

THE DAILY NEWS.

RIORDAN, DAWSON & CO., PROPRIETORS.

OFFICE No. 18 HAYNE-STREET.

TERMS—THE DAILY NEWS, PRICE (payable in all cases in advance) SIX DOLLARS A YEAR; FIVE DOLLARS FOR SIX MONTHS; TWO DOLLARS AND A QUARTER FOR THREE MONTHS.

NEWS SUMMARY.

Gold closed in New York yesterday at 99. Cotton in New York yesterday advanced one cent, with sales of 2900 bales at 51 cts. for uplands.

In Liverpool cotton closed firmer and higher, at 11 1/2 for uplands.

The election in Mississippi is to begin June 23, and continue until completed.

The Schurzfest at Vienna is expected to make away with 100,000 bottles of wine.

Burlingame took his Chinese to see the Wide Fawn on Saturday evening.

General Stone, who was confined so long during the war, runs a colliery near Richmond, Virginia.

President Johnson has had occasion to administer to many voters of this Radical Congress, they may well call him President No. no.

The yacht Henrietta, in which young Benjamine won the ocean race, has been sold to a San Francisco for $40,000.

Forney says that Chase advised some of his colored friends not to hold party meetings in favor of impeachment, and proceeds to abuse him therefor.

The practice lately adopted by business men of New York of carrying umbrellas or valises along over their shoulders, is gaining to become a fashion.

Greene would like an act of Congress to authorize him to hold on to his commission in case he is elected President. Talk of centralization.

The staircase of Niagara Falls, descending to the path leading under Table Rock, tumbled down a few days ago. A number of persons had passed up and down the day previous.

The New York Tribune sensibly declares that "personal expiations" in Congress have become an unimpeachable nuisance, and says that hereafter it will "print no more of them except as advertisements on the usual terms."

Shooting stars are continually passing through space. Prof. Leemis says 50,000,000 about through the earth's atmosphere every twenty-four hours. Most of them are very small—40 to the ounce!

We learn from Forney's Chronicle that the New York delegates refused to vote for General Slicker for President of the Chicago Convention. The Union to Democratic principles is distributed by his own associates.

The Opheleia comet showed the long-chain nucleus. A pale, delicate green drapery, made of crystallized tulle, forms a scarf around the nucleus. Nothing but sea-green leaves and white water lilies or lake flowers are seen behind, trailing in long coils.

The Nashville (Tenn.) Press and Times says that it is now "tolerably certain that a proclamation of universal amnesty is in course of preparation at the White House, and will be issued before the meeting of the National Democratic Convention."

Chicago has recently completed another immense grain elevator, and now boasts of sixteen, with a total capacity of over nine million bushels. Instead of measuring the grain, as in former years, with the old bushel, it is weighed in bulk, which is not only a convenience, but a great saving of time, labor and expense. The number of acres required at present in those elevators is forty-two, from 100 to 200 bushels capacity, 111 of 200 bushels capacity, and 12,000,000 bushels of grain, making 108 large scales.

George Wilkes, editor of the New York Spirit of the Times, says: "In a conversation which took place on Monday last between Gen. Grant at his headquarters, and the editor of this paper, the General, of his own accord, introduced the subject of the single Presidential term. Gen. Grant not only declared himself in favor of it, but expressed the opinion that the passage of a constitutional amendment effecting this reform is absolutely necessary for the preservation of our liberties."

The Tribune says: "A number of politicians of New York met on Saturday evening at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, for the purpose of considering measures for presenting Chief Justice Chase to the coming Democratic Convention as their candidate for the Presidency. A. Oakley Hall presided. It was resolved to prepare a circular, to be distributed among leading Democratic politicians and editors, setting forth the claims of Mr. Chase upon the Democratic party, and the objects to be attained by his nomination. A. Oakley Hall and Messrs. Stynes and Austin were appointed a committee to prepare such a circular."

Edmund Yates, in finishing his new novel, "The Rock Ahead," did not shrink from the issue, which most who have read it in parts, half expected would be reached. He makes the heavy tax upon people's taste, of marrying his heroine to her first husband's brother. Such marriages are illegal in England and would be very angrily condemned by those who are fully alive to the absurdity of preventing a union between a man and the sister of his deceased wife. The two are utterly distinct. Perhaps the European novelists intend to try this mode of attracting attention to their works. To go through the forbidden degree may have some novelty in England. In France even that has been done.

Yokohama (Japan) dispatches to April 10th, via Hong Kong and Calcutta, received in London on May 24th, were telegraphed the same day over the Atlantic cable to this country. The identical news, with further intelligence from Yokohama to April 28th, was brought by the Pacific mail steamer New York to San Francisco on May 18, and having been transmitted by the overland wires, was published in the Eastern papers on May 19th. Thus eighteen days' later news was published in our Atlantic ports six days before the Calcutta dispatches reached London. The new line to Japan will, in a short time, be the only medium of transmitting intelligence to the east coast of Asia.

A New York letter of the 21st says: "A fashionable wedding, on a new plan, came off at Zion Church, in the Fifth Avenue, this morning. The bride is the daughter of a wealthy and well known iron founder, who returns an income of $200,000 per annum, and the bridegroom the son of an Exchange Place broker, wealthy also. The ceremonies were entirely choral. Bishop Southgate intoned the prayers, and even the confection, "Will thou take this woman," &c., &c., was drawn out in the same monotone. The effect was ludicrous rather than solemn, and one of two of the gushing bridesmaids could not restrain from laughing right out at it. The choir got up a gorgeous 'professional' and 'rejoicing' for the occasion, and, for the delectation of the happy pair and the lookers-on, threw in all the fancy music from Mendelssohn down to Offenbach.

General Canby had added two words in his letter to Colonel Cooswell, "that the change was determined upon by considerations of a public nature involving the interests of the city and State"—is a rumour.

CHARLESTON.

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 29, 1893.

The Plan of General Canby.

In his letter to "Colonel Cooswell, U. S. A., Mayor of Charleston," announcing the removal of thirteen Aldermen and the appointment of their successors, General Canby says: "The change was determined upon by considerations of a public nature, involving the interests of the city and State."

of one so thoroughly the "master of the situation." But when we remember the peculiar circumstances that exist—the rage of Congress, whom General Canby represents—the fact that his tenure of power is about to expire,—that during his administration his light has been modestly hid beneath the public bushel, and that he may have felt that he needs must do something new-fangled and extreme in character, in order to secure a high place on the Radical record, and prominence on the platform occupied by Butler, Wade and Thaddeus Stevens,—it is no wonder that he should have gone far beyond his fellows, have struggled to reach a height to which Sikes and Sheridan never aspired, and indicated upon Carolina a wrong, whose memory will endure when his military history is forgotten—a wrong that Grant or Sherman, Phillips or Horace Greeley, might well hesitate to justify.

General Canby should have added two words in his letter to Colonel Cooswell, "that the change was determined upon by considerations of a public nature involving the interests of the city and State"—is a rumour.

They Don't Like Schools.

The New York Tribune, in a brief and bitter paragraph upon the protest made by the Democratic committee against the new constitution, says: "They hold that the school tax is unjust in requiring both whites and blacks to pay for schools which the children of the white nobility will not attend. They don't like schools in South Carolina."
