THE MASONIC FAIR. -The Masonic Fair to be open to here on the 15th of this month will be one of the grandest exhibitions of the kind ever witnessed in the city.

The following named gentlemen have been appointed a committee to solicit donations of artienting the different branches of business in the city, and they announce that all presents will be duly acknowledged through the public prints, exhibited with the businesa card of the rat the stores of Mesers. iblic on yesterday. The house, which has about one hundred and twenty-five rooms, has been thoroughly renovated and furnished throughout with elegant fur niture, carpets and curtains, and supplied with all the modern conveniences. The proprietor Mr. J. Parker, has secured the services of Mr. John Campbell as bookkeeper, and Mr. George McGinlay as caterer-both of whom are the right men in the right place. The other departments are in charge of men equally competent to dis charge the duties of their places. The proprietor has opened under favorable auspices, and will surely reap the reward which follows enterprise and energy. A first-class livery, Robert Graham proprietor, to attached to the house, and carriages for the conveyance of passengers will be in attendance at all steamboats and railroad trains. Mr. Graham is one of our own people, and the public will find it to their advantage to give him a share of their A great hotel is to a city a new source of wealth.

It attracts visitors, compels improvement in others, and increases trade. The Continental, in Philadelphia, the Burnet, in Cincinnati, the Lindell, in St. Louis, have been rare auxiliaries in the development of those cities, while New York is perhaps remembered in nothing more favorably than in her Astor, her Brevoort, her Fifth Avenue, her St. Nicholas, her Westminster, and her olitan; and the success of these have been so marked that new and even more extensive resorts are projected. Charleston deserves to have, and has her good hotels, in proof of which we point to the "Charleston," the "Mills," and the "Pavilion." There are a large number of travellers who annually visit and pass through the city. They are generally persons of means, and are accustomed to live comfortably in their own residences, and when they come here they are willing to pay well for what is furnished in the style to which they are accustomed. Such a house as the Mills will be eagerly sought; and its assured ity will not only improve its competitors, or that be possible, but in time encourage the building of others.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES. -At the annual meeting of the Charleston Board of Fire Underwriters, held on yesterday, the following officers and committees were unanimously elected for the ensuing year: Wm. B. Heriot, president; S. Y. Tupper, vice-president; A. L. Tobias, secretary.

ARREST OF MR. AVERILL .- Yesterday, while Mr. C. N. Averill, Flour Inspector, was exercising the duties of his office, he was arrested by Po Guardhouse, upon the charge of violating the ordinance, passed at the last meeting of Council, "to prevent or punish any person who may exercise, or attempt to exercise, the duties of any municipal office, unless he shall have been duly elected to the same."

Mr. Wilkinson, counsel for Mr. Averill, appeared and offered ball for him, which was refused. He then went over to the State Court, which was in session, and asked Judge Carpenter to issue a writ of habeas corpus and have the prisoner brought before him immediately.

Judge Carpenter sent for Captain Hendricks, Guardhouse showed the statement of the Chief to J. W. Burbridge, Walterboro'; G. A. Malcolm be correct. The bond in the sum of one hundred New York; J. W. STATE COURT-HON. R. B. CARPENTER. JUDGE, PRESIDING .- The November term of the State Court was opened at ten o'clock yesterday morning.

The roll of the grand and petit jurors was called. Twelve more names were ordered to be drawn for the petit juries and four for the grand jury, after which the petit jurors were dismissed until next Menday, and the grand jurors until I P. M., to which hour the court then adjourned.

At one o'clock the court was reopened. The grand jury was then reorganized as follows: Patrick Moran, foreman; F. W. Bensaman, John Monsees, A. B. Miller, T. L. Quackenbush, John A. Selby, Wm. Glover, R. H. Dehay, white-S; Brawley Argill, John Bonum, Jack Mitchell, Moses Campbell, Wm. Jervey, John B. Morris, Cuffy Richardson, Robt. A. Wainwright, James Whipple, colored-9. After the organization of the jury, Attorney General Chamberlain instructed them in regard to their duties, saying, among other things, that one hundred and fifty bills would be brought before them-more than were ever before brought before a grand jury of the State Court; that crime was on the increase in the county, and it was in a measure due to the leniency of the grand jury of the last term.

The jury was then ordered to assemble at their room every morning, at 10 o'clock. M. B. Allen, a negro lawyer from Massachusetts, presented the necessary papers and asked that he be admitted to practice in this court. He was admitted. Court then adjourned until 10 A. M., on Monday

Lawrence. The application was granted. The Court then adjourned.

CRUMBS .- Daddy Cain requests that the "City Council will please restrict the use of morphine as an explosive element, and order Captain Hendricks to place a guard over it at $3000 a year." Jack Frost made his appearance in Darlington on Wednesday. Those who do not make their tax returns pro vious to the 15th of November will have to pay a double tax.

"Mayor Pillsbury," says Daddy Cain, "has become an artful dodger, dodging even a ball from Colt's revolver; in fact, the whole Council can do something in that line."

There were sixty-eight "arrivals" recorded at the three hotels of the city yesterday. Bennettsville is to have a new Methodist Church. The longshoremen, says the Missionary Record have struck again, because Mr. Stoddard, stevedore, was discharged. Strange contrast. This Mr. Stoddard was the man who wrote letters against the granting of a charter to these men last winter." The meeting of Council to-night, it is expected will be more than usually interesting.

The South Carolina Institution, for the education of the deaf and dumb and the blind, located at Cedar Springs, Spartanbu g County, will be reopened for the admission of pupils, on Wedner day, November 17. The carpenter work on the Opera-House has been completed, and the work of upholstering and decorating commenced. Visitors are not desired now, as they will incommode the workmen. There will not be an inspection of the colored fire companies to-day as reported. One company C. Manuel Cox, who is charged with having committed a highway robbery upon a colored man, on Spring street, about six weeks ago, was arrested vesterday by Officer Pond.

The fines imposed by the Mayor yesterday amounted to sea
