NEWS OF THE DAY.

-Gold at New York, yesterday, closed at -The New York cotton market was lower at 23c; sales 2200 bales. -At Liverpool cotton was quiet; uplands 113, Orleans 118d; sales 10,000 bales.

-Harper's Ferry is to be converted into a watering place, and a mammoth hotel is to be built there.

chain armor, according to an authentic portrait in Copenhagen.

-A Missourian who lest his wife by a railroad accident, asks $30,000 damages. The company offer $2000.

-Carlotta Patti will go to California in May, and in the fall she intends to make a professional visit to South America. -The Richmond Whig fears the new Chinese laborers won't spend much money, they not possessing the negroes' love for circuses. -New Orleans pickpockets send up a host of India rubber balloons, and while the crowd gazes heavenward, go through their pockets. -A son of General Santa Anna is imitating his father by getting up revolutions in Mexico, and in imitation of his father, has got himself defeated and in disgrace. -Mr. Gulian C. Verplanck, a well known his residence in New York last week, in the eighty-fourth year of his age. -Millard Fillmore, William G. Fargo and other prominent citizens of Buffalo, have signed a protest against repealing the law for the prevention of cruelty to animals. -The reason Beecher declined to receive $20,000 instead of $12,000 salary per annum from Plymouth Church, was that his congregation, in the event of accepting, would put a stop to his lectures, newspaper and novel writing.

-The Havana Prenza and Diario intimate that if the American government would send commissioners there they are positive that such commissioners would disprove the assertions lately made by Quesada about the condition of the rebellion and other matters, and America would discard forever the question of the recognition of belligerent right to the insurgents.

A Wyoming jury, composed of equal numbers of men and women, has been locked up for four nights and days in order to force an agreement. A question of some interest is as to how the husbands of these women like their being locked up with other men. The thing may be fun for the male jurors, and, possibly, the temale ones, but it can't be very funny for the relatives of the latter, and some _re talking of new causes for divorce.

-The ink-erasive forgeries that have been perpetrated in New York within a few days have been quite extensive, and it is rumored that the successful forger has bagged and escaped with over a hundred thousand dollars. The individuals and banks that have been bitten are very reticent, however, and refuse to give any particulars about their losses. There really seems to be no end to the frauds upon business men now-a-days, each more ingenious than the last, but so dissimilar that the most careful and skilful are entrapped before they have even the suspicion of danger.

In Florida there are many lakes which have holes in the bottom and underground communication, so that they will sometimes shrink away to a mere cupful, leaving many square miles of surface uncovered, and then again fill up from below and spread out over their former area. Some of them have outlets in the ocean far from shore, bursting up a perpetual spring of fresh water in the very midst of the briny saltness of the sea. In times of low water, during a long, exhaustive dry season, men have gone underground in one of these subterranean rivers, from lake to lake, a distance of eight miles. The women seen to be in earnest with show: Mrs. Stanton, Miss Anthony and Miss Dickinson are lecturing to crowded audiences all over the country, Caroline Hooper, colored, is lecturing in South Carolina on "The Work Before Us;" women have sat on a grand jury in Wyoming Territory; a woman has been admitted to the bar in Chicago; three others are studying law and one medicine in Michigan; women are successful practicing physicians in almost every city in the country; the anniversary of the National Woman's Suffrage Assoclation is to be held in New York on the 11th

-The Macon (Ga.) Journal and Messenger says that, with one exception, there is not a railroad in Georgia that has been in actual operation throughout its whole line for three years past, that has not earned and paid out to its stockholders during that time a dividend. on an average, of eight per cent. Last year the dividends of all the Georgia roads, with the exception above referred to, ranged from eight to ten per cent, and to-day their stock is held at from $93 to $120 a share. The Western and Atlantic Railroad, extending from Atlanta to Chattanooga, the property of the State, has been paying into the Georgia treas- Dawkins represented Union District in the ury monthly, for the past two years up to last | Legislature for many years, and, before the October, from $25,000 to $30,000. -The events in the cotton trade have been unusually important during the past week. The New York Express says : "The bears in the Liverpool market became frightened, notwithstanding the increased arrival of Ameri. can cotton and the large amount affoat for England, and commenced to cover their short contracts on a large scale. This started the Liverpool market on the upward turn, and our | genial in all his social relations.

market here followed rapidly in the wake of Liverpool. The weak sellers of cotton in the THE DAILY NEWS, by mail, one year $6; six New York market became alarmed at the aspect of affairs in Liverpool, and rushed in to cover their shorts, which assisted a sharp advance in prices here. Low middlings have adanced from 204, on the spot, to 221, and middlings from 214 to 234. For future delivery, low middlings have advanced from 191 to 23 for all the months to the close of the cotton year. The great rise in cotton during the week has been brought about entirely by the bears, who could not sell cotton enough at the lowest point, and have just awoke to the fact that they sold too much. The receipts of cotton for the week were 44,866 bales at all the ports. against 66,726 bales last week, and 73,197 bales the previous week. The total receipts since January 1st, 1869, to date are 2,303,872 bales, against 1,774,554 last year. This shows the rapidity with which cotton has been marketed The exports for the expired term of the cotton year are 1,402,940 bales, against 926,496 bales ast year. The stock in all the ports is 499,197 bales, against 407,903 bales last year. The amount affoat for Great Britain is 320,000 bales. against 169,000 bales last year.

Secret Political Societies.

General Breckinridge has recently made one of those sharp, sententious speeches which live in contemporary history, and in the recollection of the people. He has denounced the Ku-Klux-Klan as idiots or villains. This is saying, in a rough way, that any such association on a large scale at all, are either indifferent to or hostile to the welfare of the Southern States.

Now, while we agree with the distinguished statesman in regard to the inexpediency of such an organization, we must confess that we have doubts whether any such so ciety really exists. Here and there, in times of local excitement, and for the redress of local grievances, there has been an outcropping of disguised horsemen with weird ensigns; but these have been the sporadic exhibitions of a disease that has assailed the body politic. At the North a vigilance committee appears without a disguise, because there is no martial law there. At the South, -Hamlet was tall, blonde and attired in the Ku-Klux-Klan is a revolt against Congressional interference with municipal affairs and State legislation.

But the time for all such abnormal resorts has come to an end. We need no Union Leagues on the one hand, and no Ku-Klux-Klans on the other, to dispute the control of the State. Both these organizations should be abrogated, and the CITIZENS of South Carolina, of whatever color, should unite in asserting their right to rule their own State, and in inviting the needy political adventurer, of whatever color, to go back home. We do not care to review the past history of those who have obtained, or are now asserting, the right to rule over our State. Some of them, like Judge Carpenter and Senator Sawyer, have done us good service, author, politician and philanthropist, died at: and demand a kindly consideration for their regard to the welfare of the State. Others, like Whittemore and Bowen, are hanging themselves with their length of rope. But hereafter it is manifestly the policy of the CITIZENS' PARTY to adopt, as one of their cardinal principles, the rule that none should rule South Carolina but resident crrizens who have joined their fate with ours, and, by their habit and worth, have proved themselves thoroughly identified with the solid

> And if this be so, then associations founded upon caste hatreds are inexpedient. The white people of the State must seek to conciliate, not to terrify, the colored people. It does not become the children of the day to walk in the night-the representatives of air and honest principles to mask themselves from the public view and to carry Guy Fawkes' lantern.

Two Great Books.

The times are gone by when the Southerner of literary tastes could afford to indulge to the full his fondness for books; and in filling his shelves, now-a-days, he must needs cast about him with care for such volumes as will, in a measure, serve in the stead of the private library that is no longer within his reach. We have before us two works from the teeming presses of Lippincott & Co., which deserve a cordial reception from the reading public everywhere, but which for the reason we have given above, will be especially welcomed in the South. Both are issued in serial parts, and at prices that are sure to make them popular treasuries of useful information in every family. The first is a revised and improved reissue of Chambers' Encyclopædia, or Dictionary of Universal Knowledge for the People. This work has already achieved the reputation of being the most readable and complete of all the Encyclopædias of our day. Edited on the general plan of the German Conversations-Lexicon, it abounds in features not possessed by that elaborate and useful work. While its value, as a reference, is fully preserved, there are few of its pages that the casual reader will not find instructive and entertaining as well. The present edition is a marvel of typographical excellence, and is their progressive ideas, as the following will filled with admirably executed maps and illustrations.

The Universal Pronouncing Dictionary of Biography and Mythology, is a work which will fill a great want in our lexicographic literature. The aim of its editor is ambitious, being no less than to supply the most scholarly and complete biographical dictionary ever published, giving in each case the authorized spelling and pronunciation of the name. Especial attention has been given to the department of mythology, embracing the personages, not only of the Classic, but of the Norse and Hindoo Legends, The sole agency in Charleston for these two works, is at Fogartie's Book Depot, in the bend of King street, where the public are invited to call and examine specimen copies.

The Death of Judge Dawkins.

The death of Judge Dawkins, of Union, announced in The News of yesterday, took place on Saturday night at 11 o'clock. Judge war, was elected Circuit Judge. This high position he filled with ability and integrity, until he was displaced in the course of Congressional reconstruction. He then resumed the practice of his profession, which he followed until his death. Judge Dawkins was a judge of the old school, pure and upright in his official conduct, and kindly and

Up the Wrong Tree.

James C. Beaty, member of the Legislature from Horry County, publishes a card in the last number of the Horry News, in reply to certain allegations, or insinuations rather. of the Marion Star. He says, in substance, that he is alluded to by the Star in its reference to the "Forty Thieves," that he did not receive any bribe, and that he voted for the Phosphate bill because of his belief that it would tend to develop the resources of the State. Mr. Beaty is a man of unimpeachable integrity, and his broad denial sets at rest this whole vexed question. Who is the next anti-Radical member of the Legislature to be charged with corruption?

THE EARLIER YEARS OF OUR LORD'S LIFE ON EARTH. By the Rev. Wm. Hanna, D. D., L.L.D. New York: Robert Carter & Bros. Charleston: Holmes' Book House. Price $1.50

While we cannot agree with the Edinburgh Witness in assigning Dr. Hanna's series on our Lord's life to the class of prose poems,—nay, while on the contrary, we are constrained to say that no description whatever could have been more ill-judged and unfortunate-we are glad to find it something much better. It is an interesting, thoughtful, devout commentary upon the most memorable of all biographies. The author did not need to trick out his great subject with the rhetorical arts and the members of this organization, if there is fanciful concelts of Jeremy Taylor. He has treated it reverently, and yet in a straightforward and manly way; and precisely on this account has made a valuable contribution to current theological literature. The work is popular, exhibiting the results rather than the processes of criticism. The present volume traces the evangelic history from the Annunciation to the Lord's first circuit in Galilee. We cordially commend it to the religious

REMOVING MOUNTAINS—Life Lessons from the Gospels. By John S. Hart. New York: Robert Carter & Bros. Charlestou: Holmes' Book House. Price $1 25.

This volume resembles the one we have jus noticed in various particulars. It is cheap, beautifully executed and altogether popular We are far from meaning by this last epithet that it is either lacking in literary finish or in vigor of thought. On the contrary, the author writes with a practised pen, and deals with some of the most important subjects now agitating the religious world-such as the management of Sunday schools, the relation of sectarianism to the public schools, the doctrine of rewards and of resurrection, the use of the creed, charity for the heterodox, and the like. But every subject is discussed discreetly and with an off-hand and engaging simplicity. The fifty-two chapters, with their appropriate texts, can be used as a family preacher for the Sab-

THE EUPHEMIAN LITERARY SOCIETY OF ERSKINE COLLEGE, Due West, S. C. By J. O'B. Lowry. Charleston: Walker, Evans & Cogs-

This is a short and gracefully written sketch of the history of the Euphemian Literary Society, embracing some account of its organization and growth, and including the names of the founders and of the alumni from 1842 to 1869. The little pamphlet will doubtless be found highly interesting by the Euphemians and their friends.

FERGUS MORTON, the Story of a Scottish Boy.
By J. R. Macduff, D.D. Holmes' Book House. Price 59 cents.

Here is a charming little story, which its intrinsic interest, no less than its admirable moral, commends as a gift book, at once attractive and suitable for the little folks. The style is simple and pleasant, and the volume is handsomely illustrated.

S. DAVIS, Jr.'s, 1841 1841 CELEBRATED "DIAMOND" HAMS.

The following letterin regard to them from the late Mr. PEABODY was addressed to a friend in New York nearly twenty years ago:

"London, February 12, 1853.

My Dear Sir—I owe you a thousand apologies for my neglect in not before acknowledging, in a direct way, your kindness and liberality in sending mill such a beautiful supply of American Hams last summer. I distributed a portion of them among my friends in England and Scotland, all of whom bear testimony of their superior quality, thinking them finer than Westphalias. I hope you will convey to your friends, Messrs. Dayls & Co., the satisfaction I have had in receiving so fine a specimen of the productions of their noble State.

I am, truly yours, Grocke Peabody.

DAVIS & MILLER'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS.

GREAT REDUCTION IN PRICES:

We beg leave respectfully to call the attention of the public to our Superior Flavoring Extracts. As ten years have now elapsed since we that introduced them to the notice of the American public, we deem it unnecessary at present to enter into a lengthy description of their merits, &c. There is hardly a city or town of any note in the country into which they have not found their way. The reason of this widespread popularity and daily increasing demand is owing cutirely to their peculiar excellence and intrinsic worth. Being determined to make them the Standard Extracts of the day, we have still further improved their quality, and now we firmly and honestly believe that they stand without a rival. Our Vanilla Extract cannot be surpassed for richness and delicacy of flavor. It is a strictly pure and highly concentrated Extract of Vanilla Beans. In Short, we think it the bost that is made, at least, this is the decision of the best judges in the country. We don't pretend to compete in price with many of the so-called Flavoring Extracts of the day, which are really but worthless compounds, undescring of the name.

For quality and style, we defy competition.
