Popping Corn.

And there they sat a popping corn, John Stiles and Susan Cutter; John stiles stour as any ox, And Susan fat as butter. And there they sat and shelled the corn, And raked and st rred the fire, And talked or different kinds of ears, And hitched their chairs up nigher.

Then Susan she the popper shook, Then John he shook the popper, Till both their faces grew as red As saucepans made of copper.

And then they shelled, and popped and ate, All ginds of fun a p k rg.

And he haw-hawed at her remarks,

And she laughed at his joking.

And still they popped and still they ate, (Join's mouth was like a hopper) And stirred the fire, and sprinkled salt, And shook and shook the popper. The clock struck nine, the clock struck ten,

And still the corn kept popping: It struck eleven and then struck twelve, and still no signs of stopping

And John he ate, and Sue she thought— The corn did pop and patter, Till Joan cried out, "The corn's afre! Why, Susan, what's the matter?"

Said she, "John Stiles, it's one o'clock; You'll die of indigestion; I'm sick or all this popping corn— Why don't you pop the question?"

COTTON.—The depressed price for this article, which DOMESTIC.

COITON.-The depressed price for this article, which has for some time characterized the market, still cor-tended to quickly reduce the price of the article, is the facility which buyers have, by means of the cable, to place their purchases, as soon as made in the American ports, on the English market ; sales to arrive being now a most important scature in the trade. By this means much of the supply on hand, in the ports of the United States, may be considered at any moment as forming part of the stock at Liverpool, and is g nerally forced on he market there so long as there is a cannee for profit The price of the article during the week has varied slightly, the quotations at Liverpool opening at 7%d., receding to 7%d. and advancing to 7%d. 7 lb. for Middling Uplands; the New York market opening at 1534@153/c., stiffening to 153/r. and closing yesterday at 15%@16 $ 1b. for New York Middling, the rates here begining at 14%@14%c., receding to 14%, and selling yes terday at 1414@144c. 7 lb. for Middling Upland. The arrivals at this point for the week have been somewhat less than during the week before, and have amounted to about 527 bales of Sea Islands and Floridas, and 8639 bales of Upland Cotton, against 647 bales of Sea Islands and Floridas, and 9686 bales of Upland Cotton the pre-

The following statement contains a report of the transactions in the article here for the week just closed. 14%, and Strict Middling at 15c. 8 lb. On Saturday the staple sold at firmer rates, and in some transactions an advance of %c. ? ib was obtained; but intelligence coming to hand of a decline in the English market, the firmness of the early part of the day was lost, and prices receded to the quotations of the day belore. Sales about 350 bales, Middling being quoted at 14 % @ 4% and Strict Middling at 15c. ≥ ib.

On Monday the inquiry for the staple opened very moderate, but improved as the day advanced, and closed active and firmer. Sales about 1000 bales, Low Middling being quoted at 14@14%; Middling at 14%, and Strict Middling at 15c @ ib.

On Tuesday, the staple was stronger and more active the comm n and medium qualities stiffening about 1/4c. % lb.; sales 1100 bales, Ord nary to Good Ordinary being quoted at 12@14, Low widdling at 14%@14%, Middling at 14%@14%, and Strict Middling at 15c. 7 fb. On Wednesday, buyers were generally absent from the market, and the staple was consequently dull, and prices receded about 1/2c. 7 lb.; sales 300 bales, Low Middling being quoted at 14, Middling at 14%, and Strict Middling at 14%c. 7 lb. NEW ORLEANS, December 14.—COTTON—The sales to-day amounted to 4300 bales, at irregular prices, showing a continued downward tendency, the closing quotations being 12\(\frac{1}{2}\)12\(\frac{1}{2}\)6 for Ordinary, 13\(\frac{1}{3}\)4 for Good Ordinary, 13\(\frac{1}{4}\)4 for Dow Middling, 14\(\frac{1}{2}\)a14\(\frac{1}{2}\)6 for Middling, 14\(\frac{1}{2}\)a14\(\frac{1}{2}\)6 for Middling, 14\(\frac{1}{2}\)6 for Middling, 14\(\f Ordinary, 13% aide for Low Middling, 143, a14% of or and-dling, and 165 for Strict Middling.

The market opened under the depressing influence of a decline of 1/2 at Liverpool, and increased heaviness in Foreign Exchange, caused by the price of gold at New York. Factors, however made a strenuous effort to pre-vent any further concessions, and some desirable lists changed hands at yeaterday's rates, but later in the day found themselves compelled either to cover up their sam-ples or submit to a reduction of ½a½c, indicated by the above figures. Under these circumstances, prices were marked by great irregularity, exceptional transactions having occurred at a fraction less than our inside quota-tions. STATEMENT OF COTTON.

New York Market. MONEY MARKET.

The New York Evening Post of Tuesday, December 17,

The losn market is well supplied at 6a7 per cent, the chief transactions being at the lower limit. There is some currency going West and south, but the return flow is considerable, while the payments on account of maturing compounds and interest on the seven-thirties tend to give case to the movements of capital in the money market. In discounts little is doing. Choice bills are scarce. A better tone is given to the market by the fact that one or two firms are said to be buving up their paper to close up the year. The current rate is 7a9 for the highest grades, and 10a12 for names less in favor.
