THE LETTER TO THE DEAD.

[From the Northern Monthly.]

[From the Northern Monthly.] We remember at the Wilderness a gallant Mississippian had fallen, and at night, just before burying him, there came a setter from her he loved bist. One of the group around his body—a minister—whose tenderness was womanly, broke the silent tearfulness with which he saw the dead letter; he took it and laid it upon the breast of him whose heroic heart was still: "Bury it with him. He will ese it whon he wakes." It was the sublimest sentence of his funeral sermon.—N. O. Picayune.

Comes the letter from a mother? Are a sister's longing there? Or the fondness of another, Loved and loving, young and fair? Seek not now to know the writer. Seek not whence or why it came; As he died his dimmed eyes saw her; As he died, he breathed her name. It has come o'er hills and valleys, Crossed o'er rivers, passed o'er lakes; "Bury it upon his bosom, He will see it when he waikes." Bury the drad with the letter unread, There to remain, Till the soldier swakes from his slumber. To join in the battle again.

Ah ! but never more to battle He will march by beat of drum ; Nevermore when fight is over Sigh for gentle peace to come ; Never more to roll-call answer. Nevermore will pace his round, Textion watch of a flaeting comf Keeping watch o'er sleeping comrades Strewn upon the chilly ground : Navermore the light words utter While his heart with sadness aches Bury it upon his bosom, He will see it when he wakes. Bury it deep with the soldier to sleep There let it lie,

While the green grass grows o'er the sleeper And the world goes hurrying by.

And the world goes harrying cyr. She who lingered as she wrote it O'er each tender word she penned, She perchance will find her sorrow With some later lover end. But for him those words of loving May survive when time is o'er. And, though she forget her fondness, Greet him on the further abfre. Cross his arms and close his eyelds. The him is slumber that he takes : "Bury it upon his bosom. He will see it when he waks a." Lay him to rest with the scroll on his breast, There, in the form. Till the statied dead shall awaken At the terrible day of doom.

IN ALL DISEASES OF SWINE, SUCH AS COUGHS ULLCERS IN THE LUNGS, LIVER, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one-half a paper of swill the above dis-cases will be etalica-ted or entirely pre-results. In resorting to this remedy, the invalid can depend upon the safety of every article in its preparation, and while it accelerates the healthful reactions of each organ and vessel, the mind can be perfectly free from spare-hension of any subtle ingredient being insinuated into its hension of any subtle ingredient being insinutized into its composition. The appetite, which improves under its administration, is at liberty to indulge prudently in whatever nutriment is palatable, digestive and wholesome, and while fit is no more than proper to avoid exposure to fresh cold, no isar need be entertained of any liability under this course of treatment to induce it. It is a pleasant ABOMATIO COBDIAL, quite agreeable to the taste, and as a lung re-vivityer and balsam of health, it is distinguishing itself as without precedent, and we trust will, ere long, chain for lizelf general acclamation for its unrivalled efficacy. Savannah Market.

Savannah Market. SAVANNAH, Octobar 10. --Corrors. --The market, since our last is sue, has manifested considerable changes--one day firm and the next easy, just as the advices fr. m the controlling markets have been received--and we closo for the better grades, but a total neglect of the lower qualities, which are held at figures which buyees are not inclined to pay. We quote: New York Midding, 15 a 15%; Good Ordinary, nominal: Ordinary, nomina: Crop recounts are growing better every day, and plan-ters are realising more out out of their crops than they indicate the receipts do not seem to be of nearly as and prepared a style as in any former year. We look however, for improvement henceforth, owing to the pre-sen fine plaking weather. To-day is genial and warm, the subk of the receipts do not seem to be valized, and idjact figures for the yield are freely spoken of. Plan-ters who two months ago were exceedingly gloomy, are set who two months ago were exceedingly gloomy, are set who two months ago were exceedingly gloomy, are set who two months ago were exceedingly gloomy, are set who two months ago were exceedingly gloomy, are set at 100 bales, now writes that he may send to his many set on bales, now writes that he may send to his many set on bales.

ot make 100 bales, now writes that no may soul to has actors 150 bales. Such opinions being entertained by our gwn people, Such opinions being entertained by our gwn people, and with the flattoring advices received in Europe from neits, Egypt and Brazil, we can look for no enhancement f prices, and it agems to us that the holding back of cot-on will, if carried out, be stückal to the grower, as no issuer to the crop of this country can now have any fact on the markets of the world commensurate with he risk run of considerably lower prices. If the crop rere held back, and we did recover a cent or two, we nust remember that the cotton has got to find an outlet, and that when the quantity so held back should be push-d forward to meet any possible advance, it would tend be degress the markets more thoroughly than by a gräd-al supply, and whereone man might benefit, a thousand he risk run of conside depress the markets more thoroughly than by a grad-al supply, and where one man might benefit, a thousand ould be sufferers. The depreciation in prices under a stat legislation doing away with the cotton tax and pass-ing laws for the control and payments of labor, accord-ing to prices received, may sgain place us in the ascen-nary as compared with producing cour ...as, for if prop-ity featared we should be able to compete with any of so other countries in point of cheapnes and quality; and such competition we may produce cotton at prices at high they will have to abandon it.

Its great strength on account of being double-geared, which not only doubles the strength by dividing the strain on twice the number of tech, but by gearing on both sides of the wheels it equalizes the wear on the shafts, and materially lessens the friction, snabling the horses to do much more work than with any other Power. 17.00 16,50 ock Tin, P it TWINE-Cotton, 7 1b. VARNISH-Bright, & gallon 2. Its compactness and extreme portability, it weighing about one-half as much as other Horse Powers, and occupying but one-third the space, it can be packed in small bores, thus saving much expense. It is so simple that the most ignorant person would have no difficulty in putting it together.
3. The facility with which it can be adjusted to any kind of machinery at any angle, either on the ground or over head, without moving it from its foundation, will be appreciated by farmers and planters as specially adapted to failed.
