AFAIRS IN THE STATE.

Darlington. On the night of the 20th, Mr. J. B. Burch lost a fine black horse from Mr. E. J. Burch's stable, about five miles from Florence, and could not be traced to the courthouse, and could not be traced further.

The weather is still cool and unfavorable; cotton is much injured, and cannot look forward to a very good season. On Saturday we had a heavy wind, which almost amounted to a tornado. The weather looks dark, and planters look blue.

The Newberry Herald says: "The weather continues cool, frost is not necessary, and there have been no frosts since the 15th of May without the aid of fire. The effect would be to keep the cotton in a better condition than it is now in."

The Edgefield Advertiser says: "Great gloom has prevailed over the entire district for two or three weeks, and the weather is generally cold and unpropitious, unrepresented in the memories of our oldest inhabitants. From all sections come the dolorous news that the cotton plant has the same, in yellow, black, and other diseases, through the season. Many have ploughed and hoed indifferently to keep the plant alive, but the cold wind of Sunday night last gave a quietus to many a promising stalk. The entire plant has probably died out. Slowly the weather is becoming warmer, and we hope the arrival of summer may yet revive under the influence of a genial sun."

The Walhalla, of Wednesday, says: "The cool weather, continued almost without change until the present, has seriously injured the young cotton plant, and the prospect just now looks gloomy. It is not until the middle of the season, however, that we shall be able to judge of the result. The season, however, shows itself in much better prospect."

The Edgefield Advertiser says: "The season for a season, probably Judge and country, is not known. But comparatively few negroes were in town, notwithstanding a colored man was in the Senate in opposition to a white man. The negroes are, however, in their usual mood, and giving the cold shoulder to the white man and carpet-bagger, who have so grossly deceived them."
