THURSDAY. JUNE 2, 1870.

THE WEEKLY NEWS.

We have made arrangements to supply THE WEEKLY NEWS, together with that excellent agricultural publication, The Rural Carolinian, at the low rate of THREE DOLLARS a year. Send in your orders

NEWS OF THE DAY.

-Gold closed in New York yesterday, at 141. -Cotton was dull and heavy; uplands 221; Orleans 23 cents; sales 1100 bales.

-In Liverpool cotton was steady; uplands 10:a102d; Orleans 10;a11d; sales 10,000 bales. -The Democratic majority at the recent Judicial election in New York State will reach 90,000. That will do for a quiet contest.

-Wallace, the South Carolina Congressman, who was smuggled into his seat under peculiar circumstances, celebrated the unparalleled outrage, by giving the Committee on Elections a champagne supper on Saturday night.

-It appears from recent investigations that the Southern Methodist Church is rapidly losing its colored membership, there being but about nineteen thousand members this year, aga nst thirty two thousand last year.

-One hundred and twenty Swiss emigrants, recently arrived at New York, passed through Lynchburg, Va., a few days ago en route for Water Valley, Mississippi, where they propose to locate.

-Actual famine exists among the poorer classes in the Counties of Appomattox, Prince Edward and Nottoway, Va., which were ruthlessly sacked by Grant's army in 1865, from the effects of which even the richest citizens bave never recovered:

-If the House bill making civil and military positions incompatible passes the Senate, Generals Sickles, Parker, Porter, Babcock, Dent and Badeau will be obliged to decide straightway which of these branches of service they will discard.

-Washington correspondents say the notorious Whittemore threatens when he gets a eat again in the House to make war upon many of the members who were prominent in his expulsion. He says that he can prove that right of all citizens, who are properly qualisome of these mentleman are as bad as he ever was. Whoever doubted it?

-A "Lion Queen," at the Bowery Theatre, New York, while performing with a couple of puma lions, on Saturday night, was attacked by one of them and terribly bitten on the throat, shoulder and arm. She was rescued from the cage by the stage attendants, who beat the enraged lioness off with iron bars. Many of the audience fainted during the excitement.

-The president of the "National Labor Union" has issued a call for a session of this association to be held in Cincinnati, Ohio, on August 17th. Delegates will be present from all trade unions, co-operative associations, and labor organizations of every kind. International or national organizations are entitled each to three representatives, State organizations to two, and trade unions and all other unious to one. The call invites to membership of the labor union of every person who lives by mechanical or intellectual labor.

-Tre State department has received official advices that the long-pending naturalization treaty between England and the United States has at last been signed by the two governments, and will soon be laid before the Senate for ratification. By this the British Government recognizes the citizenship of an adopted citizen of the United States the same as a citizen born on the soil, and thus yields the doctrine maintained for so many years that no citizen of Great Britain can transfer his allegiance. Should an occasion arise, it will have an important bearing on all future arrests of citizens of the United States on British soil charged with Fenianism, and may yet apply to those now in prison. -Old Jesse Grant, the father of the administration and the postmaster at Covington, Ky., who is also father-in-law of one Kramer, who is now United States Consul to Leipsic, came on to Washington some three months ago to effect the advancement of the latter. He reported his ineffectual effort in this wise: "I told Lysses that he must appoint Kramer to one of them seventy-five hundred dollar misslons, but 'Lysses he told me he didn't like to do its because the papers made so much talk about his 'pinting his relations to office. Then Tups and tells 'Lysses," said the venerable P. M., "I've got about $25,000 salted down, which I expect to leave behind me, and if you don't give Kramer one of them seventy-five hundred dollar missions, I'll leave the .whole of it to Kramer's wife, and won't leave you any.12 -In London and New York, both, special arrangements are being secured for the advantage of the masses of working people in going to and from their employments morning and evening. Lately the first two miles and a half of a street railway was opened in London, between Whitechapel and Bow Churches, creating quite a sensation. According to the charter of the company workmen are to be conwayed at the fare of one penny on particular Journeys, morning and evening, and it was of this class of passengers that the first load and composed. At other times the fare is two pennics. In New York the commissioners have just renewed the leases of the Union Ferry Company, which controls all the promi- to frighten babes, but it is not worthy of the per annum, on condition that they will run | rights at this moment that he will have when boats between the hours of 5 and half-past morning and evening, at a fare of one cent instead of two, as at present charged. This will be a public blessing to the working classes, as it will permit them to escape from the slums of the city to the less crowded outskirts of Brooklyn.

-The Presbyterian General Assembly, in session at Philadelphia, has settled the great features of reconstruction as far as it proposes to settle them. Its action determines the following points: "There will be thirty-two synods in this country under its care, and two in its foreign missionary fields. These synods will all meet before July 15th, and readjust the Presbyteries There will be, at least for another year, no change of the rates or form of representation. Hereafter it proposes that no Presbytery shall contain less than five ministers, and that no judicial cases except in rela tion to mestions of constitutional law or here sy in ministers, shall go higher than the synod. Several of these changes must be submitted to to the Presbyteries before they can be of force. but it is not now designed to hold an adjourned meeting of the assembly in September to receive their reports. It still remains to pass an act legally constituting the synods. All that has been done in reference to them has been to define their geographical bounds. The consolidation of the missionary boards also still remains to be done."

The Problem for the Convention.

The problem to be solved by the State Reform Convention is this: How may South Carolina most surely obtain an able, upright and economical State government, which shall protect both labor and capital, and give equal and exact justice to all classes of citizens? A Ring of unscrupulous politicians has squandered the public treasure, and piled tax after tax upon the bended backs of the people. The victory of Radicalism is the triumph of that Ring, and the day which sees its members installed, for a a new term, in the high places of the State, will be the beginning of another era of public extravagance and private shame. This the convention must know; and it will be its duty to declare, after full discussion, whether we should take up arms against our myriad troubles, or wait till Providence, in His own good time, send death or deliverance to the State.

The convention, as the representative body of the State, should be untrammelled by party claims, and unbiassed by personal preference. No line of action has been chalked out for its members. They, in their wisdom, will decide what shall, and shall not, be done. And yet, it may safely be said that the deliberations of the convention points: a determination, or a refusal, to nominate candidates for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor against the nominees of the Scott Ring; and, secondly, the character of the address, or declaration, to be adopted by the convention as an expression of its plan and principles.

It has been urged that the convention pledge the Reform party, not only to the repeal of certain obnoxious and injurious laws, but to the enactment, if successful, of well-considered measures looking to the development of trade and the encouragement of thrift and enterprise. And it seems to us that the great questions of popular education, and a limitation of the hours of labor in a legal day's work, might be discussed and with advantage be embodied in the Reform platform. But to one thing the convention is bound by the terms of the call under which the different counties elected their delegates, and that is (1) the affirmation or recognition of the civil and political equality of all citizens of the State, and (2) the affirmation or recognition of the equa fied, to hold public office. These points must, as we understand it, be included in whatever declaration of principles the convention may put forth. They are, in truth, the foundation of the whole great movement. As such, and as a recognition of palpable existing facts, they are already accepted and agreed to by the large majority of the white people of the State. This is, in our judgment, a common sense and a patriotic view of the political situation. There is no wonderful generosity, or marvellous charity, in admitting that all citizens of South Carolina are politically equal. The law of the State declares it. The Constitution of the United States declares it. The fact stands the same, whether we shut our eves or not. And yet, a small knot of highly respectable citizens, who live, under the law, and make all the money they can, under the law, and take all the protection they can get, under the law, refuse to admit, what they see every day, that the colored man, under the law, is just as much a citizen of the State as the whitest white man that ever drew the breath of life. The malcontents, if few in number, are earnest and sincere. They declare that to acknowledge the political equality of the colored man is a desertion of principle; and, worse still, they warn their fellow-citizens that political equality will bring in its train that terrible "social equality" which is the bugbear of the times.

It is upon the first ground that the Augusta Constitutionalist, with less force than fluency, bids South Carolina beware lest she swap "a devil for a witch," and declares that "no triumph is worth the winning at "the virtual surrender of principle." We, on the other hand, believe that it is an adherence to principle to acknowledge that the colored man does enjoy the rights which the laws give him. Our acknowledgment does not add one tittle to the security of the colored citizen. The law gave him the ballot. We did not bestow it, and, if we would, cannot take it away. We seek the colored vote. We petition our colored legislators. We count on the colored man to side with us in the contest for good government. And after this has gone on for two years and more, we are expected to deny that the colored man does vote and does hold office? This is too absurd. It is even unprincipled, for it is as much as to say: "Cuffee! we, the Irrecon-"cilables, would like to use your votes until we get, by your help, the upper hand, and "then we will strip you of the ballot and "let you shift for yourselves." This is the meaning, we presume, of "going back to "original Jeffersonian principles." Such a nolicy may suit the Augusta Constitutionnoney may said the Rugasta Constitution all the seasons. For particulars apply to K. D. nlist, but it is not frank enough, or honest H., Barnweil Village.

the Reform convention closes its session and there will be no more danger of social equality then than there is now. The law does not say who shall be seated at the family table, or sleep in the sumptuous guest cham ber. If any white man likes to take a co! ored man to his heart and his fireside, there is no law, human or divine, to prevent it. This is a matter that every citizen must reg ulate for himself. And, if the Irreconcilables argue that they must, of necessity, give a seat at their board and the cosiest chair in the drawing-rooms, to the man with whom they vote, or by whose side they sit in the legislative chamber, they propose to do now a great deal more than they ever thought of doing in the ancient days when none but white men were the rulers and law-makers of the land. These good people need not fear that any unsavory political supporter will come betwixt the wind and their nobility. Unless they do not know their own minds; unless they have not the control of their own households; unless all their talk ing is a mockery and a sham;-their socirelations, and social intercourse, will be just as entirely controlled by their own likings and dislikings two years hence as they are this blessed day.

We take it for granted, then, that whatever declaration of policy may be made by the convention, must include the recognition of the public equality of all citizens, and the equal right of all qualified persons to hold public office.

" Constitutional Democracy."

The Augusta Constitutionalist is confident -the Lord knows why !-that South Caro lina could be "better saved by holsting the banner of Constitutional Democracy and nailing it to the mast," than by "woolgathering" after Reform. We should like o know from our red-hot neighbor whether a recognition of the civil and political equalty of all citizens of the State (the working platform of the New York Democracy,) is inconsistent with the "Constitutional De ' mocracy " of which it speaks so fondly. Such a recognition of hard facts, together with a proposition for the union of all honest men, with the view of Reforming the STATE GOVERNMENT, is the only "surrender of principle," if surrender it be, of which this people is guilty.

Our Bear Garden.

The last session of the City Council was even more disgraceful and disorderly than these gatherings usually are. An alderman will direct themselves towards two main abused the city sheriff. The sheriff swore at the alderman. His Honor the Mayor rapped recusants to order, and increased the confusion. At last Alderman Collins said that "if it could be truly stated by the " opposition press that this Council wanted to throw a mantle over the black deeds of its appointees, he desired to vacate his 'seat." We think that the alderman may safely "vacate" without more ado.

Marion's Men.

Marion County, in public meeting, has se lected the following delegates to represen her in the Reform Convention, which meets at Columbia on the 15th instant: Dr. R. B Fladger, Rev. Erasmus Gourdin, Duncan E. McCormic, George Murphy, T. C. Moody, W. J. McKerall, Johnson B. Young and Rev. Bruce Williams.
