OUR PRICES CURRENT .- We especially invite the attention of our merchants to THE NEWS Prices Current, issued this morning. INCENDIARISM .- The residence of Mr. W. F. Redding, four miles from Sumter, was burned by incendiaries on Friday.

On the night of the 4th the store of Messrs. Rob. ertson & Seigler, near Mount Vernon Camp Ground, in Edgefield, was entirely destroyed by fire. All its contents were likewise consumed. It is strongly suspected, however, that the store was first robbed, and then set on fire. The loss of Messrs. Robertson & Seigler is estimated at about $2000. They were fully insured upon their stock of goods, but there was no insurance upon the storehouse.

THE STATE SURVIVORS' ASSOCIATION .- We are informed that Mr. Joseph F. Murphy has been authorized by the State Survivors' Association to call on our citizens for the purpose of obtaining their subscriptions to the publication of the complete roll of those who were killed or died in the Christopher Moultrie, for changing ballots in the Confederate service, during the late war. The roll is to be published in two editions, the first for the to be paid on the delivery of a copy of the first edition of the said work, and two dollars and a half on the delivery of the second and corrected

THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC promises to be itself again next week. The Oates comic opera and burlesque troupe are coming. They will open Monday night in "The Prima Donna of a Night; or Monsieur Chonfleuri at Home"-Offenbach's latest opera. . The sprightly and vivacious Mrs. Oates, who won all hearts among our theatregoers last winter, will appear as "Ernestine." The personnel of the company has been notably atrengthened during its successful tour through the North, and its dresses, properties and appointments of every description, are said to be superb. Of course, the Academy will be crammed on each of the six nights. The sale of reserved seats begins at Holmes's Book House this morning.

BLOODY AFFRAY .- Jacob Daniel and Henry Bythwood, two boys about eleven years of age, were quietly playing yesterday morning in Church street, when a quarrel arose between them for some trival cause. Jacob seized a large broken glass bottle and hurled it at his compan ion. The jagged glass struck him in the forehead. bleeding profusely. The matter was brought to the attention of Trial Justice Cauldeld, and in a short time the culprit was arrested and brought into court. His companion, with his head enveloped in bandages, appeared against the youthful prisoner, and Jacob was sent to jail for five days, to meditate on the evils of an uncontrolled temper.

ANOTHER ROW IN ELLIOTT STREET,-A party of soldlers yesterday morning succeeded in raising another disturbance in this peaceful locality. Four of them entered a grop shop, and, after imbibing pretty freely, two got into a quarrel. The policeman on this round interfered to quiet the disturbance, and being unable to do so, arrested the two wranglers. The other two now made an attack on the policeman, and, drawing their knives, attempted to rescue their comrades. A general row was the consequence, and a reinforcement having arrived for the aid of the policeman, the military quartette were taken to the Guardhouse, where they will interview the Mayor this morning. The troops have just been paid of, and while they are flush they will doubtless contribute their little contingents to the city treasury.

ANNIVI.RSARY MEETING OF THE ACRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The anniversary meeting of the Agricultural Society of South Carolina was held yesterday afternoon at the Board of Trade rooms.

the society at some length on the objects for the promotion of which it was organized, and congratulated the members on having revived the ancient Agricultural Society of South Carolina. Illustrating his remarks with facts and incidents derived from history, both sacred and profane, he entertained the society agreeably for some twenty minutes, and closed by announcing that the first business in order was the election of officers.

Mr. McCrady, the recording secretary, moved the postponement of the election, in order to introduce a series of resolutions, which he read, with a view to unite the two State societies under the name and constitution of the Agricultural Society of South Carolina. After some discussion, however, Mr. McCrady withdrew his resolution, and the election of officers was proceeded with, and resulted as follows: President-Hon. Charles Macbeth. Vice-Presidents-William M. Lawton, Charleston; Hon. S. W. Barker, St. John's; Dr. A. B. Rose, Charleston Neck; J. J. Mikell, Edisto Island; E. M. Clark, James Island. Stoney Porcher. nery for the rice crop, written by the Hon. S. W.

An essay on improved implements and machi-Barker, was then read for the society by Dr. C. U. Shepard, Jr. This was followed by an interesting paper on the cultivation of the potato, by Mr. Hunt, to whom was awarded, last year, the premium for the best yield of Irish potatoes.

Professor McCrady then introduced the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the resolutions introduced in reference to a union of the two agricultural societies in the State be referred to a committee of three, whose duty it shall be to confer with thomers of the Agricultural and Mechanical Societies. of South Carolina, and report some plan, if any can be agreed upon, for the union of the two so-cieties under the charter of the Agricultural So-ciety of South Carolina.

Under this resolution the following committee was appointed : Professor McCrady, Dr. A. B. Rose, J. T. Dill, Esq.

Resolved, That a committee of finance, consist-ing of three members, be appointed by the presi-dent to report to the society at every quarterly meeting.

leiger, Wm. Hinson. After executive business, the society adjourned

The anniversary address was delivered before the society at Holmes's Lyceum, by Hon. N. Russell Middleton. It was a scholarly and elegant oration, treating of the redemption of our State by other than political means, and arguing that scientific agriculture, systematically organized, is the most available means for that purpose under

We regret that we have not space for the ad dress in full, and as we understood that it will be published in the Rural Carolinian, we forbear any useless attempt to give a correct synopsi of its able and instructive arguments and enteraining illustrations.

THE BALL OF THE GERMAN RIFLE CLUB .-This splendid affair came off last evening at the Hibernian Hall with all the success which usually accompanies the efforts of our German friends in this line. The handsome hall was filled at an early hour with the fair guests of the club, and the bright eyes, smiling faces and beautiful dresses, showed the enjoyment and interest which all took in the pleasures of the hour. Throughout the scene the handsome uniforms of green were conspicuous, and in the dance and promenade seemed equally appreciated and esteemed by the fairer

A few days ago Cato carried this bill to a store to purchase groceries, and was informed by the hopkeeper that it was a five dollar bill. He applied to Robin, who swore it was a $20 bill that he had given to Cato The matter was referred to Trial Justice Magrath, nd, in spite of Robin's asseverations, the torn bil and the evidence of several witnesses convicted him of breach of trust and defrauding the prosecutor of $15.
