-Governor Wells, of Virginia, has pardoned William Armistead, of Portsmouth, convicted at the Hustings Court, in November, of a misdemeanor and sentenced to six months' imprisonment. It appeared by the sworn testimony of one of the jurors that after the jury had been out two days they stood eight for unconditional acquittal, two for conviction and two for a compromise. They finally agreed to draw lots by placing ballots in a hat and drawing therefrom. The hat was shaken, the ballots were drawn, and seven of them drawing the word "guilty" a verdict was ac- lattention was given to selecting another;

-A fire broke out in the interior of Fort Lafayette shortly before one o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, caused by the carelessness of a workman in lighting a fire to warm his dinner in an old and unused chimney, from whence the flames set fire to the roof and spread with great rapidity. The fire raged until past midnight, devouring 100,000 feet of lumber stored there preparatory to being used in repairing the fortification, and completely gutting the entire work of every thing of an inflammable nature. Great fears were entertained that an explosion would occur, from the fact that there vere 35,000 pounds of gunpowder in the magazine. Fortunately, though sorely tried, the bombproof proved efficient in staying the progress of the fire in that dangerous quarter, and fearful explosion was averted.

-There was quite an excitement in Nashville on Monday, caused by the sudden collapse of the Southern Fire Insurance Company. The concern was started two years since by a few Northern men, and, by adroit management, and the sanction of a name calculated to appeal to those living South of Mason & Dixon's line, had extended its business over a large portion of the South. The Company was on the mutual plan, and a recent call for fifty per cent. on the cash premiums excited the suspicion of some of the stockholders, which resulted in an investi ation, disclosing, as is alleged, a rotten and fraudulent concern. An injunction was applied for and granted on Monday, and the office is now in the hands of a receiver. The stockholders will lose all the cash premiums already paid in.

The Daily News-The Cash System.

When the price of THE DAILY NEWS Was reduced to six dollars a year, we resolved to insist upon the payment of subscriptions in advance. This rule was immediately applied to our mail subscribers, and at this time we have not a subscriber, outside of Charleston, who has not paid in advance the price of his subscription. We gave no credit, and the paper was invariably stopped when the term for which payment had been made expired. The experience of the past year has confirmed our belief that the cash system is the only plan upon which a paper can be conducted with safety and success, and we have therefore determined to apply that system uniformly to our subscribers in Charleston.

On the 15th instant, all papers for which the subscription price has not been paid will be stopped without further notice, and from that date no paper will be delivered after the expiration of the time for which payment has been

In order to accommodate persons who may be unprepared to pay the subscription in advance, we have made arrangements to deliver a week, instead of eighteen cents as heretofore, payment to be made weekly. This reduction of the weekly rates will go into effect on the 15th inst. Orders from weekly subscribers will

Country stores, managed by respectable men, are an advantage to the freedman and a profit to the proprietor. But in this State, at least, there have sprung up a class of shops which have done and are still doing considerable harm to every hard-working citizen.

> These shops are not usually found on the main roads. They hide away in holes and corners, and are most successful when far away from a town. Nominally, they are opened for the sale of groceries and common articles of clothing, but in reality they are nothing but whiskey shops, -tempting and encouraging the freedmen to pilfer and steal. They are found in every part of the State, being most numerous in the low country, and they form, by their influence and effects, an element of danger with which it is difficult to deal.

The freedman, in his present condition, is easily led to do wrong. Detection is what is most feared, and if rebbery can be made safe there will be no lack of thieves. The whiskey shops give the freedmen the opportunity of stealing with impunity. There loose cotton is bought by the handful or the bag, and no questions asked. Whiskey is given for cotton without hesitation, and a day does not pass that hundreds of planters are not robbed in order that the whiskey shop may find a customer and the freedmen tives of highly polished brass to look like gold. obtain the means of excitement or intoxication.

> We have no hesitation in saying that the cotton-whiskey shops are a public nuisance. They impoverish the planter; they teach the freedman to steal, and they disgust him with honest labor, by showing him that a little dexterity will bring more whiskey than a week of hard work. These whiskey shops should be restrained from carrying on their illegal and demoralizing traffic; and this must be done if the freedman is expected to be made diligent, industrious and sober. We prefer to suggest no remedy, but call the attention of the Legislature to the patent facts, leaving it with that body oughly efficacious.

The Meeting of Congress.

Congress will meet on Monday. More than two-thirds of each house are Republicans, and the majority can do as they please in spite of the opposition of the President. During last session, Congress left some important measures wholly untouched, and abandoned others while in an unsatisfactory condition. There was a great deal of time lost in impeaching one President, and much cordingly rendered. Governor Wells decided but it is expected that Congress will not waste its last three months of life in bungling legislation or fierce distribes against some unfortunate Southern State. Congress will probably think that the Reconstruction acts need a little more tinkering. There may be another rod in pickle for Louisiana and Georgia. But there is no excuse for troubling South Carolina, which is so thoroughly reconstructed, so thoroughly turned upside down, that it might serve as a working model of what preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it the Radicals call the "Republican form of government." The Naturalization laws cult and dangerous. These things should be attended to by the present Congress, and the article were unanimously favorable. Such a not thrown over to the next Congress, which will be too busy to touch them.

The subjects of finance, taxation and the collection of the revenue press upon the medical purposes. The peculiar excellence and public consideration. They have been thoroughly discussed, and what both the capital and labor of the country now desire is, that if Congress intends to do anything in the way of issuing new bonds or paying old, or reducing the interest, or increasing the volume of the currency, it should go to work at once and keep to it till it is finished. Business is tired of waiting, and it is perplexed by contradictory theories. What is wanted now is definite and specific action. If there is to be any equalization of taxation, or any change in the tariff, it is begged that the subject may not be meddled with unless it is to be completed, and that what is to be done may be done quickly. And if the proposed change is to lighten their bur- his trade mark, in the United States District Court dens, the people entreat that it be not postponed till the next Congress.

All men of all parties, who do not live by stealing, earnestly desire that the country may be thoroughly pacified, and that the government shall not be swindled by disnonest servants out of one-third of its revenues. If these things be accomplished, we can wait for the rest until the feurth of March, 1869.

Undle Wolfe, Esq., Present:

D'ar Sir—I have submitted to chemical analysis two bottles of "schiedam Schnapps," which I took from a fresh package in your bon-sed warehouse, and find, as before, that the spirituous liquor is free from injurious ingredients or falsification; that it has the marks of being aged and not recently prepared by mechanical admixture of alcohol and aromatics.

QUINBYS & CO.'S PHOTOGRAPH AND

Pharmaceuter Chemist, New York, 26 FINE-STREET, New York, 26 November 21, 1867.

Dear Sir—Thave made a chemical examination of a sample of your Schiedam Schnapps, with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits. The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances wich are employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself or to recommend to others, for medicinal purposes, the Schiedam Schnapps as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin.

Very respectfully yours,

(Signed,) CHAS. A. SEELY, Chemist. FINE ART GALLERY.
