UNION REFORM NOMINATIONS.

For Governor, HON. R. B. CARPENTER, OF CHARLESTON.
For Lieutenant-Governor, GENERAL M. C. BUTLER, OF EDGEFIELD.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—Gold at New York, yesterday, closed at 134 1/2.

—The New York cotton market closed dull and lower; sales 2200 bales; uplands 16 1/2.

—At Liverpool cotton closed flat and irregular; uplands 8 1/2; Orleans 9 1/2; sales 9000 bales.

—The Crown Prince of Russia is to visit the United States next spring.

—It is now estimated that the English crop of wheat will fall short of that of last year by nearly six millions of bushels.

—Margaret Waters, the London "baby farmer," having been found guilty of the willful murder of forty infants, has been sentenced to be hanged.

—A correspondent of the Church Journal speaks of a noted Episcopal Church in New York, (St. Albans), the proceedings at which are "half church, half joss-house."

—This year's cotton crop in Mississippi promises to exceed anything ever heard of in the State since the famous crop of 1860. It, indeed, it does not exceed the one of that year.

—A New York letter of Monday says: "The money kings of Wall street to-day give up all expectations of peace for the present, and the German bankers do likewise. Gold, accordingly, is on the upward tack again."

—A New York dispatch of Monday says: "A French gunboat came into the harbor to-day, and sailed around the German steamer Hermann, and then left. It is said that the Hermann is to be armed to go to sea immediately."

—The Railroad from New Orleans to Mobile, one hundred and thirty-eight miles in length, is rapidly approaching completion, fifty-eight miles of the eastern and twenty-two miles of the western end being finished and in running order.

—A correspondent, writing from Konigsberg, says: "In the battle of Metz the soldiers of our Forty-third regiment, as a protection against the continual showers of bullets that the enemy poured upon them, fastened their knapsacks across their chests. After the battle many of them were convinced that these tactics had saved their lives. In them they found no small number of bullets, which, instead of striking them in the breast, had only entered their calfskin knapsacks."

—The war is sending glove prices upward. "Alexandre," one of the largest manufacturers for this country, has stopped shipments, in consequence of his cutting factory being besieged in Paris. Gloves have accomplished much for Mr. Muller, who stamps his given name of "Alexandre" upon the glove. He owns a hotel in Paris for a winter residence, and possesses LaGrange, with its sixty bed-rooms and fifteen hundred acres of land, distinguished in former years as the home of Lafayette. His hospitality corresponds with these important dwellings. He manufactures his own champagne, claret and brandy, each of a fine quality.

—The Northern papers announce the death on Monday last, at Philadelphia, of ex-Judge Robert C. Grier, who only a few months ago retired from the Supreme Court of the United States. He was in his seventy-seventh year, and his growing infirmities had for some time before his resignation seriously interfered with the discharge of his duties as his office. He was a native of Pennsylvania, the son of a clergyman, who was also a schoolmaster. He was liberally educated, and was admitted to the bar in 1817. After many years of practice he rose to the bench of the State, and in 1846 he was appointed by President Polk to the Supreme Court.

—The Minister of the North German Union, at Washington, has received from the German Consul in New York an account of the attempt of the steamship Hermann to go to sea on Saturday last and her virtual detention by a French gunboat, said to be lying within the marine league instead of without, as required by international and maritime law. The captain of the vessel declares that the Frenchman was not lying off shore more than one league, thus rendering it unsafe to take the Hermann out to sea. This condition of things is protested against by the German Consul as being in violation of law, and the attention of this government is to be called to it. It is further alleged that this French gunboat was in New York harbor till two or three hours before the Hermann sailed from her dock.

—A romantic incident of the warfare in Alsace took place in a small hamlet not far from Wasselonne. A poor old woman lived there with her two grand-daughters, aged eighteen and twenty, and her grandson of fifteen. During the evening of the 21st, two Badesse dragoons alighted at the house, called for meat and drink, and ordered beds to be prepared for them. The women were forced to obey. When the soldiers had roused themselves with food and wine they commenced playing with one of the girls. The young peasant, seeing the danger to which her sister was exposed, went up into the garret under the pretext of fetching some sheets, took a gun which belonged to her father, loaded and cocked it, and then waited behind the door; presently one of the dragoons rose and advanced toward a sideboard to take some wine, when she fired, killing him on the spot. The other, terrified, and believing in an attack, rushed to the door, and jumping on his horse, galloped off.

—It seems probable that if Russia comes up to the expectations of some of the newspapers, and make war upon Turkey for possession of the long-coveted Bosphorus, Greece, encouraged by Russian intrigues, will become a thorn

The Address to the People of Charleston.

At a meeting of the Central Reform Club and County Executive Committee, held on Tuesday night, a resolution was unanimously adopted directing the chairman to prepare, and publish immediately, an address to the people of Charleston, showing what had been accomplished and what part this city and county were expected to play in the fast approaching elections. That address is printed in our issue of this morning, and to it we beg leave to call the serious attention of every citizen whose interests are in any way identified with the prosperity of this city and State.

In Charleston County there are 23,000 qualified voters, of whom fifteen thousand are colored. The contest between the Scott party and the Reform party will be both sharp and close, and upon the vote of Charleston, in all probability, depends the result of the momentous struggle. This county, if properly canvassed, should give at least ten or twelve thousand votes for the Reform candidates, and as the merchants and business men of this city, as well as the young men, do their whole duty, we can elect our county ticket and give Carpenter and Butler a fair majority.

We do not hesitate to say that, in our opinion, a Reform victory in Charleston County will give us the State by a handsome majority. Without Charleston we can win, but with Charleston the election of the State ticket may be counted on as certain. This is why the whole State looks to Charleston for vigorous and efficient work, and now that the whole issue is presented to the people in unmistakable terms, we do not fear that they will be found wanting in public spirit, or common business sense.

It is not attempted to be denied that Timothy Hurley, the head-man on the Democratic legislative ticket for Charleston County, has for two years been a paid agent, buying and selling the votes of the members of the General Assembly. This criminal conduct wholly unfits him to be a representative of the people in the Legislature of the State, and it is a down-right absurdity to say that "Mr. Hurley, as a member of the Legislature, under oath, will not be T. Hurley as a member of the third House." We have no faith in this sudden repentance. When Mr. Hurley has proved that he does intend to turn over a new leaf, and keep it turned, it will be time enough to ask for the confidence and support of the people. For the present, Mr. Hurley had better take a back seat.

A Profitable Speculation.

The Scott Ring, in their campaign address, say that they funded the bills of the Bank of the State, in order that the treasurer might not be compelled to accept them, but, in payment of taxes. This is all moonshine. No court of final jurisdiction had decided that those old bills must be paid by the State. They drew no interest, and had the Courts of Appeal decided, at a future time, that the State was responsible for them, the people would have only had to pay what the Ring make them pay now—dollar for dollar. The bonds of the State for which the bills were exchanged were not worth par in the market, but they must be paid one day at their face. Another point is, that the evidence in a case argued before Judge Carpenter, in connection with the new bills of the Bank of the State, proved that the old bills were used for carrying on the "war of rebellion." In funding these old bills, therefore, the Ring violated the provisions of the State and Federal constitutions, forbidding expressly the payment of any debt contracted in aid of the rebellion.

Why, then, were these old bills so hastily funded? They were funded because the Ring had bought up the greater part of them at ten cents on the dollar, and the funding bill gave these robbers the equivalent of eighty cents cash, in currency, for every ten cents they had paid out. This is the whole secret of the funding bill swindle.

The arithmetic man, who did up the "facts and figures" for the campaign address of the Ring, was required to demonstrate that the State taxation being $857,000 in 1859 and $1,500,000 in 1868, the taxes in 1868 were less than the taxes in 1859. This is the way it was fixed: First, deduct from the taxation of 1868 half a million of dollars for interest on the State debt. Second, cut off $257,000 as he equivalent of a premium of twenty per cent. on gold. This makes the net taxation for 1868 only $743,000. But the arithmetic man forgets to deduct from the taxation of 1859 the interest on the debt paid in that year, and he omits to say what the premium on gold, in the presence of the legal-tender law, has to do with the expenses of the State Government. Selah!

The Solicitor of this circuit, Mr. Chamberlain, has a fine house in Columbia and lives there, while the constitution which is Attorney-General, he swore to support, requires him to live within the circuit. Why is this?

Mr. Chamberlain is the Solicitor of this circuit. He does none of the work. Does he draw the pay?

One More!

In the campaign address of the Scott Ring it is stated that "on January 1, 1869, the interest on the public debt, due and unpaid, amounted to $612,391, all which had accumulated under former administrations." Now the interest on the debt for the six months ending January 1, 1869, was certainly accumulated under the Scott administration. That makes a difference of $159,214. But we have another means of detecting the fallacies of the Campaign Address. Governor Scott in his message for 1868, (page 4) shows the interest, due and falling due, as follows:

Interest due on the entire debt, July 1, 1868.....$355,204 32
Interest due, January 1, 1869.....159,214 38
Total interest.....$514,418 70

And yet the Campaign Address states that the interest due January 1, 1869, was $612,391. How is this additional $100,000 accounted for? Does it represent the interest on new bonds, amounting to one and a half millions, issued between the date of Governor Scott's message and the 1st of January, 1869? Is it for fees and commissions paid Kimpton & Co.? Or, is it barefaced stealing? There is one hundred thousand dollars to be accounted for somehow. Who got it?

BECAUSE the white people of the State, two years ago, opposed unqualified negro suffrage, The Thieves' Oath insists that they are now playing false in declaring that they now recognize and guarantee the civil and political rights of the colored citizens of the State. And yet the same veracious sheet has full confidence that Tim Hurley, who has been a buyer and seller of legislative votes for two years—according to his own admissions—will make "a trusty, efficient and useful member of the General Assembly." What a mockery is this!

The Arithmetic Man in Trouble.

In the Campaign Address of the Scott Ring, just issued, the total debt of the State on July 1, 1870, is set down at $7,865,740—two millions more than it was when the Ring came into power. This is one version. The other is given by Secretary of State Cardozo, who, in his address to the Union League, delivered last July, used these words: "When we entered into power we found the debt of the State about six millions of dollars. It is now between THIRTEEN and FORTY-EIGHT MILLIONS." Which will the people believe—Speaker F. J. Moses, or Secretary of State Cardozo? We accept the statement of Cardozo, because the official records of the State Government show it to be correct.

The Columbia Phoenix learns that a white infantry company from Chester has been tendered to the Governor, who wants time to consider. A white cavalry company, Captain Walker, has been accepted. This company is also from Chester. We learn, also, of a white company from Edgefield being accepted, but the Governor has no arms for them. The arms and ammunition are for his "loyal militia."

Our Columbia correspondent makes the charge that Governor Scott, through an agent, has sold to the Land Commission, at six dollars an acre, a tract of land worth fifty cents an acre. Upon this transaction, Scott's profit was at least one hundred per cent. Can Governor Scott deny this charge?

WILL Attorney-General Chamberlain—the Solicitor of this circuit—explain how it is that he lives in Columbia in violation of the very constitution he has sworn to support?

Certainly!

The Ring argue that if their endorsement of the four million bonds of the Blue Ridge Railroad constitutes a debt, then the State "is also debtor for nearly five millions of railroad bonds endorsed prior to reconstruction." Be it so. On July 1, 1868, (Or's message, page 4) the contingent liabilities of the State, from endorsements of railroad bonds, were $4,069,783. On November 1, 1869, the contingent liabilities, under this head, were $8,260,683 61—an increase of $4,200,000. If this view of the case helps the Ring, they may make much of it and welcome.

The Union Reform nominations for Marion County are as follows: For Senator—Samuel W. Maurice. For Representatives—Benj. Moulton, Aaron Martin, Abraham Smith. For Judge of Probate—D. K. Moulton. For School Commissioner—Dr. S. D. McGill. For County Commissioners—S. P. Matthews, Madison Carter, Peter McNeel.

Ten boxes of rifles and seven boxes of ammunition, for Scott's militia, have reached Sparanburg Courthouse. As usual, a white militia company was rejected and a colored company was accepted.

The Scott Ring assert in their lackadaisical address that the plan of the Land Commission is "liberal, wise and far-sighted." All this we admit. But where is the benefit, to the poor man, in having to pay the Land Commission nearly twice as much as similar tracts are worth in the same market. Either the Ring intend to cheat the State out of the difference between the nominal price and the amount of money actually paid; or else they will saddle it all on the poor man, and allow him, as a privilege, to buy a lot of land from the commission at fifty per cent. more than its value.
