THE BELLS AGAIN .- Those who were favored with the sound of the bells on Thursday were sat-isfied that their notes were the same as those that charmed them in days of yore. They will ring on S inday, at the hours of 8 and 9 A. M., and at 10 o'clock for service, and in the afternoon at 1, 2 and 3 o'clock. The same principle will be adopted as was the practice before the war, i. e. the bells will play sacred tunes, and, from the few notes they play sacred tunes, and, from the few notes they already sounded, the prospect of a musical Sabbath is not without some foundation. ERRATA.—In the report of the attempted esca from jail, mentioned in our columns a few day since, an unintentional error was made. Mr. Hrs ERY is merely the contractor, for the brick work and Messre. J. M. Eason & Bro. baze the charge and Messrs. J. M. Eason & Bro. have the charge of the iron work, and the chisel, knife and file found on the prisoners did not belong to any of the workmen. We gladly make this correction, as an impression might have originated that the workmen were cognizant of the attempted escape, when in fact it was through them that it was dis

The alarm was soon given and the premises searched, but the lost notes were not found until the services of the Detectives had been obtained, when the pocket-book was discovered safely ensooneed between the mattresses where the owner had placed it before retiring. Both the unfortunate boot-black, who had borne the brunt of the suspicion, and the owner of the regained greenbacks were delighted at the discovery, and the as-tute Detectives were rewarded for their suggesty in tracing that which was not lost. The payment of some of the notes had been stopped, and it was necessary for the owner to establish his identity before the Bank would acknowledge their genuinoness. Few scares have so happy a termination and the "lost found" soon allayed the turmoil is

A Young Impostes.—Poverty, of itself, is no disgrace, but the indigent should be relieved by those who are in more affinent circumstances, but nmon destitution has engendered a class that prey upon the community by appealing to their sympathics. There are few who are not daily stnoyed by demands on their parse for charity. Sometimes this is deserving, but more frequently the applicants are imposters. It is hard to deter the community from exercising the chiefest of virtues, charity; but this should only be exercised with a due consideration for the character of the applicant. Many of our citizens have been recently visited by a young girl who did not demand charity, but simply wished to be ac-commodated with a quarter until her mother could change a bill. This ples was plausible, and met with a generous response for a time, but, unfortu-nately, the young beggar went to the same party twice, and her little fraud was discovered.

Many persons have within this summer experienced as benefits to be derived from the use of PARENUT'S LEPATIC BITERES. We would recommend them to all the stand in need of a tonic.

A New York Farmer, of practical experience in vine-yard culture, will engage in the business with a party having the necessary capital, with an ulterior view to the manufacture of wine. The capital required may be graduated to correspond with the extent to which it would be advisable to go, and used at intervals. If the business be conducted with due recard to the conditions essential to success, it will pay soon and well.

The disorganization of labor demands a change in agricultural pursativ, and probably in no direction does it point with better prospects than to wine growing. Grupe culture in the Northern States is attended with so much uncertainty, in consequence of the severe winhardy varieties. In the light of this experience, South Carolins may seize the prize, as some compensation for the wrongs inflicted on her by finaticism in the cause of a false humanity. In the change demanded, the upland planters or farmers will find graps culture a substitute for their chief staple, which requires but triffing labor, and "more profitable. This is no patent way to act rich, nor yet latter and the speculate in illusions with a promise of fabrices result; but, as the "early bird oatches the worm," so the first to enter this unbounded field of labor will be the first to participate with justice in the largest measure of whatever is value. ith justice in the largest measure of what ble in the legitimate pursuits of life.
