-A Boston correspondent writes that the decrease in the number of children in Massachusetts is a subject for our alarmists to ponder upon. Many towns in the State have been settled over two hundred years, and their history includes from six to eight generations. The records of many of these towns have been examined by a State official with respect to the relative number of children in each generation, and it appears that the families comprising the first generation had, on an average, between eight and ten children. The next three generations averaged between seven and eight to each family; the fifth generation about five, and the sixth less than three to each family. These changes are as suggestive as they are startling. Now it is rere to find married persons having one, two or three children. This, also, is the testimony of physicians who have been extensively engaged in the practice of medicine from twenty to forty years in the State. If it were not for foreign emigration Massachusetts would run out soon.

CHARLESTON.

THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 28, 1869. The Bill to Confirm and Declare Valid the Charleston Election.

We print this morning the bill introduced by Mr. Corbin in the State Senate, and by Mr. Tomlinson in the House of Representatives, "To confirm and declare valid the recent election of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Charleston."

The bill, in its recital, treats the declaration of the result of the ballotings as if it were an unqualified declaration of a legal and valid election, and as if Pillsbury and his ticket had been declared by a competent tribunal to have been "duly elected."

So far from this declaration ever baving been made, the Board of Aldermen-in whom the Legislature had previously vested the decision of the election, without appeal-expressly decided and declared that Pillsbury and his Aldermen had not been duly elected; and the board, in making what is falsely assumed in the bill to be a declaration of the election, exthousand niggers" is advertised in an ex- pressly qualified their declaration, and restricted it to a declaration of the returns of the ballotings made by the managers, and guarded their declaration of the ballotings by the statement that the returns were contested. The only declaration of the Board of Aldermen was made in obedience to the writ of mandamus, which writ followed an application to the court on the part of Pillsbury and his Aldermen, in which was set forth the declaration of the board that there was no legal and valid election.

The whole groundwork of the bill is, therefore, a falsity and misrepresentation: one of applied chemistry and another of and the Legislature have the same right to the dignity, discretion, manliness and nerve meanancal engineering, in addition to the pre- declare that John Smith and eighteen other with which Governor Pickens bore himself in viously existing schools of civil and mining men, picked up at random in the streets of that trying time, we need not speak. The im-Charleston, were legally elected Mayor and Aldermen on November 10th last, that they have to instal Mr. Pillsbury and his Board of Aldermen.

The last section of the bill imposes a penalty of fine or imprisonment upon the Acting Mayor and Aldermen if they do not, upon the passage of the act, surrender their offices to the persons declared to have been elected. But the act of 1868, regulating the tenure of certain offices, requires all Municipal officers appointed by the General commanding the late Second Military Dis. | deeply mourn her loss, and jealously cherish trict to continue in office until their duties have been devolved upon other officers duly elected and qualified "according to law." The Acting Board of Aldermen cannot admit that an act of the Legislature will make the election of Pillsbury and his ticket an election "according to law," when they know, as the tribunal which tried the question and declared the result, that there was no election according to law. Nor can the present Council be made liable to any penalty for obeying the law of 1868, for the State Constitution expressly declares that no person "shall be punished but by virtue of a law aiready established, or promulgated prior to the offence, and legally applied." The bill is a foul usurpation of the rights of the people; an attempt to wrest from them the right to choose their own officers

according to the laws of the State. The City Debt.

No measure has been proposed by the present Municipal government of Charleston which is so thoroughly unobjectionable and plainly advantageo. s, as the ordinance introduced in Council on Tuesday night by Alderman Olney, to authorize the conversion of city stock into ccupon bonds. The proposition is briefly this: Holders of city stock are to have the option of exchanging their stock for coupon bonds bearing the same rate of interest; the coupons of the new bonds are to be payable on presentation in New York or in Charleston; the coupons to be receivable in payment of all dues to the city. This is the sum and substance of the ordinance, and in view of its great importance to the city, we hope that it will pass without a shadow of opposition.

At the present time, Charleston city stock is unsaleable in New York or any other Northern market, nor can it be used anywhere as collateral security, without an noyance and inconvenience. The purchase and sale of the stock is confined to Charles ton. There is no competition, no inducement to investors outside of the State, and the price is governed wholly by the local supply and demand. When the proposed ordinance becomes a law, there will be an immediate change for the better. The new coupon bonds will be regularly quoted and dealt in by the Northern stock brokers, and persons who have money to invest will snap up this new and cheap security, which will be as available as currency or United States bonds, where it is desired to use it as the basis of a loan. The price of the bonds must rapidly advance, and if we can settle our Municipal troubles and resume the payment of interest, Charleston six per cent. coupon bonds should touch 80 in a few months, raying, at that price, an interest of over seven per cent. upon the money invested. This enhanced price would make the whole city debt worth in the market $4,000,000, instead of the $3,000,000 for which it would now sell.

This is a practical evidence of the neces sity of avoiding violent change in the complexion of our Municipal government. It law, to whose decree they and we will bow. The present Council is a Republican Council. and the Mayor is a decided Republican. Three of the present Aldermen are among those who received the highest number of votes at the election which is contested, them, join their colleagues in declaring that | lant as a diuretic, tonic and restorative. the election was illegal. We have no love for Republicanism, but in this matter the interests of the honest Democrat and the honest Republican are one and the same. It is of importance to every industrious man in the whole State that the law should be allowed to take its course, and the judiciary of the State be free from legislative interference. And we may well ask what security there will be for the rights of any citizen if the General Assembly is to decide questions of law and fact, and become itself the jury and the judge in every case which affects the favorites of any one of its members. We do not believe that the Legislature will pass the bill to make valid and legal what the tribunal provided for by the Legislature has declared to be invalid and illegal. And if the General Assembly do pass the bill, we trust to the Governor of the State to kill it by his veto.

Death of Ex-Governor Pickens.

The sad intelligence reached the city yester day that the Hop. Francis W. Pickens is no more. He died on Monday last, at Edgewood, his residence in Edgefield County. For several months past he had been the victim of a severe and lingering illness, and the fatal result has not been wholly unexpected.

In ex-Governor Pickens, South Carolina has lost a distinguished son, whose career is inseparably linked with her own history. For thirty years he has held a prominer t and honorable place in State and Federal politics, and almost the only period of his manhood which was not given to the public service was that which immediately preceded his death. After serving for awhile in the Legislature, he was elected, in 1835, as one of the representatives of the State in Congress, which position he held continuously until 1845. In 1858 he was appointed by President Buchanan to the post of United States Minister at the Court of St. Petersburg, where he remained until the threatening aspect of the relations between the South and the Federal Government induced him to reliuquish the Russian mission. On his return in 1860 he was chosen Governor of his native State: and thus it was his formene to preside over her destinies at the outbreak of that mighty but disastrous struggle in which she was foremost to strike a decisive blow. Of artial historian who is hereafter to chronicle the stirring events of which our city was then the theatre, will do full justice to his memory. After the close of his official term, and since the end of the war. Governor Pickens has been engaged in planting, a pursuit in which his

to attain great success. Of late, on two or three occasions only liss he been induced to give public expression of his sentiments, when his counsel was of the sensible, moderate and manly character which ever marked his political views. The State, whose honor and interests were the dearest objects of his life, will Schiedam Schnapps.

OFFICE OF UDOLPHO WOLFE, Sole Importer of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps, No 22 Beaver-street. New York, November 3, 1863. To the People of the Southern States:

WHEN THE PURE MEDICINAL RESTORATIVE low so widely known as WOLFE'S SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS, was in roduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession some twenty years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and usefupreparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest i with strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to pirate it diffi cult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in is another proof of the necessity of avoiding | the United States, for purposes of experiment. A any high-handed act whose foundation is circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a party feeling and not law or justice. We report of the result, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in do not hesitate to say that the present City the Union promptly responded. Their opicions of Council cannot legally be ejected from their the article were unanimously favorable. Such a seats except by the decision of a court of preparation, they said, had long been wanted by the profession, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medical purposes. The peculiar ex ellence and strength of the oi of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the Schnapps, together with an unalloyed character of the alcoholic ele ment, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a and these very men, Republicans all of marked superiority over every other diffusive stimu-These satisfactory credentials from professions men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnopps, as one of the guarantees of its genuine news. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted: a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simils of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were em bossed on the bottles, and the corks were scaled with his private seal. No article had ever been sold it this country under the name of Schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps, in 1851; and the label was deposited, a his trade mark, in the United States District Cour for the Southern District of New York during that

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the during character of the pirates who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants by vend ing deleter ous trush under their name, that the protections so carefully thrown around these Schnapps would have precluded the introductions and sale o counterfeits. They seem, however, only to have stimulated the rapacity of impostors. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the indorsement which his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps along received from the medical profession has been claimed by mendacious humbugs; his labels and bottles have been imitated, his advertisements paraphrased, his circulars copied, and worse than all, dishonorable retailers, after disposing of the genuine contents of his bottles, have filled them up with ommon gin, the most deleterious of all liquors, and thus made his name and brand a cover for poison.

The public, the medical profession and the sick, for whom the Schiedam Aromatic Schupps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these nelarious practices. The genuine article, manufacfured at the establishment of the undersigned in Schiedam, Polland, is distilled from a barley of the finest quanty, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian juripe", of unequalled purity. By a process unknown in the preparation of any other liquor, it is treed from every acrimonious and corresive element. Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap amitations of the Schiedam Arcmatic Schnapps in those markets; and travellers, who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the haneful influence of unwholesome river water, testify that cheap gin, put up in Schiedan bottles, is trequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in the atrocious system of deception. In conclusion, the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs un answerable of the purity and medicinal excellence of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnarps; that he has expended many thousand dollars in surrounding it with guarantees and safeguards, which to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison and experiment in all its torms; and from every orderl the preparation which bears his name, seal and trade tact, experience and fine estates enabled him | mark, has come off triumphant. He, therefore, feels it a duty he owes to his fellow-citizens generally, to the medical protession and the sick, to denounce and expose the charlatius who countertoit these evidencies of identity, and he calls upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great > an evil. The following letters and certificates from the leading physicians and che nists of this city will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are all that they are repre ented to be.

> UDOLPHO WOLFE. I feel bound to say, that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect pre-eminently pure, and descring of medical patronage. At all events, it is the purest possible article of Holland Gin, heretotore unoutsinable, and as such may be safely pre> scribed by physicians.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Fsq., Present:

Dear Sir—I have made a chemical extanination of a sample of your Schiedam Schnapps, with the intent of determining if any fordign or injurious sustance had been added to the simple district spirits. The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no personous or harmful admixture. I have teen unable to discover any trace of the Gelectrious substances, with the

that the same. I have teen usable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances wich are employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not be interested to use myself or to recommend to others, for medicinal purposes, the Schiedam Schinappa as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin.

Very respectfully yours,

Underso Wolff, Esq.:

Dear Sir—The want of pure Wines and Liquors for medicinal purposes has been long felt by the profession, and thousands of lives have been sacrificed by the use of adulterated articles. Delivium fromens, and other diseases o, the brain and nerves, so rife in this country, are very rare in Europe, owing, in a great degree, to the difference in the purity of the spirits sold.

We have tested the saveral article in the sold.

We have tested the several articles imported and sold by you, including your Gin, which you sell un der the name of aromatic schiedam schmipps, which we consider justly estitled to the high reputation is has acquired in this country; and from your long exhas acquired in this country; and from your long expetioned as a foreign importer, your bottled Wines and Liquors should meet with the same denand.

We would recommend you to appoint some of the respectable apothecaries in different parts of the city as agents for the sale of your Brandles and Wines, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal purposes.
