A MOTHER ACCIDENTALLY KILLS HER BABE .-On Saturday last, Coroner Whiting held an inquest upon the body of an infant. The mother, who lives on Rutledge Avenue, testified that she had overlaid it, and there being nothing to create even a suspicion that the infant had come to its death from any other cause, the jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

BTEAMERS DETAINED .- A heavy northeast gale having been blowing here for several days, it has caused the detention of a number of vessels, among them the steamship Saragossa and Tillie for New York, Prometheus for Philadelphia, and Falcon for Baltimore. Quite a number of sailing vessels are also in the stream ready for sea, being kepf here by this equinoctial blow.

ANOTHER DEAD BABY .- On Saturday last, while some children were playing in a cellar of P. Smith, who was then on his plantation, and Wentworth and Beaulain streets, they found a herring box partially buried. It was broken open and the corpse of a young babe found. Coroner Whiting was notified and held an inquest, the jury returning as a verdict that the death was occasioned from some cause to them PAINFUL ACCIDENT .- About nine o'clock Saturday, Mrs. Miles, who is about eighty-seven years of age, met with a painful accident at the residence of her relative, H. T. Peake, Esq., on Rutledge avenue. She was about to seat herself, but her eyesight being imperfect, she missed the chair and fell heavily to the floor, fracturing her leg. Dr. Jenkins was called in and set the limb. Last night the sufferer was doing well.

THE ARSON CASE. - Mollie Blewitt, who was arrested upon the charges of beating another woman and putting a lighted torch under said man's house, was acquitted of the last and bound over to keep the peace on the first charge. Mollie then preferred charges against a corporal of one of the companies of the garrison here, asserting that he had stabbed her. The corporal gave security to appear before the State Court.

ARMS FOR THE NEGRO MILITIA. - Deputy Constable Kennedy arrived in Hamburg a few days since, with his quota of arms for cott's negro militie at that point. The Augusta Constitutionalist understands that about forty Winchester rifles-sixteen shooters-have been distributed, and that night drills are now the sensation among Scott's brave woolly-heads, whom he thinks can be educated to "fight nobly" against the good order and peace of

A MARCH GAME OF BASE BALL WAS played Secorday afternoon between the Pacific and Charleston clubs, on the lot at the corner of Broad and Butledge streets. GRORGIA RECRUITS FOR CUBA. - The Amerious Conrier. of Wednesday, says considerable hubbub was created in that city at noon on Wednesday, by the capture of three would-be def nders of the Island of Cuba. It is supposed there were some twenty or more you ig gentlemen in the expedition, bound for the Plorida coast. The parents of four of the parties telegraphed to that point, and the mar-shal succeeded in arresting three of them—the other escaping by a dextrons flank movement. They will be returned to their parents in MaA MODEL NEGRO MAGISTRATE.

A WHITE MAN COMMITTED TO JAIL BECAUSE HE DOES NOT TAKE HIS HAT OFF.

How Justice is Administered—The Character of Constables and Magistrate-Trying a Case-Malicious Imprisonment-Retribution Coming

There is needed a broom both long and strong to sweep out the stables of South Carolina Radicalism. No sooner is one crime exposed than another demands attention; no sooner is one instance of Radical ignorance in high places brought to light than a new batch require to be put on exhibition. Governors, Congressmen, Judges, State legislators and census-takers have had their turn, and now a colored magistrate comes to judgment.

WHO AND WHAT HE IS! Aaron Logan is a colored man, about twenty-eight years of age, and black as the ace of spades. There is an oiliness in his manner which is very taking on first acquaintance and as he has a good memory and can spout constitutions and orations by the hour, he is a small deity among the negroes in St. Thomas' and the adjoining parishes. There he is Sir Ocacle, and rules the colored people with autocratic sway; not in the interests of peace, but for the purpose of exciting an eternal round of anger and irritation. One page in his history is his conduct when commissioner of registration in the fall of 1869. Then, by his incendiary language and conduct, he drove the colored people into open riot; so much so that troops were sent by General Clitz to Mount Pleasant to quiet the disturbance. Not long afterward he was guilty of a small-sized villany for which he was

IMPRISONED IN FORT MACON, Where he amused himself by breaking stones. The why and wherefore are these: Logan arrested a gentleman named Fraser on the charge that he had prevented the negroes from voting. At night Mr. Fraser was dragged by a squad of armed negroes across the country to Charleston, being taken off the road here and there by his captors to be exhibited to the negroes on the different places near to which they passed. As soon as the party reached Charleston Mr. Fraser was released, but we do not know that he has yet recovered from the fatigues of that fearful night. Logan

TRIED BY MILITARY COMMISSION And sentenced to two years' imprisonment, which afterward was commuted to six months This term he passed in Fort Macon, as already stated. Logan would have been in the Legislature, but for his imprisonment. The jail and the gallows in this way reduce the supply of raw material in a very unwarrantable manner.

ANOTHER FREAK. We are also told that Logan bought a tract of land which he was to hold in trust for some colored people. But Logan was sharp. He had the titles drawn in his own name, and now this very land is soon to be sold by the shoriff for Logan's private debts. The deluded colored people will, we fear, have no redress.

THE NEXT CAPES.

Logan was quiet for awhile, and being an eminently proper person, was appointed a magistrate. Then, indeed, he had the parish under his control, as soon became evident. Frequently he gathers the colored people in crowds of four hundred and five hundred, whom he entertains with his denunciation of the whites.

In fact, he has had his own way in everything. Some time ago Mr. L. P. Smith, a planter in Christ Church Parish, had some trouble with a negro woman named Hannah Deveaux, which ended in Hannah being charged with assault and battery. The case was tried before Magistrate Lucas, and the woman committed in default of bail. Logan then took the matter in hand, sued out a writ of habeas corpus, when no one knew what was going on, and set Hannah frae.

THE NEXT DEVILTRY.

In July last a colored man went to Mr. L. said he had orders to arrest him. Mr. Smith asked what his warrant was. The colored man answed that "he did not know what the warrant was." but he would go and find out. Nothing more was heard of the affair until Thursday last, when it came to a head. FOUR NEGROES ARREST A WHITE MAN.

On the previous night (Weanesday) four armed negroes arrested George Brown, a servant of Mr. Smith's, on the public highway, saying that they had orders from Magistrate Logan to ascertain the business of every one whom they saw. Brown told them where he was going, and was taken under guard to his destination. What was the purpose of these armed men, in prowling at night around Mr. Smith's plantation, can easily be guessed by the light of subsequent events. On the following morning, the same four negroes, armed to the testh. arrested Mr. Smith and took him before Logan, who was nine miles off.

A NEGRO MAGISTRATE. When Logan had finished his breakfast, he went into the room where Mr. Smith was. Logan (to Mr. Smith.) "Take your hat off." Mr. Smith. "You have not opened your court, and there is no necessity to do what LOGAN (savagely.) "You had better !"

Some time passed and Logan gave no sign of hearing the case. Mr Smith then told Logan that he would waive an examination, and give bail to appear for trial. Logar replied that he would not take bail, and would examine the case himself. There was nothing to do but await the pleasure of this negro magistrate, and sever hours later the prosecutrix, Hannah Deveaux, came. Logan then ope ed a book, read a statement previously made by the prosecutrix, and asked her whether that was what she swore to. Of course she said yes, the charge being assault and battery. Logan next asked Mr Smith if he had any witnesses. Mr. Smith said that whenever the case was properly heard, so that he might know the evidence and cross-examine the witnesses, he would give his testimony. Logan. "Have you anything to say?" MR. SMITH. "Not until I hear the evidence against me." LOGAN. "If you don't answer I will commit you if I see fit. Will you answer, I say? Do you decline to give evidence?" SMITH. "Yes! except under proper circum-

Logan. "Then I find you guilty of assault and battery." COMMITTED FOR CONTEMPT.

It was Logan's evident desire to send Mr. Smith to jail, but he promptly gave bail. When the recognizances were signed. Logan said to Mr. Smith, "I will commit you to jail for contempt of court." Logan drew up the commitment, imposing a fine of $10 and 24 hour's imprisonment. Mr Smith asked to be allowed to get a change of clothing. This was refused, and the prisoner was brought to Charleston and carried to jail by Logan's negro guard Mr. Smith at once sued out a warrant against Logan for false imprisonment and official mis conduct, and the case will be heard on West-

Mark well the circumstances! A negro magistrate arrests a Northern white man, allows him no opportunity of hearing the evidence against him, finds him guilty, and then sends him to jail for "contempt of court." What this 'contempt' was, we do not know. The only crime that Mr. Smith committed, that we see is that he did not take off his hat until the court opened. And for this, twenty-four hours in fail and $10 fine!!! Mr. Smith is a Northern man and is highly esteemed by his neigh-

A SHOOTING SCRAPE NEAR HAMBURG.-The Augusta Chronicle of yesterday says that a shooting scrape occurred near Hamburg on Saturday atternoon between two young men, John Henry Key, Jr., and Freeman Powell, in which the former received a pistol ball in his left ankle, which passed between the bone and tendons without serious injury, the wounded man being able to walk about the streets after the occurrence. The difficulty, as we under stand it, is of rather a mysterious nature, the parties having previously been friendly. Key, as we learn, had walked down the railroad and joined company with Powell, when the latter urged the former to go home with him. Key declined, when Powell proposed to shoot him if the Feast of Trumpets, in obedience to the he did not. Key treated the threat with indifference, not believing it uttered in earnest; but Powell put it in execution, firing three shots, one of which took effect as above noted, and then fled, not affording Key an opportunity to recover from his surprise and retaliate. There are one or two constables in Hamburg at present, from Edgefield Courthouse, who are reported to be in pursuit of Powell for an assault made on Woolly, the tax collector, in which the latter is said to have suffered a loss | ed the "Yom Kipur" or day of atonement. of two or three lingua dentals from a blow in

THE BOAT RACE. -By half-past five o'clock Saturday afternoon, quite a large number of ladies and gentlemen had assembled on the Battery, to witness the proposed race between the boats Oriole and Blacksnake. There was a stiff breeze blowing and a heavy sea rolling, and it was generally believed that the boats would be unable to pull over the course marked out, viz : from the White Point buoy to a point three quarters of a mile distant off the Battery, to be marked by the boat Louly. Yet the crews determined to ascertain for themselves, and a little before six pulled out towards the buoy, but were soon convinced that it was almost impossible to have the race as designed, and, at the suggestion of the judges, concluded to have the race up the river, and accordingly rowed to Chisolm's mill. Their destination was unknown to the assemblage on the Batte ry, and the report being circulated that the race was postponed, the people, about halfpast six o'clock, dispersed.

The boats reached the mill about six o'clock, and the judges, Captain James Fraser, starting judge for the Oriole, and Mr. L. Chisolm for the Blacksnake; Messrs. F. J. Porcher, W. G. DeSaussure and J. F. Mathewes, deciding judges, agreed that the race should be from Chisolm's wharf to a point marked by the Louly, just beyond the New Bridge, the distance being about a mile. It was also decided that as the Blacksnake had only six oars, while her opponent had eight, she should be allowed six seconds.

The crews were: Mr. John W. Lewis, Jr., coxswain; D. D. Parker, stroke; William G. Webb, R. M. Means, J. P. DeSaussure, H. N. Parker, J. H. Roper, H. A. DeSaussure, J. R. Mathewes, of the Oriole. William Coffin, coxswain; H. B. Bull, stroke; George Edwards, N. Simons, H. R. Simons, G. C. Gaillard, W. A. Pringle, of the Blacksnake.

Shortly after six o'clock the signal to start was given by the firing of a pistol. The Oriole made a half length at the first jump, and continued to gain. When half way she was about six lengths shead, and at the terminus was nearly one hundred yards in advance. The time made was: Oriole, 6 minutes 15 seconds; Blacksnake, 7 minutes and 10 seconds, the Oriole winning by 49 seconds.

There were very few spectators, and consequently there was not as much excitement as at the late international race, but still there was considerable excitement and enjoyment to those who were present. We hope that the race will be repeated at an early day.

The Pilotage Question.

gia; E. G. Wiss.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEWS. We had no intention of cutering into a newspaper controversy with the newly appointed pilots—our end having been answered when we gave their names to the public. The mer-chants and mariners of Charleston can readily discover the sort of merit and capacity possessed by these men if they choose further to inquire.

We saw cards from four of them in your jour nal of the 2d instant, which would have been noticed sooner but for more important engage The first is from Edward Jenkins, a colored man, who very properly heads the list, as his race is now in the ascendant. We feel very charitable towards Jenkins, and have no precharitable towards Jenkins, and have no prejudice against him on account of his color; we would rather encourage him than otherwise. He is civil, and we honestly believe is the best pilot of the four—so let Jenkins pass.

The next card is from Frederick Fisher. We retract nothing we said of this 'tyoung min" of twenfy-two years. We still regard him as entirely incompetent to discharge the duties of a silet. He attempts to make ganital out of his tirely incompetent to discharge the duties of a pilot. He attempts to make capital out of his youth, but we grieve to say this gives no promise for the future. His communication compels us to say that from our knowledge of his mental capacity he is not likely to improve either by age or experience.

Charles Camps comes next. As regards the degree of liability to be attached to his may attached its likely only necessary for us to ask if statements, it is only necessary for us to ask if he can deny that it was proved in evidence be-fore the United States Court that he obtained is beense by fraud and misrepresentation. and that it was subsequently taken from him? Can be deny that it also came out in evidence that he had purlouned money from a shipmate, which has never yet been recovered from him as far as our knowledge goes? We have also the testimony of two responsi-

We have also the testimony of two responsible merchants and a retired shipmaster of this port, that the captain of the brig Hampden stated in their presence that Camps, when on board of their brig as pilot, requested the captain to take command and bring his vessel to, for the purpose of bring boarded by the port physician, an i that the captain judged him incompetent to have charge of his vessel.

incompetent to have charge of his vessel.

The next and last card is from Mr Henry Rahtert. Our reply to him is brief. What vessel was he ever put aboard of when he was with the old pilots? We know of but one, and she was inside the bar and safe enough to be managed by any "greenhorn." If we mistake not, he was twice discharged, from two different boats, for neglect of duty.

In conclusion, we say that we have been as lenient towards these men as the character of their published cards would permit us to be,
and disclaiming all malice, we design to drop their published takes which a series to de, and disclaiming all malice, we design to drop the subject; but if provoked into further controversy, which we will try to avoid, they will find we have left many truths untold which it would be less agreeable for them to hear, than for us to utter. We are, OLD PILOTS.
