The Annual Conference of the Jamaica Baptist Union has just been held at Spanish Town, the seat of Government. It was attended by over thirty clergymen, and a goodly number of black men, lay representatives from the different churches throughout the island. The recent disturbances, and the charges brought sgainst some of the Baptist ministers in connection therewith, formed the topic of serious consideration, and were fully discussed. A deputation of clergymen and blacks from the Conference waited upon the Acting Governor, Sir Henry Storks, and presented him with a loyal address of congratulation, in which, on behalf of themselves and the congregations represented in the Union, they disclaimed in the strongest terms all sympathy with treasonable projects, repudiated the false charges brought against certain members of disaffection to the Government, and express unshaken confidence in Government, and express unshaken confidence in the maintenance of peace and order in the coun-try. over under the rules, and other routine business was disposed of.

A lengthy discussion took place upon the report in reference to the publication of Sunday-school books, catechisms, etc. Eventually, in reference to the principal point, it was resolved to leave it to the book agent to decide whether books should be purchased or published by the church.

A resolution that the present style of the church—"The Methodist Episcopal Church South"—should be changed was offered, and carried by 109 to 22.

The discussion of the subject was even more

The discussion of the subject was even more lengthy than any of the previous ones, keeping the Conterence in session tal nearly or quite four o'clock in the afternoon. Northing new, however, was elicited upon the subjec.

Eventually, the resolutions of the report were adopted seriatim as amended. The question of the adoption of the preamble, and then of the report as a whole was laid over.

Notice was given that a train of cars would be in waiting on Canal street at half-past one o'clock to-day, to convey ministers of the church to a pic-nic, which the ladies have prepared to give them.

ence had proposed to expange that word from the name.

By another member it was argued that the present name of the church had originally convoyed a reference to the question of the relation between master and servant, and that if the views of the church upon that point are the same now as they always had been, the word "South" ought to be retained. The name "Methodist Episcopal Church" lone, he objected to as being the same as that adopted by the Northern Church. One member vehemently denounced the name "Methodist Church" as "ridiculous," "contemptible," "false in "rammar and felse in fact," "superlatively and absurdly arrogant," "not decent," etc., and he stigmatized the action of those who had supported it in a similar strain, the most modest of the epithets he applied to it, being "a concentration of hallucination." Subsequently, he explained that he did not intend any of his remarks to apply to individuals, but that generally he meant all that he had said, and would in future intensity them.

A motion was here made to insert "Episcopal" before "Methodist" in the title.

A member contended that one reason at the back of the desire of some for the retention of the word "South" was a political one; and this he thought, was the best reason that could be given for expunging it.

A resolution was offered requesting the board of bishops to select a name for the church, submit it to the annual conferences, and, on its being adopt-ed in them by a three-fourths vote, submit it to the general conference for adoption. It was de-clared out of order.

Each of these motions was lost on being put.
Then it was moved to adopt the report as a

was carried by 86 to 38.

This gave the motion a vote of more than twothirds of the members present; but the President remarked that absent members might come in this morning and vote, and that a question might arise as to whether it required two-thirds of those voting, or two-thirds of the whole number of members of the Conference to carry the motion.
At half-past 10 o'clock the Conference adjourned, to meet this morning at nine o'clock.

Deep are the mysteries of God! In the short space of t n months has a once happy household been deprived, by a tender and mercial Father, of two of the brig test lights that adorned their home. Full of the tenderest sensibilities, sancified from the cradle, her constant a-piration, "Lord, "hat will Thou have me to do?" The sudden death of a brother, who was worthy of a sister's tenderest lova, and for whose safety she had watched and prayed during the anxious years in which the land was convulsed with war, caused this fair young flower to droop, to languish and to die. "almly entering on the subject when apparently there was no certain danger, she had expressed her perfect resignation to the will of God, and declared that she had no fear of death. Her meriful Saviour was with her as she passed through "the dark valley," and lit up her as she passed through 'the dark valley," and it up her sweet face with the glories He then revealed to her.
