Baron Cuvier states that if the progeny of appir of herrings went on increasing and mullying without molestation or destruction of the cva, in twenty years it would require all the sess in the world to contain the herrings that would result. Thereupon he stole a horse, ran away and married his last wife's sister, but Sign't bring her home, out of consideration for his mother's feelings. -The inflammatory tone of the speeches in Congress with reference to the Southern govcomments and the Southern electoral vote is causing a very uncomfortable feeling in business circles in New York, increasing as it does the prevailing distrust of the future. Great regret is also expressed that Congress, instead of taking a recess merely, did not adjourn, as usual, till December. To reassemble right on the eve of an exciting Presidential election, Republicans as well as Democrats apprehend will be but to foment past agitation.

THE DAILY NEWS. | ously refrain from holding any intercourse with him. He says he never yet met with a criminal who was to be beheaded but whose courage finally gave way. He thinks hanging would be a better mode of execution, nearly every criminal being affaid of the pain which they think the axe, in cutting off their heads, would give them. He says the most trying moment for him is always that of his confronting his victim for the first time for the purpose of looking at his neck and cutting off his hair. All the women whom he beheaded, he says, fainted as soon as they caught sight of him and learned who he was, and what he wanted of them. He denounces as a wanton cruelty the practice of reading once more to the criminal the whole long sentence passed upon him after he has reached the scaffold. He thinks that there is still sensibility in the head for several minutes after it has been severed from the trunk. A woman beheaded in Mecklenburg, in 1866, had fainted en the scaffold, and seemed perfectly lifeless when she was tied to the block. After her head was off he picked it up, and saw to his horror that the eyes opened slowly, with an expression of great agony. He thinks the more humane way of executing criminals would be to kill them in an hour or an hour and a half after their sentence has been announced to them, and not compel them to walk or ride to a distant place of execution, but to execute them, if possible in their own prison; for the walk to the scaffold, he says, is always a dreadful torture for the criminal, few of the strongest men being able to retain their composure, while the women, without exception, have to be carried to the block. Occasionally, he says, feeble women arouse themselves at the last moments, and offer the most desperate resistance, so that he and his assistants once or twice were hardly able to fasten them to the block.

State Democratic Convention.

A Convention of the Democratic party of the State of South Carolina is hereby called, to meet at Celumbia, on the night of Thursday, 6th August, for the purpose of nominating Electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, and for other The Convention will be composed of representatives from each District, according to the rule of representation in the House of Representatives.

The Facts and the Figures.

The Northern Democracy in November next will make their main fight upon the plain and direct assertion that this is the country of the white man, and that the white race shall not be made subject to a people who are physically and mentally their inferiors. In so doing they will avoid all local issues and purely party questions. They will appeal to the white man to rescue men of his own race and of his own blood from a bondage worse than death. They will show what is Congressional reconstruction-what are the leeches who are sucking the blood of the South-what are the crimes and follies of those who have set themselves up as the henchmen of Congress and the absolute rulers of ten States of the Union. But they will be met by the mild statements of weak-eyed philanthropists who will tell them that the negro may be made, by schooling, scenting and sweet oil, more than rope; it has value of eighty millions of dollars, the equal of the white man. They will also made comploys 8,500,000 individuals.

destroy this glorious Union. The proper reply to statement and declemation can only come from us. In the North the white carpet-bagger and the colored demagogue are comparatively unknown. We, therefore, must paint them as they are, not merely by fine writing or ingenious argument, but by facts and figures that will show the measure of their vice and incapacity, and the extent of our oppression. From the Southern press the Democratic journals now hope to obtain the information which will enable them to expose Radical fraud and wrong, and we take from an editorial article in the New York World s paragraph which shows the importance which is attached to the duty which circumstances have devolved upon us. The World says: "It would materially assist the expo-"sure of Radical reconstruction were Southern journalists to be somewhat more precise "and statistical in their accounts of that "villany as now enacting under their very eyes. Generally speaking the country is satisfied that this thing is a party dodge "of a very ruffianly nature; but particular "illustrations, with names, facts and figures, would tend greatly to a bet'er and more widely extended comprehension of this "truth. Facts tell, and tell peculiarly, on 'a people of the genius of the North; and "it is to the importance, therefore, of seek-"ing out and publishing facts that the best "attention of the Southern press is invited. Let those who are on the spot give the 'names and antecedents of the reconstruct-"ed rulers of the South, setting forth the "taxes they pay and the public funds they finger, the manner in which they legis-"late, and the terms they have been in jail. "Nothing extenuate or set down aught in "malice. Let the light in, and that is "enough, for the truth about this thing is "blacker than any fiction could be."

What the World advises we have always endeavored to do; but we are compelled to depend largely on the courtesy of our friends and correspondents, whom we again request to inform us of every fact occurring in their neighborhood which will let the light in upon the darkness of reconstructed Carolina. Our columns are open to all authenticated statements which will show the North the character of the men and class who would make us their slaves; and we hope that our readers will not fail, in so important a matter, to give us their hearty co-operation.

SIR ANTHONY TROLLOPE, a man of unbiassed mind, says, in his letter to the Pall Mall Gazette: "There will be in these South-"ern States a war of races;" and again-"The scheme (of reconstruction) after "awhile will fail, but in the meanwhile all "the hatred of a conquering and conquered "people will be maintained." The whole letter, published in another column, is well

THE POETICAL WORKS OF SIE WALTER SCOTT, BART., complete, with a Life of the Author. New York: D. Appleton & Co.

This book is a greater marvel of cheapness than the popular edition of the Waverly Novels, published by the same house. Six hundred and fifty pages of clear type and good paper, comprising the poetical works of one of the most popular of British poets, for fifty cents.

THE COMPLETE POETICAL WORKS OF ROBERT BURNS, with Explanatory and Glossarial Notes and a Life of the Author. By James Currie, M. D. New York: D. Appleton & Co. This is a companion volume, in price and appearance, to "The Poetical Works of Sir WALTER SCOTT," and has the same merits. It contains six hundred and twelve pages, and is well and neatly printed.

MIDSHIPMAN EASY. By Captain Marryatt, R. N. New York: D. Appleton & Co.

Not satisfied with their extraordinarily cheap editions of DICKENS, SCOTT, BURNS and others, APPLETON & Co. have commenced the publication of MARRYATT's popular novels, at forty cents per volume. The first volume contains the world-renowned history of Mr. Midshipman Easy, and will be followed by Peter Simple, Jacob Faithful, and the other prose works of the great maritime novelist. The print is large and clear, and the paper substantial and good. THE BRIDE OF LAMMERMOOR. A ROMANCE, by Sir Walter Scott, Bart. New York: D. Ap-pleton & Co. THE HEART OF MID-LOTHIAN. A ROMANCE, by Sir Walter Scott, Bart. New York: D. Ap-

These are the last volumes issued of Ar PLETON'S popular edition of the Waverly Novels, at twenty-five cents per volume They are finely printed, and, as we have said before, excellent in every respect.

The whole of the above works are for sale by JOHN RUSSELL, King-street.

DEWEES, of North Carolina, in his speech delivered in the United States House of Representatives on Friday last, admitted : 1. That if Congress adjourned, before six months the last traces of Republican governments in the South would have ceased to exist/ 2 That the reconstructed governments in the South could not be maintained in any other way than by giving them arms to keep down the rebels. 3. That the Republicans would lose the elections if the Democrats were allowed any show at all. These admissions mean that the reconstruction negro constitutions will topple over when the bayonets of the United States troops are removed, and they mean that the adventurers in the South begin to despair of making their unnatural and revolting schemes permanent and lasting.
