UNION REFORM NOMINATIONS.

For Governor,

HOY R. B. CARPENTER, OF CHARLESTON.

For Lieutenant-Governor, GENERAL M. C. BUTLER, OF EDGEFIELD.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

-Florida claims to have a man nine feet six Inches tall. -The idea of a German empire is said to be quite popular in Germany. -The successful removal of the obstruction in the Suez canal is again announced.

-Five car loads of Chinamen passed Cheyenne on Monday night, on the route to Alabama. The Georgia State Lunatic Asylum is crowded, and many unfortunate applicants for admission are turned away. _The Red Stockings were beaten by the Atlantics in New York on Tuesday, in eleven innings, by a score of 8 to 7. Dr. Shelton Mackenzle is writing a Life of Charles Dickens, to be prefixed to a volume of of law to which the people had opposed a his uncollected pieces, in prose and verse.

-The trustees of the Illinois State Industrial University have voted to admit female students as soon as suitable buildings can be provided.

-Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte died in Baltimore yesterday, aged sixty-five. His motherin-law. Mrs. Williams, died at the same place, same day.

-A dispatch from Corinne reports that some Utah Indians, in ambush, had fired upon an unarmed party of mounted men, wounding one litical equality of all citizens, and a recomslightly. All escaped. -The students of the Georgia State University are preparing a history of the institution, to include a biographical sketch of distinguished graduates. -Two Boston papers are accusing each other of stealing parts of one another's obituboth copied from the same book. -Harvesting has begun in Virginia, and there is promise of an abundant yield. The recent rains, except here and there, have not proved as disastrous as was feared.

-The miniature vessel City of Ragusa, which left Liverpool on the 31st ult. for a trip over the Atlantic, has put into Queenstown, Ireland, in distress, leaking badly. Better stay

-General amnesty was favored by the Republicans of Delaware, in their late State Convention, indicating that they have a better knowledge of the way to "peace" than many of their party. ___A well-known young lady lecturer's matrimonial engagement is announced in these terms: A New Jersey editor has prevailed on Miss Kate Field to devote herself exclusively to curtain lectures. -At the Beethoven centennial mammoth concert, in New York, on Tuesday afternoon, Miss Kellogg and Mrs. Howard Paul were the teading celebrities of song. The programme was rich and varied, and the occasion vastly interesting. -The bill to reduce the army has been signed by the President, and is now a law. After July 1, 1870, under this act, the standing army will contain no more than 30,000 men. Army officers cannot enter civil office or remain in it without resigning their military commis--A dispatch from New Orleans states that the steamship Firefly, belonging to the United States and West India Fresh Meat and Fruit Company, had arrived there with a cargo of fresh beet, veal and mutton, slaughtered at Fulton, Rockport County, Texas, a week ago. The cargo is in splendid order, and is being sold in the markets. -The fears of the millions of lovers of Dickens, on both sides of the Atlantic, that "The Mystery of Edwin Drood" was left unfinished, are dissipated by the announcement of the London publishers. They state that they have sufficient material on hand for three more complete numbers, and that from a mass of memoranda the story can easily be completed by a competent hand. It is perhaps prema ture to speculate on the person whom Dickens has designated to finish his novel, but it is impossible to avoid thinking of his friend and relative, Wilkle Collins, in this connection. -Lieutenant-Colonel Leo Lloyd, of Liberia, addressed the Board of Trade in Philadelphia, on Monday night, and informed his audience that on hearing the news of the passage of the Fifteenth amendment in this country, the Liberian legislators at once resolved to expunge an article in the constitution of their republic which allowed the right of suffrage only to citizens of African descent. "And now," added the speaker, in a grand percoration, "in Liberia a white man is just as good as a negro!" We are pleased to note the prompt international courtesy and magnanimity of the great Republic of Liberia.

The following is the correct text of the dispatch from Sereth, dated May 30, and addressed to M. Cremieux, of the Alliance Universelle Israelite, at Paris. The message is signed Isidore Lode, and it says: "The town of Rotos han (Roumania) was, on Saturday, the theatre of a terrible massacre of Jews-a | fearlessly say, eminently consistent, pru-regular butchery. The cruelties practiced dent and just. The platform of the Union lasted till nearly midnight. Yesterday the Reform party is a recognition, without resthirst for blood on the part of the Christian population displayed itself by fresh acts of violence. The Jews and their familles were brutally attacked and maltreated in the streets, in their houses, and in the hiding places where they had taken refuge. At 1 in the afternoon a large portion of the Israelitish population took to flight. On all sides were heard cries of 'To death with them !' The fury of the populace is terrible. We implore your aid.

-San Francisco is apprehensive of an epidemic in the Chinese quarters. In their dwellings, rooms which would be considered close quarters for a single white man, are occupled by shelves a foot and a half wide, placed one above another on all sides, and on these from twenty to forty Chinamen are stowed away to sleep. In many of the lodging houses filth has been allowed to accumulate to the depth of several inches, and in a number of instances the moisture, leach-like, drips from which frequently extend back half a block, there is no way to obtain a circulation of airall that does creep in being by the narrow door on the street. Here they burn oil lamps and cook their food, the smoke from which fills the air and curls lazlly up out of the door when it chances to be open. The stench which pours out from buildings in this locality, when crowded at night, is enough to knock a man down.

The Union Reform Convention.

THE State of South Carolina is not yet rescued from the control of the gang of corrupt men who would tarnish her fame as they have wasted her substance; but the first blow is struck, the note of alarm is sounded, and work and honest dealing can, and shall, accomplish all the rest.

In order to understand the full significance of the action of the Union Reform Convention, and in order that the country may properly appreciate the largeness and breadth of spirit which mark the whole movement, we must take into consideration the composition of that body which, upon the platform of honesty and equal rights, of the law and the constitution, has put before the people Judge R. B. Carpenter and General M. C. Butler as the leaders and the chieftains of the party of Retrenchment and Reform.

The stern logic of events had taught the people of the State that, while the Right could never become the Wrong, while no man had any public act to retract or any soldierly deed of which to repent, it was incumbent upon every good citizen to yield a full obedience to the law of the land. As long as there was any hope that unjust laws, and deeds of oppression and wrong, would undo their own sad work, the people were unwilling to act their part in the new drama of Southern life. Their inaction, although natural enough, enabled the adventurer and pettifogger to become the rulers of the State, and just at the moment when the tyrannies of party could no longer be borne, it became evident that the organic changes mute opposition, were about to become a fixed part of the fundamental law of the Union. There was no organized party which could direct itself exclusively to the work of reforming and regenerating the Government of the State. It was necessary that the first step should be taken, and this feeling led to that conference of the Reform press, whose result was a formal recognition, on their part, of the civil and pomendation that a convention be held, in Columbia, for the purpose of uniting all good ever engaged. The action of the Press Conference was trict did not go to the polls at all. assented to by nearly every newspaper in aries of Charles Dickens. It appears that they the State. Charleston gave the proposa for a convention its hearty approval, and echoing words of good cheer came back from distant Union. Every day the movement gained in strength and force, and when the Convention assembled at the Capital, on Wednesday last, twenty-two counties were represented. Of the remaining nine there was one which was unrepresented by accident, and of the remainder several are known to be in favor of the movement. The interests or the wishes of some local statesman may gag them for a time, but when the canvass fairly opens, they, with their sister counties, as their only hope, will join the phalanx of Reform.

All the counties which sent delegates to men in the noblest work in which a people

the Convention did so upon the basis of a declaration of the recognition of the civil and political equality of all citizens, and most of them, as a matter of course, sent colored as well as white delegates. Among the white delegates were men of high standing in every walk of life. Gallant soldiers who had shed their blood for the South, and who now guide the plough or live amid the busy hum of machinery. Large-minded merchants, whose ships furrow the seas, and who look forward to the time when, with a reformed government, Charleston may be more prosperous than in the days of yore. Intelligent planters, who know that good crops are of little avail when laws are unjust and taxes are ruinously high. Mechanics and laboring men, who feel that it is impossible for the mechanic to prosper while the State is made bankrupt by political robbers, while property falls in value, while bricks and mortar, except in peculiar cases, are about the worst investment any man can select. These, with a sprinkling of professional men, made up the white portion of the Convention. Only one class was wanting-a class which is fast dwindling into deserved insignificance—the class which hopes nothing, acknowledges nothing, learns nothing and does nothing. The colored delegates were fine representative men. They came forward of their own free will, they acted as they pleased, they were free and untrammelled in every particular. There was no pressure upon them; nor, as their action proves, were they the tools of any clique or party. Both races, then, were well represented by influential, intelligent, upright men. Past party politics had no sway with the Convention. Pronounced Republicans stood upon the floor and declared their adhesion to the cause of Reform. They were Republicans still, but as honest men they could endure no longer the rascalities and knaveries of Scott and his Ring. All shades of opinion, as well as all colors and classes, purpose of the Reform Convention. And the action of the Convention is, we were fairly represented. They had one thing in common-a desire to obtain a good government. This was the whole scope and ervation, of the law and of accomplished facts; it is a declaration which places the white man and the colored man, for the first time, upon an equal public footing as co-workers for the common good. A fit corollary to that platform is the nomination of Judge R. B. Carpenter and General M. C. Butler. The one is a man who by his impartiality, firmness and knowledge, has compelled the admiration of the whole tidewater region. The other is a cherished son of the State, who has never blenched in war, and is as manly and as true in these howling days of peace. To all the white people of the State his nomination as Lieutenant-Governor cannot fail to be highly acceptable, but it must not be forgotten that the colored delegates insisted upon his nomination. The proposition was made to put a colored man upon the ticket, but the nominees declined, and every colored man in the Convention demanded the nomination of General M. C. Butler. That nomination was unanimous.

The platform is put forth. The leaders are in the field. The Union Reform party is a fixed fact. And after-Victory!

The Unreformed Convention.

A. J. Ransier, the chairman of the "Re-"publican State Executive Committee," gives notice that the "Union Republican "party of this State" will meet, in Columbia. on July 26, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor to be voted for at the general election, which will take place on the third Wednesday in October next; to propose a platform or declaration of principles, and to choose au "Executive Committee" of the party and a member from each county in the State to compose, together with one person from each Congressional District, "The State Central Committee" for the next ensuing two years. The chairman also earnestly recommends "that Republican clubs be formed in each parish or polling place in the country, and "in each ward in the cities a registry of voters made, and tried and active Repub-'dicansaput in positions to complete and preserve such a thorough organization that 'success in the coming campaign will be a "foregone conclusion."

All that is necessary is to put before the people for re-election the same "tried (and 'found wanting) and active (in plundering) 'Republican," who make up the "Scott 'Ring," and the utter defeat of the whole gang is what the chairman would call "a foregone conclusion." Fight it out on the same line, O, unrepentant sinners! and the Waterloo of Reform will be won at the polls on the third Wednesday in October.

The Extent of the Iniquity.

The official vote at the recent election, in the First Congressional District is as fol-

The New York Journal of Commerce urges Congress, as the best attainable method of reforming our currency system, to adopt the free banking system, basing it on government securities, and providing a central assorting-house and redemption agency. This plan, which has been steadily growing in favor for months, would seem to present more points upon which a compromise, having a healthful tendency, can be effected than any other proposition which has been advanced. It provides a flexible and sound currency, based on coin and representing it as far as possible at present, and looking toward the day when it will actually do so.

Cotton and the Chinese.

It is noteworthy that the bulls and bears of the great cotton markets, always quick to detect the presence of any disturbing element in the trade, are already discounting the effect of the introduction, during this season, of Chinese labor into the cotton fields. A New York trade circular, now before us, concludes as follows: "The Chinese 'are arriving on the cotton and rice fields of the South, and the crops will, it is held, "show a handsome increase in the course of "the next three years."

DAVIS & MILLER'S

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

GREAT REDUCTION IN PRICES. QUALITY STILL FURTHER IMPROVED.

of the public to our Superior Flavoring Extracts. As ten years have now elapsed since we first introduced them to the notice of the American public, we deem it unnecessary at present to enter into a lengthy description of their merits, &c. There is hardly a city or town of any note in the country into which they have not found their way. The reason of this widespread popularity and daily increasing demand is owing entirely to their peculiar excellence and intrinsic worth. Being determined to make them the Standard Extracts of the day, we have still further improved their quality, and now we firmly and honestly betwee that they stand without a rival. Our Vanillas Extract cannot be surpassed for richness and delicacy of flavor. It is a strictly pure and highly concentrated Extract of Vanillas Beans. In short, we think it the best that is made, at least, this is the decision of the best judges in the country. We don't pretend to compete in price with many of the so-called Flavoring Extracts of the day, which are really but worthless compounds, undeserving of the name.

For quality and style, we defy competition. ndeserving of the name.
