WILL IT PAY TO ADVERTISE ?-If there is any one thing in ordinary business life which has been more satisfactorily demonstrated than any other one, it is that judicious advertising will pay, and yet, there is no point upon which the majority of our business men are so skeptical. Most of those who advertise, if they fail to have immediate responses, become discontented, and consider it is a mere throwing away of money. If every customer who is influenced by advertisements, were to announce the fact, at the time purchases are made, these skeptical ones would have their doubts rehas now become thoroughly familiarized to the city audiences, and though the attraction still continues, it has taken another phase, and the question that now agitates the community is which of the leading female danseuses is the most perfect in her role. The retrenchment question and the depreciation of the city currency are all forgotten in this allabsorbing topic, and the theatre-goers are on the qui vive to decide who has won the laurels. It is only by personal observation that a correct opinion can be formed, and we advise all interested parties who wish to take a calm, and dispassionate view of the subject, to visit the Black Crook and draw their own conclusions, without depending on the reports of others. The Black Crook has so many attractions in the ballet, the scenery, the singing and the acting, that the hours spent at the theatre are those of unmixed enjoyment, and will ruling, go to Hieam Harris, No. 59 Broad street. furnish the beholder with many pleasant memorles

GARROTERS.—These disciples of Thug have heretofore confined their attentions to Northern cities; but a few adepts are now in this city, and have showed their hands in a very disagreeble manner to their unfortunate subjects. A few nights since a United States soldier attempted this pleasant garroting game on a citizen, and had succeeded in rifling him of his watch and money, when all further progress was arrested by a pistol which was placed at his head by a party who had witnessed the transaction, and who demanded a return of the stolen articles. This peremptory proceeding induced the gay garroter to comply instanter, and his victim found his property restored when he had given up all as lost. Carrying concealed weapons is said to be one of the deadly sins under the new code, but pistols are occasion ally found to be of vital importance, and there are some persons who are bold enough to risk all consequences, and go prepared for all emergencies, by carrying a small shooting iron about their Figure Decemers Avent - Science has demoustrated the fact that it is far easier to descend than to rise, but an example was furnished vesterlay that puts all doubts at an end. Conductor Roumilat's car was on its down-town trip, when a colored passenger on the front platform, wishing to show his agility, leaped, but forgot the old adage "to look before you leap," and, instead of landing on terra firma, went into a drain opening that was conveniently near. Fortunately, he cleared the windlass, and his descent was only impeded by the bucket, which had just been filled with mud, preparatory to being raised. The sudden descent caused the windless to revolve quickly, and the side of the car was scraped by the handle. This performance was extremely unpleasing to Mr. Roumilat, and he abused the workmen for their carelessness, but was somewhat surprised when they stated that it was the fault of his car, as a passenger had made the leap which caused the revolution. The car was stopped, and from out of the depths a doleful voice was heard crying for succor. The appeal was answered by several strong pulls at the windlass, and the bemired individual was speedily elevated to the light of day, and clothing.

THE ALLEGED CASE OF PICKPOCKETING .-- As a matter of justice we publish with pleasure the following communication, merely remarking that our reporters are not responsible for erroneous information that may be furnished them :

To the Editors of the Daily News:
As I am a constant reader of your valuable paper, an article headed "picapockets" arrested my attention. It stated that one of the light-fingered gentry was collared on last Thursday night in Hi-bernan Hall, with a watch in his possession, but, as he said that the button of his coat had caught above-mentioned circumstance may put me in a felse light with those whom were present at the occasion, you will oblige me by giving this a place in your paper. On last Thursday night I went to the Theatre, but the doors were not opened when I arrived. When the doors were at last opened, everybody rushed to the ticket box or office, I among the rest. When I procured my ticket, I managed to get out of the crowd, my coat being pushed back. When I was half way up the stairs somebody called to me that I would lose my watch. I turned around, when the same gentleman took a watch from a button of my coat; the owner coming I turned around, when the same gentleman took a watch from a button of my coat; the owner coming up immediately and claiming it, took the watch. I did not know anything of it until the gentleman took it from the button. Such is the true statement of the case. I think it very hard, and at the same time very wrong for your reporter to give the name of "thie?" to an honest man, when he does not know the true statement.

LUER LUBEN, No. 749 King-street Road. CHARLESTON, Dec. 2.

Most Horrio Affair.—On Monday night last the dwelling hou-e of Mr. C. D. Wallace, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, at Gopher Hill, at eleven o'clock, was found to be completely enveloped in flames. When the neighbors attracted, arrived, the house, which was a large one, was so completely enveloped that nothing could be done to stay the flames. Mr. Wallace resided alone, and was known to be at home, as he was seen by some of his neighbors, and heard calling his hogs after dark by others, but whether in the house or not could not be determined until next day, whan his remains were found almost entirely consumed. From every circumstance, suspicion of foul play was aroused. The whole matter is in the hands of an inquest, and should an end be reached in time, was aroused. The whole matter is in the hands of an inquest, and should an end be reached in time, we shall add the finding to this paragraph. Until then we forbear particulars. If there was one inoffensive and unoffending citizen in the District, and a man without an enemy, Mr. Wallace was that man. The following is the finding of the Jury of Inquest: "That the deceased, C. D. Wallace, was feloniously killed by James Flynn and John B. Langley, by means unknown to the Jury, or by being burned in his dwelling house."

C. DUCREUX'S PATENT For Instantaneous Detachment of Horses from Carriages. THIS INGENIOUS AND VERY USEFUL INVENTION.

THIS INGENIOUS AND VERY USEFUL INVENTION, which has been patented in the United States, France and England, is now offered by the subscriber to the public, feeling assured they will find it, upon examination, one of the greatest inventions of the age. Prominent among its advantages are:

FIRST—The facility with which horses may be harnessed to or unharnessed from a Carriage, also rendering it unnecessary for the person unharnessing to pass between or behind the horses as is customary, thus avoiding any liability of being kicked.

SECOND—In case of a horse failing, he may be loosed from the carriage in one second, without the driver leaving his seat. It is so simple in its operation that a child can work it.

THIRD AND GREATEST-In cases of horses taking fright, THIRD AND GREATEST—In cases of horses taking fright, becoming unmanagable or running away, the terrible consequences which so frequently follow may be all avoided by this simple application to carriages, as the horses can be loosed from the carriage "in a twinkling," and the carriage is quickly and safely stopped.

Mr. C. DUCREUX gave several public exhibitions. The great favor and praise manifested by the public on these occasions, is one of the evidences of a popular appreciation of the parts. occasions, is one of the trion of its nearlts.
