THE STREET RAILWAY .-- The cars have been run ning on the Wentworth and Rutledge street line for some days, and have only added to the general satisfaction with which this enterprise has been greeted by-every citizen. The distant localities are now brought within easy communication with each other, and business men have time to digest their meals and take a pleasant ride, instead of toiling through the dusty streets on foot. While all of the conveniences are gratefully appreciated, and the institution well patronized by the travelling public, yet it appears that the labor of pulling a car load of passengers is rather heavy work for one horse, and although the cars are a trifle smaller, they can be made to hold the same number, for their capacity is elastic.

THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION Ennounces that the Rev. Dr. Smyrn, of the Second Presbyterian Church, will deliver a sermon before them in Bethel Methodist Church, to-morrow eve ning, the 30th inst., commencing at 7 o'clock. Although the church selected for the delivery of this discourse is not so central in its location as others, nevertheless we expect to see it crowded by persons from every part of the city, as the occasion of hearing this excellent minister is one not to be alighted. The young men of this city are especially invited to be present, and they cannot spend the last Sunday evening of the year in a better manner than by listening to a discourse which will contain much to benefit them in the future, and assist them in commencing the new year prop-

Union Wharves .- When last we visited this locality, in August, we thought our public-spirited fellow-citizen, T. D. WAGNER, Esq., was on a forlorn hope at the foot of Pinckney street; but a few months have wrought a great change. The wreck of the old wharves is replaced by a most substantial struc ure. Pier No. 1 is really a fine one, with a corresponding shed. The counting houses on the wharf also make a very presentable appearance. Workmen are still engaged on Pier No. 2, which will soon be ready for the largest ships. Another marked improvement, noticeable on the premises, is a good fence enclosing Pier No. 1, fronting Concord street-two large gate ways, opening thereon, insuring privacy at night. Order is to be preserved in day-time also, we judge from the inscription over the entrance, "Keep to the right.'

WE HAVE MUCH pleasure in publishing the subjoined communication from Dr. CHISOLM. The letter referred to was published in our paper by particular request:

OFFICE No. 74 HASEL STREET, } December 28, 1866.

Mr. EDITOR: I regretted much to see in your issue of this morning a letter, signed by one of my patients, who, without my knowledge or consent, gave to your readers an expression of her thankfulness for benefits received. Such communications through the public journals are rightly condemned by the profession as tending to charlatanism, and are always annoying to the persons named. Patients who adopt this method of giving vent to their feelings of gratitude, however good their motives may be, do injury, and not benefit to their medical attendant.

JULIAN J. CHISOLM M D

HAMLET—"The air bites shrewdly; it is very cold." HORATIO—"It is a nipping and an eager air." Although this conversation took place in by-gone years, and in a colder climate, yet the same remarks could have been applied with equal force to the weather of the past few days. Since the recent rain, old Boreas has roused himself and howle around the corners of houses and nips the ears of the unoffending passengers in a disagreeable and vindictive manner. Walking, under these circumstances, is far from pleasant; the stern sex bend to the blast, and tiltarcens are forced to seek refuge in the friendly shelter of the street cars. These last have redoubled their popularity, and the jingle of the bells is as music to the ear, and is hailed by the weary and storm-bent as a signal of rest and as a refuge from their troubles.

As our Northern brethren are now in the full en joyment of the skating season, it was evidently thought but fair that the South should see what ice was. Unfortunately we have no fresh water ponds in this vicinity, but an open drain at the corner of Market and Church streets was improvised into a skyting ground, and practiced upon buzzards, who skirmished over it with equal agilileft, the wind came round to the northwess and barrels, or 1200 bales of compressed cotton. She brought the full feeling of winter upon us. We has recently refitted, and has accommodations for must regard this cold snap, however, as merely a 25 cabin passengers; the state-rooms being larger spirt, and look for a return of moderate weather

In the last month great activity has taken place in this trade, and the cotton bales are piled so closely that locomotion is somewhat impeded. Few wharves are more patronized than the Accommodation, and the facilities sixteen years before the war this was his home; it offered there for business render it fully worthy of

An individual, not of surpassing beauty, was reported by his wife for getting drunk and breaking up the furniture of the house, which had been so well done, on the testimony of an officer, that there was not a piece left larger than a man's hand, was fined $5. Hans, in his defence, stated that his vrow got tight off of his fowls-that is, she stole his poultry and bought whiskey-and that he had been placed to his credit. NEGRO EMIGRATION .- The Atlanta Intelligencer says:

Not a day passes but large numbers of the negro population take their departure westward over the State Road. We have been informed that not less than a thousand per week are thus transported on their way rejoicing to the rich Mississippi bottoms. They are collected up in various sections by agents, and it is said that all sorts of inducements are offered them. A group may be seen at the car-shed every day, awaiting shipment.

The same can be said of this city, with the exception that the sable emigrants from the Palmetto State seem to prefer the Land of Flowers for their goal. They have probably heard of its paradisical qualities, and anticipate a life of indolent ease. Be this as it may, they are on the wing, and for the last two days might have been seen in groups in our city, so that, if we did not live in the piping times of peace, we would think that they were a lot of hands to work on the fortifications. These negroes all seem in good spirits, and anticipate a fine time in their future home. At the present time the want of labor is a great evil, and the loss of so many valuable hands is to be deplored, especially as the planting season is about to commence; but what is our loss may be their future gain, and although we miss their services we bid them God speed.

EXTRA MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL.-Present The Mayor, Aldermen GERDTS, SMALL, STEIN-MEYER, OAKES, HONOUR, MARSHALL, ENSTON, WHIL-DEN, COSGROVE, COURTENAY, RAVENEL, PRINGLE, OLNEY, WILLIS, BUTLER and WRAGG.

Alderman Olney being present was qualified. The election of W. L. CLEMENT and V. C. DIBBLE as Teachers of the High School was confirmed. The budget was read as follows:

A letter from Inspectors and Measurers of Lumber asking what fee they should charge, as several changes had occurred, and requested Council to take action in the matter. The Mayor stated that last year they were allowed to charge 50 cents per 1000, but that they should now be confined to the charge prescribed by law.

Alderman HONOUR offered the following: The Committee on Relief, in January last, in The Committee on Relief, in January last, in reporting on an application of sundry merchants, in relation to the fees charged by the Measurers and Inspectors of Lumber, stated that the parties agreed that a charge of 50 cents per M feet would be just and equitable, and the Committee recommended that such should be the charge. It since appearing that this was in contradiction to an Act of Legislature, the Committee now recommend that the permission to change be now rescinded.

ment and Relief. Petition of Eliza S. Lee, colored, widow of Lee, long known to the community, stating that she was in old age and poverty, that her son had lost his reason, and prayed Council to have him sent to the Asvlum. The Mayor stated that the City Hospital afforded many advantages to test the insanity of a patient, and that many placed there had been discharged cured, but left the matter to Council, and the case was referred to the Committee on Retrench-

Mr. RAVENEL, as Chairman of Committee to burn the city bills, tendered his resignation. Granted by vote of Council.

SHIP-WARMING .- Our readers from time to time have been advised of the progress of trade between Baltimore and Charleston. A few of our enterprising citizens, taking advantage of this tide, have united with citizens and corporations of Balt.more and established the "Baltimore and Charleston Railroad and Steamship Company." The arwith great colat by sundry small darkies, until rival of the flag-ship of this line in our waters was the, broke the ice, when it was resigned to the the occasion yesterday of a pleasant reunion of stockholders and a few friends of Captain REED. ty and preserved their equilibrium astorishingly. The company, on coming on board the Falcon, Christmas week has generally been with us made a tour of inspection. She is a substantial warm and pleasant, and the past Christmas Day built ship, of 672 tons burden, 180 feet long, 34 was most delightful; but immediately after it had feet beam, 16 feet hold, with a capacity of 5000 than usually found on coasting ships. Her rigging is the improved wire rigging, and machinery, sails, spars, all of the very best-description.

The collation spread in the saloon next claim the attention of the visitors. Captain Rwen pre-LARD, Mayor; Alderman E. W. MARSHALL; ANDREW SYMONDS, President of the First National Bank; factors, who have been living in a rather crowded Esq., L. E. HERTZ, Esq., A. R. CHISOLM, Esq., and condition in the opposite range, hailed the com- the agents, J. L. Tobias, of Mordecai & Co., and Messrs. Courtenay & TRENHOLM, and other merchants, together with representatives from the

Mercury and CHARLES ON DATES NEWS. If the passengers of the Falcon fare half as well as our party did yesterday, Capt. REED will have a vote of thanks and a chronometer presented at the end of every voyage.

After ample justice had been done to the Steward's cutsine, E. Larres, Esq., proposed in very Accommodation Wharf has recently been im- | complimentary terms the success of the Baltimore platform, which affords ample protection to the Line. Responded to by Capt. REED, who said that from boyhood he had been associated with the commerce of Charle ton-in the good old times when the packet ships of John Fraser & Co. carried their signal-flags to the Eastern world. For was his home during the war, and here he takes his place to do his duty in the day of her temporary adversity. He said he was no public speaker that the high seas was his scene of action, with life and property in his keeping. If these trusts were faithfuly performed, his ambition would be gratified. He concluded by offering as a sontiment: "The City of Charleston-May her commerce increase and prosper through all time."

His Honor the Mayor replied in his usual carnes manner; alluded to the establishment of this line a large share of the stock of which was owned by our citizens, as the best evidence that Charleston is going forward in her new career of prosperity.

CHAS. H. WEST, Jr., proposed the health of the Captain-a REED not shaken by the winds. Mr. HERTZ proposed the health of Hon. M. C. MORDE-CAI, the senior partner of the well known Charles ton house, the projector of this line. Responded te by Mr. Tobias, who took occasion to say that whatever credit may be due his house, or any other, in the organization of the present company, the project could never have been successfully carried out but for the personal exertions of Mr. Wx A. COURTENAY, OF COURTENAY & TRENHOLM.

Mr. Countenay responded, and said that in ac knowledging the compliment he felt that too much absence in the army, he was, upon the surrender, compelled to remain thirteen months longer away from his native city. Upon his return, in the spring of 1866, he noticed the large business growing up between that noble old city-"by blue Pa-Sea," and he determined to foster it with the aid of steam. After consultation with the Hon. M. C. MORDECAL, the success of a line of first-class steam ers between the two ports was considered reasons bly certain. The enterprise was consummated by obtaining the co-operation of the Baltimore and Ohio Lailroad, the South Carolina Railroad, and the Georgia Railroad. Two fine ships are now running on the line, bringing large freights, not only to this city, but to Augusta, Atlanta, Columbia and Charlotte, showing that in spite of competition, the natural advantages of Charleston were known and appreciated in the interior.

Mr. Courtenay alluded to the singular unanimty shown by the native and adopted sons of old Charleston, in returning to her in her misfortunes when fire had scourged her, and shot and shell had torn her dear old homes. Like the dwellers in the vale at the foot of Vesuvius they all

"Though floods of lava desolate the plain, Had turned, enchanted, to the spot again;" and, turning to Captain Reed, said, here is one from the land of HERMAN and SCHILLER, who, free to go any where, yet came back to his old home, willing to share its adversity, as in happier days he enjoyed its generous kindness.

Mr. Dawson, of the Mercury, in response to toast to the Press, took occasion to pay a glowing tribute to Baltimore and her people; !aving during the war, as a prisoner, often experienced their kindness and large-hearted liberality. There were other to asts, and other speeches, and plenty of good cheer, and the very best of feeling. Altogether, the reunion was one of the most pleasant we have participated in during many months, and all parties left the good ship in the best of good humor, and hopeful of better times for Old Charleston.

LUMBER.—We invite attention to the advertise ment of lumber for sale by R. S. R. CHRIETZBERG at No. 70 Wentwenth street, near St. Philip's.

CITY RAILROAD.—We would call attention to the advertisement of this Railroad Company, in which they offer to sell one hundred route tickets for $6. This liberality places a ride within the means of the poorest citizen, and will render the cars more popular and patronized than ever.

To those wanting Artificial Legs or Arms w would call particular attention to the advertisement in another column.

FOR THROAT DISEASES AND AFFECTIONS OF THE CHEST, "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Cough Lozenges, are of great value. In Coughs, Irritation of the Throat caused by cold, or unusual exertions of the vocal organs, in speaking in public, or singing, they produce the most beneficial results. The Troches have proved their efficacy.

THROAT DISEASES .- "We would call attention to Brown's Bronchial Troches.' We have found them efficacious in allaying irritation in the throat and bronchia, and would commend them to the attention of public speakers and others troubled with affections of the throat. Organized, 1848—Chartered by the Legislature, Feb. 26, 1863—Amendments to Charter, Feb. 15, 1860, and March 15, 1865.

TWO FULL SESSIONS OF LECTURES EACH YEAR, commencing the first of October, and continuing until April. The Dissecting Rooms are open, and private lectures and quizzes continued during the entire year. The first session continues until Christmas, or for three months, and the second until the first of April, or three months; the two constituting one full course of lectures. Examination of candidates for graduation will occur at the end of each session.

Requisites for Graduation.—The requisites for graduation are three sessions of lectures, and three years study; or four sessions, including two years spent at the Unior four sessions, including two years spent as an exercity reservity.

The System of Medicine Taught.—The University is a librar modical school, in which all branches of medicine and surgery are taught, including the proparatory studies, without regard to any sectarian views. Hence, while they deprecate the exclusiveness of Allopathy, Homespathy, Eclecticism, Hydropathy, etc., they believe that all principles of cure and therapeutical agents should be taught in all well-regulated medical schools, and that every intelligent, honest, and thorough practitioner is entitled to all the courtesies and privileges of the profession, without regard to his peculiar notions in therapeutics.

entitled to all the courtesies and privileges of the profession, without regard to his peculiar notions in therapeutics.

Fex.—The fees for all branches, including all the tickets, matriculation, and dissection, are $60 a session, or $120 per year. Those who purchase tickets only have to matriculate once, which makes the second session $55, including demonstrator's fees, or $115 for a full course. To aid young men of moderate means, the University has issued five hundred scholarships, which are sold to first-course students, for $75, and to second-course students and clergymen for $50, each constituting the holder a life member, with the perpetual privileges of the lectures, and all the teachings of the school. The only additional fees are a yearly dissecting and matriculating ticket, each of which is $5.

The Advantages of Scholarships.—The student holding a scholarship can enter the College at any time during the year, attend as long as he chooses, and re-enter the Institution as frequently as desired.

It requires no previous reading or study to enter the University on scholarships, hence all private tuition fees are saved.

Students, by holding scholarships, can prosecute other business a part of the time.

The candidate for graduation can present himself at business a part of the time.

The candidate for graduation can present himself at any time, and receive his degree as soon as qualified.

In case a student should hold a scholarship and not be able to attend lectures, it can be transferred to another, thus preventing any loss.

Parents, guardians or friends of students wishing to purchase scholarships for them a year or more before their attendance at the University, can secure them by advancing one-half the price and paying the balance when the student enters. Physicians and benevolent nen can bestow great benefit upon poor young m presenting them a scholarship, and thus enabling to obtain an honorable profession.
