New Orleans Market.

New Orleans Market. NEW ORLEANS, Dece uber 22.—Corrow—The market opened this morning subject to the same influences that prevailed yesterday, and has continued dull and droop-ing throughout the day. The offerings were quile hibe-ral, and factors were disposed to sell, but buyers showed little willingness to operate unless at concessions to which the former were ill-inclined to submit. Under these circumstances the sales were of a restricted character, footing up at the close barely 2100 bules, taken by four-teen brokers, at prices indicating a decided tondency to inside figures. Referring to the above remarks, we re-peat as follows, assimilating to the Liverpool classifica-tions: Ordinary, 26a27c; good ordinary, 28a29c; low mid-dling, 30a31c, and middl ng 32c. The continued unsatificatory position of exchange exercises a depress-ing influence in operations.

THE CHARLESTON MARKET. FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY EVENING, DECEM

BER 27.

COTTON .- The continually receding price of gold, and the consequent decline in the rate for storling bills, has had a depressing influence on the Cotton market throughout the week; this, with a slight falling off in price at Liverpool, say from 14%d. to 14%d., have been the most prominent causes for keeping the staple in a dull and declining condition. Under these adverse influences the article has come down in price about 2 cents B lb. from our quotations of Friday last, with very limited sales, factors in many instances preferring to take the chances of the future and hold their stocks, to selling at the provailing figures. The receipts at this point have en 7150 bales of all kinds this week, against 5969 the week before. The exports have been 7783 bales, and the week previous 2429. The daily features of the trade here for the past week are as follows:

A rapid decline in gold caused a dull market on Friday, purchasers acting with caution, and factors who were disposed to realize had to sell at about ½c. off. Sales some 330 bales, the closing quotations being 32½@33c. for Low Middling, 33½c. for Middling, and 34½@35c. for Strict Middling Cotton.

On Saturday the downward tendency of prices continued, and the rates fell off fully Ic. 7 ib, with sales of 100 bales-prices too irregular to be quoted.

On Monday, dullness still characterized the market, the transactions being generally in favor of the buyer, with sales of 175 bales, on the basis of 32c. 3 18 for Middling Cotton.

Tuosday being Christmas, there was no business trans acted.

On Wednesday buyers were disposed to operate, but holders were in many cases withholding their Cotton, expecting a favorable change in the market, and the transactions were about 231 bales, Middling Cotton selling for 31 %a32c.

Yestorday the market was flat, and prices declined a half cent 3 lb. Sales about 200 bales, viz: 17 at 29; 21 at 30; 66 at 31; 41 at 311; 21 at 32; 6 at 3215. We quote ton continue moderate, say about 533 bales for the past week. The sales have been to a greater extent than heretofore, and the article closed rather firmer, but without important change. The transactions amount to about 400 bales, at about previous rates, viz: Common, 53@70c. P IL; Mcdium, 75@90, and Fine at $1@1 40. Floridas are selling at 50@80c. 9 lb, as in quality.
