BAGGING, B yard-

Aftermath.

As one who on the tranced Circean shores
Bath loiter-d loog, until at last the shadows
Climmer and gloom athwart the purple moors
And by the idled meadows;

And, setting loose the rudder-bands, doth find,
Against the heady current outward faring,
Dark seas before and stormy shoals behind—
Yet toks on, undespairing.

As one who of som subtle cup hath drunk,
And walks the while as in a golden vision,
But wakes on a mure are yet his soul bath sunk
Into the swoon Elysian;

And with the bitter less upon his lips, Ruses and turns him to the lite-quest dreary, Though all around bath suffered dark college, And heart and hand are weary.

So I, forgetting all the honied Past,
And accruing somewhat that old life of pleas
Turn earnest-sped towards that Light at last
Which clasps a purer Presence.

haking no more to a liles of the vale.

Nor roses haver for the hidden canke
Seeking a truer guice for helm and said
Trusting a surer anchor.

Looking far out beyond the ulmost rim
Of the dark hills un'il my deep thoughts gather
From the dusk sitence, infinite though dim,
The fullness of the Father.

And, stooping, pluck beside the recky path
A simple flower, the pledge of that new morrow,
Only a Heart-case as the "ite math
Of all that vanished sorro v.

THE' CHARLESTON MARKET.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, JULY 22, 1869.] THE UROPS.—the piotracted dry weather, accomcompanied by intense heat which has prevailed for a considerable time, has had a very damaging effect on the corn crop of the State, particularly in the middle and urper sections, where it is stated this valuable grain will be quite a failure in some instances, and that it has been much impaired over a large extent of country. There have been partial rains in :ocalities and in such places the eron promises weil-heavy showers even now would still benefit this crop Cotton generally looks well, but the heet and drought have been so extreme that this plant has been som what inj ired by its effect, but me derate abowers will keep up a healthy vitaity in this crop wi ich, up to this period, is rather promising. the pre-ent sa period of creat for this valuable artice of commerce, and very l'ttle can be said with certainty about the amount of the yield un i the seuson selvances further.
