The Dayton (Ohio) Journal says: "Mr. S. N. Prix is decide by a man of function. He runs a big distillery, big hetel, an opera house in Cin-cinnati, an opera house in New York, and now wants to run the city government of Cincinnati. On the whole he is a man of great spirit." Colonel Benjamin Franklin Mosex is engaged in manufacturing corn-cob pipes in Richmond, Vir-ginia, which he offers for sale to the smokers of the weed. The Whig speaks of him as having 'exquisite taste and rare inventive genius" in the construction of these corn-cob pipes.

A fight, we are told, occurred between the British troops near Cork, Fenianism being the exciting cause. The men of the Seventy-sec of infantry (Scotch) sided with the Irish, when many members of an English lancer regiment were Scotch soldiers next day.

stated in the Gospet Herald, in which we find the item—was ordained pastor of the Ebenezer Chris-tian Church, Clarke county, Ohio, on the 8th inst. Her salary will be from five to six hundred dollars a year. She has been preaching for the church for about six months past, and her services proving highly acceptable, she has been called to re permanent relation. A letter says : The forces available in Ireland at present may be thus summarized: 25,000 soldiers, composed of infantry, cavalry, artillery and engineers; the constabulary, numbering 11,600 men; Dublin Metropolitan constables, 1,089, and the local for ce of towns, 500—in addition to which may be computed 150 detectives, making a total force of 88,839, exclusive of special constables, marines and loyalist protection corps.

The Lynchburg (Va.) News estimates that in the Counties of Halifax, Pittsylvania, Franklin and Henry, in that State, and Rockingham and Caswell, in North Carolina, the tobacco now on hand is arth $12,000,000. The crop of Pittsylvania alone is placed at $3,000,000. The News says these es-timates are based on the careful researches of per-sons directly interested in the matter.

A great indignation meeting was held on Wed-cedity evening in the Eleventh Street Synagogue, Schmond, at which the Manhattan and other In-urance Companies were denounced for their nt action in regard to the Jews. A number of the most distinguished citizens of Richmond were present and made addresses. Among them Mayor present and made addresses. Among them mayor Maro. Judge Crump, General Moore, Gustavus A. MYERS, and JOHN H. MONTAGUE. A series of solutions were adopted.

Mr. TRURLOW WEED, on his assumption of the tripod of the Commercial Advertiser, on Tuesday last, published his "introductory," filling four and s half of the large columns of that paper. He re-views the condition of the country, and the causes that have led to it, and announces his policy, which, he says, will, in the main, be the same a pretofore pursued in the Advertiser with the ception, that he thinks 'Labor needs reasonable protection. Capital takes care of itself." It is stated, says the Boston Post, of the 26th, that Gen. B. F. BUTLEE has already in type a vol-ume dissecting the reputation and military ser-vices of Gen. U. S. We see always glad to record evidences of public and official appreciation of the Press, and we by no means intend to intimate that this was not a good investment. But we cannot help deploring our own stupidity in selling an incomplete file of the same journal at ten cents a pound for waste paper. CHARLESTON

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH SO, 1867.

God has associated beyond the possibility of separation, the strongest, the purest, and the holiest of the heart of every Carolinian responds it is to the love of his native State. And ought not the calam of her prosperity and her pride? Like a great sor row in a common home, ought it not to draw close: in our mutual good will and our mited action. If expect only universal and irren tate we profess to love will find her last and bithas left her. For it is clear as the symlight that, though upon a thousand minor points of opinion we may differ, there is for all of us the same direct imperative, pressing duty.

What is that duty? To secure the election to the Convention which will meet this year to reor-ganize the State of South Carolina, of the best wisest and most virtuous men, who are not exclud-ed from election by the law. If the future South Carolina is to be a great and prosperous State, the foundations which are to be laid this year must be laid in strict justice to all. The structure we seek to raise must be the habitation, the home, the defence of all the children of South Carolina black her by ties of duty as strong as destiny, and the the tie which binds us to her must if we are to find

To drop all metaphor and speak as plainly as w can the task set before us involving all our duty and all our hope, is the Reconstruction of the State. And this work devolves properly upon those who live and expect to live is the duty, their's the responsibility, their's the consequences of success or failure. No interfer must, if we can, prevent all cataide influence.
What we want is a State government that shall command the confidence of all car people, of our white people and our black people. We want a Constitution that shall respect the rights of all and open to every man a sphere for the development of whatever gifts of strength or wisdom God has given him; a Constitution which shall compare the strength of whatever is a constitution which shall compare the strength of whatever gifts of strength or wisdom God has given him; a Constitution which shall compare the strength of the strength or wisdom God has given him; a Constitution which shall compare the strength of the stre far as paper constitutions can, that we shall be governed by our wisest and best men. In our perplexed and critical condition, to form such a Constitution, will require a Convention of calm, grave, conscientous men; not of politicians seekng the triumph of this or that party, the elevation of this or that man. Now, how can we secure the election of such a Convention? It will be hard to do. It is difficult perhaps to say how it can cer-tainly be done, but it is very easy to say how it can surely be prevented. We have but to engage in party strife, to exaggerate our differences opinion, to impugn each others motives, to distor ich unguarded word, and the work is done. The doom we will have brought upon ourselves will be dark enough to satisfy the hatred of our most malignant foe. We may accomplish the same and with almost equal certainty in another way. We have but to fold our arms and stand still, to drift to the same ruin. There are those who seek to divide that they may destroy us. Earnest unceasing, and skillful efforts will be made to array the blacks against the whites, and these efforts must be counteracted by equal earnestness, persistency, and skill. If there is to be an union of the races in South Carolina, for the sake of their own good and the good of the State, the initiative must be taken by those who are superior in information, in train-ing, and in position. They must labour to con-vince the blacks that they are their true and moserior in information, in train lin this work there is not a good man in some twice line who has not an important part to play. It will not do to say, this cannot be done. It must be done, and it can be done. The first step is to be just. Let us clear our hearts of old prejudices, let us honestly and thoroughly recognise ever right with which the black man has been investe in the new order of things, and agree to n in the new order or things, and agree to provide fairly for the recognition and maintenance of these rights, and our appeal to him will be irresisti-ble—with common interests, common hopes and a common destiny, what reply can be make when we ask him: why should Carolinians differ?
