LARGEST CIRCULATION.—THE DAILY NEWS BEING THE NEWSPAPER OFFICIALLY RECOGNIZED AS HAVING THE LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE CITY OF CHARLESTON, PUBLISHES THE LIST OF LETTERS REMAINING IN THE POSTOFFICE AT THE END OF EACH WEEK, ACCORDING TO THE PROVISIONS OF THE NEW POSTOFFICE LAW.

LOCAL MATTERS.

THE GRANITEVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY has declared a dividend of $5 per share.

THE KINGSTREE STAR announces in its last issue that its publication will be discontinued.

FOUND DEAD.—The body of Joshua Odum, a citizen of Darlington District, was found dead near McCall & Co's Mill, on Tuesday morning. The deceased was probably intoxicated and having fallen down was frozen to death. An inquest was held and a verdict rendered in accordance with the facts.

THE SUMMERVILLE MURDER.—George Duffie, the colored man charged with the murder of Grooms at Summerville was brought to the city yesterday and committed to jail. As the indictment stands in the name of the United States it is probable that he will be tried by the military. The post mortem examination of the dead body showed that the wounds were inflicted on the head by some sharp instrument—it is believed a hatchet—which crushed the bone, and that each of them were sufficient to have caused death.

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.—The first week in January, has for several years, been observed both in England and America, as a time of special united prayer. It is proposed to hold a series of Union Prayer Meetings; to which all who believe in the efficacy, and value the privilege of prayer, are affectionately invited. The services will be conducted by ministers of various evangelical denominations. On Sunday evening January 5th, in St. Luke's Church, at 7 o'clock. On the afternoon of each day of the same week, in the Circular Church, at 4 o'clock. On Sunday evening January 12th, in Bethel Church, at 7 o'clock.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—Hon. Geo. S. BRYAN PRESIDING.—In re Phelan & Callender vs. Thomas Flynn. Creditor's petition for involuntary bankruptcy. The petition was read by M. P. O'Connor, Esq., and on his motion, it was ordered that Thomas Flynn appear at the Court on January 9th, and show cause why the petition should not be granted; also that in the mean time Thomas Flynn and all other persons be restrained from making any transfer of the debtors' property not excepted by the Bankruptcy law.

In re James M. Martin—petition for voluntary bankruptcy. James D. Treadwell, solicitor for petitioner. Messrs. Browner & Spratt appearing for Mr. Treadwell, led the petition, and on their motion the Judge signed an adjudication of bankruptcy, referable to Henry Summers, Register of the 3d Congressional District.

COTTON PRESSES.—Although the receipts of cotton have fallen off considerably during the past few days, the demand for freights keeps the cotton presses busily employed in making the bags more compact and preparing them for shipment. The presses of Messrs. Groning & Coates, on Hayne-street and East Bay, have been working steadily during the whole season, and the puffing of their engines kept time with the clicking of type in the News office. Though the business has fallen off to a great extent, the demand is still sufficient to keep both presses in motion. The smaller press, on East Bay, near Union Wharves, has only been in operation a short time, but has been constantly employed. This press was rebuilt since the war, and though somewhat smaller than others in the city, has been found to be very serviceable during the past few months when the rush for freights was at its height.

CLEAR AS MUD.—The streets were unpleasantly damp yesterday, and the soft mud which carpeted the sidewalks caused the fair promenaders to bless the divinity that introduced short skirts and thick shoes. The few unfortunate who had not conformed to the fashion had their attention fully occupied in the difficult task of keeping their trains from the mud. In the upper portion of King-street, where paving stones are unknown, the mud was fearful and formed a slimy bog that was almost impassable. Shoes soon lost their brilliant polish, and the cars were sought as an ark of refuge which would pilot the faint-hearted to the dry land. Few who gazed despondingly at the miry slough thought that "Just it was and unto dust it will return." But if the present fine weather continues old Sol will soon convince unbelievers that his strength has not departed, and the dust will receive the anathemas which are now so liberally bestowed on the mud.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.—Peter Pirnie, executor, vs. Martha P. Curtis, administratrix, et al. Messrs. Porter & Connor for complainants, and Messrs. Macbeth & Buist. The exception filed was read, and arguments made on the ground that the defendants should be allowed costs for all the special matters in agreement, motions and references which have taken place in the progress of the cause. The Judge made the following order, that the report be reformed as prayed for by the defendant in his exceptions, and that the costs be taxed in conformity with the law regulating the taxation of costs in the Court of Equity in the State of South Carolina.

Messrs. W. James Whaley, John Grinnall and Charles P. Porcher were admitted to practice in the United States Courts as solicitors, attorneys and proctors. In the several cases of John Chadwick vs. W. P. Butler, J. T. Reeves and E. H. Strubhard, on motion of J. B. Cohen, the Judge signed an order referring them to D. Horlbeck, Esq., Commissioner of the United States, to inquire and report on the amounts due on the bond.

CHARLESTON FLOUR MILLS.—The flour mills of Messrs. Jno. Campson & Co., in Market-street opposite State, have recently received a number of important improvements by which the proprietors are enabled to facilitate the grinding and delivery of flour. The space allotted to the machinery is comparatively limited, but the arrangement is perfect, and each part performs its separate function accurately. The elevators, smut machines, coolers, and in deed every part of the machinery in the mill does its duty. The engine, hopper, and the heavier parts of the machinery are all on the lower floor, the second story being devoted to the bolting, wheels, coolers, &c. In the rear of the mill is a large storehouse where the supplies of grain and hay, &c., are kept. Messrs. Campson & Co. have secured the services of Mr. Reid, an old and experienced miller, and though the mill has been in operation but a few months, it has already proved to be a paying enterprise, and the orders received keep the employees constantly busy. The flour mills established by Messrs. Campson & Co. are a proof that energy and activity must compel success, though a business may be prostrated and capital wanting.

THE LADIES' FUEL SOCIETY will hold their monthly meeting at the Depository, Chalmers-street, on the 8th inst., at 1 o'clock. The Ward Collectors, Ward Distributors and other officers, are requested to be punctual in attendance.

SERVANTS.—It has always been a matter of difficulty for housekeepers to secure good servants, and this evil has not been lessened by the change in the condition of the colored race. From every side the same complaint is heard. The principal difficulty is to find servants among the colored class who have some idea of the nice distinction between manum and manu. A majority of the house servants now-a-days are perfect nomads, and, like the descendants of Ishmael, their hand is against every man. They seldom retain a situation longer than a month, but make excellent use of their time, and seldom leave without fleeing their employers. So many instances of this system of plundering have occurred recently that it would be well for housekeepers to keep their valuables secured, and their servants under a strict surveillance. Many of the petty larceny cases that are reported have been effected by former servants, who are posted concerning the domestic arrangements of a house, and can easily secure an entrance. Unfortunately, servants are necessary evils, but unless they are well known, employers cannot be too vigilant.

DISTURBANCE AT FORT MOTTE.—THE LEAGUE IN ARMS DEFYING MILITARY AND CIVIL LAW.—A report was prevalent in the city yesterday that a negro had been shot at Fort Motte, and that troops had been sent from Columbia to quell the disturbance. The evening's train from Columbia brought the following particulars: On Thursday morning Mr. Diedrick Hane, who plans near Fort Motte, was accosted by Jeff Davis, one of his former slaves, who wished to purchase a pair of shoes. Mr. Hane had a small store in which he kept plantation supplies, and from which he had advanced the freedmen many articles. He told Jeff Davis that he was already in his debt and that he could not have the shoes. Davis became very indignant at the refusal, and commenced threatening Mr. Hane, saying that he would shoot him, &c. Mr. Hane is quite an old man, and, fearing the negro might do him some injury, he got his gun, and the threats being continued, he fired, wounding the negro, but not seriously. The shooting was no sooner known to the negroes on the neighboring plantations, who belonged to the League, than they commenced assembling, and in a short time nearly three hundred were at the spot, most of them being armed. They surrounded the house, posting pickets, and preventing all ingress or egress, and said that they would take the case in their own hands and would allow no interference from either the civil or military authorities. No one was allowed to enter the house except the doctor who was attending the boy, and Mr. Hane was made a close prisoner, though no violence was offered to his person. His friends seeing the position of affairs, dispatched a message to Columbia for the assistance of the military. One company of the garrison was immediately sent to the fort, but their arrival had been barely announced when the forces of the League disappeared. The valiant host, who respected neither the sword or the gown, had vanished, and the soldiers had the battlefield to themselves. Mr. Hane was placed under arrest, to answer any charges that may be made against him. At last accounts the negro was recovering, and there were no apprehensions of any further disturbance.

INCENDIARISM IN THE COUNTRY.—In addition to the recent incendiary fires in Darlington District, already noticed in these columns. The following says: A fire broke out before Mr. Lido's calamity the torch was applied to a building, containing fodder and hay, on the premises of the late Chancellor Jargan, and the same was consumed. On Sunday night last, the torch was also applied to some buildings at the Orange plantation of the late James S. McCall and one or more of them were consumed. The dwelling house on Gen. J. B. Nettles' plantation—in which the General was sleeping, for the time in the morning—was fired on Wednesday night, and before much could be saved was soon in a blaze and the General had but time to save himself. Stealing has become so common that it is scarcely noticed now; the absorbing question is how to save one's premises from the incendiary's torch.

AMERICAN LEAD PENCIL COMPANY, NEW YORK.

Factory, Hudson City, N. J. WHOLESALE SALES ROOM, No. 34 JOHN STREET, NEW YORK.

ALL STYLES AND GRADES OF LEAD PENCILS of superior quality are manufactured and offered at fair terms to the Trade. The public are invited to give the AMERICAN LEAD PENCIL the preference.

THE PENCILS ARE TO BE HAD AT ALL THE PRINCIPAL STATIONERS AND NOTION DEALERS. ASK FOR THE "AMERICAN LEAD PENCIL."

TESTIMONIAL. SHEFFIELD SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL, ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT, YALE COLLEGE, November 16, 1866.

I have always recommended the Faber Polygrade Lead Pencils as the only pencils fitted for both ornamental and mathematical drawing; but, after a thorough trial of the American Polygrade Lead Pencils, manufactured by the American Lead Pencil Company, New York, I find them superior to any pencil in use, even to the Faber or the old English Cumberland Lead Pencil, being a superior pencil for sketching, ornamental and mechanical drawing, and all the ordinary uses of a lead pencil.

These pencils are very finely graded and have a very smooth lead; even the softest pencils hold the point well; they are all that can be desired in a pencil. It gives me great pleasure to be able to assure Americans that they will no longer be compelled to depend upon Germany or any other foreign market for pencils.

Prugs, Chemicals, Etc. GREAT HEALTH RESTORATIVE AND BALM OF LIFE! FOR ALL WHO ARE CONSUMPTIVE, OR ARE SUSCEPTIBLE TO ANY IRRITATION OF THE LUNGS, WHETHER THE COUGH HAS BEEN OF LONG CONTINUANCE, OR OF RECENT ORIGIN.

RODRIGUES' PULMONIC ELIXIR SPECIFIC HAS RAPIDLY DISTINGUISHED ITSELF FOR its wonderful restorative and curative qualities. Under its stimulative influence, and by its penetrative agency, this health invigorating cordial excites a general beneficial reaction, and disperses the impermissible obstructions which prevent access to other remedies. While gradually reducing the accompanying condition which attends the malady, it reproduces the essential warmth and elastic vigor of the respiratory vessels, which by this remedial combination, promotes the healing process by which relief and cure is effected.

Hemorrhages are arrested and cured, with every other concurrent disorder. As neither narcotic nor emetic properties of any kind are employed in this Pulmonic Compound, and the most assiduous attention given to the quality and medical value of each component article which constitute it, it is confidently and conscientiously recommended for its safety and reliability, without restriction in general, wholesome diet, or apprehension of renewed cold from its effects.

For sale wholesale and retail by the Proprietors, Mrs. CECILIA RODRIGUES, northwest corner of MEETING AND ROBERT STREETS, and at the Drugstore. PRICE SINGLE BOTTLE $1.25. November 12, 17.

Books, Stationery, Etc. PROSPECTUS FOR 1868 OF THE SOUTHERN HOME JOURNAL, UNIVERALLY ACKNOWLEDGED To be the best Weekly Paper in the Country. $10,000 REWARD FOR INDIVIDUAL WORK AND ENERGY.

We will pay $10,000 in premiums for 20,000 subscribers to THE SOUTHERN HOME JOURNAL; counting subscribers that come in from all sources after this date. $4000 Will be paid to the person who sends us the largest number of subscribers, with $3 for each subscriber. $3000 Will be paid to the person who sends us the next largest number, with $3 for each subscriber. $2000 Will be paid to the person who sends us the next largest number, with $3 for each subscriber. $1000 Will be paid to the person who sends us the next largest number, with $3 for each subscriber.

"How can you afford this?" is asked. "Simply by setting apart, for this purpose, 50 cents of each $3 sent us, which will put the price of the paper at our regular club rates. When the number reaches 20,000 subscribers, there will be $10,000 set apart for the premiums. "But it will take a long time to make up 20,000 subscribers," some will say. "Judging from what has been accomplished without reward, we feel assured that by a little energetic work, it could easily be done within 60 days. Suppose, for instance, 200 persons undertake to compete for these premiums and send us on an average two subscribers a day, in 60 days we should have received 20,000 subscribers, and the person who had sent in the largest number on the day it reached 20,000 would be entitled to receive the $4000, the next largest $3000, the next largest $2000, and the next largest $1000.

Subscribers' names will be received from any city, town, or county outside of Baltimore city. Our reasons for excluding Baltimore are that parties in this city, where the paper is so well known and highly esteemed, find no difficulty in getting from 50 to 100 names a day; another reason is to strip the proposition of everything but partiality. The result will be published in our own columns, also the columns of the daily papers, so that all parties interested may see that the premiums have been awarded to those who really did the work.

Parties competing for the above premiums will notify us, and may commence sending in the names of subscribers and the money, singly or otherwise, from this date, which will be credited to each as received. A newspaper publisher, if he understands the business, will tell you that there is no humbug in this proposition, but that we can easily afford to pay $10,000 for 20,000 subscribers. The result will be published in our own columns, also the columns of the daily papers, so that all parties interested may see that the premiums have been awarded to those who really did the work.

Money sent will be at the risk of the party sending, unless sent by postoffice order or draft. THE SOUTHERN HOME JOURNAL is a large and elegant illustrated weekly of forty columns, printed on fine white paper, and pronounced by the press of the country to be the best literary paper in the United States. SAMPLE NUMBERS Sent free to parties desiring to compete for the above premiums. Address all communications to JOHN SLATER & CO., No. 293 W. Baltimore-street. Baltimore, Md. January 4, 1.

Books, Stationery, Etc. PROSPECTUS FOR 1868 OF THE SOUTHERN HOME JOURNAL, UNIVERALLY ACKNOWLEDGED To be the best Weekly Paper in the Country. $10,000 REWARD FOR INDIVIDUAL WORK AND ENERGY.

We will pay $10,000 in premiums for 20,000 subscribers to THE SOUTHERN HOME JOURNAL; counting subscribers that come in from all sources after this date. $4000 Will be paid to the person who sends us the largest number of subscribers, with $3 for each subscriber. $3000 Will be paid to the person who sends us the next largest number, with $3 for each subscriber. $2000 Will be paid to the person who sends us the next largest number, with $3 for each subscriber. $1000 Will be paid to the person who sends us the next largest number, with $3 for each subscriber.

"How can you afford this?" is asked. "Simply by setting apart, for this purpose, 50 cents of each $3 sent us, which will put the price of the paper at our regular club rates. When the number reaches 20,000 subscribers, there will be $10,000 set apart for the premiums. "But it will take a long time to make up 20,000 subscribers," some will say. "Judging from what has been accomplished without reward, we feel assured that by a little energetic work, it could easily be done within 60 days. Suppose, for instance, 200 persons undertake to compete for these premiums and send us on an average two subscribers a day, in 60 days we should have received 20,000 subscribers, and the person who had sent in the largest number on the day it reached 20,000 would be entitled to receive the $4000, the next largest $3000, the next largest $2000, and the next largest $1000.

Subscribers' names will be received from any city, town, or county outside of Baltimore city. Our reasons for excluding Baltimore are that parties in this city, where the paper is so well known and highly esteemed, find no difficulty in getting from 50 to 100 names a day; another reason is to strip the proposition of everything but partiality. The result will be published in our own columns, also the columns of the daily papers, so that all parties interested may see that the premiums have been awarded to those who really did the work.
