-English gentlemen appear at the present day to be afflicted with a propensity to commit the crime of bigamy. Not long ago Sir Culling Eardeley was convicted of having married Lowin actress, while his wife, an American, was a line. Another case is now reported in the English papers—that of Henry Grantler, who first married a ward in chancery. named Ellen Earle, and within four years again married a drughter of the late Sir Norman Leslie. From the position in society, and the names of the wives, it would appear that they both were of great respectability. -Texas cattle still continue in demand, particularly with the States on the Ohio and upper Mississippi. Nine or ten thousand fat beef cattle, and about one thousand horses have een sold in Williamson County alone this season; some for Kansas and some for Tennessee and California. The horses were mostly good nalf-breeds, and sold at $30 to $80, specie. A flock of goats, twelve hundred strong, passed through Sherman lately, northward. This abundance of animal food is attracting persons from other States and from abroad. On May 27th, two emigrant vessels arrived at Galveston laden with passengers.

The Paris correspondent of the London Star writes: "The Pontificial army is to receive the addition of an American contingent, to consist of volunteers from North and South without distinction of party, who will form a corps to be styled American Rifles. These men are to be paid and equipped by voluntary subscriptions paid into the hands of the Catholic Bishops of America. The Federal General Lewis is organizing this contingent, which will be commanded by Captain Middleton, a young and distinguished officer of the Confederate army. No officer will be enrolled who has not seen active service."

—The recent panic on the Canadian frontier in reference to an alleged invasion by the Fer nians from the United States, is explained in the following amusing way: It appears that the Canadians have been in the habit of tapping the telegraph wires for news of Fenial projects and preparations. Gen. O'Neill and staff are posted at Buffalo, and Gen. Spear and Col. Luke Murphy at Rouse's Point, while the less important leaders are stationed in the immediate neighborhood of both places. These gentlemen, aware of the practice of the Canadians in intercepting telegrams, have, it is stated, latterly been amusing themselves at the expense of the watchful guardians of the interests of the Dominion. For instance, O'Neill telegraphs Spear: "Will cross at Nisgara on the night of the - inst., with 5000 men. Make a simultaneous demonetration upon your front." General Spear makes a suitable response, and thereupon the loyal militia are summoned by beat of drum, watchfires are lighted, and the whole Dominion anxiously awaits the threatened attack. Thus the secret of these absurd alarms and extensive preparations in Canada is to be explained as the result of the practical jokes of the Fe nian wags.

CHARLESTON.

SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 13, 1868. "Blessed is He that Expecteth Nothing!"

The New York World, the organ of the New York Democracy, is very plain spoken in regard to negro suffrage in the South. and if its opinions are those of the majority of the Demogratic party, the status quo will not be disturbed by the Democracy, and the States will only be allowed to reg ulate their own affairs under the hybrid constitutions now before Congress for approval. It has already been suggested in these columns that this policy will be adopted by the National Democracy, but it is sufficient for the present to examine the arguments by which the World supports its

The World admits that any clause in the

new constitutions inhibiting a change in the basis of suffrage will be constitutionally null and practically futile, but contends that negro suffrage cannot be uprooted by the Federal Government, even under Democratic control. If the Democracy affirm the principle that the Federal Government has no right to regulate suffrage in a State, they restrain themselves from imitating the pernicious interference of the Radicals. The bearing and effect of this doctrine "is to "recognize the status quo of the suffrage in every State, and to preclude interference by the Federal Government to change it: as well from changing it from bad to good, "as from good to bad." The World then adds these significant words: "All that the "Demogratic party can promise the South "on this subject is its inactivity-its for-"bearance to thwart the States in any changes they may hereafter choose to make: We suppose we have made it clear enough that if negro suffrage is ever abolished in the South, it will not be by the "Federal Government." In conclusion, it says that a Democratic Congress would have no power to decide between the supplanted white governments and the existing negro governments; that the supplanted governments would be incapable of revival; that negro suffrage can only be removed by State action in which the negroes shall take part, and that "the South must judge whether it is easier to persuade the negroes to vote "against their own right to vote, or to per-"suade them to use that right for the ad'vantage of the community." Two wrongs do not make a right, and the inconstitutional action of a Radical Congress does not relieve its successor from the moral obligation of reversing that action as soon as it has the power to do so. The Supreme Court can take jurisdiction over the subject, and unless the new Congress were resolved to shelve the Supreme Court itself, the decree of that Court would expunge from the statute book every unconstitutional law. Moreover, the legal government of a State cannot become extinct. The government may be usurped, the negro may sit on the judgment seat, every official of the rightful government may be deposed; but the government was, at best, nothing more than the representative of the people, who are the source of all authority, and,

her prominent Republicans, will be whence they same. As long as there are white men in a State, there is the material for the formation of a rightful popular government. son & Co., long and favorably known in con-nection with the Cuban trade, has suspended in consequence of large advances to Cuba cor-repeal of the Reconstruction laws which might end in the declaration of the illegality of the emancipation proclamation, it could compromise with principle, return the States to the position which they held in 1865, and admit them to representation under the constitutions framed and ratified by their white inhabitants.

This is the Southern view of the duty of the Democratic party, and, were it not that the coming contest is more for power than for principle, there would be great hope of its adoption by the North. Parties, however, are supremely selfish. They fight for place and profit, believing that principle without power is as useless as it must be unprofitable. The Northern Democracy have little to gain by fighting the battles of ten States which cannot give them one electoral vote. They will make their calculations deliberately and in cool blood, and will not touch negro suffrage or Radical misrule in the South, if the great greenback question is likely to give them a more effective platform.

Faithful to the Last.

The Disraeli Ministry has met with a series of damaging defeats, but continues to hold the reins of government. This conduct is nearly without precedent, for it has hitherto been a point of honor with English statesmen to show, by a prompt resignation, that they recognized the principle that the majority, not the minority, should rule. Mr. DISRA-ELI threatens that, if a direct vote of want of confidence in the Ministry be passed, he will cause Parliament to be dissolved and appeal to the new constituencies. As soon as the Scotch and Irish Reform bills have passed, Parliament must be dissolved and general elections take place. This is a provision of the English reform bill, and if Mr. DISBARLI dissolve Parliament before the Scotch and Irish bills have passed, each member of Parliament would be exposed to the expense and trouble of two elections within twelve months.

Mr. DISRAELI is allowed to retain office because it is not convenient to the Liberal leaders to have Parliament dissolved, and the Premier allows Mr. GLADSTONE to lead the House of Commons and legislate at will, because he prefers office without power to the bare benches of the opposition. This anomalous condition of affairs is not altogether palatable, and Mr. GLADSTONE may find that public opinion will require him to exert his control, and remove from office a minister who no longer represents a majority of the representatives of the people. DISRAELI, however, will be admired for his pluck, and it is only reasonable that the man who became Prime Minister contrary to all precedent, should conduct himself in his high position in a manner that usage does not justify.

The County Elections.

EDGEFIELD has gone for the Radicals by a large majority.

GREENVILLE has elected the Democratic ticket by 164 majority. Majority for the constitution 823. Demogratic gain 997. ABBEVILLE has elected the Democratic ticket by 355 majority. Majority for the constitution 1721, Democratic gain 2076. York has elected the Democratic ticket by 1650 majority. Majority for the constitution 357, Democratic gain 2007. CHESTER, as we understand the returns. has elected Conservatives by a majority of 400. Majority for constitution 769, Conservative gain 1169.

THE NEW YORK Times, under the head of Let us Have Peace," says: "There is no danger of any renewed rebellion on the part of the Southern States. The people of those States have neither the will nor "the power to renew any such attempt. "The war has ended all controversy of that "kind, and settled the questions out of which it arose. But the finality of that "settlement, as a matter of fact, must also be accepted, if we are to have peace. It is not enough that we have no new attempt to contest the result by force of "arms:-it is not fairly open to further contest of any kind. And an effort to renew the conflict politically-an attempt to reverse the decisions of the war, by an ap-'peal to the ballot, will be, if successful, 'full of danger and disaster to the country."

THE NEW YORK World says that the "supporters of Mr. PENDLETON and of Mr. CHASE agree in considering the financial problem as the most important which will engage the attention of the government "for the next four years." This, according to the World, is a perfectly sound judgment, and does credit to the sagacity of the party.

A SHCROFT'S LOW WATER DEFECTOR

PREVENTS THE EXPLOSION OR BURNING OUT OF STEAM BOILERS.

THE PRIME CAUSE OF STEAM BOILER EX-PLOSIONS ARISES FROM A DEFICIENCY OF WATER IN THE BOILER WHILE IN ACTION.

EXPLOSIONS FROM DEFICIENCY OF WATER. Low water in steam bollers is no unusual occur-Low writer in steam bollers is no unusual occur-rence. Imminent danger frequently arises from this cause, and it cannot be too forcibly impressed upon the minds of ervineers, that there is no part of the apparatus consultuing the mountings of a boller which requires greater attention than that which sup-plies it with water. In a properly constructed boller er every part of the metal exposed to the action of the fire should be in immediate contact with the wa-ter, and when proper provision is made to minital the water at a sufficient height above the parts so exposed, accidents can never occur from that cause. the water at a sufficient height above the parts so exposed, accidents can never occur from this cause. Should the water, however, get low from defects in the pump, and the surface over the fire become overheated, then, even at the ordinary working pressure, there is great danger of an explosion. There is no occasion, under such circumstances, to search further, for the cause of explosion, from the fact that the material, when overheated to a certain degree loses about five-sixths of its strength, and is, therefore, unable to resist the internal pressure. When a boiler becomes short of water, the first thing usually done is to put the feed "pump in action; this certainly remedies the deficiency," but increases the danger, and may lead to the explosion of the boiler.

Ashcroft's Low Water Detector Is eminently fitted to guard against accidents caused by low water. Itneeds not the care or attention of the engineer or fireman to keep it in order. Opera-ting by the force of natural laws, it takes care of it-self, and it only called into action by the fall of the water below any fixed level, and then it gives the alarm to all within sound of the whistle of a defi-cient supply of water. cient supply of water.

It stands as a watchful monitor over the magazin of power on which it is placed, and not only guard it, but notifies the attendant, if he is forgetful o negligent of his duty.

MAPES'

COTTON, CORN, WHEAT AND GENERAL CROPS.

A S A TOP DRESSING TO A GROWING CROP THIS FERTILIZER cannot be excelled. It may be used before or after the planting of the crop; for even when applied as a top dressing, it cannot be lost by evaporation, as none of its constituents are volatile. It may be applied at each hoeing of cotton, and in the hills during the cultivation of corn and other crops. When crops have been previously manured in the usual way, and found to be of sluggish growth, it may be augmented by the use of this Fertilizer.

This Fertilizer has been successfully used throughout the Southern States during the past fifteen years.
