THE STATE CAPITAL. ATTEMPTS OF SCHEMERS TO BUY THE BLUE RIDGE RAILROAD DEFEATED.

Disagreement Between the Directors of the Blue Ridge Railroad-Bills of , the Bank of the State in Court.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE NEWS.]

COLUMBIA, November 25. Six companies of the Sixteenth United States infantry proceeded to Laurens this morning. They will report to Trial Justice Crews.

The Wilmington and Manchester Railroad elique have been trying to buy, through the sinking fund committee, the one million three hundred thousand dollars worth of stock of the State in the Blue Ridge Railroad, but have sig nally failed. Neagle and Patterson have been trying to make the negotiations. Bridgers and Friends have returned home. Jenks is representing the interests of Charleston. Steers has had about two millions of the bonds endorsed by the State placed to his credit to complete the road. A m. eting of the directors has been anvertised several times and postponed on account of disagreements in caucus as to the course to be pursued and as to new directors. The meeting appointed for to-night will not in all probability come off.

Much interest is manifested in two cases before the Supreme Court. The first is an appeal from Carpenter's decision-the assets of the Bank of the State are first liable to pay the fire loan bonds The current opinion is in favor of Carpenter's decision. The second is a case in which the parties appealing desire the judgment of the Supreme Court, that the bills of the Bank of the State be received for taxes. This case will not probably be argued this term. The friends of the present administration are determined to have the true character of the bills thoroughly investigated. with a view to show that they were issued to aid

COLUMBIA INTRIGUES.

Back-door Thanksgiving-The Senatorship-That Printing Pap-The 'Misses' Rollins again-The Blue Ridge Road -Appoint ng Committeemen.

[KROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.] COLUMBIA, S. C., November 24.

There was no session of the General Assembly to-day. The morning and evening trains carried away their complement of passengers, so that the city seems comparatively deserted. Today being Thanksgiving day, the stores on Main street were generally closed-a rather strange thing, when one remembers that for the memory observance. There was as much and perhaps more business done though, than usually; for if the shutters remained up in compliance with Grant's preclamation, the doors were certainly all open in non-compliance with Scott's proclams tion. No religious services, that we are aware of, Caucuses seemed the programme for the day with the politicians.

THE SENATORIAL CONTEST. Matters are beginning to culminate, and this morning we have the announcement that Neagle has sold out-beg pardon | we mean backed out. Whether or no this was an unexpected move. we den't affirm; but, judging from its quiet reception, the conclusion would be that it is not. gle will transfer to tell; some say to Robertson, others to Cardozo. If the recent breach between the DeLarge party, (which included Neagle,) and Cardozo has not been closed up, the latter will be in the vocative,

We opine that Chamberlain is doing some hard work. If a tithe of the labor expended by him during the recent canvass, to prove that the works of this administration were good and just is now used, the result must prove a success. But we fear that, Samson like, he has been shorn of his strength. Not to be personal, but for want of a more expressive phrase, we say that he looks

Every vote counts, of course. Mr. Rainey anticipated casting one much in the style of Whittemore, who really imagiced he could ho'd a seat in our State Sonate and the United States Congress at the same time; but he was disabused of the idea. Reiney has decided to attend to preparing for his coming journey to Washington. It would be too cruel, not that Whittemore and Rainey are such good little boys, to say anything about the "livery of heaved" or the miraculous delivery of Don Roderigues and Alphonso, so W

THE NEXT STATE PRINTER.

"Printers," mayhap, we should say, for it is very doubtful if any one man will have the control of the printing this session. By a rule of the Senate the clerk is instructed to make economical arrangements for the public printing. Unless a change is made, the arrang. sent will continue Mr. Woodruff is a good officer, and it would be a saving to the State to allow him to give out the printing.

The commorant clique seem to have a sudden cramp about the epigastrium. Last night they were bold with the assertion that they would show up, through their journal, the entire workings of the administration if the pearl was not thrown before them. It is said geese cackled and saved Rome.

Mr. Denny has added another story to his office and is making very extensive alterations and additions. He is interested, we learn, about equally in each of the following firms, who are all ostensibly fighting each other: Denny and Morris Morris and Carpenter, and Denny and Carpenter. (It might be suggested that other streets be designated in a similar manner.) Whether this hitherto unknown street has sprung up in connection with some anticipated change in the city limits; whether the lower part of the city is to be called Severus City in honor of our Emperor; or whether this locality takes its name from its immediate connectiwith the Fifteenth Amendment, we have not learned. It is stated that it is a carpet-bag hump, and like some other recent importations, no one has washed its face for it. Can't the uncommon

PAY DAY AND THE BODY GUARP. Hubbard's office was the resort to-day of large numbers of constables, who have been waiting some time to obtain their back pay. It seems that many were called, but few were chosen. OSSA ON PELION.

They say misfortunes never come singly. Uncle Joseph must really feel afflicted. We should like to hear him give his experience in a good oldfashioned Methodist class meeting. Scott has gone back on him; Wilkes has annihilated him; the House are chary of him, and to cap the climax, we learn that the South Carolina Improvement and Trust Company are going to do a big business this session in advancing money on pay counts and other evidences of indebtedness. His feelings may be more easily imagined than-

SCOTT AND THE BLUE RIDGE COMPANY. When Mr. Whipper, on yesterday, made his does" against the management of the Blue Ringe Railroad Company, he did not, we imagine, anticipate the reaction on himself that will certainly occur. As every one could see, it was an attack on the president and management of the road in general, and on Governor Scott in particular. One of the causes, and one which doubtless decided Whipper to take the step at once, we learn, was the refusal of General Scott to sign the pay-rolls of the Misses Rollins as clerks in one of the departments. At the last session of the General Assembly, an investigation similar to the one proposed by Whipper was made. Under pressure the Blue Ridge Ring expended, we think, some three thousand dollars to secure a whitewashing report, or, perhaps we should say, to avert an unavorable report. President Harrison can at pr sent lay his hands on the papers to prove this, and would do so now were it not for the law against bribery and corruption. Scott and the Blue Ridge men are determined this time to lay every thing before the public, and to let them judge for themselves. They desire to make a clean breast of every transaction, and have decided to submit to no more black-maling from the Legislature They say they have nothing to fear. The Blue Ridge Road is known to be the pet scheme of Scott, and we are inclined to believe that, with been completed, with almost childish delight. He certainly has in this the opportunity, if he will out improve it, of atoning for his past mistakes. President Harrison nor Covernor Scott, we are confident, need fear anything from this purely disinterested (f) course of Whipper and his

WHAT IS THE LAND COMMISSION? Some say the land commission is a swindle. We deny the statement. It is nothing of the kind. It is a downright system of highway robbery, and its apologists are nothing more nor less than accomplices of the land commissioner. In support of this, and to place the last straw on the camel's back, the following scheme is presented : Mr. DeLarge, it seems, is short of funds. He wants to raise money. For the past four months his surveyor has secured every man he could lay his hands on, and succeeded in having a large portion of the State lands surveyed into small lots. They are are now ready to settle on. Before any one settles, however, he must pay a me of $10 for each lot. An agent is to be sent to each county to these fees and give certificates. This, it is supposed, will realize a considerable sum of money. But it will not. The poor white and colored men of this State, who desire to purchase a thirty acre field, cannot afford to pay $10 in fees, outside of and can't get it; and Mr. DeLarge will find it out. There are plenty of large owners of real estate throughout the State who are willing to do much better by the poor people than the land commis sion can do. And such men, irrespective of party, are bound to secure the suffrage of these people. But enough of an old, corrupt and well-worn

COMMITTEES IN THE HOUSE. Whipper is spoken of for, and anticipates getting, the chairmanship of the committee on ways and means. That little legislative engine, Hurley will no doubt be chairman of the committee on railroads; and thereby hangs a tale. The only prominent chairmanship remaining is that of the judiciary committee. This it will be hard to all. Wilkes, from Anderson, is the only one presenting any qualifications, and may get it. Crews's claims are being urged to-night for the ways and means committee. In case he succeeds, Whipper will have the judiciary, and Wilkes will be left out.

NEW NOTES OF FRACTIONAL CUR-RENCY.

WASHINGTON, November 25. There was a full Cabinet meeting to-day-all present except Creswell. James Jourdan has been appointed revenue col ector of the third district of New York. Under treasury circular No. 1, parties obtained exchange on the South by depositing old notes in Now York, and sent new notes to their correspondents South. The circular has been so amended that new notes will only be returned to those from whom old ones are received. The object of this arrangement is to retire all legal tenders. Hereafter, new notes will not be returned for certificates of deposits issued by assistant treasurers and designated depositaries. New notes will not be returned for bankers' drafts. New fractional currency will be forwarded from the treasury office, under a contract with the Adams Express Company, at the expense of the department in either of the districts covered by the contract.

SHIP WRECK.

WILMINGTON, November 25. The ship Persta of Baltimore, from New Orleans to Liverpool, with a cargo of cotton, wen ashore on Frying Pan shoals on Thursday morning. Her cargo is estimated to be worth $250,000. A strong southeast wind is blowing, and some hopes are entertained that the vessel may be gotten off. A United States revenue cutter and two steam tugs have gone to her relief. The captain says that the vessel is so strained that she cannot proceed on her voyage, but will have to put into some port for repairs.

The Paris Defence:-The Electric Lights on the Fortifications.

The weather about Paris (writes a London Times correspondent, who is in the army of the Crown Princs of Prussia,) is and has been horrible-pelting rains and heavy gales. But bad as it is, the besiegers profit by it to a certain extent, and work with greater success than would wait their efforts on clear, calm nights. The anxiety of the besieged is evinced by the lacessant use of electric lights at the forts.

The lighthouse serves to warn the mariner of The lighthouse serves to warn the mariner of his danger. These bright eyes pierce the gloom to detect the approach of an energy. From north and south, cast and west, the rays may be seen slowly spreading through the night like prodigious buil's eyes, and now and then the flash of a gun announces that they have made some important discovery, and salute it with a shell, but, generally, the activity which the gunners displayed some time ago has abated. They seem to have given up the hope of staying the progress of the stere works and to be preparing for a reply when some time ago has souted. They seem to have an up the hope of staying the progress of the re works, and to be preparing for a reply when attack is made. That is some time distant. I reason assigned for the delay is not in any y connected with peace negotiations. It is similar necessity of feeding the fine he ore all necessity of feeding the men be ore all hings which has caused the impedi-to the armament of the batteries. All ments to the armament of the batteries. All the horses and caris have been employed in bringing up supplies, and it is or has been in intervils of that work only that the transport of guns and ammunition could be effected. Just think, for example, of the transport needed for the supply of dive hundred rounds of two hundred-pound shell for the large mortars, guns and howitzers. The French may feel they have been too free with their ammunition. It will be an interesting duel between muzzle It will be an interesting duel between muzzle It will be an interesting duel between muzzle loaders and breech-loaders; and no doubt, if the former are beaten, the active partisans of the system in England will say that it is notorious the French guns are the worst muzzle loaders in the world. Their shells are very bad indeed. St. Cloud is full of monsters three feet long with Woolwich studs on them unexploded. If the muzzle-loaders make a good light of it, as no doubt they will, rom their great-lee and stable platform, it will be hailed as a proof of the excellence of the system.

The Value of Paris. The value of Paris, like the value of almost ever y thing else; has been subjected to an analysis. The question is: What is the actual worth of the pro;erty in the French metropolis exposed to danger by a Prussian attack?

by a Prussian attack?

The result-is easily arrived at, by an arithmetical process, in the Economist—a great English Unancial journal. London with a population of $,400,000, has a valuation of its private buildings of about $135,000,000, which, capitalized by alout twelve years' purchase, represents a sum of $1.620,000 000. It is assumed that Paris, with one million eight hundred thousand inhabitants, contains private house a property worth about $450. tains private house property worth about $550, 500,000. Ten per cent, being deducted as the value of the ground reuts and unoccupied area value of the ground rents and unoccupied area which may be treated as indestructible, though ground rents would fall if Paris were half destroy ground rents would fall u ratio weathered, there remains a net sum of $721,759,000 repre-senting the value of Pari-lan buildings which a senting the value of Pari-lan buildings which a complete bombardment and a street defence would annihilate. It may be calculated, on this basis, that an amount equal to half the value of the buildings is invested in furniture or other contents of the dwellings. Thus it is estimated that the sum of $365.875,000 is the value of the furniture and other contents of Parisian houses. Next is the stock in trade of shops and warehouses in Paris, the value of which is probably one-third of the aggregate in the above amounts, another sum of $365.875,000. These three amounts sum up a total of $1,453,500,000, which may be taken as the minimum value amounts sum up a total of $1,453,500,000, which may be taken as the minimum value of private property in Paris destructible in a siege. To this must be added the losses already sustained in the environs—the destruction of roads, bridges, and other works not insurable, and not here reckoned; the danger impending over menuments, libraries, museums and works of art, whose real worth caunot be reckoned; in money, and the tremendous and wholly unestimoney, and the tremendous and wholly unest mable sacrifice of life which such a destruction property would imply. It is easy enough to talk of "the slege of Paris," but it is terrible to contemplate what that really means. If the earth were to yawn and swallow up half the cuy and the people, the devastation would scarcely ex-ceed what the bombardment and capture by the Prussians would amount to.

Murder of a Nun in Paris. A beleaguered correspondent writing from Paris to the Glasgow Mail, under date of November 4th,

I regret to chronicle a very sad affair—perhaps the only serious offence that has disgraced the much tried Paris sluce its investment. From the opening of the slege, the Sisters of Charity of the Hospital Cochin have distributed every day, to all poor persons who have called on them, milk for infants and the sick. A woman who lives in the neighborhood did not come for her usual supply the other day until a very late hour. She was informed by the Sisters that by this time very little milk was left, but that they would give her all they could spare. Her vessel was taken from her, and afterwards returned three-quarters full. The woman became angry and insolent, and upbraided the nuns for not keeping for her a proper allowance, as she came regniarly every day. She went of, threatening with lively menaces the Sister whose duly it was to distribute the milk among the poor. Next day she came back at the ordinary time, and seemed angrier even than before, shouting, "I must pay off that non!" On the third day she contrived to angrier even than before, shouting, "I must pay off that nun!" On the third day she contrived it insinuate herself-perhaps not too genty-int the passage that leads into the kitchen of the Sisters, and then, snatching a firsh kinfe from a lable, she waylaid her charitable fee. When the Sister had finished her distribution of food and Sister had dhished her distribution of food, and returned to the kitchen, the woman plunged the kulfe into her beast, the effect being to injure fatally one of her langs. For three or four days the poor nun lingered; on the fifth she died.

dects A GRAND EPOCH IN SCIENCE. From the time when, in 1834, Dr. RUGGE discov ered "Carbolic Acid" and its extraordinary medical effects, nothing in the history of Medicine ha equalled it. Largely used by the French physi cians in treatment of consumptive and scrotu lous diseases, it was introduced by the Court Phy sician of Berlin, MAX ERNST HENRY, into Prus sia, and from thence to the United States. No thing else of the present day can equal HEN RY'S SOLULION OR CARBOLIC CONSTITUTION RENOVATOR. Patients get better after only one dose has been taken, and we cordially recommend it to the public.-(Editor "Argus." holidan Coods.
