NEW YORK MARKETS.

MONEY MARKET.

MONEY MARKET.

The Herald, of Saturday, November 11th, reports that the money market has developed increased activity today, although no difficulty was experienced in borrowing upon first class collaterals at seven per cent. The distrust of unduly hiflated stocks, like Michigan Southern and Reading, is becoming more marked among lenders. The "Prairie Dog" corner has at the same time checked operations, both for a rise and a fall, and a partial lethargy has crept over the market in consequence of the apprehensions excited. The discount line is less active, owing to the preference shown by lenders to invest their capital at call. The banks discount for their customers at 7 per cent. but 8@10 is: the outside rafe for the best grade of commercial paper.

The gold market was steady and dull. The opening price was 146%, from which there was an advance of \(\frac{1}{2}\). The gold market has close to 146\(\frac{1}{2}\). The Ocean Queen, from Aspinwall, brought \(\frac{3}{2}\), 1247,121 in gold.

Foreign exchange was weak in the morning, but firmer in the afternoon. Bankers' bills at sixty days were quoted at 108\(\frac{1}{2}\) and 109\(\frac{1}{2}\) at short sight.

Gold quotations by White, Morris & Co., No. 20 Wall-street:
