LANGLEY LANE. BY BOYERT BROWNING.

In all the land, range up, range down.

Is there ever a place so pleasant and sweet
As Langley lane, in London town,
Just out of the bustle of square and street?
Little white cottages all in a row,
Gardens where bachelor buttons grow,
Swaldows nests in roof and wall,
And up above the still blue sky,
Where the woolly white clouds go sailing by—
I seem to be able to see it all.

For now, in summer, I take my chair,
And sit outside in the sun and hear
The distant murmur of street and square,
And the swallows and sparrows chirping near;
And Fanny, who lives just over the way,
Comes running many a time each day,
With her little hand's touch so warm and kind,
And I smile and talk with the sun on my cheek,
And the little live hand seems to sit and speak: And the little live hand seems to sit and speak;
For Fanny is dumb, and I am blind.

Fanny is sweet thirteen, and she
Has fine black ringlets, and dark eyes clear;
And I am older by summers three;
Why should'nt we hold one another dear?
Because she cannot niter a word. Because she cannot utter a word, Nor hear the music of bee or bird. carts splash or the milks Because I have never seen the sky, Nor the little singers that hum and fly, Yet know she is gazing upon them all.

For the sun is shining, the swallows fly,
The bees and blue-dry murmur low,
And I hear the water-cart go by,
With its cool splash, splash, down the rusty row,
and the little one close at my side perceives
Mine eyes upraised to the cottage caves,
Where birds are chirping in summer shine,
And I hear, though I caunot look, and she,
Though the little soft fingers flutter in mine!

Bath not the dear little hand a tongue,
When it stirs on my palm, for the love of m
Hath not my soul any eye to see?
The pleasure to makes one's bosom stir
To wonder how things appear to her
That I only hear as I pass around;
And as long as we sit in the music and light,
She is happy to keep in God's sight,
And I am happy to keep God's sound,

Why, I know her face, though I am blind,
I made it of music long ago.
Strange large area, and dark hair twined
Round the pimirte light of a brow of snow;
and wher I sit by my little one,
and hold her hand and talk in the sun,
And hear the music that haunis the place,
I know she is raising her eyes to me,
and seeing the music upon my face.

The' if ever the Lord should grant me a preyer, (I know the finny is only vair), I should pray just once when the weather is fair, To see little Fanny and Lungley lane; Though Fanny, perhaps, would pray to hear The voice of the thend she holds so doar. The song of the bird, the hum of the bee; it is better to be as we have been—Each keeping up something unheard, unseen, To make God's Heaven more strange and near.

Ah! His is pleasant in Langley lane!
There's alwas some thing sweet to hear,
Chirping of birds, or patter of rain,
And Panny, my little one, always near;
And though I am weakly, and can't live long,
And though we can never married be,
What then? since we hold one another so dear
For the sake of the plussure one cannot see,
And the pleasure that only ane can hear.

oved deman and business is reported in New tight Exchange—checking par by banks and and & discount buying. NEW ORLEANS, June 27.—Corror—We have again to report a dull and inactive market. The offering supply was meages, and as incire steadily ratused to grant the concessions demanded by buyers, the movement has continued light throughout, reing confined to a few purchaseers who held previously unexcuted orders, the the completion of which would not admit of portponent. Under these circumstances, the business has been of a trifting character, comprising at the close barely 1000 bales, nine brokers participating in the business. Prices indicated renowed weakness, especially as to the infentor qualifies, some scattering lists of the latter classification disclosing a loss of full \(\frac{1}{2} \) for r b. With the above remerks, we repeat nominally as follows: Ordinary 1939/46, Good Ordinary 2948—. Low Midding 204—. who will avail themselves of its remedial power may be benefitted.

It only requires a fair trial to confirm its invaluable agency in diffusing through each channel of the human organization a restored vitality. It invigorates and embuse the Lungs with healthful elasticity; restores warmth; which is their essential element; rouses the aluggish vessels into activity; heals the affected lobes; purifies and enriches the blood; regulates the circulation; induces free and easy respiration, and expels, through its administration, each and every concomitant disorder present in the malady recognized as Consumption, and hitherto deemed hopeless and incurable.

This compound is perfectly safe, possessing neither narcotic nor emetic properties, which unfortunately are always employed as essentials in every preparation for Cough or Lung affection—a mistake which too often in its irritating and debilitating consequences, only conduces to much general derangement of the system, destroying appetite and creating an injurious nervous excitement, augmenting suffering with frequent fatal results.

My Dran Bin: I have great pleasure in saking youte convey to Measure. Chickering the expression of my highest approval of their instrument. It is, I consider, not merely the best instrument of American manufacture that I have tried, but one of the finest Grand Planofortes that has ever come under my observation; and the Measure. Chickering may well be proud of having urned out from their manufactory an instrument which, for touch, quality, power and workmanship, it would be very difficult to surpass in any part of the wide world.
