THE WORRELL BURLESQUE OPERA TROUPE. This troupe, which opens at the Academy of Music to-night, promises a performance so rich and varied as to compel the admiration and support of the amusement-loving public. The buresque for to-night is the "Field of the Cloth of Gold," in which the renowned Hernandez and the famous Leon Brothers will appear. The dresses and appointments are those used for the same performance at the Boston Theatre. All the members of the company are first-class artistes. Sophie Worrell, who plays the role of Darney to-night, is graceful, pretty and has a rich, full voice. North and South, wherever she has appeared, she is known as the Queen of Bur-Mr. Harry Wood, the chaste impersonator of female characters, will also appear. Mrs. W. P. Sheldon, whom we all remember, will again make her bow to a please 1 Charleston public. Miss Eliza Long, of whom we hear great things, is a fascinating and piquante performer. Altogether, the company is declared to be a "stunning" one; equal in all respects, whether of comeliness or talent, to the exigencles of the lyrical

A STRANGER'S RECEPTION IN COLUMBIA. The Savannah papers are indignant, and with just cause, over the ill treatment experienced by by Mr. William Wells, of that city, at Columbia, S. C., during a late visit there. The gentleman in question had just registered at the Columbia by previous mining operations. The crowd is Hotel and gone to a barber shop, when a negro policeman approached him with the most insulting suspicions 2: d inquiries. Two detectives respectable appearance, while most of them are came next in the same strain, who followed him up to his room. In the midst of the apologies of the Mayor, who next appeared, Mr. Wells was arrested in the public hotel, charged with being a larly the latter. Among the "roughness" is Colpickpocket, and confined temporarily in his onel Carrigan, who obtained an unenviable note room. Repeated attempts were here made by the chief of police and a detective to extort set of desperadoes. This precious cargo arrived money from him, each bidding against the other, late Friday night, and left for Columbia on the until at last the chief constable of the State came in and answered for Mr. Well's appearance. The wolves, driven from their prey, now slunk off. leaving him at liberty. It is hoped that Mr. Wells will make all allowances for the state of shrewdly surmised by some that the so called olutions, (herewith appended.) which were unanimously adopted. After an interesting discussion among the inembers present as to the general visable means of promoting the permanent prosperity of the same, Lieutenant Huger offered the following resolution:

The chair then appointed Lieutenants J. Drayton Ford, S. C. Boylston and F. K. Huger as said committee. The secretary then rose, and stating to the meeting that, owing to the peculiar claims of his business, he was unable to take as lively an interest in his duties as secretary as he desired begged leave to tender his resignation, which the Chrestomathic Society of this college will be being accepted, Lieutenant John C. Minott was duly elected in his stead.

There being no further business, the meeting was then, upon inotion, adjourned to a day to be thereafter appointed by the president, and duly advertised by the secretary of the association through the daily papers of the city and State. HENRY W. FROST, Secretary.

Since our last meeting, death has forever removed from us one of our worthlest and best loved members. Captain A. S. Galliard departed this life on the day of ,1570, after a brief but painful illness, at his home in Winnsboro', in this State. Captain Gaillard was the classmate and che ing with them all the privations and haraships of a soldier's life. Ever at the front, by his example and soldierly bearing encouraging and cheering his men in the hour of danger, and leading them to deeds of valor, at the battle of Bentonsville, in North Carolina, he was left on the field, as it was thought, mortally wounded, and fell into the hands of the enemy. Paralyzed from the effect of this wound, it was months after the war was ended before he was in a condition to be moved to his home, where for many months more, by his patient and uncomplaining endurance of sufering, he more strongly evinced those mental and moral qualities which so nobly marked his character. To one so active and energetic as he was, it must have been a terrible trial, to know that in the great prostration and ruin which ruied the fortunes of our whole people his family were suffering, while he was lying powerless and paratzet on a wasting bed of iliness. Time and loving attention seemed, however, to have restored him to health, and his family and fricads looked forward with condeence to a useful and honorable feature for him. When our expeniently was proward with confidence to a useful and honorable future for him. When our organization was prolected, no one was more zealous in promoting its jected, no one was more zealous in promoting its purpose, and at personal inconvenience and expense, he travelled more than one hundred and fifty miles, to attend our meetings. Little did we imagine, when last year we enjoyed his kindly greeting, that so soon we should be called upon to place him on the roll of our departed. But so it is. His constitution, weaken by his wound and suffering, was unable to bear the exposure and fatigue inci ient to the life of a planter, and to the whon our State can badly same the ar-ful sympathy in their deep bereavement.

CLUBS AND STARS .- Emily Brown and Sylvia Donet, arrested for disorderly conduct and using obscene language in Market street, on Friday night, were brought before the Mayor on Satur day morning for trial. The former, as the cause of the quarrel, was sent to the House of Correction for thirty days, and Sylv.a, who acted a minor part, was sentenced to ten days in the same

Sam Middleton, confined for vagrancy, was sent to the House of Correction for twenty days. A cow, found going at large in Doughty street, on Friday night, was taken to the Station-house yard, where it will be delivered to the owner on dentification.

Three geese, recovered from boy raiders, are at the Guardhouse, to be delivered to the owner. James Burnett was taken up on Friday night with a large bag of stone cotton which he was trying to sell. He was taken to the Detective's office by his captors, Officers Burke and Davis, where he made a clean breast of it, and acknowledged stealing the cotton from Mr. Haig, of St. Andrew's Parish. There was about seventy-five pounds of cotton in the bag, valued at $8. Harry Wilson has been arrested and is in custody charged with desertion from the ship Can-

A NEW EMIGRATION SCHEME. - GOVETOO Scott has at last been convinced that it is to the interest of South Carolina to encourage emigration, and looking around him he has gathered in New York a promising colony to settle in the upper part of our State. The steamship James Adger brought out on her last trip twenty-eight "Bowery boys," "New York roughs," sheep," or whatever pet name the reader may see fit to apply, all with through tickets from New York to Columbia, directed to Governor Scott and marked "handle with care." They were under the charge of one Colonel Baker, of New York, and were ostensibly bound for the Dorn gold mines of Union district, where the Colonel has already amassed a considerable sum of money mostly composed of young men, some of whom with a little change would present quite a the hardest looking cases to be picked up anywhere between New York and Omaha. They all riety during the war for commanding a lawless morning train. Before this they have gladdened the heart of their hirer, Governor Scott, who will now be able to send his small account for their pay and expenses in to the Legislature. It is accidental death, last Thursday morning, by his own hand. The fatal accident occurred at his resi dence with no one near but his aged mother, whi was in an adjacent room. The deceased was pre The secretary having read the proceedings of the paring and cleansing his pistol, and that of his deputy, for use at the hanging of Andy Hall, to take place on the following day, when one of the weapons was accidentally discharged. The ball passed upward and through the head of Mr. Vickars, and lodged in the scalp just above the left interest of the association, and the most ad- ear. A jury was summoned, consisting of wellknown citizeus of Greenville, and after a careful investigation, a verdict was rendered to the effect "that the deceased came to his death from the accidental discharge of a pistol in his own hands." Mr. Vickars's books were found to be all correct, and he himself enjoyed an enviable reputation as an efficient officer and an upright

AN INSANE JOKE .- Amanda Duncan, who was conspicuous last Friday along the streets. regaling a wondering knot of juveniles with the found her way in the evening to the Guardhouse In accordance with the city ordinance, without having been searchen or examined, she was locked up in a nice cell, the walls all of pine boards, and the floor adorned with a neat mattress stuffed with lightwood shavings. Late in the night, the station was aroused by the alarm of fire, and thick volumes of smoke were seen issuing from Amanda's cell. The door was forced open a quickly as possible, and the insane woman was seen capering, shouting and singing in the midst of flame and smoke. The flames were extinguished and the prisoner transferred to another cell. The matter being investigated, it was shown that the poor woman, suffering from the increasing cold, had ripped open her bedtick, and having a box of matches concealed about her person, had struck a light and applied it to the infiammable filling of her mattress. A large fire was kindled in an instant, and, were it not for timely alarm, would have quickly communicated with the adjoining cells, in which other prisoners were confined. Amanda, upon being brought before the Mayor seemed quite proud of her nocturnal exploit, and was turned over to the city registrar. This warning would seem to show the necessity of searching such irresponsible characters, in order that their antics may not endanger the lives and property of sober persons. The escape this time was very lucky, little or no damage having been done to the cell beyond the loss of the mattress.
