

THE DAILY NEWS.

The Songs I Sang. I sang of joy, but still unquench'd, they bade me sing again, some other song; I sang of battle, of pomp and pride, and breathed such music earnestly and long.

But all in vain—they said, another tone Than these should ring from that sweet harp of mine. Soft, like the winds of summer, it should moan, And every flogging murmur seem divine.

So then I wrote the string with deep complaint Of hopes fulfilled not, grief unnumber'd; And, stinking to a noisome stench, I wrote, by aid of pen and sorrow for the dead.

And, when they said, "I was often glad to hear Of love and mourning, or of bliss and pain; But not one heart's approval, not a tear, Repaid me till I wrote a nobler strain."

Once more, O blessed harp! I'll make thee ring, And let thy song be that of holy suffering, I sing, and all that listened wept with me.

CONDITION OF THE SOUTH. Letter from Governor Perry, of South Carolina.

THE TERRIBLE PARALYZATION OF THE PEOPLE—HOW THE SOUTH COSTS THE COUNTRY A HUNDRED MILLIONS, INSTEAD OF ADDING A HUNDRED MILLIONS TO ITS RESOURCES.

The following letter was addressed by Ex-Governor Perry to Captain O. N. Butler, of this State, at present residing in Baltimore City.

GREENVILLE, S. C., January 19, 1868. O. N. Butler, Esq.

My DEAR FRIEND—In your letter to my son you say that the Northern people are not ready to you that the condition of the Southern States, and that you wish me to write something on this subject for publication.

As it is well known to the world that the Southern States have been stripped of every vestige of republican liberty, and placed, by the wicked and unscrupulous legislation of the present Congress, under a military despotism, for partisan purposes.

It is equally well known that negro conventions have been ordered in all those States for the purpose of establishing in them negro supremacy. In order to accomplish this, a very large portion of the most intelligent, virtuous and patriotic of the white race have been disfranchised, and are heretofore to be governed by the former and unprincipled adventurers from the North!

These facts are well known, and their consequences every intelligent mind may well anticipate. When slavery was abolished in the Southern States, if the people had been left alone in their State legislation and restored to the Union, all would have been well.

They would soon have recovered from their exhausted and prostrated condition, and been once more happy and prosperous people. They would have added hundreds of millions annually to the wealth of the republic, instead of costing it, as they now do, a hundred million every year.

Freedom's banner and a standing army. But the unwise, unconstitutional and suicidal legislation of Congress has paralyzed them forever, and rendered them a prey to the most unscrupulous and unprincipled adventurers from the North!

They would have added hundreds of millions annually to the wealth of the republic, instead of costing it, as they now do, a hundred million every year. Freedom's banner and a standing army.

But the unwise, unconstitutional and suicidal legislation of Congress has paralyzed them forever, and rendered them a prey to the most unscrupulous and unprincipled adventurers from the North!

late, has depreciated in value one-half or two-thirds during the past year. No one is disposed to purchase this kind of property, and foreign capital has been driven out or deterred from coming here for investment. Property sold by the sheriff brings nothing. The market of this State told me the other day that he sold two thousand acres, in Horry district, at public auction to the highest bidder, for five dollars. Auction only brought five dollars apiece.

A great many negroes are moving from the lower country, where there are so many negroes, and that section of the State is destined to become a wilderness. The same thing must occur in many portions of Mississippi and other States. A gentleman just returned from Mississippi tells me that lands, which rented last year for fourteen dollars per acre, were now offered at two dollars per acre, and no one would take them.

Unless there is a reaction at the North, and better legislation for the Southern States, they will be an incubus to the Union, utterly destructive of the whole republic. The present military rule will have to be kept up to maintain peace between the two races, and there is no certainty of their ability to do this long.

It is impossible to prevent the operation of this negro government until the peace of the country. A war of races must ensue, and it will be the most terrific war of extermination that ever desolated the face of the earth in any age of the world.

I am, with great respect and esteem, yours truly, J. M. PERRY.
