NEWS OF THE DAY.

Gold closed in New York, on Saturday, at 104 1/2. Cotton closed strong and active; uplands 15 1/2 cents; sales 4000 bales.

There is said to be at least half a dozen senators now anxious about Chief Justice Chase's health.

In Montreal, the whipping post, as a punishment for minor crimes, has been revived. It is said with excellent results.

A large number of clerks and salesmen are said to have been thrown out of employment in New York at the beginning of the New Year.

Large numbers of negroes are emigrating from Tennessee and Georgia into Texas, attracted thither by the excellent grazing facilities.

General Anderson, of Fort Sumter, in an such delicate health that his friends feel alarmed about it.

An English writer publishes a letter from President Grant expressing his thanks for the present of a hat.

The death of Major John H. Steele is announced in the Atlanta papers. He was one of the oldest editors in the South, being at the time of his death sixty-four years of age.

Yon Bass, the Austrian minister, refuses to limit himself to the ordinary cigars a day. He had all that he could smoke some days.

The doctor of the late Mr. John Water, son of the late Mr. John Water, says that he observed the late Mr. Water, while trying to get his head and neck, who had fallen through the floor, standing on a table in front of his father's residence, at Bear-hold, Berkshire. He had only one leg, and it was eight hours before a doctor found the wound.

A scheme for direct cable from London and Liverpool to New York, has been brought out by Messrs. Chadwick, Johnson & Co., of London, under the best auspices. The capital is to be $5,000,000, three-fourths of which have been subscribed for in England already.

The State of Pennsylvania having ordered a printing of the basis of the State for the State-house at Harrisburg, so large that it cannot be put into the building, is now receded to the extremity of either erecting a new capital or having the documents there kept in Philadelphia, where, happily, they have succeeded in finding a hall large enough to accommodate it.

The New York Journal (German) disputes the estimation of the number of freed during the late war, as the official Statistics is very recent, and it is not yet before Paris, whose charge represents the sum of eight hundred thousand. The cost of the general would support an entire regiment for one year.

There is a delicious little story, about about the Princess Louise. It is that she fell madly in love with her brother's tutor, a clergyman's son; and when he was dismissed, she threatened to take one of the principal ministers. The venerable Vicar wouldn't listen to that sort of nonsense, and for some time he had to have her married. Lord stepped in to be married at that time, and she old lady thought it would serve for the desired solution, so that she was glad to accept. And that, as the story goes, is all the love there is in the most talked of royal love match.

The art of speed-making in non-committal periods was lately illustrated at a banquet in Atlanta, Ga. Secretary DeLoach's presence, and offered his services to the cause.

The name of the grand jury of the government, frequently appears on the "book of delinquents" at West Point, to which an immense number of arrests are reported. One entry against him is, "Persistent disobedience to orders." Another is, "laughing in the ranks." The reporting officers are not persons of persons. The book is a curiosity to a civilian. "Scratching nose in ranks" (caused by a provoking mosquito) "sneezing and coughing unnecessarily," "was skirt tucked in trousers;" "pant on top of boots;" "raising both hands in ranks" (caused, as explained, by "bug in ear"); "stamping in ranks" - all are complaints gravely entered.

A correspondent writing from London says: "The most extraordinary machine in the exhibition is, beyond question, the one for microscopic writing. This enables a person to write in the usual way, and to deposit the writing a million times smaller - as he pleases, and it is possible to the naked eye. It is a powerful microscope becomes the writer's every line and dot can be seen. The inventor claims that with this instrument he can copy the entire Bible twenty-two times in the space of an inch. The Astor Library, I presume, could be transferred to a sheet of newspaper. Evidently, it will be of great service in preventing forgery. With one of these machines a private mark can be put on bills so minute and perfect that the forger can neither perceive nor imitate it; but the bank clerk or broker, knowing how to look, can at once detect that it is a forgery. The machine is the invention of a Mr. Perrot.

—We have the Letter Journal of Paris to December 17. It announces the discovery within the city of an unknown store, which considerably increases the resources of the besieged. An order from the Mayor of Paris takes possession, to be used in cooking, or all the fire-wood in the city, and all the light-wood suitable for that use, whether in private hands or in the hands of merchants. With the authorization of General Trochu, Captain Beaupre has organized a corps of twelve thousand sharpshooters, with which he proposes to make his way through the Prussian lines. It is announced on December 11 that the balloon companies will send out balloons every day, carrying passengers, letters and newspapers. These balloons, however, carry on the average only one hundred kilograms of postal matter, which is only one-third of what they took in the earlier period of the siege. The new balloons manufactured in the city are said to be of extraordinary strength and precision. Twenty-four of them are finished daily. An iron-clad combine, carrying a mill-train, moved out recently on the railroad of the east, and after a few shots at the Prussian advanced posts, went back into the city. On December 15, the arrival at Paris of several messengers bringing private correspondence from the country is announced; and it is also stated that means of a combined system of balloons and of telegraphing, the people of Paris will have news from without every day.

Property and Taxation.

The report of the State Auditor, already printed in this paper, is now issued in pamphlet form with a mass of tables showing the description and value of all the taxable property in the State, together with the amount of taxes assessed and collected.

The total value of all the taxable real estate is set down at $117,988,542, of which amount $34,446,874 is in cities, towns and villages, and $81,840,868 is not in cities, towns and villages. No returns are made for Williamsburg and Union Counties, the real estate in which counties was valued, in 1869, at $2,016,867 and $2,737,393. We may, therefore, estimate the total taxable real estate at $122,741,802. The City of Charleston has for real estate to the amount of $87,898,670, or two-thirds of the whole.

The personal property in the State (exclusive of Williamsburg, which in 1869, gave $309,353) is valued at $63,109,726. Charleston is put down at $19,881,319, or about one-third of the whole. The entire value of both real and personal property is $188,913,367. This is $15,000,000 greater than in 1868, the increase being mainly attributable to the assessment of railroad property exempt by charter from taxation. Charleston County is assessed at $4,316,445, or one-fourth of the whole. Orangeburg is assessed at $8,969,915, while Richland (including Columbia) is assessed at $7,507,024. Barnwell County has the highest assessment, ($9,682,451) outside of Charleston. Pickens County has the lowest assessment, or $1,386,002.

The returns of personal property show that some live stock remains in the State. We have 54,052 horses, valued at $4,475,593, an average of $82 each. There are 707,818 cattle valued at $3,481,560; 49,298 mules and asses valued at $4,290,316, an average of $99 each; 167,602 sheep and goats, valued at $245,388, an average of $1.47 each; 590,055 hogs valued at $1,938,438. The good people of the State confess to gold and silver watches and plate valued at $842,314, and to 3274 piano fortes, melodeons and cabinet organs valued at $352,315. There are 17,131 pleasure carriages, valued at $841,874. The difference in assessed value of these carriages is shown by the fact that 1156 vehicles in Lancaster are valued at $5807, or an average value of five dollars, while Abbeville has 112, valued at $64,041, or average value of fifty-five dollars. Of dogs of high and low degree there are 66,727 valued at $267,285, or an average value of $4.00.

During the year ending October 31, 1870, the total amount received for State taxes was $699,575. This year the State tax (including the poll tax) will be at least $1,750,000. Prior to the elections of October last, we had a State tax of 5 mills on the dollar. The Radicals won, and, at once, increase the tax to 9 mills. Of the taxes collected in 1870 Charleston paid $121,075, or two-tenths of the whole. One striking feature of the table of taxes received is the small amount collected from the poll tax. By the State constitution only one poll tax is allowed, and that for educational purposes. The constitution also provides that no person shall be disfranchised by reason of his failure to pay the poll tax. As a natural consequence, the negroes pay no tax whatever. There are, at least, 60,000 white voters in the State, yet the poll tax last year realized (exclusive of Charleston) only $41,813. The Attorney-General has delivered an opinion upon the late senatorial election in Charleston County. Mr. Chamberlain is of opinion that as Mishaw, who received the highest number of votes, died on the day previous to the election, his election is void, and that for educational purposes. The constitution also provides that no person shall be disfranchised by reason of his failure to pay the poll tax. As a natural consequence, the negroes pay no tax whatever. Ohio and Ventry.

The Chamber of Commerce of Cincinnati, on the 10th instant, unanimously adopted resolutions favoring the legalizing of all specified rates of interest in written contracts; six per cent. to remain the legal rate in the absence of a contract. The representatives of the city in the General Assembly were requested, at the same time, to bring the matter before that body.

We commend this action to the consideration of the few gentlemen, well-meaning but mistaken, who desire to advance backward and re-establish, in this State, the very laws which Ohio endeavors to repeal. While every other State is pressing towards the abolition of all restrictions upon the borrowing and lending of money, it is sought to face South Carolina to the rear, and renew the vain attempt to force capitalists to lend their money at less than the market rate.

This Columbia Union hopes that no proposition so ridiculous as that to confer upon the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the President of the Senate, power to call extra sessions of the General Assembly whenever, in their judgment, it shall be deemed necessary, will receive serious attention. It says: "While we have a Governor of the State, let such duties as pertain to his office be discharged by him. It will be time enough to confer this extraordinary power upon the two officers named, when we shall have abolished the office of the Executive."

The Georgetown Times brings to light a curious coincidence. According to the State census, taken eighteen months ago, the county had 1381 white males, 1300 white females, 6266 colored males and 7426 colored females - total 16,373. Singular to say the United States census, taken a year later, shows exactly the same numbers all the way through. There seems to be a very big cat in this meal-bul!

These precautions for improper conduct at the late elections will do good. A manager of elections, for neglecting his duty, goes to jail for six months; another manager, for the same offence, goes to jail for nine months. What, however, has become of the army of minors who voted illegally?
