THE BOARD OF TRADE,-An adjourned meeting of this body will be held on Monday night.

THE FIRE at Mr. White's storehouse Wednesday aight, was, so far as we are able to judge, the work of an incendiary.

FIRE.-The roof of a shanty at the west end of Beaufain street caught fire about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, but was extinguished before much damage was done. No alarm was sounded.

THE MARINE HOSPITAL AFFAIR.-Yesterday Magistrate Mackey issued a warrant for the arrest of John Klein, the steward of the Marine Hospital, upon the charge of beating Patrick Carr, a patient at the hospital. Officer Hernandez arrested the accused, and locked him up to await an examination to-day. We learn that Klein has confessed that he beat Carr with a strap. Carr, who is old and infirm and partially paralyzed, now lies in a precarious condition.

CORBIN'S PAY FOR PROFESSIONAL SERVICES. Day before yesterday summons were sent to several of the Aldermen to attend a caucus at 6 clock that afternoon, for the purpose, as reported, of coming to some decision in regard to United States District, &c., Corbin's claim of $7000 against the city for professional services. The caucus was not held, however, a sufficient number not appearing. We learn that all of the Aldermen excepting Voigt, Geddings and Potter

THE COMMITTEE appointed to investigate the charges against the City Engineer have heard all of the testimony that will be produced, and will shortly draw up a report to be presented at the next regular meeting of Council. It is generally reported that the majority, composed of four of the five committeemen, will report in favor of having the officer reinstated, and to receive pay for the time he was suspended; while one member will make a minority report in favor of his reinstatement, but in opposition to his receiving the SLIPPED OUR .-- An officer went yesterday morning to "hunt down" an individual who was suspected of manufacturing and selling cigars without contributing any "stamps" to the United States Treasury. After a long search, the officer found the individual in a closet next to the roof of a house on Meeting near Society streets. The officer sat down with him and patiently waited H. Essenback. for the appearance of the United States Marshal, who was expected along "shortly." The officer became tired and concluded to get a drink of water. He went down stairs to get it, and the manufacturer slipped off to parts unknown, leaving eight hundred and fifty newly made cigars, which have been confiscated.

OUR PRICES CURRENT .- We especially invite the attention of our merchants to THE NEWS Prices Current, issued this morning. Made up with the utmost care, and handsomely printed with entirely new type, it forms, with the business card of the house forwarding it, the most attractive and welcome weekly commercial circular that can be used. Price, for ten copies or more, with business card, two and a half cents per copy. Single copies, five cents. Specimen copies will to-day be furnished to the merchants generally along the Bay and the wharves, and we shall be pleased to receive orders to furnish our friends regularly during the busy season, now opening, any additional copies that may be wanted.

to present, again, an as 'mated and attractive ne. The young ladie to whom the institution furnishes a pleasant home, and aids in the laudable purpose of obtaining an education, are reing, in order to resume their places in the various city schools. We are glad to hear that all of those who were in the Home last year have made earnest application to be received for the coming year, and that the applications have been granted. So numerous, too, and so urgent have been the appeals from others, that the ladies of all, and have accepted five more, making in all for the present year thirty young ladies.

It was thought to be a herculean undertaking, when so large a number as twenty-five of the daughters of our dead or impoverished soldiers were received under the care of the board of control, but the generous sympathy and aid of our people carried the kindly project through with entire success. We cannot doubt that an increased measure of interest and liberality will show. this year that the ladies have not too confidently relied upon our warm-hearted community. The cause is one which appeals to our tenderest feelings. The result of last year dissipated any apprehension which might have been entertained as to the feasibility of such an undertaking, compatibly with the true good of those whom it was intended to benefit. The Home was made what its name imports-a family circle, characterized by that order, kindly discipline, moral influence and affectionate sympathy which give a charm to the household hearth.

No better evidence of its salutary influence could be asked, than the satisfaction expressed by parents, and their desire that their children may continue to enjoy the privileges of the Home. The fact of the numerous additional applications, too, is a testimonial to their faithfulness, which may well be grateful to the Board of Control-They have been overwhelmed with requests for admission-five of which, only, they have been able to accept, the present capacity of the institution being unequal to more than thirty inmates for educational purposes.

The whole number of persons occupying the Home is ninety-one. All of these have direct claims to its privileges, except fourteen, and these fourteen have indirect claims, having lost, by the war, nephews or other near relatives, upon whom they depended for support. We are thus particular, because of an impression which is believed to have gotten abroad, that some are enjoying the advantages of this charity who are not strictly within its scope. The institution would gladly relieve every form and class of impoverishment and distress, but its design, means and space are limited, and it has been the studions effort of the Board to keep closely to its original purpose, and dispense the charity, of which it is but the almoner, to those for whose relief the donors intend it. The character of those who compose the Board of Control should be the best guarantee of this. And now, all ther thing. Citizens of Carolina, this institution belongs to you. Your sympathy and generosity bade it rise, and have given it success. Your hands must continue to sustain, or it falls. Your sisters have relied upon your ever-fresh memory of the dead, and consideration of the needs of the living, to undertake increased burthens of care and coat in the Widows' Home. We do not ask you to give with increased liberality to enable them to bear the burthen. We know you will give. To urge would be an impertinence. But we do ask you to give in a different way. Let not these ladies be burthened also with the care and labor of a fair or bazaar. Lift this sheltering institution out of companionship even with other commendable charities, as much as it is above them in the sacredness of its memories and the tenderness of the heart-chords which it touches. Let there be no need of public solicitation. Let groups be formed, who will agree to make up, among themselves, $100, or $500, or $1000-each giving according to his ability. It can be done without burthening any. Doing this quietly, efficiently, delicately, you will say to our sisters of the Home Association: "The cause is ours as well. Be it yours to preside over, control and cheer this Haskins, Boston; Thomas J. Steams, H. Leland, household of our wards. Be it ours to relieve you J. C. Baker, New York; J. B. Ezell, Hon. T. J.

sustained." mmediate expression. UNITED STATES COURT

Report of the Grand Jury-The Jail-The Old Customhouse.

The United States District Court met yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY. The foreman of the Grand Jury, immediately after the opening of the court, made the follow ing presentment:

THE JAIL. THE Grand Jury for the Fall Term of the United States District Court, in fulfilment of their duty, would respectfully report that they have visited and carefully inspected the jail and surrounding premises, and found dem clean and in good order, with the following exceptions, to wit: The wall of the room which is used as a hospital is onlite damp, consequent upon a bad wit: The wall of the room which is used as a hospital is quite damp, consequent upon a bad leak which we discovered between the tower and the main building, thereby rendering the room unfit for the purpose for which it is used. The passages and apartments in the basement we did not find as clean as those in other portions of the building, and would recommend that the same be thorougly whitewashed and cleansed. The cells located in the tower should all be lined with poartis, in order to render them fit for use; many cells located in the tower should also be liked with boards, in order to render them fit for use; many of them are destitute of this lining, thereby, in our opinion, rendering them detrimental to health; we would, therefore, recommend that they be lined as early as practicable.

SHORT RATIONS. The prisoners complain that the rations furnished them, especially those consisting of meat, are totally inadequate, and being convinced by our observation that they have just grounds for their complaint; the dictates of humanity demand that we should present the matter so that, if possible, the remedy may be promptly and effectively applied. We would also recommend that the prisoners be supplied with a greater variety of prisoners be supplied with a greater variety of food than they are accustomed to receive. We also found a number of prisoners destitute of bed ding, and having only a blanket to lie on.

RECOMMENDED TO MERCY. Our sympathy was much excited by the case of one of the prisoners, the father of a large and dependent family, who has been incarcerated for six or seven months, and whose term of imprisonent will not expire for five or six months to come. The offence for which he was convicted and sentenced is in our indement, comparatively and sentenced is, in our judgment, comparatively trivial, and we think the demands of justice have been adequately appeased by the punishment which has already been inflicted. We would, therefore, earnestly recommend that the pardoning power be invoked in his behalf.

THE OLD CUSTOMHOUSE. We do with great earnestness call the attention of the Treasury Department of the General Government, with whom we believe the power rests, to not only the dilapidated, but dangerous condition of that structure, situated on East Bay, facing Broad street, known as the old Customhouse, and for many years occupied likewise by the Postoffice Department. This building, now falling to decay, is not only unsightly, but exceedingly dangerous, and the Grand Jury hope that by bringing the subject before the government in this form, they will take such steps as will greatly improve its appearance, and thereby abate a nuisance.

THE LONGSHOREMEN-THEY INTERFERE WITH LABORERS-SOME OF THEM STRIKE AGAIN.-Yesterday morning a number of the longshoremen went to Union wharf, where several men were at work loading the brig Adelaide. They asked these laborers, who are not members of the association, at what rates they were working, and when told one dollar and a half per day, or- PETITE, a relish for Food, and a perfect Digesdered them to desist, making threats of ill using them if they did not, and but for the presence of a few white men who came up, would doubtle have put their threats into execution.

Late in the afternoon some of the longshoremen employed by the Charleston and New York Steamship Company struck, .efusing to receive pay for the two hours and a half they had worked at the rate of two dollars and a half for nine and a half hour's work. They demanded payment at the rate of forty cents per hour, asserting that they recognized no time except a half or a whole day's work, and that all shorter periods of work must be paid for at the rate of forty cents an hour. The whole gang sustained this movement, and the company immediately discharged them. We learn that the company will hereafter refuse to employ any man who is a member of the Longshoremen's Protective Union Association.
