The time male from San Francisco was good, although the hot axle boxes prevented the train from running on the express freight schedulc. The cargo, it is stated, is worth near

-French olnoers held as prisoners in Germany are now permitted to visit Berlin in uniform, and in the streets it is quite common to see them going about "doing" the lions of the city, and with every facility extended to them by the citizens, who are most courteous in showing them the route from p int to point, and in various other ways rendering them assistance and atten-

Zithas been observed to the French hospitals at. Orleans, that the wounds of the Germans are chiefly from pieces of shell-comparatively few bullet wounds-but that the French have chiefly been wounded by the seedle gun. The inference is obvious that the French fired wildly, too fast. and without siming, and perhaps at too great a distance. The Chassepot is a bad weapon for recrults, and especially for young French soldiers, impetuous and difficuit to control. The Consul-General of the North German Confederation, on last Saturday, transmitted another remittance of ten thousand thalers of the German war fund collections in aid of the wounded, making, with previous remittances, a total of 310,000 thalers, or $244,900. The treasurer of the general committee of the Cerman aid societies reports. that the subscriptions collected under the auspice of corganization mentioned, have reached the sum of $202,061, of which $190,549 have been trans-

The United States ship Guard, of the Darlen Expedition, left New York on December 3d. sailing direct for the mouth of the Afrato River, on the Isihmus. The United States gunboat Nipsic, now fitting out for the same expedition, will sail about January 1st, from Washington, D. C., and will proceed to the Atrato, there to take aboard Commander Selfridge and the scientific party, and oonvey them to Aspinwall, where the expect to arrive about the middle of next January.

About the same time the United States steamer Saginaw will arrive at Panama, and then convey Commander Selfridge and party to the mouth of the Darien River, on the Pacific side. The exploring parties will commence operations both on the Atlantic and Pacific sides, and survey the respective routes until they meet. Germany by the war is very great. A German paper states that in the province of Westphalla, at the beginning of October, there were 11,817 married women, the wives and widows of soldiers, together with 22,713 children, obtaining relief from the public funds. In Hanover, 9621 women and 26,418 children were dependent upon the public for support. In the Rhenish provinces there were 14,312 married women and 29,619 fatheriess children who were atterly destitute. Thus, in only three Prussian provinces there were, List October, 35,753 women and 78,750 children in a condition of misery and want, and it is believed that destitution to the same extent prevails in the other provinces of Prussia. The price of provisions is extraordinarily high, and the winter, it is predicted, will be unusually sowere. The injury done by the potato rot and the rinderpest has also been severe, and the condition of the familles of the peasants left at home is very miserable. About nine-tenths of the males are in the landwehr, and the women and children thus deprived of their natural supporters will, it is feared, perish from -An Englishman who left Paris on the 8th and arrived at Brusselsoon the 17th of November, addresses a letter to the Independence Belge on the state of Paris. He says that life there is still more than endurable. Baoh inhabitant receives fifty grammes of meat a day; beef at one franc twenty centimes, and horse flesh at one franc a pound. Beef and mutton will last till the end of the months there will still remain 45.600 horses and immense quantities of salt meat stored at the New Opera, so that there will be enough meat for at least three months. Bread is secured till he end of April, and wine and spirits for two years. The writer was a member of a dining club of eight. The dinner was usually composed of meat, soup, vegetables, cheese, wine, coffee bill for the last week had only amounted to fourteen francs fifty centimes. In the municipal kitchens a litre of soup with vegetables can be had for thirty-five centimes. The poor receive food gratis. Each National Guard receives one franc fifty centimes daily. Those who do not stand in need of pay hand it back to the government. They have been completely equipped to the number of 400,000. The guardians of public security named by the government have disappeared, and police duty is now done by the National Guard. The greatest privation is the wan of news from outside Paris. -A review of the elections in the West is not more encouraging to Radicalism than the first returns proved to be. Missouri suffered the worst demoralization, from which the Administration party has only now sufficiently recovered to as sert that it was not the revenue reform sentiment which elected Grazz Brown, but the enfranchisement issue. But as the President was equally committed against Brown on each point, the distinction is of little account. Michigan, too, has been a disappointment. Two years ago Grant had 31,000 majority in that State. Now the Radical candidate for Governor comes in with less than half that. But worse than all was the manner in which these recreant Republicans treated the amendment striking the word "white" from the State constitution. They passed it by only 1000 majority, and the "moral effect" is not what was exected. In Illinois the Democratic gains were enormous, aggregating over 41,000, while Kentucky sends nine Democratic Congressman, with a majority of 33,000. The latest news from Florida confirms the election of Democrats to Congress, a majority in both houses of the Legislature, and the Lieu tenant-Governor. In all quarters the breaking up has begun, and even such victories as the Radicals gained at the late elections are accompanied by losses in popular strength which give them the character of defeats.

The Extension of the City Limits.

The General Assembly has now before it n hill for the extension of the limits of the City of Charleston. A copy of the bill has not been published, but it is understood that the proposition is substantially the same as that which was made and defeated last session. The bill then, to the best of our information, proposes that the corporate limits be extended so as to embrace all that neck Judge Wright, the present incumbent, is of land between the Cooper and Ashley Rivers, as far as the extreme northern limit of the former Parish of St. Philip. This it is admitted that he is a mere lay figure on would add largely to the territorial extent of the bench, and knows nothing of law. He the city, and would add about 3500 to the said himself, a few months ago, that he was voting population. This latter consideration is the one, we presume, which leads to the didate for re-election. Why not take him introduction of the bill. At the elections in at his word, and give the people a Judge October last, Charleston City was carried by the Conservatives. The term of office of the dignity, to be one of the members of the present Mayor and Aldermen expires next fall, and it is hoped that an extension of the limits of the city, bringing in a large number of country negro voters, will enable the Radical element to retain control of the municipal government.

Upon this point there are some very obvious considerations which will, it is hoped, be weighed well by the members of the Le gislature. In the first place it has never been the custom, until within the past two years, to make the Charlestons elections a political fight. Men were chosen because crava's and no collars are High Church; parsons of their fitness, and not because they were Whigs or Democrats. This is what we desire now, and if any falth is to be placed in popular sentiment, it is the firm determination of the Conservative people of the city to elect the best men, whether they be Radicals, Democrats, or neither. What is needed is a capable and trustworthy administration of the affairs of the city. The people cannot afford to run Charleston as a political machine, unless they want to play ducks and drakes with their hard-earned dollars, traffi for miles, and when they come to a culvert and to make it impossible for the city to bear the burden by which it is oppressed. But there is a higher consideration than this. Charleston is the largest city in the State, and pays a goodly proportion of the total State taxation. In a thousand ways, direct and contingent. Charleston is a benefit to the State. We say nothing about love and reverence. It is a business matter, and we prefer so to treat it. Now, what is our condition? The city has a huge debt, which in some shape, must be paid. The interest alone is over $390,000 a year, and instalments of the principal fall due every year. Besides this, there are the working expenses of the city government. The police must be kept up; the Fire Department must be paid; the roads and sidewalks require repairs; the poor are to be taken care of. There are a thousand things to be done, and with a tax of two per cent. for city purposes, on all real and personal property, the government can barely make both ends meet. Doubtless. there is some waste, but if every dollar how raised by taxation were discreetly and wisely spent, the city would not have a cent to spare. It may be possible to reduce taxation. At all events, we hope so. On the other hand, it is certain that any increase of taxation for ordinary expenses will lower the value of property, check building, throw mechanics and laborers out of employment, and make it virtually impossible for the city to compete successfully with its more fortunate rivals. This is plain reasoning, and yet it is proposed to swell the volume of taxation. In other words, an extension of the city limits will increase the expenses of the government without increasing in the same degree the amount of taxable property. The neck of land proposed to be added The social and domestic misery produced in | to the city is of small value in comparison with the value of land in the city proper. As soon as the addition is made, the taxes of property on the neck will be largely increased. Property-holders there will have to do their part in paying the expenses of the city. Their tax will be more than two per cent., because for the protection of the annexed territory there will be required additional police, additional laborers, more roads, more officials, more drains and the like. The cost of these will be more than the revenue to be derived from the new territory. A higher tax will be needed, and the neck will have to pay the same rate upon a swamp or potato plantation that is paid upon a mammoth store or a residence upon the Battery. In this way, as we have shown, an extension of the city limits is only another way of expressing the certainty of diminished trade and increased taxation. We approach this matter in no party spirit. We are willing and anxious that everything possible should be done which will benefit the city and, through the city, the State. May it not be hoped that the Legislature will discuss the City Extension bill in the same vein and with the same honest purpose, to act deliberately and do what is just and right?

Notice has been given of a bill to author ize the commissioners of Charleston County to levy a tax of twenty thousand dollars. This may be all right, but the public would like to know where all the money goes to. Checks on the County Treasurer have been hawked about, for months at a time, at ten and fifteen per cent. discount, and it is commonly believed that the commissioners have contracted liabilities largely in excess of their estimated income. We should like to see a statement of the receipts and expenditures for the last two years, together with statement of the outstanding claims. Can

OUR Columbia correspondent assures the public that the bill repealing the act of 1866, which repealed the old usury laws of the State, will be thoroughly discussed before it s acted upon. What both the friends and opponents of usury laws should desire is a careful consideration of the whole subject, and a deliberate and thoughtful decision. We are confident that the result will be a determination to let things stand as they are.

AND we find that the people of the interior are awakening to the injury that would be done them by the passage of Mr. Wilkes's usury bill. The Marion Star says, very properly, that the planters whom the bill is intended to protect would be the principal sufferers. It says that we need capital in our State, and any law enacted at this time restricting the rate of interest to seven per cent., when money is actually in demand at one; two and three per cent. per month, according to the necessity of the borrower, would be unjust and unreasonable. No sane man will borrow money except he can make it a source of profit, and consequently will never give more than a just equivalent for its use.

To-MORROW is the day appointed by the General Assembly for the election of an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, and a Judge of the Charleston and Orangeburg Circuit. We believe that the only prominent candidate for the latter office is Colonel Graham, of Marion. For the Supreme Bench, again in the field. The fact that he is a negro may not count much either way, but unfit for the place and would not be a canwho is worthy, by his attainments and Appeal Court of the State.
