Alexandria, Va., was written with purple ink, and, to the dismay of the possessor, it has faded entirely away. A paper in that city so cordingly condemns the use of purple ink for cordingly condem legal documents, but suggests that it would be highly appropriate for love-letters. The suggestion may be appreciated in Chicago.

-A company has been formed in Paris to carry out a really novel idea in the way of advertising. The company takes a lease of one window in the second or third story of a house in a prominent street or boulevard. From dusk till after milnight a transparency, brilliantly lit up, on a sea-green ground, sets forth the advertisement. You can arrange either for a display once a week or a whole week, &c., alternately in any of the windows in the several quarters po-sessed by the company.

-An old trapper who oroused the Western plains thirty-five years ago, says that there was no grass at all, bu; only a few sage bushes and cacti. Now, there is a thin soil ned over the sand and gravel, and grass covers the entire surface. It appears that this enriching process goes on faster and faster every year. This is why so many people have been astonished at not finding any "Great American Desert," and conclude that it was ply a myth. The truth is th but has passed away.

-A liferary entertainment of a decidedly novel character has been arranged for the com ing winter in Boston. A course of lectures is announced, in which, on every alternate night, two lecturers shall present opposite views of vital issues. Professor Perry is to advocate free trade and Horace Greeley is to reply. Rev. Gilbert Haven will present the claims of wowan's suffrage, and Rev. Mr. Fulton will oppose the innovation. Rev. Mr. Alger will set forth the humanitarian theory of Christ, and Rev. Mr. Townsend will state the Trinitarian theory. A prominent Democrat and prominent Republican have been selected to represent the views of their respective parties. The anti-Prussian newspapers of North Germany are again beginning to express hopes of the outbresk of a Franco-Prussian war. The Emperor Napoleon, they say, is the only obto such a war, and whatever party takes the direction of affairs in France after him must make the first object of its policy the humiliation of Prussis and the restoration of the dispossessed sovereigns. Even if the Emperor should survive his present illness, they add, he must, in order to save his throne, give France a parliamentary government; and such a government would be the natural adversary of the despotic regime, of which Prussis is the representative. A regency or an Orleanist adbest means of consolidating its power at home, and a French Republic would certainly never allow a "Pressian Casarism" to grow up on its

TO THE LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF CHARLES FON:
The undersigned having with great care and expense selected the above corps of Metropolitan Artistes, comprising some of the most distinguished talent in the dramatic world, and being desirious of establishing a Southern Theatrical Circuit, comprising the cities of Charleston, Savannah and Augusta, would most respectfully ask the patronage and support of the ladies and gentlemen or this city, and in return for such support we assure you that the pieces selected for represention shall be Nibst Class only, (by such popular authors as Boucleault, 10m Taylor, T. W. Robertson, John Broughsm, &c.,) and that they shall be produced with a care and attention to detail hitherto unattempted in this city. The stage department will be under the management of Mr. O. B. Collins, who, with twenty years' experience as aster and manager, pledges himself that there shall be nothing to offend, but everything to please.

Respectfully yours,

O. B. COLLINS,
