-A Tennessee dentist recently advertised to put in a full set of false teeth for ten dollars, to be paid when the original grinders were extracted. Many accepted the offer, paid the money, and had their old stumps drawn out: but when their gums healed and they called for the new set the dentist was missing, and now they gnash their gums at his rascality.

-A training school for domestics has long been in contemplation by benevolent persons in New York, and it is now asserted that such an institution will soon be established. The question, however, arises, will young girls attend such a school when they can be trained in a family, and at the same time receive their food and lodging and $3 per week for their services? It is asserted that at certain times of the year the supply of female labor in larg: cities greatly exceeds the demand. At these periods ignorant and unskilled women suffer many hardships from the lack of employment, and a training school would then have no difficulty in obtaining pupils.

-Galignani quotes from an Italian journal an account of a recent operation to save life by the transfusion of blood. It was performed in Palermo, at the Hospital della Concezione, by Dr. Albanese. A young man had a leg amputated for a bad humor, while in a very low state; but the operation reduced him to a worse state than ever, and it became apparent that he was fast sinking, the pulse being imperceptible and the body cold. In this emergency the transfusion of blood was proposed. Two assistants of the hospital offered to have their veins opened for this purpose, and thus, at two different intervals, two hundred and twenty gms, of blood were introduced into the patient's system. Atter the first time he recovered the faculty of speech, and stated that, before, he could neither see nor hear, but now felt as if he were flying in the air. At latest dates he was reported in a fair way to recover. This is one of the few successful cases of the kind talk here about the speeches addressed by the Pope to the Euglish and Danish Consuis on the occasion of his visit to Civita Vecchia, that I have been at pains to ascertain the exact words. The Holy Father first spoke to the Consul of Denmark, saying: "You represent, Monsieur, whole world by the noble courage with which it defended its rights against those Powers which abused their strength to destroy them. Then, turning to the English Consul, his Holiwhich it was both her duty and her interest to obligation. sustain. It was a proceeding which cannot be condemned too strongly, for it was fatal both to Denmark and Poland. If she continues in such a course, England will too late find she is degraded." The assembly thronged so close to hear these speeches that the pressure shook the platform of the throne, giving the Pope a violent shock. By an adroit movement he prevented himself from being thrown down, and cried out to his alarmed suite, "Fear nothing;

the Pope's throne may fall, but the Pope himself will never fall. -The approaching annual meeting of the will be a handicap tournament open to all comers, in which prizes will be given to the amount of £40. The most novel feature of the meeting, and one which is making considerable stir in the chess world, is a prize offered by Mr. Mongredien, the well-known President of the London Chess Club. It consists of a purse of twenty guineas, to be awarded to the winner in a series of games in which a slight displacement of the pieces will render inoperative any advantage derivable from a superior knowledge of openings. Mr. Mongredien wishes to afford an opportunity to those players who, whilst possessed of considerable powers of combination, have not sufficient leisure to study and learn by rote the intrica cies of modern analysis as applied to the "openings," and who are thus placed at disadvantage from a circumstance in which memory bears large, and skill only a small part. The announcement of the particular mode of displacement to be adopted will only be made when the games are about to begin. This match is open to British players only.

The Daily News-The Cash System.

When the price of THE DAILY NEWS was reduced to six dollars a year, we resolved to insist upon the payment of subscriptions in advance. This rule was immediately applied to our mail subscribers, and at this time we have not a subscriber, outside of Charleston, who has not paid in advance the price of his subscription. We gave no credit, and the paper was invariably stopped when the term for which payment had been made expired. The experience of the past year has confirmed our belief that the cash system is the only plan upon which a paper can be conducted with safety and success, and we have therefore determined to apply that system uniformly to our subscribers in Charleston. On the 15th instant, all papers for which the subscription price has not been paid will be stopped without further notice, and from that date no paper will be delivered after the expiration of the time for which payment has been mede.

in order to accommodate persons who may be unprepared to pay the subscription in advince, we have made arrangements to deliver T News within the city limits at fifteen cents a week, instead of eighteen cents as heretofore. payment to be made weekly. This reduction of the weekly rates will go into effect on the 15th inst. Orders from weekly subscribers will be received at this office, or at the bookstore of Mr. C. C. Righter, No. 161 King-street.

The Governor's Message.

Governor Scott, in his message presented to the Legislature yesterday, and published in our columns this morning, takes an encouraging view of the position of affairs in the State, and gives substantial reasons for his belief "that no State of the Union is "more solvent, or has a fairer prospect of "meeting all her liabilities."

The bonded debt of South Carolina at this time is five million four hundred thousand dollars, bearing six per cent. interest, with the exception of a small amount of stock which bears interest at three per cent., and the Fire Loan bonds (four hundred and eighty-four thousand four hundred and forty-four dollars), which bear interest at five per cent. The arrears of interest on the whole debt to January 1, 1869, are five hundred and fourteen thousand four hundred and eighteen dollars, and to this may York Times says "the general judgment of the be added one hundred and sixty thousand public will approve this action and regard it dollars of Bills Receivable, which will, howver soon he absorbed in payment of taxes making the total debt of the State, of all kinds, six million eighty-one thousand seven hundred and twenty-four dollars-a debt

Governor Scott estimates that, under the new tax law, which brings every description of property upon the tax list, at its bona fide valuation, there will not be less than three hundred millions of property as a basis of taxation. The estimate of expenses for the current year is eight hundred and twenty thousand four hundred and eighty-one dollars, including three hundred and thirty thousand six hundred and ninetytwo dollars for interest on the debt for one year; so that an average tax of one-third of one per cent, upon the estimated value of the total taxable property would meet all expenses, pay the current interest, and leave a small surplus. Governor Scott, however, recommends that the interest on the State debt be funded up to July 1, 1868, having every confidence in the ability of the Treasury to meet the interest falling due after that date. Now, look for a moment at the financial condition of North Carolina. Governor Holden, in his late message, estimates the State debt at nineteen million dollars, or nearly four times the debt of this State. The expenses for the fiscal year are nearly one million five hundred thousand dollars, or twice the expenses in this State, and the value of the property in the State is put at two hundred and fifty million dollars against three hundred million dollars in South Carolina.

We are satisfied that the State is in a sound and solvent condition, and we believe that with economy and such wise reforms -The Rome (November 3) correspondent of and curtailments of expenditures as Goverthe Pall Mall Gazette writes: There is so much | nor Scott may suggest and the Legislature carry into effect, the credit of South Car olina may be made as high as that of Pennsylvania or New York. Governor Scott recommends that a law he passed providing for the levy and collection of taxes in counties, to meet their local expenditures, which will enable them to make such public improvements as the citizens of the respective counties may desire. The Governor also advises that final jurisdiction be given to magistrates in all cases of petit larceny, and simple assault and battery and misdemeanors of similar grade, giving the accused persons the right of appeal. which the State has what should be an amply sufficient security. Governor Scott recommends that the donation of land made by the United States Government be devoted to the establishment of an educational institute in Charleston for instruction in agriculture, mechanic arts, and the higher branches of scientific and classical studies. We sincerely hope that this wise recommendation will be carried out by the General Assembly. Such an institution would be of vast benefit to the whole State. Governor Scott denounces all turbulence and lawlessness, and says, with great propriety, that "a government unable to en-"force its laws and protect its citizens is a "mockery and a sham, meriting the scorn "and contempt of its opponents, and unwor-'thy of the confidence and support of its "friends. The law must be made supreme. The most arrogant must be taught to obey its behests; the humblest assured of its 'protection." The Governor has received assurances from many of the most prominent men in the State of their regret at the outrages which have been committed, and of their determination to yield a willing autograph signature was attached to each label and obedience to the constitution and laws. These evidences of good feeling Governor Scott recognizes with pleasure, and he reiterates his previous recommendations in favor of a liberal policy on the part of the Legislature in reference to the removal of his trade mark, in the United States District Court political disabilities.

Upon some of the subjects mentioned in the message there will naturally be differences of opinion, but every sensible and prudent citizen must be inclined and determined to sustain the Governor in his efforts to restore the credit and build up the prosperity of the State, as well as to concur in his denunciation of violence and intemperance of conduct and of speech. National political issues have been settled for years to come. Our home affairs now demand our undivided attention. It is our interest, as it is the interest of every responsible citizen, to uphold the supremacy of the law, to secure a wise and liberal policy, and to give to every man the fullest freedom and most complete protection; and in directing his great influence towards these important ends Governor Scott will receive the hearty aid and cheerful co-operation of the people and press of the State.

Schiedam Schnapps.

OFFICE OF UDOLPHO WOLFE, Sole Importer of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnopps No. 32 Beaver-street. New York, November 3, 1888. CITY COUNCIL. This Evening, at Seven o'clock, in Council mber.

ecomber 1 1 Clerk of Council. hamber. December 1 To the People of the Southern States: WHEN THE PURE MEDICINAL RESTORATIVE. HOMESTEAD BUILDING AND LUAN low so widely known as WOLFE'S SCHIEDAN

SCHNAPPS, was in roduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading member of the medical protession some twenty years ago, its bends amounts to $4,060,783, for all of proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to pirate it diffi cult and dangerous. It was submitted to distin guished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, san ples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such preparation, they said, had long been wanted by the profession, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit fo medical purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oi of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the Schnapps, together with an unalloyed character of the alcoholic element, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimu lant as a diure:ic, tonic and restorative.

These satisfactory credentials from professiona men of the highest rank were published in a con densed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's cover, his name and that of the preparation were em bossed on the bottles, and the corks were scaled with his private seal. No article had ever been sold in this country under the name of Schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps, in 1851; and the label was deposited, as for the Southern District of New York during tha

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the during character of the pirates who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants by vending deleter ous trash under their name, that the protections so carefully thrown around these Schnappe would have precluded the introductions and sale o counterfeits. They seem, however, only to have stimulated the rapacity of impostors. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the indorse ment which his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps alone received from the medical profession has been claimed by mendacious humbugs; his labels and bottles have been imilated, his advertisements paraphrased, his circulars copied, and worse than all dishonorable retailers, after disposing of the genuin contents of his bottles, have filled them up with common gin, the most deleterious of all liquors, and thus made his name and brand a cover for poison.

The public, the medical profession and the sick, for whom the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally intereste! with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these arious practices. The genuine article, manufac tured at the establishment of the undersigned in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a barley of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian justpe; of unequalled purity. By a process unknown in the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrimonious and corrosive clement.

Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap imitations of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnipps in those markets; and travellers, who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, tes-tify that cheap gin, put up in Schiedam bottles, is requently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to nstitute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in the atrocious system of deception. In conclusion, the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs un answerable of the purity and medicinal excelence of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps ; that he has expended many thousand dollars in surrounding it with guarantees and safeguards, which he designed should protect the public and himself with fixtures complete, corner King and Citt-ford streets. Terms moderate. Apply at BERNARD against fraudulent imitations; that he has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison and experiment in all its forms; and from every ordeal the preparation which bears his name, seal and trade mark, has come off triumphant. He, therefore, feels it a duty he owes to his fellow-citiz ns generally, to the medical profession and the sick, to denounce and expose the charlatins who counterfeit these evidencies of identity, and he calls upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great an evil. The following letters and certificates from the loading physicians and chemists of this city will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are all that they are repre ented to be.

I feel bound to say, that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect pre-eminently pure, and deserving of medical patronage. At all events, it is the purest possible article of Holland Gin, heretofore unobtainable, and as such may be safely prescribed by physicians.

Upoleho Wolfe, Esq., Present:

Dear Sir—I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your Scheedam Schnapps, with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits. The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisones or larinful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances wich are empleyed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself or to recommend to others, for medicinal purposes, the Schiedam Schnapps as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin.

Very respectfully yours,

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq.:

Dear Sir.—The want of pure Wines and Liquors for medicinal purposes has been long felt by the profession, and thousinds of lives have been sacrified by the use of adulterated articles. Delirium tremons, and other diseases of the brain and nerves, so rife in this country, are very rare in Europe, owing, in a great dearse, to the difference in the purity of the spirits sold.

We have fested the several articles imported and seld by you, including your Gin, which you sell under the name of Aromatic Schiedam Schinaps, which we consider justly entitled to the high reputation it has acquired in this country; and from your long experience as a foreign importer, your foothed Wines and Liquors should meet with the same demand.

We would recommend you to appoint some of the respeciable apothecaries in different parts of the city as agents for the sale of your Brandies and Wines, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal nurposes.

fine flavor of the Havana, without its injurious and nerve-excitirg propensities. Tobacco containing nicotine largely, acts powerfully upon the nerve centres, and is, therefore, very prejudical to health, causing nervous tremor, headache, dyspepsia, &c.; but the "Nervine Tobaccy" can be smoked in any quantity without the least effect or injury to your constitution. As to is perfect safety, I can refer to the statement of the undersigned gen-lemen, Professors and D ctors in Medicine, who have rande an examination of the same.

It is sold in pound and half peund packages, and in two qualities; No. 1 at $1 per pound; Fine '2d) at 75 cents per pound. Dealers allowed 25 cents discount per poaced when buying twenty-five pounds and upwards.

We have examined the specimens of "Nervine To-bacco" put into our hands by Mr. Madsen, and think it all that it claims to be. It contains little or no nicotine, and mny be smoked with saioty and pleasure by all who indulge in the habit of smoking.
