives in Anderson last week. The Anderson hospitality will convince the Coloreds that to be a Colonel is not such an empty honor after all.—Sumter Watchman.

The 26th annual session of the South Carolina Sunday School Convention will be held in Greenville next week.

Rev. H. K. Murenson, of this city, is on the program for an address on the subject, "What is the Church Accomplishing as a Teacher of the Word of God?"

A special dispatch from the Columbia State of last Sunday from Howard, N. C., stated that Bishop Ellison Capers was seriously ill at his summer home in the mountains. The Bishop's many friends in Anderson regret to hear of his illness and will join us in wishing him a speedy restoration to health.

A new industry in Oconee County is interesting some of Seneca's most prominent business men. Initial steps were taken a few days ago toward the organization of a Peach Growers Association, the following citizens of Seneca going into an agreement to plant orchards: G. W. Gignilliat, R. H. Tribble, J. D. Morgan, Drs. W. H. Doyle, J. S. Whiting and John Hopkins.

The cotton mills in this section are among the few which have kept up their work all through the summer, some of the mills even the summer having shut down because they found it more profitable to sell cotton and to pay their employees half wages than to manufacture cloth at the prevailing price of the raw cotton and the lack of a proportionate price for the manufactured product.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lewis, of Belton, S. C., are visiting their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smith and family. Mr. Lewis is the President of the Bank of Belton, besides running a large mercantile and millinery establishment in his city.

The work on the new graded school building is progressing rapidly. When completed it will make a fine appearance.

After a lingering illness of several months Mrs. Lizzie Perry, wife of E. Perry, of Pendleton, breathed her last on Monday, the 7th inst. She was confined to her bed over four months with a complication of diseases. All that the fond husband, children and friends could do could not keep her here. She died in the triumph of a Christian faith. She was laid away in the Pisgah Churchyard in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends, Rev. D. I. Spearman conducting the funeral services, which were very forcible and impressive. The departed ones will find comfort in Him "who is the resurrection and the life."

In Column Attorney-General Guiter has handed down an opinion that railroads must carry baby carriages as passenger's baggage when it is for the comfort and convenience of passengers or in other words when passengers have babies with them. A complaint was made to the railroad commission recently that the roads were charging for the hauling of carriages on passenger trains. The commission referred the matter to the Attorney-General for the law on the matter, and the opinion means that carriages may be checked just as trunks are where the babies accompany the passenger, but otherwise the rate may be charged.

The Columbia State of the 17th inst. says: "J. C. Blanton has been appointed station master at Savannah, his duties in that position to commence on the 1st of September. This removes Blanton from one of the best railroad men in the State." Mr. Blanton married Miss Elma Osborne, a daughter of A. H. Osborne, of this city, and his friends here are delighted to hear of his promotion. The State gives him a very complimentary notice, and says the position to which he has been promoted, in a way, is more to be desired than any other place on the Savannah division of the Southern Railway.

Indications all point to a high price for canned tomatoes and lovers of this popular vegetable are advised to put up as many of them as they possibly can.

All veterans and the public generally are invited to attend the annual reunion of Co. E., 20th Regiment, U. S. C. V., at Neal's Creek Church tomorrow, 20th inst.

A few days ago, while visiting a neighbor in Broadway Township, Mrs. B. B. Breazeale met with a painful accident. She was unhitching her horse when it bit her in the side, causing a right severe wound, which was promptly dressed, and is rapidly healing.

One fact should make many new exhibitors for the State Fair.—The Society pays the freight on all exhibits grown or produced in this State, thus enabling exhibits to be sent to and returned from the fair without cost to the exhibitor.

Large numbers of our citizens enjoyed attending Gala Week at Anderson last week. And when we say that Anderson reflected honor and credit on herself and the entire up country we have but half expressed a truth. She honored the whole State.—Williamston News.

At a meeting of delegates representing the fire companies of the city last Wednesday night the following officers were elected to serve the Anderson Fire Department the ensuing year: Chief, N. B. Sharpe; Assistant Chief, W. H. McGee; Secretary and Treasurer, J. W. Tribble. The election is subject to ratification by the City Council.

Last Saturday morning about 3 o'clock a fire broke out at the cottage belonging to A. L. Welch, in the Northeastern portion of the city, was burned. The house was a new one and unoccupied. The firemen responded promptly to the alarm, but the flames were burning through the roof before they reached it. It is not known how the fire originated. It was insured for $200, which will not near cover the loss.

John D. Sullivan, a prosperous and progressive farmer of the Saluda side of Laurens County, spent a few days in Anderson last week visiting friends and relatives, and gave us a pleasant call. This year Mr. Sullivan is experimenting with a crop of tobacco, and has sent him some samples of his crop, which were very fine. He says this Piedmont section can produce a very superior grade of tobacco, which, if properly cured, will bring a fancy price. He will harvest this season about 1,000 pounds to the acre, which, at even ten cents a pound, beats cotton.

About two months ago Andy Davis, a young negro, who lived on D. B. Hall's plantation, in Hopewell Township, Newton Rice, and one of his brothers. He left home and next day returned with a shotgun. Rice and his wife, Davis' mother, were standing in the door. Davis fired at Rice and the load struck his mother in her right side. Davis was arrested, but as it was believed that his mother was not seriously wounded he was released. The woman was doing very well until last week when she grew worse, and died Sunday night. On Monday Coroner Banister held an inquest, and the jury returned a verdict charging Davis with killing his mother. He was arrested and lodged in jail.
