

The Daily News.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 16, 1866.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE STATE.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE CITY.

THE LIST OF LETTERS REMAINING in the Postoffice at the end of each week is published officially in THE DAILY NEWS every Friday morning.

LOCAL MATTERS.

OUR PRICES CURRENT.—Our Prices Current will be ready for delivery this morning, and will contain very full and accurate market reports and commercial tables.

THE WEEKLY NEWS.—The weekly edition of THE NEWS will be regularly issued every Sunday morning, and will contain all the latest telegraphic news, the latest ship and commercial news, as well as a great variety of interesting reading matter. All persons in the city wishing to be kept in their houses, will please hand in their names at our office. Advertisers will do well to take advantage of the large circulation of this issue, as we will continue to send a large number of copies throughout the country gratis, until our subscription list shall reach a satisfactory number.

THE RAIN.—We have enjoyed this month some genial bluish weather that would have done credit to the sunny Spring; but Wednesday afternoon and yesterday were specimens of genuine November, and chill blasts and penetrations were the order of the day.

DRY GOODS AT HALF PRICE.—The attention of the public in general, and of the ladies in particular, is called to the advertisement in another column of a part of the cargo of the steamship Andalusia, to be sold at half price, by Mr. T. McCARTHY, at No. 190 King street.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS TO MR. QUINN.—We are indebted to Mr. M. M. QUINN for copies of the Oregon Monthly, Delaware's Review, Illustrated Rural Register for '67, &c., &c. These, and all the light literature and periodicals of the day, can be had at the News Depot of Mr. QUINN, in King-street, opposite Anderson-street.

A PRESENT.—The courteous proprietors of the Herald street drug store, Messrs. SOLOMONS & CALDWELL, owe us thanks for favor. Messrs. S. & C., as we have already informed our readers, have as select a stock of perfumery, soaps, brushes, &c., as are to be found in the city. We trust they may have the success their taste and energy merits.

FALSE ALARM.—An alarm of fire was raised in Market street last evening, about dark, which brought one steam engine and one hand engine promptly to the spot. After diligent inquiry, we could learn of no other cause for the alarm than the crying of the New York Herald by the newsboys of the city. This is the second time, lately, that the Herald has caused a sensation in Charleston. The first time was when it came out in favor of the Constitutional Amendment.

THE SHIP GOLONDA.—We understand that there are two hundred and fifty more applicants for passage to Africa than the agent of the Colonization Society can possibly accommodate at present. These will form a good nucleus for another cargo in the Spring, and we doubt not that, by proper canvassing, a dozen cargoes could be procured. It would be a good investment for a company of capitalists to buy out Liberia, and settle it with the dissatisfied freedmen of the Southern States. It would put money in the pockets of the company, and for the South, it would be a good riddance of bad rubbish.

THE FESIAN BALL.—The second grand ball of the Fesian Brotherhood came off last night at the Hibernal Hall, with great oaks; though why the Brotherhood should monopolize all the honors of the occasion, at which the sisterhood played so conspicuous and important a part, we cannot understand. Alderman Cosenow, who was the moving spirit of the affair, is responsible, we suppose, for this slight of the fair sex, and should make the amende honorable at the next grand ball, by giving the Sisterhood a place on the card as well as a place in the picture. The well known artist, Mr. PATRICK KILROY, furnished the substantial, and with such a supper, and the music of MULLEN'S band, it was a mere matter of course that all should go merry as sleigh bells in December's snow.

AN ANCIENT UMBRELLA.—There is in the possession of one of the Locals of this paper an umbrella upwards of sixty years old. When you look at it, you no longer wonder that it has lasted so long, for it is made in the strong, substantial manner in which everything was manufactured in those good old times, when dining tables were solid mahogany, and Sunday clothes were broadcloth and not shoddy. Still the miracle remains that an umbrella, an article of personal property that everybody mislays, and many people think no harm to pilfer, should have retained a legitimate ownership for so long a period. This is partially accounted for by its conspicuous appearance, it being a blue cotton umbrella, such as in the painting of DANIEL in the lions' den. DANIEL is represented to carry under his arm to distinguish him from the lions. It is a thirty-six inch, has the handle ornamented with an ivory band, has a white stripe by way of border, and is otherwise curious and unique. Those of our readers who wish to inspect this curiosity, can do so anywhere in town, at any hour of a rainy day, for our Local is ubiquitous.

THE STREET RAILROAD.—This enterprise is rapidly approaching completion. The workmen are now employed in laying the second track in Meeting street, and at the curve on the corner of Calhoun and Meeting the earth thrown up reminds one of a fortification. It is, at any rate, a decided obstruction for the present, and the cotton drays have to bid their time in passing it. It will be rather inconvenient for a time, but the company appear to be so energetic in their movements that it is not the subject of much complaint. When the railroad is completed there will be several horses and buggies offered for sale, as the former owners will find it to their advantage to patronize the cars. We understand that it is not the intention of the contractors to lay the rails in Broad street until that thoroughfare shall be paved, as it would only cause extra work. If this is so, it will be rather inconvenient to the East Bay merchants, many of whom live in the Upper Wards. It is, however, a settled fact that after six years' talking the railroad is at last an institution, and will play an important part in restoring our old city to its former splendor.

MAYOR'S COURT, November 15.—A colored drayman took so many drinks that he could not manage his mule, and suffered him to meander about the street uncontrolled. An attentive police captured the animal and drove the owner to the lock up. The tipy driver was fined $5 for his spree. A noble youth, whose wafers were so fast and furious that he was compelled to lay his head upon the lap of earth, was found in this muddled condition. As the night was dark, he was at first mistaken for a fallen motor, but on stirring him up he proved to have some animation. He was politely requested to make some statement by presenting the city with a $5 note.

Another, who asserted in defiant tones that he had come from Ireland, but which, on investigation, proved to be only Wilmington, had come to Charleston for employment, and had applied to the hotel for lodgings. The landlord did not charge anything, but advised him not to try it again.

The heavy rain caused some unucky pedestri-ans to seek shelter, and one of them, who had too much on board, curled up in a market stall and wooed the droozy goddess. On being aroused he positively refused to accompany the policeman, and swore he would wait till the rain was over. His Honor made some allowance for the rain, and charged him only $2 for his fight.

An occasional controversy was referred to the Court for settlement. It appeared that the dignitaries of the African Church had a grand Jubilee and general immersion, induced the granddaughter of the defendant to become a convert. Had, by force of persuasion, induced the granddaughter of the defendant to become a convert. This incensed the feelings of the ancient dame terribly, as she belonged to another church, and in her wrath and just indignation she went to the church during service and commenced vilifying the clergy and others. They resented the intrusion and handed her over to a policeman. The Mayor decided that she was guilty of a trespass and disturbance of a serious character, and fined her $5 for disturbing the House of God.

AN INFALLIBLE WAY OF FINDING LOST CHAR-LETONS.—Don't go to the fortune-tellers of Char-leston or write to the sooth-sayers of New York. Don't question Madam Salmagunda or consult Mademoiselle Cirinola Tiltaronesa Pitanzonouki, No. 1777 Broadway, N. Y., for they are false prophets, and the truth is not in them, but advertise your lost goods in THE DAILY NEWS, and call for them at 12 M. Why? It is better than a detective office, even that omniscient little affair that has its two great eyes always watching, one on Broad street and one on the City Park. Enough of precept—here is an example: On Wednesday afternoon a fireman lost a silver watch and chain, a valuable family heirloom, in Chalmers street, and was greatly distressed thereat. With that promptitude and good judgment so characteristic of a fireman, he immediately brought an advertisement to the office of THE NEWS. At 9 o'clock the next day the watch and chain were in his pocket. The advertisement only cost him 75 cents. Behold a lesson on the cheapness and utility of advertising!

A MISSING SOLDIER.—The confused condition of the whole Southern country at the time of the close of hostilities, caused the disappearance of many men in such a way that their distressed families were left in a state of harassing uncertainty in regard to their fate. The anxiety thus created is worse than even the dreadful certainty of their death; and consequently every effort is made by the friends of the missing men to ascertain what has become of them. Advertisements, giving descriptions of soldiers who have thus disappeared, and asking for information about them, are frequent, and are always published free of charge. The following is the last of the kind that has come under our notice:
TERESA ROSA WATSON.—Samuel Johnson, about 5 feet 11 inches high, slender built, dark complexion, about 89 years old, a member of Co. G, First Ga. Regulars, was last seen on the train at Florence, S. C., for Sumter Co. H., upon after the surrender. He was at that time in very feeble health, suffering with rheumatism and diarrhoea. It is supposed that he died on the road from Sumter Co. H. to Washington. Any information from him would be gratefully received by his wife, Mrs. Harriet E. Johnson, Covington, Ga.
The press generally will confer a favor on a distressed family by copying the above notice.
(Covington, Ga., Enterprise.)

THE EYE AND EAR.—Read DR. GARDNER'S advertisement.

BIVALVES.—Many of our readers will, upon seeing this notice, exclaim, "Ah! I wish I had a nice one—a real jolly, fat mill-pond oyster." Then we know he will be perfectly delighted to learn from "THE DAILY NEWS" that such a luxury can be had in Charleston. Walk your way to George's, in Hasel street, and ask him for a dozen on the half-shill, pay your money, smack your lips, and buy a dozen copies of "THE NEWS" with this notice to send to your friends; and then tell every body you see that George keeps not only mill-ponds, but a No. 1 restaurant in the bargain.

SOUTHERN DRY GOODS HOUSE.—EPPIN & ZEMANSKY.—The above fashionable dry goods emporium is situated at the southeast corner of King and Wentworth streets, where the ladies of Charleston most do congregate. It is at once the centre of the city and the centre of attraction. A new, extensive and well selected stock of goods has just been received, and such a display of fine stuffs and beautiful colors has seldom greeted the eyes of our fair shoppers. For interesting details, see advertisement.

THE CHARLESTON HOUSE.—To ladies purchasing dry goods for their country friends, Messrs. SROTT, WEAZ & Co. will guarantee to furnish them with a larger variety to select from than any house in the city; also, to sell all articles at as low prices as they can be had anywhere. Will furnish packing cases, any size, free of charge; will take special care in packing and shipping any orders entrusted to them, and will assure all that will call at their store of every accommodation and every attention.

THE NEW YORK HERALD'S City of Mexico correspondence is dated October 29, and gives most interesting details of MAXIMILIAN'S abdication. The fact of his intention was unknown until he was already ready to start. On the road he met General CASTELNAU, but made only a passing salute, and would not admit of a conference. Later it was thought he would return to the capital, but in that case Marshal BAZAINE had intended to send him under guard to Vera Cruz. CASTELNAU was being treated very cavalierly by BAZAINE, who is busy making new contracts for army supplies, and for a length of time which does not look to a speedy departure of the troops. As soon as MAXIMILIAN is known to have left the country, BAZAINE will declare himself dictator.

THE MARION FIRE ENGINE COMPANY.—This City has, in accordance with the sentiments of the citizens generally, determined to procure a STEAM FIRE ENGINE AND APPARATUS, of the most approved pattern. They therefore solicit the liberal aid of their fellow-citizens to enable them to pay for the same. The Company refer to their services for the past twenty-seven years in the Fire Department in aid of this appeal.

A COMMITTEE, consisting of W. RONAN and A. HAMILTON, will call upon the citizens for their contributions.
HENRY L. OALDER,
November 15
Secretary Marion Fire Engine Co.
