LITERARY .- Our onterprising young triend Mr. A. F. Melchens, No. 108 Market street, has our thanks for late copies of Frank Leslie's Illustrite Zoitung, the Kriminal Zeitung, Metropotian Record, and the Sunday Mercury.

IN THE NAME OF THE PROFIT-FIGS.-Those of our roaders who sit under their own fig trees, will find it to their profit to examine the advertisement of Mr. Kinsman in another column. Mr. Kinsman Two pe possesses a magician's wand, and what is not worth a fig, becomes valuable confectionery when it erges from his laboratory.

ARREST AND TRIAL OF THE PRICE MURDERERS.— The Augusta papers contain an account of the ar-rest and trial of certain parties implicated in the murder of Mr. Price, of South Carolina, near Quaker Springs. The Chronicle & Scatinet says he two negroes arrested for the murder of the late Mr. Price, near Quaker Springs, had a preliminar examination before Judgo McLaws yesterday. One of the negroes made a full confession, giving the names of all the parties engaged in the murder The examination will be continued to-day.

To SEE OURSELVES AS OFFICES SEE 1. - The Sectish bard wished in val. for 1. - evit; but if he had lived in the second day his desire would have hear granted, and he could have secured his representation in a short time. There are few arts that have made such rapid strides as that of photographing, and the sun's rays are now made to results that at most seem magical. The produce results that at most seem magical. The desire among mankind to give their features to posterity is universal, and the picture galleries in every city are visited daily by numbers for this purpose. Some of these photographers are vete-rans in the profession, and have gained a high reputation as artists; but few can compete with Mr. Geo. S. Cook of this city, and his gallery in King street is always crowded by parties desirons of having their features faithfully delineated.

IMPORTANT TO MERCHANTS .- Since the night ins have been re-established on the South Care lina Railroad the traffe between this city and other points has been largely increased and the dation thus presented to merchants has enabled them to make shipments with promptness The Southern Express Company has never been ind the age, but has always endeavored to facilitate business men in their engagements. In-fluenced by these motives they have recently placed messengers on the night trains between this city and Augusta, who are prepared to take charge of all goods intrusted to them. This action on the part of the Express Company will prove very acceptable to our merchants, both now and during the fall trade, for shipments of money or goods can be made with care and a prompt delivery en-

A CORDESPONDENT of the Darlington Southerne gives the following account of the accident mer tioned in the telegraph column of yesterday's is

"This morning about 5 o'clock A. M., the pas senger train ran over and killed two young women. The accident occurred near the public road, on the west side of Sparrow Swamp, as the morning train was going to Kingsville. The names of the unfor-tunate once were Martha and Susan Donthy. It appears that they had been out until a late hour night and started home, and stopped to rest awhile on the track of the Wilmington and Manchester Railroad-fell asloop, and was ran over as above stated, killing Susan instantly, and horribly g Mantha, who survived a few hours, to tell the dreadful story.

"A. B. Baistow, Esq., summoned a jury of in-quest, who, after investigating the matter, ren-dered a verdict according to the above facts."

DIE MODENWELT .- The first number of th beautiful Fashion Journal has just been received from Europe, and in its salutatory says: The great difficulty in getting a correct translation has caused the delay. The papers will be translated into English, and give more of the useful than all the other illustrated papers put together. Each paper gives eight pages of finely executed cuts, representing monthly overything in the way of dress that is beautiful and to be desired by the In addition to the papers there is a finely executed pattern sheet, giving during the year somewhere between three hundred and four hundred finely drawn patterns well explained and be taken off. The su utility of these patterns will seen be seen and appreciated by those who have been in the havit getting plain or trimmed patterns from some four common pattern shops.

As the Modennest is from the very seat of fashion, it will become a popular magazine with the ladies. The subscription price is only $3, and it will soon be found at every well conducted news

THE FALL TRADE. -In a few weeks the Fall trade of Charleston will open, and though it will not compare with that of former years, yet it is exbe an improvement on that of last spring. Throughout the whole country the crops are good, and some sections that have heretofore been noted for their sterility have produced abundantly, and there will even be a surplus for exper-tation. This result is extremely gratifying not only to the planter, but to the people at home, as all are affected by his success or ill luck. The de-pression seemed by the failure of last year's crop has been removed, and if the right steps show taken the State will soon regain her former prosperity, and Charleston become again a large com mercial city. The merchants of Charlester always been considered an active and enterprising class, and have used every effort to promote the wel fare of the city. Before the war this was comparatively casy, but the subsequent destruction of pro-porty, and the break on the railroads, turned the trade into other channels, and as soon after the surrender as practicable the New York houses sent drummers into the country, who were empowered to bring the trade to that city. Inducements were offered that fow could resist. They were not pressed for old dobts, and were sold goods on time. Charleston was then in no condition to compete with the parties, although she has since endeavored to regain some of her lost trade, but the high freights and other causes have operated against her. We learn from a gentleman of this city who hav just returned from the country that the prospect are fair for a good trade; but the Northern drum mors have been overy where, and have made such representations that many will purchase their goods in New York. None deny that Charleston is n every respect equally as good a market as Ne York, and that goods can be bought here fully as cheap; but there have been few drummers sent out from Charleston, and no inducements offered to secure the trade. This has operated badly; for any who still retain their affection for this city think that it is not the market it was, and go to other points to purchase their goods. It should be the duty of the merchants to correct these misapprehensions, and to show that they are no only prepared to sell on favorable terms, but have full stocks, which embrace every article needed by Propa: ations are now being made for the fall trade, a few country merchants, the van guard of the army, have already arrived, and Hayne and Meeting streets and East Bay will soon shake off the lethargy that has characterized them during the summer, and become again busy bustling thoroughfares. The stocks in every store are full uplete, and visitors will find that the prices and complete, and visitors will find this the prices are the same as those asked in other rities. It has been decided among the merchants to lower the tariff as much as possible, and to ask a uniform price for a certain standard of goods. This will be a great advantage to the buyer, and will facilitate the transaction of business. The city is perfectly healthy, and overy element seems faverable feetly healthy, and overy cloment seems favorable to a good trade. Our country friends can visit us with eafety, and will soon be convinced that Charleston presents overy advantage to a buyer, and can compute with any cit. West.

The de-ceased was unable to swim, but dove into the water, requesting his companions to look out for him. Not appearing again, they became alarmed, and reported the facts to the Guard House. Mayon's Count, July 26 .- An individual who was red hot with valor and whiskey took a position in the Charleston Hotel and smote the air with ds words, was surprised to find himself arrested by the police for disorderly conduct, and still more so when he was sent to the Provost Marshal for carrying a concealed weapon.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT-Judge BRYAN presiding.—United States es, seventeen barrels of distilled spirits, sixty-nine empty barrels, &c., claimed by W. H. Kidd, condemned on verdict of guilty on an information of forfeiture for violation f Internal Revenue laws.

The following order was entered, W. H. Kidd, claimant in the above entitled case, having filed his notice of appeal to the Circuit Court: On motion of T. D. Conbin, District Attorney of the United States for South Carolina, ordered: That said W. H. Kidd give bond, with good and ufficient security, in the sum of $2000, to abide by the final decree rendered in the cause, and to pay all such costs, and expenses, and damages as shall be awarded by the Court upon the final decree the said bond to be filed by 29th July or appea

United States Count in Admiralty-Judge BRYAN Presiding.—JAMES REGAN vs. Captain LIN-COLN, of the bark Anne Kimball, and — Fulton the Mate. This was a libel for assault and battery on the high seas. United States Attornoy Cousin was proctor for the libellant, and Messrs. A. H. BROWN and W. E. MIRELL were prectors for respondent. The hearing of the testimony and arguments occupied the Court the whole of Thurstday and yesterday, when, at a late hour, the case was closed, and the Court decreed that Captain

LINCOLN pay a fine of $50 and the costs of the suit In the case of RICHARD ARNOLD vs. the steamer Moneka, libelled for damages to freight, heard some time since, the following order was made:

Jamotka, itselfed for damages to freight, heard a some time since, the following order was made:

Hichard Arnoid vs. Steamship Moneka.

The claim in this case is for the value of two horses, one dying at sea and the other on landing, and for damage done to a third with expenses incident to his care and cure, and the expenses incident to his care and cure, and the expenses incident to his care and cure, and the libel is illed against the Moneka as a common carrier. It is admitted that the Moneka is a common carrier, and that the horses did die, and that the third was injured. But it is contended that though a common carrier, the liability was limited by a special contract, and if not relieved from liability by such contract, and if not relieved from liability by such contract, and if not relieved from liability by such contract, and if not relieved from liability by such contract, and if not relieved from liability by such contract, and if not relieved from liability.

Upon a most carroful examination of the law and ovidence in this case, the Court is satisfied that the respondent has failed to make out the express contract agreement or stipulation which the law makes necessary to limit his liability.

But granting that such stipulation, agreement or express contract were made out, it could not shield the vessel from its own acts and give impunity to negligence or misconduct, or relieve the ship from losses accruing from such negligence or misconduct.

ship from losses accruing from such negagenee or misconduct.

The Court is satisfied that the death of the two horses and the injury to the third is properly referable to the unskilful, unsufficient stowage, and not to the gale.

It is, therefore, ordere? and decreed that the owners of the Moneka do pay to the libellants three hundred dollars for deah of the horses dying as aforesaid, and three hundred dollars for damages done to the surviving horse, and the charges incident to his keeping, and cure, and the loss of his service; also, one hundred dollars for the expenses incurred in bringing out the Horses—in all the sum of one thousand dollars, with costs of suit.

Verdict of the Faculty. STIMULANTS INDISPENSABLE AS MEDI.

The most dislinguished physicians in the United States have recently been placed on the witness stand, and have, with one voice, declared that pure stimulants are valuable medicinal agents. This decision of the faculty refers especially to medicated stimulants, of which the reters especially to medicated stimulants, of which the purrost and the best at present known is HOSTETER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Its basis is the alcoholic prin-ciple of the finest rye grown in the United States, and its herbal inpredients comprise the extracts of a large num-ber of plants, barks and roots produced in various parts of the world, and all noted in the countries to which they are indigenous for their powerful sanative proper ties. As an invigorant and tonic, the value of the fif-ters can scarcely be overated. Hence its extraordinar-effect in fever and ague and intermittents and remit ents of every type. Its anti-bilious properties are mar ellous. Persons of bilious habit, by taking a smal quantity once or twice a day, may completely cha their constitutional tendency to liver disease, and es their constitutional tendeucy to liver disease, and escape all the unpleasant consequences which arise either from the undue sensitiveness or the unpartural torpicity of the biliary organ. Chronic constipation is cradicated thoroughly and in a very short space of time by small doses of this wholesome regular, taken night and morning; and for all the disorders which are superinduced by exhatations from decomposing regelable and animal matter in the streets of cities, or the missans of swampy districts; it is, when taken as a protective and preventive medicine, the most reliable of all safeguards.
