day, as compared with former years. -Mr. Joseph Wesley Harper died on Monday last at his house, in Brooklyn, N. Y., at the age of eixty-nine. He was one of the four brothers who founded the famous publishing house of Harper & Brothers.

-The "gaietics of the season" are now tolera bly numerous in Washington. A belle of the capital recently visited seven social entertain ments in one night, and declared, as she conclu ded her half hour at the seventh, that she had "two more to go to" before daylight.

-In the English Parliament, on Monday, corres pondence was called for with Canada and other colonies, in relation to the removal of troops. Canada was commended for her consistent conservatism. New Zealand, it was thought, was about to enter on a new and prosperous ca-

-The New York Herald, of Tuesday, says: "The market for Southern securities was generally steady and strong. The exceptions were the new Tennessees, which declined to 59%, and the South Carolinas, which were dull, and sold as low as 8714 for the old and SI for the new. The following

-A gentleman who was in New York last weck states that trade is very dull there this winter in nearly all branches of mercantile business. While at the customhouse, on Tuesday last, he was told that no vessel had arrived from a foreign port for the forty-eight hours preceding, a circu that had not occurred before for the past twenty years. There were at the time nearly one hundred government inspectors waiting employment in consequence of the small number of vessels

-The new disease called the relapsing fever is rapidly infecting the lower and filthy districts of little time given them for their extrication the City of New York. On Saturday night every bed in the fever ward of the Bellevue Hospital was occupied by pauper patients suffering from the malady, and several of the nurses and physicians have been attacked by the contagion. The board of health have been compelled to treat the poor who are infected with the disease at their own houses, and are now attempting to secure a separate building for them.

-The strike of the planoforte makers in three of the principal factories in New York still continues, seveniy men having quit work. It is asserted that the hands now filling the places of the the striking belimen are only cabinet makers. Of the men recently discharged at the Brooklyn navy yard, one hundred and fifty have been notified to resume work. In San Francisco, California, there are seven thousand laborers out of work, and It is proposed, for their relief, to commence an extended system of street improvements.

-Just before leaving Boston, Prince Arthur sent to Miss Minnie Sherman, daughter of General Sherman, a chaste and costly gold medallion, having his likensss on one, side and that of Queen Victoria on the other. Accompanying the gift was a delicately worded note, in which the Prince begged that Miss Sherman would accept of the medallion as a token of his appreciation of the generous hospitalities he had experienced at the house of her father, and as a slight tribute to trample on public law and public right in the beauty of American women, of which she was so striking an exponent.

-Apropos of the franking privilege, Don Piatt writes: "I am a man remarkable for my honesty. I am a model. I may say, without fear of con tradiction, that I am a dragon of virtue, and yet I write you this with a gold pen that Uncle Samuel paid for, on stationery intended for the use of the overworked and underpaid public agents and when done, I will fold it in an envelope from the same source, and mail under the frank of an honorable member. Now, if this can be done by a dragon of virtue without pangs of conscience, what must be the abuse on the part of the very

-The Philadelphia Press says there can be no doubt that the general apathy which prevails in nearly every business centre is mainly due to the unsettled condition of national questions, involving the general industrial interests of the country. The funding, currency and tariff bills, now pending in Congress, and the possible results of the recent legal tender decision, are all so many disturbing influences retarding improvement and checking enterprise, and unless some decisive the planter, the mechanic and the merchant. settlement be speedily reached, it is greatly to be Such a work is the book before us. non est inventus. -A Columbia correspondent of the Augusta Constitutionalist writes: "You can have no idea of what is going on here, how the State is pillaged and openly robbed by those carpet-baggers and negroes. To give you an idea, I was told that Mr. Speaker Moses, the son of the Chief Justice, a degenerate son of a degenerate sire, received a thousad dollars for a single railing on a railroad bill, and that his seekly deposit in the the very full and carefully arranged table of land to the Ticket Office of the volume is the very full and carefully arranged table of land to the Ticket Office of the Academy of Music.

bank is fifteen hundred dollars. He can afford to | contents and index, which render the mass of fast women. Governor Scott was very indignant with THE CHARLESTON NEWS, for some strictures made by that paper on his earnings out of the State bonds, bank notes, Blue Ridge Railroad, &c. 'Why, it is a lie,' said he, 'I have made only one hundred and thirty thousand dollars since I have been in office, and in legitimate transactions.' A pretty good only. Senator Leslie, land commissioner, keeps open house and buys a good many acres. He is said to be doing so well, that some of the senators and representatives wish to stop his supplies and have an investigation; but the senator seems to defy them. The stealing is so general, that he feels the door for investigation will not be opened."

-The fact has leaked out that the "Car diff Giant," that has gulled so many simpletons, was manufactured in Chicago, and now one of its inventors, F. Mchrmann, a stonecutter o that city, is out in a communication in the Chicago Tribune explaining how the imposture was carried out. It seems that Mohrmann and a workman for Volk, the sculptor, named Salle, vere employed by George Hull to cut the giant from a block of gypsum brought to Chicago from Fort Dedge, Iowa. At first hair was carved on the head, and a beard on the chin, but on hair would not petrify. So, as it was designed to represent the statue as a petrifaction, the hair and whiskers were shaved off. To give the figure the appearance of age, it was pricked over with needles fastened in lead. This process was car secured by forwarding a draft on Charleston pay- | ried on also to remove the marks of the chisel, and further, to give the statue an antiquated look, it was rubbed with vitriol, sulphuric acid and English ink. It was at first proposed to take the statue to Mexico and bury it there, but on ac count of the distance, that idea was finally abandoned. It must make the dupes of this impos ture feel rather foolish to learn how easily they vere sold by these Chicago stonesutters.

The "Traitors" in the Senate.

Some of the members of the General Assembly appear to have a very low estimate of the duties and responsibilities of the standing committees of their body. These committees are appointed in order that they may carefully consider both the legality and propriety of the bills submitted to the respective Houses : and their reports, in common cour tesy, should be treated with at least a show of respect. It is of course mortifying to an effervescent senator or representative when it is shown that the offspring of his brain is a legal nondescript or logical absurdity; but wounded pride is no excuse for denouncing the offending committee as at Saratoga is to have walls of mirrors, and to- traitors to the "sacred cause of Radical Re-"publican liberty." And yet indignation meetings are held, and abusive resolutions are introduced, because the Senate Judiciary Committee, in the discharge of its sworn duties, points out the inconsistencies and illegalities of the famous bill "to enforce the "provisions of the Civil Rights bill of the "United States Congress, and to secure to "the people the benefits of a republican "government in this State."

Now, what do the Judiciary Committee recommend?

First. They recommend that the title of the bill be changed, and that it be called "a "bill for the protection of all persons in "their civil and political rights." Is there any crime, any lurking treason, in this suggestion? If so, we fail to see it.

Second. It is recommended that certain sections and parts of sections be stricken out; because they deprive common carriers of a proper control of their property, because the punishment imposed for violating and is likely to live as much longer, from all ap- the law is excessive, because they are superfluous, because they are unconstituthe last one died cixty years ugo he is beginning tional, or because they are absurd. It is the object of the Judiciary Committee to prevent the Senate from enacting a law which would be upset by the courts as soon as a test case was made; and lo! the vials of wrath are ruthlessly poured out upon the bowed heads of Senator Corbin and his colbowed neads of Senator Corolin and his collegues. The General Assembly is resolved between the prices at the last board: South Carolina sixes, ex-coupon, $7a88; do. new (October,) 85½ to be superfluous, and unconstitutional, and absurd—the Judiciary Committee "to the Address" M. P.," office of The News. jan20

> Third. The committee recommend that the section referring to places of amusement take effect on May 1st next. This is no more than just. Contracts have been made, and heavy engagements undertaken, upon the basis of the law as it now stands. To cause the bill to go into operation immediately will subject innocent persons to serious or ruinous loss. They are entitled to have a and we cannot see that any class of persons will be injured by postponing, for a couple of months, the active operation of the bill. No public right or privilege would be endangered, and private citizens would be held harmless.

These recommendations are the whole head and front of the offending of the committee. They do not touch the core of the bill. It stands in full force, requiring that equal accommodation shall be given to all persons, without distinction, for the like compensation or reward, and providing severe penalties for infraction of the law. The commit-tee do not weaken the bill. On the contrary, they strengthen it, by eliminating the illegal parts, and so modifying the remainder that it will not interfere with vested rights and private property.

The Senate can, of course, reject the repor and pass the original bill; but if they do they will declare to the country that they wilfully and wantonly do a thing which is pronounced illegal and wrong by the best lawyers among their number. And if they one case, they will certainly do it in another. This will be the opinion at the polls in November.

AMERICAN COMMERCIAL LAW, relating to every kind of business; with full instructions and practical forms, adapted to all the States of the Union. By Franklin Chamberlain, of the Union. By Frank the United States Bar.

We are no believers in any system which pro poses to make "every man his own lawyer," but every business man, at least, can recall occasions on which he has been puzzled to decide some simple point of law, too important to be overlooked, and yet almost too trivial to justify the trouble, delay and expense of obtaining legal advice. A single volume, giving within the compass of a few hundred pages the leading principles of commercial law, clearly stated, and conveniently arranged and classified, is a want that has long been felt by Sales, Notes, and Partnership, which are admirably discussed and explained. The author, deprecating the use of the repetitious, involved and technical forms of conveyance, contracts, &c., generally in vogue with the profession, has supplemented his work with a large variety of simple and appropriate forms, which keep fast horses and make himself agreeable to information on all the laws of business available at a glance, even to those least accustomed to legal inquiry.

The book is sold by subscription. Price $5. Mr. John P. Mosseau, is the agent for Charles-

ONLY HERSELF. A Novel. By Annie Thomas Author of "Denis Donne, &c. New York: Harper & Bro.

Mrs. Thomas' new novel has some of her merits and all of her defects. There is clever talk in it, and there is one well drawn character. Au reste, there are many "vain repeti tions," several vulgar situations, and not a few unclean suggestions. There is the usual wreck of everybody's happiness at the end which the new school of lady novelists seem to consider the correct finale for a "story of real life." There is very little art displayed in the idea, and none at all in the development of the plot. The women freely offer themselves to the men, and are for the most part politely refused. The curtain falls upon the dramatis personal grouped about somewhat uncomfortably upon the stage, with the air of gazing at Cach other and patiently remarking, "Well, here we are consultation with geologists it was found that and how on earth did we get here?" It is weary work criticising such paltry stuff, the more so because Miss Thomas' early efforts gave promise of much better things.

> THE Saturday Review devotes an article extending over four pages to an elaborate review of the Byron business, and comes to the following conclusion: The issue is the simplest; the choice must be taken for once and for all, and on the plainest alternative. Either the accusation of Incest is true, or Mrs. Stowe and Lady Byron, either or both, are guilty of inventing a direct and planned and wilful lie. Because we believe that the hypothesis of either Mrs. Stowe's falsehood or Lady Byron's falsehood is utterly untenable and inadmissable, and because we are assured that neither of these ladies is or ever was insane, we are forced to pronounce against Lord Byron on the main charge. Those who acquit him must, whether they will avow it or not, believe that the witnesses are perjured. The hallucination theory-the mystification theory-neither o them will stand the test of searching argument

SORGO SUGAR AND REFINED No. 155 Meeting street, opposite Charleston Hotel, Charleston. S. C. dec14 6mos

We would invite the attention of Planters to the consideration of some of the advantages in the cultivation of SORGo as a Crop, which are, the small amount of labor; the hardy character of the plant in its ability to endure, without material injury, both drought and wet; its freedom from the attack of worms; its early maturing, and the fact that the Seed and every part of the plant is of great value.

In consequence at the imperfect method hitherto adopted in preparing the Juice of this Cane, there has arisen a prejudice, and the belief that Sugar could not be produced, but only a very inferior Syrup. But, by the discovery of the Southern Process, these opinions have been completely reversed in the minds of all those who have examined and tested this Process, as they realize that not only pure Syrup, superior to the best Chemical Syrups of the Refineries, is produced, but also Sugar equal to the best New Orleans, in such quantity, as to make it without doubt, the most profitable crop that can be planted. Of these facts abundant evidence can be shown.

Any information on this subject can, be obtain-
