LOCAL MATTERS.

Meetings This Day. Bagle Fire Company, at 8 P. M. Marion Fire Company, at half-past 7 P. M.

THE NEWS IN THE COUNTRY.—Readers of THE NEWS going to the country can receive their favorite paper by mail, daily, at seventy-five cents a month, by addressing a note, with their subscription, to our publication office.

THE ANDERSON INTELLIGENCER.—This is one of the most able and most solid newspapers in the State. It is conducted with rare discretion, and is too well known throughout South Carolina to need any recommendation at our hands.

CHARLESTON MERCHANTS ABOARD.—Many of our merchants are now in New York making their arrangements for the fall trade. A prominent merchant of this city, in a letter received last evening, says: "Our Hayne and Meekin street merchants are all here. They purchase direct from the agents of the mills, and by their goods as cheap as any wholesale house in New York, and can sell them on as reasonable terms as they can in New York. Their credit is emphatically good."

THE BUSINESS SEASON.—The various vessels arriving now from the Northern ports are bringing large and valuable lists of merchandise consigned mostly to our wholesale dealers. The freights of our steamships and regular packets are particularly good, and the line of shippers considered to flourish, W. Bosch & Co. are among those which are well patronized, and they are making rapid passages, one of them arriving yesterday in four days from New York. Our merchants are getting tempting stocks, and they have good prospects of a heavy trade during the season.

REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY IN THE CITY AND COUNTY OF CHARLESTON.—The County Auditor, A. J. Hansler, colored, has communicated to the County Commissioners the following abstract of the real and personal property of the county returned to the Auditor's office for taxation, with the percentage of increase by the Boards of Equalization therefor, in obedience to instructions: Only—Real property... $21,263,691

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE HIBERNIAN HALL.—At a recent meeting of the Hibernian Society, it was determined to improve the stage so as to give a greater scenic display. The contract was awarded to Mr. J. H. Deveraux, and the work is now actively progressing. The doors and small rooms at each end of the stage have been removed, and a large area thus added to the stage. Some changes have also been made in the dressing room, giving more space, with an easy access to the stage. An artist has been engaged to paint neat and appropriate scenery, and is now drawing his plans. The drop curtain will be cast and tacked, with some familiar Southern scenery. It is the intention of the Ball Committee to open to the public a theatre that will be an ornament to Charleston, and this consummation will soon be reached.

RARE CONSCIENTIOUSNESS.—It is not often that we meet with cases of conscientiousness like that described in the following paragraph taken from the Griffin (Ga.) Star. Some of our merchants, doubtless, have a personal interest in the matter. The Star says: "We learn that a suit involving the validity of the will and testament of Oliver Morse, Esq., late of Monroe County, was tried last week before the Superior Court, involving some singular facts. More than thirty years ago, Mr. Morse was a merchant in Jones County, Ga., and filled in business, owning a considerable amount of money to merchants in Augusta, Savannah, Charleston and New York. These debts have long since been barred by time. Mr. Morse had his life insured for about near thousand dollars, two thousand of this sum in favor of his widow. By his last will he directed his executors to seek out these creditors and distribute among them the bulk of these policies. His will was executed by one of his heirs, and on various grounds. His widow, notwithstanding she lost the policies by the will, insisted on its being established, and the executor, Alex. M. Spear, Esq., propounded the same for probate. The case was litigated with vigor on both sides. Hon. B. P. Tripp and Hon. A. M. Spear represented the will, and Col. James S. Pinckard and A. D. Hammon Esq. the executor. After a trial of nearly two days, the will was set up by the jury. arely are such cases of conscientiousness seen as were exhibited in this case—the testator's bequeathing property to those who had no legal claim upon him; and his widow, Anna Morse, being elderly and infirm, a comfortable widow, from love and respect to the wishes and memory of her husband. At the time of his death, Mr. Morse was the officer of Morse Company, and was greatly esteemed for his integrity and probity."

CHARGED WITH SWINDLING.—A short time since three men were shipped as seamen on board the brig Cyclone by a shipping agent of this city, who got an advance for shipping them. When the brig moved off two of the men escaped, and the other was caught while attempting to do so. The captain made some inquiries, and learning the character of the three men, discharged the one who unintentionally remained on board. The captain now proposes to prefer charges of swindling against the shipping agent and the two so-called seamen who escaped. When the charges are heard there will doubtless be some rich developments, with which the public will be made acquainted by THE NEWS.

ANOTHER RACE BETWEEN THE ORIOLE AND BLACKSNAKE.—There will be another race between these boats to-morrow afternoon, commencing at six o'clock. The distance will be a little over three-quarters of a mile, and the course from the White Point buoy to the boat Louly, which will be stationed at a point opposite the Battery. The starting judges will be: Captain James Fraser of the Oriole, and Mr. L. Chisolm for the Blacksnake; Messrs. F. J. Poreber, W. G. DeSaussure and J. P. Matthews deciding judges. The crews are: Mr. John W. Lewis, Jr., coxswain; D. D. Parker, stroke; William Webb, R. M. Means, J. A. DeSaussure, H. N. Parker, J. H. Roper, H. A. DeSaussure, J. R. Matthews, of the Oriole. William Coffin, coxswain; H. B. Ball, stroke; George Edwards, N. Simons, H. R. Simons, G. C. Gaillard, W. A. Pringle, of the Blacksnake. It has not yet been decided whether the Blacksnake shall be allowed five or six seconds.

THE NEW YORK FASHIONS.—The Metropolitan Record gives this interesting account of the fall fashions: "The prettiest fashion we have had for many a day is the universally popular and universally becoming fashion of wearing white, and it will be carried into the fall and winter as far as practicable. White cloth coats and white plush sacks will enliven our promenades, while white jackets and basques will give a July aspect to the frostiest day in January. Fall dresses, like summer ones, are made with overskirts, tight-fitting basques or boleros. Capes looped up at the shoulder are still worn, but not so much affected lately. So, also, are skeleton basques, but the cold weather will necessitate a change in outside garments soon. Ladies' cloth will be much worn for suits this winter; the favorite shades will be brown, olive, invisible green and blue. Empire cloth and velvets will find many purchasers, and water-proof is becoming almost indispensable. It is too soon to say anything positive about furs, but it is a stated upon good authority that the furs are coming out with something original in their line. Brass buttons will be worn in ladies' cloth dresses. Inexpensive dresses have shades of the same material. Feathers will be much used this fall and winter, in every conceivable form and way. Fur hats will be worn this winter. 'Lueifer' is the name of the new shade of red that will be in fashion this autumn and winter. Ombre-colored satin cord will be much used in trimming. Scotch plaids is coming in to stay. English water proof should be laid past for a rainy day. Peacocks' feathers will be used for trimming. Frits and founes are still in favor."

THAT CENSUS.—Magistrate DeLarue, colored, has completed the census of the city and that portion of the suburbs included in the Parish of St. Philip's and St. Michael's, making the total number of citizens 45,692. We are inclined to think that the number of citizens is larger than is made out by the census, and are prepared to prove that there has been great carelessness on the part of the census takers in not calling upon all of the citizens and getting their names. We heard several parties state that they had not been called upon, and commenced making inquiries, with the following result: Of four persons in the editorial rooms of THE NEWS, two had been called upon. Of four persons in the business office, none had been called upon. Of two in the job office, one had been called upon. Of eleven in the composing room, only five had been called upon.

THREE COLORED WAITERS at a table at the Arteson Hotel were asked if they had been called upon by the census-takers, and asserted that they had not been. Several merchants along the Bay have stated that they knew nothing whatever about the census being taken until they saw the returns published. At a meeting Wednesday night, of seven persons asked only one had been called upon. This is enough to show that the census has been taken in so slovenly a manner as to be of no practical value. If many names have not been put down which should have been included in the census, it is probable that many others may be found on the rolls which have no existence excepting in the brittle brain of a well-paid census-taker. No confidence whatever can be reposed in this census, but in giving profitable employment to DeLarue and his assistants it will be reemitted it accomplished the purpose for which it was intended.

COMPARATIVE MORTALITY.—The following table, compiled from the reports of the City Registrar, shows the mortality in the city, for each week in the year ending September 1. The number of colored deaths have been, with one exception, greater each week than the number of white deaths, and the total shows that during the year the colored deaths has been more than double the white deaths. The mortality among the whites was especially light from November, 1868, to May, 19, and August brought up to the average:

Table with 4 columns: Week Ending, White, Colored, Total. Shows mortality statistics for various weeks in 1868 and 1869.

DEATHS IN AVERAGE: White, Colored, Total. Grand Total: 414, 522, 1246

CRUISES.—Two little white boys had a "mill" in a vacant lot on Meeting street yesterday afternoon. If the friends of each are to be believed, both whipped. Several parties were fined by the Mayor yesterday for indulging in a drunk. A row occurred at a mixed ball Wednesday night, during which several males were hurt with bricks and a female stabbed in the side.

A Mr. Patrick Bligh called into our office last night and stated that he was not one of Inspector-General Mackey's bondsmen, and would not be one under any circumstances. The name of a Mr. P. Bligh appears on the inspector's bond.

Mr. L. C. Hendricks, residing at No. 24 Charlotte-street, has been visited by thieves several times lately, and has lost a considerable number of fowls. Henry Johnson, colored, who was arrested by Officer Quinn upon the charge of wearing clothing from No. 11 Wentworth-street, was committed to jail yesterday by Magistrate Whiting. Johnson came out of jail on the 5th of last month.

On Broad street yesterday afternoon, a horse attached to a buggy was touched up with a whip by the occupant of the vehicle, and stood, the young gentleman fell and the rear wheel passed over his body, and when picked up he was covered with dirt, but not injured. A negro, too drunk to give his name, was very disorderly yesterday afternoon, and resisted the officer who attempted to carry him to the Guardhouse, losing nearly all his clothing during the struggle. Finally he was put upon a dray, and carried to prison. While on the way he rolled off of the dray and pulled the officer over with him, and both narrowly escaped being run over.

Plantation Bitters. A GLORIOUS CHANGE. THAT ANY SICK MAN SURVIVED THE treatment of fifty years ago, must be considered a proof that human beings are very hard to kill. The lancet, calomel, cathartics and drastic purgatives were then the order of the day. The physician played into the hands of the apothecary, and the unfortunate patient was drenched morning, noon and night with prostrating medicines. We live in a more rational and conscientious era. The importance of supporting Nature in its conflict with disease is now understood. Complaints in themselves weakening are no longer aggravated by artificial depletion. They are met with TONICS that rally the vital powers and enable them to defeat the enemy. Chief among these allies of Nature, in its battles with sickness, is PLANTATION BITTERS. This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a cordial for the aged and decrepit it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which the tender sex are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant and nerve. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, its action as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits. Wherever it is introduced it becomes a standard article—a medicinal staple. Drug-gists, although their profit upon it is small, find it absolutely necessary to keep a preparation for which everybody inquires, and for which nobody will accept a substitute. It is to-day the most popular medicine in the civilized world. Extensively as it is advertised, its best advertisement is the beneficial result which uniformly follows its use. Every bottle sold insures the sale of at least half a dozen more. Unlike other stimulants it braces and fortifies the system without exciting undue cerebral action. The cheering effect which it produces upon the mind is not momentary, but permanent. There is no subsequent depression. It does not, as is the case with all other stimuli, beget a craving for excitement. On the other hand, it soothes and calms the nerves, combining, strange as the anomaly may seem, the qualities of a sedative and gentle anodyne combined, and the scientific skill with which they are blended, render this famous article at once the most potent and the most harmless of all known tonics and alteratives. Sold by all Druggists. December 7
