LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE STATE LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE CITY.

STHE LIST OF LETTERS REend of each week is published officially in THE DAILY NEWS every Friday morning.

LOCAL MATTERS.

UNITED STATES COURT.-Mrs. MARY HART TS. SALAS & Co.-Mrs. MARY HART ES DECOTTES & SALAS.-Libels for demurrage. The testimony in this case was concluded, and the argument for the defence made by Judge Magnath. General Con-NER followed, and the argument for the libellants will be concluded by J. B. CAMPBELL, Esq., to-day.

CHRISTMAS PRESENT.-Messrs. W. S. CORWIN & Co., Grocers, King street, have our most grateful thanks for their Christmas present. It came at a happy moment, and was greatly enjoyed. We trust our friend BEDFORD, who manages so efficiently the concern, may live to see many more returns of the festive season, and always be as clever a fellow as he is now.

THE SCHOONER GRAPESHOT .- An information in the nature of a libel was filed on yesterday in the United States District Court against the schooner Grapeshot, her tackle, apparel and furniture, for a forfeiture for a violation of the Revenue Laws. We learn that the Hon. HENRY Buist has ben retained for the defence of the schooner. The case will be heard before Judge Bryan at an early day LIFE BOATS .- Attention is directed to the very important notice in "THE NEWS," of this morning, by the Collector of this port, in reference to the law requiring life boats and other apparatus to be affixed to every steamer carrying passengers.

CHURCH DECORATIONS .- An unusual stir seems to have been made by the young ladies of the Episcopal Churches of our city in decorating them for Christmas. Grace Church is beautifully dressed in its holiday garb, though many persons say St. Paul's has taken the lead. That centre cross arch quite chaste; but the altar piece is mostly admired. and reflects great credit upon the fair chorister who made it.

ACCIDENT TO THE STEAMSRIP E. B. SOUDER. As the steamship E. B. Souder, for New York, with a full cargo of cotton, rice, &c., was crossing the Bar on Wednesday night about 11 P.M., the man who was directed to watch the buoys made an error by which the ship was given the wrong course and placed ashore. She remained there until Thursday at 11 o'clock when, through the skilful management of the captain, she was rescued and brought to the city, with loss of rudder, rudder post, and leaking.

THE GREAT PEDESTRIAN. - Another has been added to the numerous isms of the day. Pedestrianism holds up her head, or rather, puts down her fect. Mr. JOHN SHEPARD, in his advertisement, very navely says that he will "commence his feat to-morrow afternoon." We had a look at the great man yesterday at his stamping ground, "the Live Oak Club." His walking feat is performed in a room on the ground floor of the building. Here the great man is engaged day and hit each other, were fined $5 each for drawing night, walking up and down the room. He is dressed in a close liting "fancy" costume. His pas de seul is at the rate of three miles per hour.

SAVANNAH AND CHARLESTON RAILBOAD,-The proliminary steps were taken, a few days since, for the organization of this Company, a charter for which was obtained at the last session of the General Assembly of the State. The Company will be composed of those who were the holders of the second lien, first mortgage, bonds of the late Charleston and Savannalı Railroad Company, for whose benefit the road was purchased at the late sale made in this city. It is the intention of the gentlemen who have the matter in charge, immediately after the organization, to take stops to put the whole road between this city and Savannah in complete running order. We hail this as an auspicious omen of progress, and a sure sign that there is life in the old land yet.

IMPORTED STOCK .- The annual meeting of the Jockey Club is fast approaching, but the war and its results have nearly destroyed the vitality of that once popular institution. Although the racetrack is still patronized, it is murely in a desultory manner, but the time is fast approaching when the Jockey Club will again resume its sway. The love of fine and fast horses has always been a predominant trait of the Southern people, and Messrs.

Douglass & Co. aware of this have imported a for sale. These are from the finest Northern stock and possess many attractions that would recommend them to a purchaser; they can be seen for a few days at the stables of these gentlemen in Pinckney street centuries has been the puzzle of the world. Our of the Bible. The Young Ladies' Bible Class to readers may not generally know that there is a their former Teacher a very neat and handsome beautiful miniature representation of it in our silver pitcher, with china cup and saucer; their city, and that Mr. J. H. JUNGBLUTH is the happy present Teacher with a large, massive, beautiful posse sor. Crowds go there to see this great master-piece, and watch as the stately trumpeter tributed among the children, about 215 in numblows the hour. Mr. J., at the railroad junction, ber, and never before have we witnessed such corner Meeting and Wentworth streets, keeps a happy, joyous faces as were there exhibited. All very neat and comfortable saloon, with the best of everything to cheer and gladden the inner man. Lager, always cool, fresh and live; Hock of every vintage, and every other beverage known to the most fastidious connoisseur. Those who are tec- well wishes and friendly regard in the shape of a totally inclined can have their tastes gratified, as most beautiful cake, in which was imbedded a friend J. lives in the immediate vicinity of the artering. This cake was presented by the Paster for sian well.

in their ruins a man, named Thos. FREAN, his mule and dray. Freak had been accustomed, for some time, to keep his dray in the building, and on yesterday morning repaired there for the purpose of off last night, at the hall of the Bruderliche Bund harnessing up; while thus engaged the wall, weakened by a high wind, fell, and he was struck down gratuitously for the purpose. The large hall was by the bricks and instantly killed. Assistance was promptly rendered and the unfortunate man dug meeting of the Germans since the Schillerfest, in ont, but life was extinct.

Coroner Whiring immediately summoned a jury who rendered a verdict that he came to his death on the other; and their flaxen haired heads and by the falling of a wall on Cordes street, occasioned blue mischievous eyes were a pleasing sight to any by the neglect of the proper authorities in not but the most cynical old bachelor. The friends having said wall pulled down. Mr. FREAN leaves a wife and six children, who were dependent on as the friends of the cause; hence such a monster his exertions. The remainder of the wall was subse quently pulled down by the authorities, and the danger of further harm removed.

"He that Pitieth the Poor, &c."-Nothing | bers 300 pupils and 25 teachers. To Professor A. J. affords us greater pleasure than to be privileged Hoffman, the superintendent, is due the principal charity, however, there is a great difference. Some Saviour's mandate of not letting their right hand know what the left hand doeth. There is much MAINING in the Postoffice at the choice, also, in the objects of your charity, and in the manner of its bestowal. Bis dat ani cito dat. We have heard of an act of this kind within the last few days. A gentleman, residing in the North, an officer of the United States army, and before the war stationed in the vicinity of this city, sent Dr. R. LEBBY fifty dollars, with the request that the same be distributed among such of the ladies of this said officer's former acquaintance as are now in necessitous circumstances. Dr. L. informs us that a similar amount had been sent him before by the same donor, and for the same object.

THE MODERN EXODUS .- Every exchange we meet contains lengthy notices of the movements of the freedmen, and ment on is made how many are leaving each section for fairer or more productive lands. Whether this class are induced to emigrate by a prospect of higher wages, a desire to known writers of German hymns.) These several see the world, or their natural nomadic disposition, it is difficult to say. That they are leaving, and in no small quantities, is a solemn fact. Florida, Mississippi, and Southwestern Georgia are the promised eldorados, where they will not have to work by the sweat of their brow. "Westward the Star of Empire holds its way." That westward progress resulted in the extermination of the "poor Indian," and it is feared that the black man will, in a few years, be a rara avis in any but the Western States.

This emigration or exodus arose from no desire to push the former slaves to the wall, and thus force them away, but it has been accomplished by their own free valition, superinduced by the better prospects held out to them in States where the ravages of war were not felt. It has, indeed, been resisted, and efforts made to offer superior attractions, and thus render their old homes the most desirable.

These measures have proved abortive, and the trains, heavily loaded with their living freight, which are to be seen every day leaving the State, are proof conclusive that this movement cannot be controlled. The knowledge of these facts led to the formation of the Immigration Bill presented is certainly very tasty, and the crown and cross in the last session of the Legislature, and passed by those who understood these circumstances and had the welfare of their country at heart.

MAYOR'S COURT, December 27 .- A husband and wife, of so affectionate a disposition that not even a bottle of whiskey is allowed to stand between their love, were up before his Honor for emptying too many flasks down their throats, and raising a conjugal riot that was as noisy as a street row; but having been locked up all night, the Mayor thought they had been punished enough, and discharged thom.

William Quash, a colored man, who got drunk, and consequently noisy, was fined $5.

An individual with one eye, but whose sight had been so improved by looking through a quart hottle of "red-eye" as to enable him to see "stars," was picked up from the street, and deposited at the Guard House on the softest kind of plank, for which he paid this morning $5, and retired with a 'vink."

Edward Mazyck and Isaac Moy, two "cullered gemmen," who got into a dispute about a matter of some seven months' standing, and would have got to blows, but that they didn't attempt to crowd in the street.

Dixon Ingraham, a dark and mysterious youth who was caught with a piece of brass in his hand. as he was coming out of an establishment, which it was supposed he was going to dispose of for his own benefit, was sent to a magisirate.

A PLEASANT REUNION.—Among the mary little incidents connect: d with ur Christmas festivities. we cannot refrain from giving some account of the Sabbath School celebration, connected with the Citadel Square Paptist Church, which was most imposing and interesting. At an early hour Monday afternoon the children, with their parents, teachers and friends, collected in the body of the Church, all with joyous hearts and anxious faces. They were entertained for a short time by their old friend, familiarly known by them as Uncle PETE, with some of his amusing anecdotes. After which the children sang some three or four upon their much loved teacher. They were then formed in classes—the smaller children being placed in front and marched to the Sabbath School Room to await the distribution of gifts from the Christmas Tree, so generously prepared by their friends. The evergreens about the room were arranged with great taste. As the children took their scats a crowd of visitors poured in, and the room was soon completely filled. Mr. S. Y. Tup-PER having been requested by the ladies to dispair of magnificent blooded bays, which they offer tribute the gifts, made a few neat and appropriate remarks; after which he proceeded to present to the Pastor, Officers and Teachers of the School the many beautiful presents that had been selected for them. Many of the classes made special gifts to their Teachers-among which we would mention the Young Men's Bible Class presenting their pres-THE GREAT CLOCK the Strassburg Minster for ent and former Teachers each with a beautiful copy silver pitcher. The gifts were then generally disseemed well satisfied.

After this, the Young Men's Bible Class invited the Young Ladies' Bible Class into the Pastor's study to receive, at their hands, a token of their the young men, and received for the young ladies JUNGBLUTH has been "mine host" for a score of by their Teacher, with appropriate remarks. The children were seated near the entrance of the hall, girls on one side and boys but the most cynical old bachelor. The friends and relatives of every child were present, as well as the friends of the cause; hence such a monster representation of the Teuton element.

Miss R. a favorite cantatrice, sang "Der Deutsche Knabe," with great celat. Madamo P.'s aria, however, from Der Freidschutz, was generally adjudged the gem of the evening. Several members of the Sængerbund kindly volunteered their services, and sang "Der Tag des Herrn" and "Jugerchor," with very fine offect. Young ladies, members of the Sunday School, performed several pieces on the piano, and acquitted themselves to the satisfaction of all.

Professors Deden and Ecker contributed their aluable services, and the school is much indebted to them. The children sang several songs very sweetly and keeping excellent time, speaking well for their teachers.

The hall was beautifully adorned. Ivy leaves intertwined around the candelabras. On one end of the hall was the inscription, Ehre sei Gott in der Hoche ("Cloria in excelsis"); on one side of the hall "LUTHER" was inscribed, and "GERHARD" on the other. (PAUL GERHARD is one of the best quasi mural tablets were tastofully wreathed in evergreens.

All passed off well, and everybody seemed to enjoy himself. The proceeds of this concert are to be devoted to the replenishing of the library of the Sunday School, and we hond the Superintendent met with sufficient success to warrant him in soon arranging for us a second concert of the

Among those present we were pleased to notice Gen. John A. WAGENER, our distinguished representative to the General Assembly.

CHRISTMAS AT THE CITY HOSPITAL.-This is one of the greatest triumphs of Christianity that the poor man is not despised because of his poverty; is not asked to forget his manhood. There have been great changes and improvements in the various elecmosynary institutions of society within the past fifty years. An almshouse is no longer a penitentiary, nor a hospital necessarily a pest-house. We are glad to be able to say that our City Council have made considerable progress toward arriving at this truth.

The City Hospital, in Mazyck street, is one of the noblest charities our city can boast of. With the various dispensaries in the different wards, it is under the general supervision of the chief health officer of the city, supported by the city in part, and partly by the United States Gouernment. Drs. F. PERRE PORCHER and S. C. BROWN are the physicians in charge. Mr. AETHUR FAIRLEY, steward: and Mrs. FAIRLEY, matron. There are at present 145 patients and attendants. Of the former 58 are colored, and 57 white. There are, besides these, at present 22 sailors in the hospital, who occupy a ward to themselves.

All these poor fellows had a jolly time on Christmas. The white days in their calendar are necessarily few. To be poor is bad, but to be poor and sick is the height of human misery. were glad to learn, th refore, that Dr. GEORGE S. PELZER directed a fine dinner to be prepared, that the inmates may for one day forget that they are the recipients of the world's cold charity.

Accordingly the Steward, having carte blanche, with the aid of the housewifely Matron and his colored staff-Gaillard, Charlotte and Jeff-set to work and got up a dinner that would have been no discredit to the Charleston or the Mills House. The bill of fare for Christmas day was as follows:

Breakfast.—Ham, hominy, butter, sausages, bread, biscuits and coffee.

Eggnog at 10 o'clock A. M.

Dinner.—Chicken soup, ham, turkey, chickens, roast fowl, pork and cabbage, potatoes—Iris 1 and sweet, beets, turnips and bread.

Desert.—Blane mange, jellies, fruit pies, preserved quinces, huckleberres, egg plums and grape jelly. Apples, oranges, raisins and dried figs.

igs. Supper.—Tea, bread, biscuits, butter and cheese. All enjoyed the day, and the feast; every body was in the best of humor, and notwithstanding all restraint had been removed and everybody was allowed to do as he pleased, there was no unto ward incident to mar the good feeling of the day. His Honor the Mayor visited the institution in the afternoon. We passed turough the Hospital next morning, and still found the smile of contentment, and a bonhommie that only a good dinner can bestow, upon the face of every one present.

The patients passed a paper round, which re ceived the signatures of as many as were "scholards," thanking their honored Steward for the uniform kindness they have met at his hands. Another pleasing incident we must not forget to mention. Early on Christmas morning, such of the colored inmates as were able to walk about. came to Mr. FARRLEY's door and honored him and his family with a Christmas carol, when they were asked in and received seasonable refreshments.

We walked over the several sick wards and dining rooms, over the kitchen, the dispensary, and all the premises connected with the Hospital and found everything neat and clean; a place for everything, and severything in its place. The building is an old one, and the floors particularly much worn, but all most scrupulously clean. The insane wards and cells, recently constructed on the premises of the old Work House, are admirably adapted for the purpose. The unfortunate creatures can be kept here in security, and at the same time have ample space for wholesome exer-

Mr. John E. Torlay, the gentlemanly and efficient apothecary of the Hospital, assisted largely in the preparations for the great Christman festi val. He takes the greatest interest in the institution. Indeed, we were agreeably struck with this trait in all the attendants. No wonder, therefore, that everything goes like clock work. Christmas, 1866, will not soon be forgotten by the patients of the City Hospital.

THE ALMS HOUSE, we regret to say, was no equally favored on Christmas Day, Our City Fathers for some reason to us unknown, have pursued rather a stepmotherly policy towards this institution. The Board of Commissioners do all they can with the limited means at their command. Every other public building in this city h is been put in thorough repair; some at great exponse. The Alms House alone is still in the dilapid ated c. ndition in which the close of the war found it. The floors are decayed, the roof is very defective, and various other repairs are absolutely necessary. The floors are decayed, the roof is very defective, and various other repairs are absolutely necessary. The inmates receive, perhaps, a sufficiency of food, but we know the provision for clothing is utterly inadequate. Christmas, too, passed by, without deigning to remember the unfortunate inmates. The institution at present numbers fifty-seven persons, including whites and colored.

Besides these, the Board of Commissioners, as the city's almonary also, have charge of the "out-the city's almoners, also have charge of the "out-door pensioners," who draw daily rations here. There have been as many as 1018 persons drawing these rations. By a recent re-examination into the necessities of the pensioners, the number was reduced, so that only 400 rations are now issued daily—each of these rations consisting of a loaf of broad and a haif pound of fresh beel. H. M. Manneaur, Esq., is the Master of the establishment; Mr. d. M. Surven the Clerk and Doorkeeper, and Dr. J. Toon Propagat the Physician. r. J. FORD PRIOLEAU the Physician.
