RAILROAD COURTESIES FOR 1871.—We beg to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of a pass over the Spartanburg and Union Railroad, for Philadelphia, with a large cargo of over twelve hundred packages cotton, rice, naval stores, &c.

NEW FIRE ENGINE FOR COLUMBIA.—The Richmond Examiner, of Saturday, says: "An engine, built for Columbia, S. C., arrived yesterday by the Chesapeake and Ohio route, and will be tested at Captain Ainslie's office, foot of Tenth street, to-day, at 10 o'clock."

NEWS FOR THE CENSUS MARSHALS.—The select committee on the census have agreed to report a bill increasing the pay of deputy United States marshals who have been engaged on the census, to that for field service. The pay will average from $3 to $5 per day. The number of the deputies is about 50,000.

DEATHS.—Mr. William Johnson, of Camden, died on Friday week. On Saturday Mr. Joseph Reasonover, of Ker-shaw, was kicked by a horse and died instantaneously.

Mr. Alexander Ramsey, of Oconee, died on the 20th instant at an advanced age.

AN ACCIDENT ON THE GREENVILLE AND COLUMBIA RAILROAD.—The Anderson Intelligencer reports another accident on the Greenville and Columbia Railroad. It occurred near Silver street on Saturday last, and four cars attached to a freight train were completely wrecked.

No one was hurt. One of the new engines was pulling the train, and a gentleman who came up on the passenger train soon afterwards expresses the opinion that this heavy engine caused the accident. The track was in a horrible condition, and this great weight crushed the rotten timbers.

THE WILMINGTON JOURNAL.—This sterling North Carolina daily newspaper is now exclusively owned by Major J. A. Engelhard, Mr. Alfred L. Price, the former associate editor and part proprietor, has been elected a director. He has purchased his interest. Mr. Price was one of the original founders of the paper, and to his tact and business management much of its success is due. Major Engelhard is in every sense of the word a first-class Southern editor, true to the interests of his people; trenchant with his pen, and fearless in the denunciation of truth. No man during the war made a more honorable military record. He was chief of staff to General Pender, and was about to receive the stars of a brigadier when the "smash up" took place. He writes as well as he fights, and deserves the heartiest support of his brother North Carolinians.

VESSELS ASHORE NEAR SAVANNAH.—The Savannah Advertiser of Saturday last makes the following statement in reference to vessels reported to be stranded near that port: By parties who came in from the Isle of God last evening, we learn that a large English steamer and a Spanish brig are ashore on Great Bear Island, the former with good chances of getting off without much damage, while the latter lies in eight feet of water, thumping pretty badly and with considerable water in her hold. The steamer ran into Warsaw Sound Thursday forenoon, thinking she was off Tybee, to look for a pilot, and grounded on the lower end of Warsaw Island, a few hours after the Spanish brig. She ran in after her, and supposing she was at anchor, did not anticipate any danger. The people on board the English steamer were obliged to sign to the brig's stand-off, but before the latter was aware of the true state of the case, she was drifted into shore, and was grounded. Jose Benito Esquivas, master of the Spanish brig, came up to the city last evening and reported to the Spanish Consulate, and also to a letter from the captain of the English steamer. Assistance will be sent down to both vessels to-day, and it is likely that the Spanish brig will be towed out to sea this morning.

MASQUERADE BALL.—On the 13th of February a grand ball de masque will be given at the Academy of Music of a good time—an old-fashioned good time, a jolly dance, and all the pleasures of a Terpsichorean entertainment, pleasure of a waste of words. The announcement, itself will put an edge on anticipation, and set everybody and his wife at work in preparation for the event.

CLEDS AND STARS.—John Day, arrested for raising a disturbance in Harry May's house in Queen street, and refusing to obey the police in detaining Mitchell, and was discharged. Charles Mitchell, arrested on a charge of stealing a gray mare from Mr. Jervey's plantation, was discharged after an examination, the evidence advanced not being sufficient to warrant his detention.

A DISGRACEFUL SCENE.—Two colored women of the most respectable kind got very much intoxicated on Saturday evening, and going in front of the Mills House, made a demonstration of the most disgusting character. This was noticed by an Alderman, who immediately went to the Detective office, and at his request the two nuisances were arrested by Officer Truall and locked up. They will be tried this morning, and, no doubt, receive a punishment worthy of the infamous nature of their offence against public decency.

A THOUGHT.—In these hard times, the shifts which a lady is compelled to make, in order that both ends may meet financially, pay homage to her taste and genius as an artist. The pleasant deceptions to which the sex resort that they may be fully up to the fashion are a study, and grave philosophers may well despair in attempting to probe the curious problem of "how they do it." There is one secret, however, which we dare to reveal, and it may be the keystone to the mysterious arch, namely that good clothes ought to be like worms when trodden upon—they will turn.

INQUEST.—An inquest was held by Coroner Taft, on Saturday afternoon, at No. 34 Queen street, over the body of an infant child, four months old, named Thomas Moore. About noon on that day the mother of the child had left it quietly sleeping at home while she went down to the wharf to carry her husband's dinner. A colored woman was in the apartment the whole time during her absence, and hearing nothing from the child, thought it was sleeping quietly. Upon the mother's return, however, she found the child dead, and the inquest was held accordingly. A post mortem examination was held on the body by Dr. Davez, who attributed the sudden decease to a congestion of the brain, and the jury returned a verdict in accordance with his opinion.

THE CHARLESTON SENATORSHIP.—On the 18th of February the people of this county will be called upon to elect a senator in the place of Wm. Mather, who died before his election. It is generally understood that no efforts will be made by the Reformers to press their own candidate, and it is not likely that there will be much voting outside of the colored population. The Radical applicants for the office may already be counted by the scores, and are likely to be of all shades, physiologically and morally, from white-browed to jet-black. Speaking of this greedy Cain, in his Missionary Record, observes, with more earnestness than cleanness: "Elect no man who is extremely anxious for the place. It is the highest responsibility which can be placed upon a man, and he should be elected to it, except that of Governor, and no man of small experience should be elevated to it. He should be a man who will not shrink from the responsibility, and instructing their delegates to nominate him whom they may designate. We beseech the people not to be cheated in this election. Remember, in four years, and if a bad man, will do much harm."

A NEW RAILROAD PROJECT.—The Anderson Intelligencer says: "A recent visit of General Harrison, president of the Blue Ridge Railroad, to the City of Charleston, has disclosed the fact that there is a new railroad project on foot, looking to the advancement of our long-expected connection with the great West. We have always thought that the South Carolina Railroad should be more directly concerned in the completion of the Blue Ridge Railroad, and we are glad to know that there is a prospect of that strong corporation lending its powerful aid in the work. The system of railroads in this State has never reached hitherto by a short-sighted policy, never reaching into the future and grasping the ultimate relation of different lines. All of our roads have been constructed with a view to local and temporary advantages, and regardless of the growth and progress of our own State, much has been sacrificed by being disjoined from our neighbors. It will afford us pleasure to record the successful termination of the negotiations now pending, between the roads above named, and which in due time will be made public. We are not at liberty to enlighten our readers any further at this time, but will take occasion to give them the earliest information when a definite result has been attained."

UNITED STATES COURT.—The District Court was opened at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, his Honor Judge Terry presiding. Judge Scott, in re W. A. Shelton, bankrupt. Ordered that the petition to prove claim and establish a lien be referred to the registrar to inquire and report upon the amount due on the note mentioned.

Ex parte Rachel M. Mayer, creditor, in re Benjamin Mordcau, bankrupt. Ordered that the bankrupt do attend before Registrar Carpenter, on the 13th of February, 1871, at 12 M., to submit to the examination required by the bankrupt act, and that a copy of this order be delivered to him.

Ex parte W. F. Morris, of Greenville, Thomas N. Bennett, of Chester, and Robert C. Delaney, of Lancaster. Petitions for relief from the Registrar having referred favorably to the applicants, and no objection having been made, the certificates were granted in due form.

Ex parte Gilbert Garner, of Richmond. Petition for final discharge. Referred to W. C. Clawson, registrar, to take final hearing, and report after advertisement.

Ex parte W. S. Hastis, assignee, in re C. H. Moise, bankrupt, and ex parte William S. Hastis, assignee, in re C. H. Moise and T. J. Moise, bankrupts. Ordered that the assignee sell the notes, books and choses in action of said bankrupts at public auction, in the City of Charleston, after due advertisements, and that he give notice by mail to all creditors who have proven their debts of the time and place of said sale, and report his action to this court.

The court then adjourned until 10 o'clock, this morning.

SEEKING A FRIEND THROUGH.—On Friday afternoon a colored man named Henry Page became very drunk and disorderly in King street, and was told by a policeman to desist and go home. The drunkist, it seems, was almost "spilled for a fight," and, rushing upon the city official, gave him one two in the face with tremendous effect. The reinforcement enabled the policeman to capture Henry, who, finding this was no use, tried the "possum" game and laid down quietly. There was no making him move, and a cart was quickly obtained, as a crowd was gathering on the street. This roused Henry, and his hands being pinioned, he set off with his feet with telling effect upon the jaw of a policeman. In the end they were too many, and the prisoner was conveyed to the Garthouse. A sympathetic crowd followed the vehicle and cheered the struggling unfortunate at each desperate effort he made to shake off the police. He was duly incarcerated, and the crowd ordered to disperse. Most of them took the bait, but Henry Williams, a friend of the man from the scene of the first row to the Garthouse, held his position and said that he knew the law, and no police dared to do anything with him. He was becoming disorderly from the encouragement of the crowd, when he was arrested and taken into the receptacle for public nuisances. After spending the night, the two appeared before the Mayor next morning, who did not show much sympathy with them for the wrongs they had induced, and sentenced them each to pay a fine of five dollars or go to the House of Correction for five days. Williams went and Page paid.

FATHER WHELAN.—At a late hour on Friday night this venerable priest was thought to be dying, in Savannah, Georgia, where he has been a resident for many years.

A NEW POSTOFFICE.—It is announced that the Postmaster-General has decided to open a postoffice at Aiston, in Fairfield County, at the junction of the Spartanburg and Union and Greenville and Columbia Railroads.

SUPREME COURT DECISION.—In the case of the State ex rec. Adams vs. Filebrow, trial justice, the Supreme Court held that trial justice had jurisdiction in prosecutions for assault and battery, and that the exercise of such jurisdiction was not in violation of any provision of the constitution.

GENERAL M. S. LITTLEFIELD.—Many of our citizens remember this individual in connection with various transactions which occurred in this country, and some soon after the war. Governor Caldwell, of North Carolina, has, as we learn from the Raleigh Sentinel, (acting under instructions of the Legislature) offered a reward of $5000 for his arrest, on account of alleged railroad "irregularities." He is said to be in Florida, but the Governor of that State refuses to surrender him on a requisition from the Governor of North Carolina.

THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The citizens of Charleston are already prepared to accord a welcome reception to Harry Watkins and his musical corps, who appear at the Academy of Music, highly praised by the press of Richmond, in which city they have been handsomely patronized, and have good reason to believe, the public will not be disappointed. The performance to-night is "Trodden Down, or Under Two Flags," and we bespeak a large audience on the occasion.

BAPTIZING IN THE ASHLEY.—About fifteen hundred persons, mostly colored, assembled at noon yesterday at the foot of Calumet street, where the Rev. Mr. Carr, pastor of Salem Church, administered the rite of baptism to several candidates. A sermon was first delivered, after which the water was taken down into the tide and several immersed the candidates in the salt water. The tide was favorable, being high water, and the weather being not too cold, the ceremony passed off without any bad consequences. There were nine persons immersed, four males and five females, all of whom were colored.

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.—The quarterly celebration of the First Baptist Church Sunday-School took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The services commenced by the singing of a hymn, "Gather Them In," by the children, under the direction of the accomplished manager, Mr. W. K. Peonal. After the reading of the quarterly report by the superintendent, Mr. Peifer, a book was presented to Master W. Campbell Douglas, and one to Master J. P. Evans, for excellence in department, scholarship, &c. A beautiful chant, "There is a fountain filled with blood," rendered with pleasing effect and much feeling by the youthful assembly, closed the interesting proceedings.

A DECIDED BATTERY.—Frank Oliver was arrested and brought before Trial Justice Macker, on Saturday afternoon, charged, with an assault and battery upon a colored woman, Bell Maxwell, by name. The latter deposes that Oliver came up to her on Friday night, to the corner of Goddard's alley and Elliot street, and being greatly enraged, struck her several blows in the face, knocking out two of her front teeth. Oliver then went to the house where she was staying, and breaking open the door of her private apartment, took possession. Bell, who, after her severe punishment did not like to approach the bully in his den, had to turn in with a sympathetic friend, named Mary Jose, who lived conveniently near. The face of the prosecutor was the best evidence of the strength and severity of the battery, and was swollen and puffed out in a wonderful manner. The prisoner was bound over in good security for his appearance this morning, when the trial of the case takes place.

MURDER DUCKS MISSING.—On Friday night, a happy family of Murcovy ducks retired at their usual early hour to the house appropriated to their use at No. 31 King street, and were duly locked by their careful master. While reposing in their usual serenity, and dreaming of a glorious return of the primeval flood, they were awakened by the breaking of their lock, followed by the bursting open of their door. In a twinkling, eight of the unfortunate occupants of the house were tied securely by the feet, and, trusting to their well known names under the most trying circumstances, the deprelator marched off with his prize without giving an alarm. The matter was reported early next morning at the Detective office, and the rain, which fell early during the night, gave Officer Daly, who had the matter in charge, a clue to the offender. The tracks of the rascal were traced to the fence, where he had placed a barrel to enable him to mount with his booty, and down the lane to another door in the body, and down the lane to another door, and going into the house, arrested a colored man named Luke Wright on suspicion of the theft. The prisoner denies the charge, and is held for examination.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—AN APPEAL FROM THE MAYOR.—On Friday evening last, Silverer Brown purchased two chickens and eggs at the South Carolina Railroad depot, and while returning down King street to his place of residence, he was accosted by Henry Drain, who offered to purchase the articles. Brown refused to let him have them, and Drain, having lost his temper, in a few moments commenced to quarrel, and was struck by Brown. The latter then went to the store of Mr. G. W. Davis, in King street, where he was stopping, and Drain went for the police to have his antagonist arrested. He then followed to the store, and, having affected an entrance, Davis, the storekeeper, ordered him out. Drain refused to go, saying he came to arrest Brown, and, having attempted this feat, a general scuffle ensued, in which he was considerably battered, and received a cut on the head. The police here came in and arrested both the combatants, who were taken to the Garthouse. After an examination before the Mayor on Saturday morning, Brown was turned over to the State for prosecution, and Drain was fined $10. The latter appealed from the fine to a trial justice, and his case having been tried before a jury, he was acquitted.

A WOMAN DROWNED.—THE BODY CLAIMED BY TWO PARTIES, AND AT LAST IDENTIFIED.—Mr. W. M. Kéan, while passing along South Atlantic wharf, on Saturday morning, discovered the body of an aged colored woman lying in the water near the wharf, and forthwith reported the matter to the coroner. The latter, with the proper officers, repaired to the spot, and the corpse, which appeared to have been lying in the water for twelve or fourteen hours, was raised upon the dock. It was identified by Augustus Bingley, who happened to be present, as the body of his mother, Johanna Price, who had been living for some time with her niece, on the premises of Mrs. Hare, in Society street, and was missed from her home on Friday afternoon, about 3 o'clock. Her absence during the day and evening had occasioned some uneasiness, and search had been made for her, but without discovering any trace of her whereabouts. The deceased is represented as being somewhat light-headed and flighty, and it is supposed that she fell or intentionally jumped from the wharf into the water. The latter, subsequently laid claim to the corpse as that of her grandmother, and attempted to take a pair of large gold earrings from the ears of the deceased, when she was prevented by the officers. She was accused of being an impostor, and upon the evidence of Bingley, who disclaimed all knowledge of the woman and her relationship, she desisted from her claim and was put aside. A jury of inquest was impelled by Corner Taft, which adjourned after a meeting until to-day at 12 o'clock, when all the facts relating to the case will be brought out. The body was delivered in charge of Augustus Bingley, who conveyed it to the premises of Mrs. Hare, in Society street, where the unfortunate woman was living at the time of her sudden decease.

REMOVED DUEL.—An Augusta paper, of Saturday, says that for several days past there have been rumors afloat concerning a duel which is expected to be fought shortly between two gentlemen from neighboring States.

QUICK WORK.—The storekeepers of the Baltimore line—Messrs. Townsend & Co.—executed a rapid task at the close of the past week. The steamship Maryland reached here from Baltimore, on Friday evening. Her cargo was taken out, another placed on board, and the steamer set to sea on Sunday morning, the work being accomplished in about twenty-four hours.

ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE OF A PISTOL.—About 6 o'clock on Friday evening Paul Benson, a colored man aged about 20 years, had his right hand shot through at his place of residence, a few miles above the city, by the accidental discharge of a pistol which he was handling. He was brought to the city and admitted into the hospital, where his wound was carefully attended to. Hopes are entertained of saving his hand.

THE CAT IS "STILL THEY COME."—On Thursday and Friday of the present week we are to have what is announced to be the creme de la creme of circuses. G. G. Grady, with all his paraphernalia for public amusement, will then open on the Citadel a budget of performances which are said to be unsurpassed in the world of the "trapeze" performers, tumblers, acrobats, equestrians, jugglers, contortionists and others are first-class, and the entertainment will be all that it is advertised.
