Time is a river deep and wide,
And while upon its banks we stray,
We see our loved ones o'er its tide
Sall from our sight, away, away,
Where are they sped—they who return
No more to glad our longing eyes?
They've passed from life's contracted bourne
To land unknown, unsee the stray of the river.

And gentle airs, so sweet, so calm,
Seal sometimes from that viewless sphere
The mourner feels their breath of balm,
And soothed sorrow dries the tear.
And sometimes list ning car may gain
Entrancing sound that hither foots,
The ocho of a distant strain
Of harps—and voices blended notes,

There are our loved ones in their rest;
There are our loved ones in their rest;
They've crossed Time's River—now no me
They hoed the bubbles on its breast,
Nor feel the storms that eweep its shore.
But there pure love can live, can last—
They look for us their home to share;
When we, in turn, away have pase?
What Joyful greetings whit us there

You are now eas of the republic. Romember that the 19th of the nation lies in the virtue, industry, ty and courage of its citizens. You must try vindicate the hopes of your friends and repel forebodings of the scapical by proving selves worthy of the privileges to h you have been admitted. [Applause.] anewer any large addition has been made to otters of a State the same apprehensions have expressed that are now heard with reference purselves. Those already enfranchised are easily alarmed at any considerable change in the established order of things. So far, in this country, experience has shown that union, liberty and power are safe in the hands of those who earn their bread by the sweat of the brow. [Applace.] None love the land of their birth more fondly; none will defend it with more constancy and valor than those whose labor make up the sum of a nation's wealth. [Applause.] So long as the destines of this country are in the hands of those whose homes are made sacred by justice; whose liberties dopends on the courage with which they are maintained; the old flag may dery all enemies, whether from without or within. [Great applace.] It would be difficult, under the most interesting political events, without being deeply moved by their importance and novelty. Let me advise you are friend, and as one not without experience in public affairs, to preserve at all times the utmost modernion of expression, tamper and conduct. Avoid the property of the South, the welfare of the South State of the least disrespect shown to them indiscussions, the least disrespect shown to them indiscussions, the property of the South, the welfare of the south, the welfare of the Ty, are intimately associated with the least disregard. The prosperity of the South, the welfare of the sountry, are intimately associated with the harmony and good feeling which should exist between the poople of both races. Whatever seriously impairs the interests of one race, must result injuriantly to the other. Intelligence, culture, capital, land, are not less essential than labor; and yet without a prosperous, contented and happy laboring class, tociety lacks an essential element of strength and repose. You have already shown your appreciation of your privileges by the eagerness with which you have employed the opportunities lately given to you to educate yourselves. It will not be long before the white race in the South will see how deeply they are interested in the cduthe security of all.

Abundant time and opportunity will be aftorded, and ample notice will be given, of all the successive steps to be taken in the organization of the State Governments within my command. It will not be necessary, nor can it be otherwise than injurious to yourselves, for you to neglect your regular employments and associations to attend to political sfairs. I promise you that without any such sacrifice on your part, every man in the Carolinas entitled to a voice in the decision of the great questions to be passed upon under my supervision, ehall have a fair chance to act his part, without let or hindrance from any one. My friends, I wait you all good night. [Enthusiastic cheers.]

Sate Accident:—We regret to amounce a sad accident which occurred a few days since at the steam nill of Messrs. Mabry & McCracken, and which esulted in the death of a freedman under the following distressing circumstances: While superinging the saw, the boy inadvertently placed his und in its reach, and his arm, body and head were tonce drawn in, and shockingly nutilisted. Medial aid was at hand, but proved unavailing. So autilated and & figured was the body, that to old oldiers familiar with horrors of the battle-field, it roved a more revolting sicht than any they had

COURT AT GREENVILLE.—The Court has been compied up to Thursday with the Summary Process and Sessions Dockets, and there is still business of a day or two for the Summary Process cases.

There were several convictions for distilling inhout license, assault and battery, and other misdemeanors. There was also a conviction for bigamy. There were no cases of homicide or burglary, and altogether a manifest change in the complexion of the Court since last fall. The effect of the Courts of Sessions in restraining crime and outrage is very obvious; offences have very much diminished since the Courts have been regularly held.—Enterprise.

W. BEVERLY NASE .- A colored sister writes to Former and pitches into Beverlux as follows:

Beverly Nar'h is a dead dog; he has proved himself a disloyal negro; he gave a speech calling our Northern friends skulkers and Northern demagogues; promised to worry Congress until the rebels are enfranchised. Oh, my God! I could have cut his ears off close to his black head. I denounce him as a traitor; I want you to keep his name ever in your mind, and if he ever dares to cross your path, keep him at a distance. He is unfit to be with the lowest of the earth; he is a betrayer of his race. I send you a paper with his speech; tell me what you think of it. Congress knows what we need, and can do better for us down South than all we could tell or ask, would do.

I do think, if Congress disfranchise the whites and give the power to my race—if they—the rebels—never get it until I ask it of Congress, they would be without it until dooms—day. Let the name of Beverly Nash be as a pestilence to the sake of the loyal colored people of Columbia, South Carolina."

All we have to say is, that from the communica-FORNEY and pitches into Bevenly as follows:

South Carolins."

All we have to say is, that from the communication we published yesterday morning, we judge that Beverly is compotent to take care of himself, we take occasion to state moreover, for the information of the Charlotte Gunrdian, who has asked for it, that we believe the sentiments and opinions of W. B. Nash are those of nine-tenths of the colored people of Columbia.—Commbia Phenix.

Returns Day.—Last Saturday was return day for this district. From an examination of the Clerk's books, it seems that something over a thousand cases have been returned, including acceptances and confessions. Many of the cases are small processes, suits brought by administrators and executors, and suits brought for litigation by consent on old notes for negroes. The return though large, is not so great as anticipate? v many, and is not the largest return ever may the district; there having been a larger, we le the court. These cases, it is presumed, will not show any exceedingly large amount of indebtedness by the time of judgment and verdict, as a heavy pairing down and scaling process must undoubtedly take place before that time.

The Tribune says that the question of appointments and confirmations "soem to have degenerated into a kind of horse-jockey business." We fear this is paying it too high a compliment. According to present appearances it is not half as decently managed as that business is. The Senate seems to have nother principle, consistency or system of any kind in its action. The first point aimed at seems to be to let every Senator gratify any personal spite he may have against any nominee; and the next is to let them all gratify their general spite against the President Their first impulse always is to reject any man whom the President may nominate, and gen. ally they do it. What they really desire probabily is to scure the nomination of officers, as well as their confirmation, for themselves. So far they have not succeeded—but their perseverance may be rewarded by and by... N. Y. Times.

The Two Races.—The Milledgeville Recorder gives the totals of the census returns of Georgia, in 1869, as follows: Number of whites, 591,688; holders, 456,683; excess of whites, 125,895. The male whites numbered 801,066; blacks, 230,882; majority of former, 70,204. The white polls in 1868 were 89,309; blacks, 65,909—giving the whites 24,000 majority.

In the construction of which they have introduced every known and valuable improvement. They have invaria-tion and the selected and used by all off the world's ac-knowledged great arrises who have visited this country professionally, both for private and public use.

THALBERG.

I consider Chickering & Sons' Pianos, beyond con varison, the best I have ever seen in America.

GOTTSCHALK.

I consider Chickering & Sons' Pianos' superior to any in the world.

They are unrivalled for their singing qualities and for the harmonicus roundness of their tone. There is a period homogeneity throughout all the registers. The upper notes are remarkable for a clearness and purity which I do not find in any other instrument, while the base is distinguished for power without harshness, and for a magnificent senority.

WEILL.

Your Plance are superior to any I have ever seen in this country or in Europe.

I have never heard a tone so perfect; it yields every expression that is needed in music, and its quality is capable of change to meet every sentiment. This is rare power, and is derived from the perfect purity of its tone, together with its sympathetic, elactic and wall balanced touch.

POZNANSKI.

During the past eight years I have constantly played post the justity celebrated Erard Plance; yours are the huly instruments that I have found, either have or in Europe, to equal them in all their points of excellence It may be satisfactory to our patrons and friends among the public at large to state that testimonials have been received from all the leading artists who have visited or are now residing in the United States, a few of whose names, besides those above, we append:
