WE TAKE pleasure in acknowledging $11.20 fro Mr. L. C. LOYAL,—the contributions of employees in the car manufactory of the South Carolina Railroad in this city, for the benefit of Mrs. Rown As we have before stated, this is a very worthy object, and we hope we shall frequently be called upon to make similar acknowledgments.

THE HAVLON TROUPE. -The disagreeable weather of last evening debarred many from paying their decors to the Hanlons; but a select audience was in attendance, and the entertainment was, as usual, of the most thrilling character. Such leaps, altitudes, leger-de-pied—such sagacious monkeys and dogs were never before seen in this city; and those who have not yet been there, should en-lrace the opportunity to-night and go en massesuch a chance may never recur.

NEW PAVEMENT .- Mr. J. C. H. CLAUSSEN, the NEW PAYEMENT.—Mr. J. C. R. CLAUSELS, unproprietor of the new grain elevator in Cumberland street, has further improved his property by the addition of a fine red brick payement. The bricks used for this purpose are smaller than the usual size, and being composed altogether of red clay, will form a very durable pavement. They are of foreign importation, and superior in many respects to the home made. A pavement laid with them presents quite an attractive appearance, and an ornament to the city.

FIRE.-At 11 P. M. the slarm was sounded, and the premises of Mr. MICHAEL McManon, on the north side of Tradd, between King and Meeting, were discovered to be on fire. The house was va-cant at the time, the former occupants having left and the premises were in charge of some colored persons. The fire originated in the lower story and soon spread through the entire building, combrick structure, with wooden piazzas to the cast, which soon caught, and for some time seriously endangered the houses in the neighborhood, but owing to the exertions of the firemen the flames were prevented from spreading. The property was valued at $10,000, and was uninsured.

OUR FALLEN GENERALS.-We have been preare found the likenesses of Generals Atpent Syn NEY JOHNSTON, LEONIDAS POLK, STONEWALL JACK FELIX K. ZOLUCOFFER, G. G. RAINES, WILLIAM BARSDALE, J. E. B. STUART. JOHN S. BOWEN, L. O'BRIEN BRANCH, L. TILOHMAN, and ROGER HAN-SON.

THE WEATHER.—The warmth of yesterday, which brought the feeling of summer upon all whose business compelled them to take the least exer-cise, was so different from the cold, snowy season which, by the journals of the North, we find the pec ple of other portions of the country are enduring, that we are compelled to notice the difference of temperature between the two sections, and to congratulate ourselves on enjoying, by far, the most Men may say what they please about ice ponds, skating, snow-balling, &c., but they are things we don't believe in, unless to read about, or hear of, although, in honesty, we must confess that frozen water in small quantities so arwe do not object to—in fact, we may say that we have a weakness for that internal application called "a big thing on ice," and our weather, at present, is just at the point when one of these "things can be properly put under the vest, and thoroughly enjoyed. But to our Northern friends, whose gratification now is only to look with moistened eye upon mountains of snow or immense masses of ice, which may really be regarded as gigantic nuisances incapable of removal, and who cannot have an appetite for a julep or an iced punch, we tender our sincerest sympathy, hoping that a change may soon take place, and that like us, they may, as we did yesterday, cool themselves on a draught, which, if it had been tasted in earlier years, would have prevented forever the formation of temperance societies.

St. Michael's Chimes.—These dear old bells have been so often alluded to, and so many oulogies have been pronounced upon them, that we would refrain from alluding to them if it were not to correct some foul-mouthed lies emanating from the Northern press. A late number of the New York Independent, in speaking of these bells, says that they were removed and cast into cannon, with the exception of one, which was retained as a curfew to toll the hour when the negroes should vacate the street; and the lying Declaration of the Independent's exultingly states that this bell was never rung but once, and was found the next morning at the foot of the steeple cracked and ruined. This tissue of falsehood would require no de nial or correction, if it were not that these villain. mai or correction, if it were not that these villain-ous statements were eagerly sought out and gloat-ed over by the Radical press, who, although con-vinced of their untruthfulness, yet make capital of them, and thus pander to the vitiated tastes of their readers. It is well known that St. Michael's bells were never cast into cannon, but were removed from the steeple to Columbia, as a place of safety, and their ruined condition was owing to the fact that they were, in common with other relics of the past, thoroughly Shermanized by the sackers of that city.

Where the Independent got its statement it is hard to say; but the presumption is that the indepen-dent missionaries who have been infecting the country, were instrumental in it. Their veracity is so well known, and their whole moral character so irreproachable, that the Independent hugged its sides with joy when such a glorious opportunity was offered to dig into the rebels. We may malign these innocent missionaries, but having seen some of their delectable effusions, we think they are capable of any infamy, and a white lie is surely no harm.

It is always disagreeable to destroy a romance, and the Independent had arranged the story so admirably that it is strange that the startling novelists of the age had not worked it into some thrilling tale of blood and marder. We really hope that the Independent will be indent enough to acknowledge the error of ways and make the amende honorable; but this is almost an impossibility, and we fe r that our correction of its truthful statements will have fallen upon stony ground and bring forth no

Young Men's Christian Association.-It will be observed, by a notice in another column, that the Rev. wrought wonders in this vicinity: where formerl existed an impassable quagmire, now stands a comparatively safe payement. The street has been filled up with broken brick, and the muddy hole, that was so long an eye-sore to all passen gers, has now disappeared. The Street Inspector seems to be a ubiquitous personage, for his im-provements are not confined to any one locality, but are observant in every section.

The northeastern portion of the city was always renowned for its muddy holes and impassable crossings, but thanks to the increased surveillence rved there, blots are fast disappearing, and our city will soon regain its former cleanly status. The Railroad Company are now engaged in fencing in their grounds, and the new Depoi being so far advanced as to afford accommodation to the passenger trains, there will be no difficult; in obtaining ingress and egross without wallowing

The new Depot is admirably arranged for the purposes intended, and when finished will be quite an ornament to the city. It has already been arranged for the reception of one train, and there is ample space for a new track. ally for the purpose, and combines in itself all the conveniences needed by travellers.

In spite of the disastrous fire of '65, which devastated so large a portion of the city, there is still to be seen some signs of improvement, and the example set by the railroad will be a great incen tive for private parties to rebuild.

The facilities offered by the Northeastern

Railroad will ultimately command a largely in-croased travel, and will also demand increased supg stock, &c. This will necessitat ear shops and factories, and, if the march of im provement continues, employment will be furnished to many needy artizans.

The Northeastern is the only railroad that has recommenced its night trips; but this is owing mainly to its being the principal artery between this city and the North. However, be this as it may, it is a progressive step, and as such is hailed with delight, and patronized with pleasure by the been the motto practised by this Company, and its fruits are now perceptibe; if the same progress is ormer status, and place the railroad where it v before war was ever dreamed of.

February 1 To Soldiers and Friends of Soldiers.

Misfortune has fallen heavily upon Mrs. DONALD ROWE. of Orsneebure, the great triand and nume of soldiers during the late war. The property of her husband is advertised to be sold by the Sheriff on the next sale day, and she will be left without house or home. Many of the soldiers who have been relieved by her kindness have supressed a desire to assist her in this hour of her distress. She labored for no pay during the war, and now sakes for no remuneration for her services; but we feel that it would be a lating repursook; mon the country feel that it would be a lasting repreach upon the country to allow her to be turned homeless upon the country to allow her to be turned homeless upon the world. We therefore propose to purchase the planistion for her. Two thousand dollars have already been secured for thin purpose, and we earnestly solicit contributions from all who are willing to assist in this noble work. Send your money as speedly as possible. Remit to Mr. LEONARD CHAPIN, Charleston, S. C.; Rov. W. G. CON-NOR, Orangeburg, S. C.; or Mr. F. G. DEFONTAINE, Columbia, S. C.

and report it as invaluable for sustaining the vigor of troops on the march, as a remedy for scurvy and all scorbuite affections, and as the only specific for sea-sickness. California and Australia have emphatically endorsed it as the Moren's Medicurs par excellence, and in Spanish America and all the tropical climates, it is considered the only reliable antidote to epidemic fever.

There is no mystery about the causes of its success. It is the only stomachic and alterative in which are combined the grand requisites of a mild, pure and unvitiated vegetable stimulent, with the finest selection of tol.—, anti-bilous, anti-corbuitc, aparient, and depurative herbs, plants, roots, and barks, that have ever been intermixed in a medicinal preparatiop.

It is also propor to state that the Bitters are sold exclusively in glass, and never, under any circumstances, by the gallon or the barrel.
