festations of popular discontent in Russia, recommends the Czar to cancel all liberal reforms late- do his part. ly inaugurated.

-Another effort is to be made to start a humo; ous and satirlcal paper in New York on the style of London Punch. It is to be called Punchinello, which does not show much originality to begin

-!n the House of Commons, on Friday, the postmaste general alluded to the proposed reduction of postage between Great Britain and the United States, and said it would increase the mails and the revenue. -General Neche, with a strong division, left Puerto Principe on the 3d instant to commence a campaign against the Cuban insurgents. It was expected that General Puello would soon leave and again attack the rebel forces. -An actual test was recently made in New Orleans of the pneumatic power lesigned for the use of street cars, but the thing was a failure. The supply engine would not raise power enough to work the cars. Only one hundred and fourteen pounds pressure could be obtained.

-The President has directed the remittance of the unexecuted portion of the sentence of the military commission, from the Fifth Military District, in the cases of Charles L. Pitcher and John A. Richardson, citizens sentenced in October last to imprisonment for four years in the penitentiary.

-Paris is still quiet, although the police stil patrol the streets in force. Over four hundred persons have been arrested for complicity in the rioting during the three days past. It is reported that the editors of the Marseillaise, and two editors of the Reveil, and many others, have been arrested in Paris, on charges of conspiracy against the government. The Marseiliaise reappeared on Friday, and was eagerly bough, on the streets. -In the United States House of Representatives, on Thursday, during the discussion about mileage and pay of members, there was a lively time. Dawes gave Butler a lunge for desiring to dispense with the capitol police last year and substitute therefor the standing army. Cox, of New York, rushed in and ironically defended Butler, for which he got a wipe from Butler that completely floored the New York member, but he recovered, got out of temper, and pegged away flercely in earnest at Butler, calling him naughty names and asserting that the Massachusetts member was a bad man, and was ostracised socially and otherwise. Butler brought the House down in a tremendous roar of laughter when he rose and quietly remarked that he would not attempt to answer the diminutive member from New York. He would refer him to the boys on the streets, and the organ-grinders who were singing and playing "Shoo fly, don't bedder me." This was accompanied by a comical manner and a sweep of the arm that proved to be too much for the risibles of the auditors. Cox said Butler had a tough skin, and could not be impressed with any attack upon his character. Here the Speaker intervened, and the amusements ended. -A bill is reported in the United States Senate to increase the number of judges of the United States Supreme Court to eleven, with the same number of circuit judges. The Judiciary Com-mittee reported, with amendments, the bill to change the judicial circuit as follows: The first circuit to consist of the districts of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut; the second of the district of New York; third, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia; fourth, Missis lopi, Louisana, Texas and Arkansas; fifth, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alab ma and Tennessee; sixth, Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and West Virginia; seventh, Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin; eighth, Minnesota, Iowa, the circuit bench.

Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri; ninth, California, Oregon and Nevada. The bill further provides that the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States shall be residents of their respective circuits, and vacancies now or hereafter existing in said court shall in every case be filled by a resident of the circuit.

-A Washington letter to the Baltimore Gazette says: "It looks very much as though there might yet brew a squall between the President and Congress as to the policy of the administration in regard to appointments. General Grant is reported to have given out some time ago that he would place no man on a judge's bench who ever served as a judge under the old slave code, or believed in it, or practiced law under it. This accounts for the persistence with which the nomination of Hoar was pushed for a Southern vacancy in the Supreme Court, and the carrying on of the war on the same line, in the nominating a New Jersey man for the same place. One fact is developed in this connection that may yet create a schism in the Radical household, notwithstanding the give ings out that there never was so harmonious a family since the formation of the government, and that is, that the Southern and Western senapose any nomination of an Eastern judge for this place. This is the reason Hoar was rejected. There was no particular objection to him person South utterly ignored in the formation of the Supreme Bench, and if Dame Rumor says true, this Money Order or by Express. If this cannot be is the reason why Bradley may share the same

No Straggling!

Our contemporary, the Columbia Guardian, utters some very sensible and manly words in deprecation of the folly and danger of any jealousies or divisions-of which there have lately been some unpleasant symptomsamong the Anti-Radical press of South Carolina. We have all the same end in view and we cannot afford to quarrel about the means. We shall have need of all our strength to crush the common foe. We mus strike and win together, if we would win a Who would not sink, for the moment, all minor differences, for the sake of wresting South Carolina from the grasp of the wretches who defile with hideous revelry the capi-

Upon public men and public journals there now rests a grave and solemn responsibility. They can render good service, in making the defeat of dishonesty and corruption decisive and complete. Or, they may heighten our dangers and aggravate our peril by factious opposition and untimely dissension. But none of them, nor all of them, can roll back the popular tide, or alter, in the least, the fixed determination of the people. A change of rulers is demanded-a chance from nepotism, ignorance and vice to purity, intelligence and virtue. This is the supreme necessity, and that they may attain this end the people bow to the inexorable logic of accomplished facts. They submit to the inevitable, and accept the logical consequences of their forced submission. And if the press which has enjoyed their confidence, or the public servant whom they have honored, refuse to stand in the van and bear the brunt of the fight, the people will brush journal or politician aside, and adopt or create men and journals who truly represent them, and who are ready to share with them the hazards and uncertainties of a desperate if not mortal struggle.

Nor ambition, nor pique, nor blindness to the bitter exigencies of the times, must stand in the way of the public good. The wishes and the desires of the individual are as nothing in comparison with the weal of the State. We must bear and forbear, and each must

This paper has decided opinions of its own, as everybody knows, but those opinions will be modified or waived whenever it it shall be shown that we can thereby increase, in the least, the chances of victory. Only, let our cause be tainted by no compromise with the handful of thieves and robbers who now rule over us, nor by any hypocritical assumption of the party name under which they have masked their villany! Keep us clear of the crew who are infamous, personally and politically-propose no entangling alliance with the representatives of fraud, violence and wrong, and it matters little to us under what flag we fight.

The Judicial Election.

The election of Colonel Samuel W. Melton to the Circuit Judgeship made vacant by the death of Judge Boozer, will give general satisfaction, not less on account of the learning and ability of the Judge elect, than because the action of the Legislature indicates a willingness to bridge over, for a moment at least, the deep chasm which has divided the South Carolina Confederate soldier from the South Carolina Radical politician.

Colonel Melton is, in many ir ortant particulars, a fair representative of the mass of the people of the State. A soldier in the Confederate service from the first to the last, from Manassas to Appomatiox, he has, since the war, had little to do with political affairs. His influence was thrown against Radicalism with steady and persistent force, and he is now, if we understand him correctly, as far from desiring any part or fellowship with the Republican party as when he wore the gray uniform of the South. In the past is neither shame nor reproach; but living in the present, and looking to the future, Colonel Melton acknowledges all that the laws of the land require him to acknowledge, and accords to white and black alike all the rights conferred upon them by the State and Federal Constitution. Accepting the situation frankly and in good faith, he is ready to demption of the State. That such a man should have been elected to office is a cheering sign of the coming of better days. The scenes which attended the election were scandalous in the extreme. Votes were bought and sold by the members of the General Assembly, under the very nose of the presiding officer. Pistols were drawn, and the bullies of the House howled for blood and thunder. But we are inclined to look over all this when we remember that a South Carolinian of untarnished fame, who did not smirch himself that he might be exalted to place and profit, has been elected to work manfully for the purification and re-

Meetings.

We are informed that the City Treasurer is deducting from the quarterly interest on city stock, now in process of payment, an amount equal to one per cent. per annum on the par value of the stock. This is presumed to be a tax levied by the city upon the stock, although the public have no knowledge of the passage of any ordinance authorizing the imposition of such a tax. The ordinance to regulate the assessment of personal property, adopted last week, clearly contemplated a taxation of the city stocks held by residents; but it was generally understood that the rate of taxation would not be determined until the gross taxable value of all the real and personal property in the city had been definitely ascertained. The assessment of property is not completed, no tax bill has been introduced or considered in the public meetings of Council, and the public desire to know by what authority the City Treasurer is now levying a tax upon the quarterly interest legally due, without deduction, to the holders of city stock.

Is it Repudiation!

When this first point is made clear, we may properly consider the legality, as well as the public equity, of imposing a city tax upon the city debt.

THE Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel speaks in highly complimentary terms of the great work accomplished by the present directors of the South Carolina Railroad, and is hopeful that "the shareholders will begin to realize the benefits of good dividends, so long necessarily withheld to complete the repairs of the

With regard to the movement towards the vater, our Augusta con mporary says:

"We are glad to find the president and diectors fully alive to the importance of water onnections at Charleston. As soon as arrangements are made there to take treight down to the wharf, without the expense and loss incident to a long drayage, we are confident that the income of the road will be mate rially increased. All obstructions to, and restrictions upon, the quick, cheap and safe transit of goods must now be abandoned. The wants of trade and commerce require that these old relics of local prejudices shall be removed, and the currents of business allowed to flow in the most direct and casy channels.

WHIPPER, in his speech nominating Colonel Melton for Circuit Judge, said that a man should be judged by his merits and not by his politics. This is sound doctrine; but if it were agreed to by the Radical party, very few of their present officers would remain long in

WHEN will a committee be appointed to inquire into the charges of bribery and corruption, made against certain members of the General Assembly in connection with their vote for Circuit Judge on Friday ? Some of the Charleston colored men think that living must be very cheap in Columbia, as their representatives in the House can keep double teams and swim in champagne on six dollars a day for the session. It is currently reported that fifteen hundred dollars was paid to members of the House to change their votes, before the result of the ballet for Circuit Judge was announced.

What was the price paid the "forty thieves" for their vote upon the circuit judgeship ques

SORGO SUGAR AND REFINED

We would invite the attention of the consideration of some of the advantages in the cultivation of some of the advantages in the cultivation of SORGO as a Crop, which are, the small amount of labor; the hardy character of the plant in its ability to endure, without material injury, both drought and wet; its freedom from the attack of worms; its early maturing, and the fact that the Seed and every part of the plant is of great value. and the fact that the Seed and every part of the plant is of great value.

In consequence 5, the imperfect method hitherto adopted in preparing the Juice of this Cane, there has arisen a prejudice, and the helief that Sugar could not be produced, but only a very inferior Syrup. But, by the discovery of the Southern Process, these opinions have been completely reversed in the minds of all those who have examined and tested this Process, as they realize that not only now Syrup. Superjor to the realize that not only pure Syrup, superior to the best Chemical Syrups of the Refineries, is proluced, but also Sagar equal to the best New Oreans, in such quantity, as to make it without loubt, the most profitable crop that can be planted. there is probably none which offers such inducements to capitalists, especially those owning public halls or rinks, as the EXCLUSIVE RIGHT to use and vend said Patent Skates, in proof of which it is only necessary to refer to the Indianapolis Rink, which cleared over $3000 in ten weeks, and Glover, of Louisville, the receipts of which were $10,000 in two months of Roller Skating. Nor are these exceptional instances of success. TERRITORIAL RIGHTS to use and vend formation, address E. M. DRANE, Louisville, Kentucky.
