was arrested, restorday morning, by Officer Johnn of having stolen a box of tin. for rooming, from the warehouse No. 25 Church street. The box weighs about a hundred pounds and was missed by one of the clerks, on . Monday ast, from a large pile. Jacob was employed at the entablishment some time ago upon good re mendations, and was not suspected of any thing until-his present arrest. He has been ar rested before, however, on charges of larceny and assault and battery, and served out a term of thirty days in jail for each offence. He danies the charge of the tin steading, but offers to pay for the article if the matter be dropped. He is de tained in custody for examination.

G. G. GRADY'S CIECUS .- Those whom the mirdes streets did not deter from going to the itadel Green last evening were treated to an exhibition but seldom seen of late. The performance throughout was a regular old-fashioned American circus, and kept the assembled crowd delighted until the end without any extraneous aid. The different displays of riding showed great agility and bulline-s; and few could witness the dangerous knife-throwing without shuddering. The everal clowns were the funnies: in their line, and got off lots of new and good things, which were aproariously received. The acrobatic feats were smong the best in the performance. Owing the weather the canvas was not as crowde as the performance deserved, or as it will be this evening if the weathe improves.

ROBBERY OF GREENBACKS .- THE THIEF IN JAIL.-Thomas Banks, a colored youth of eighteen summers, was arrested yesterday morning on a of honor. The third prize was awarded to the charge of stealing $25 in greenbacks from a colored man named Frank Gregory. Both of them had been employed for some time past in a bar. room on Market street, and at night slept in the fourth prize was awarded to the "Knight of the same apartment. Ban's discovered that his companion kept his money in his trunk, and one day last week, when Gregory was absent, he opened ing as third maid of honor. Fraser Mithewes, subject to incumbrances, for $1500; one-third eash, and the balance in one, two and three

GRAND DIAMOND GIFT CONCERTS, for the behefit of the unfortunate sufferers in the French war, will be held in Washington, D. C., on the 27th day of February, 1871, at which time over nine thousand sets of diamond fewelry will be distributed to holders of tickets without reservation, and whether present or absent. These gems range in value from $55 to $60,000, and every gem is warranted by a wholesale diamond house to be genuine and of the finest water. The names of the track near Belton. Three cars were damaged, General Albert Pike, of Washington City, and the but no one hurt. Hon. John E. Ward, of New York, appear as managers and should be a sufficient endorsement of the affair. Tickets are $6 each, and can be found at the Charleston Hotel, in charge of A. Butterfield, their authorized agent.

well attended, and considerable interest was manifested in the financial condition of the Institute. On motion of Mr. W. S. Henerey, Colonel W. L. Trenholm was proposed as president for the ensuing year. The rules being suspended, Colonel Trenholm was unantmously elected by acclamation. Mr. Alva Gage and Dr. A. B. Rose were subsequently elected vice-presidents. An adjourned meeting was ordered to be called on presented and a board of directors elected. committee to visit Columbia and try to effect some arrangement with the State authorities in regard to mortgages held on the property of the Institute. The meeting then adjourned

CLUBS AND STARS .- A white woman, beonging to the numerous family of the Brides. became very intoxicated on Wednesday night and was arrested for raising a disturbance at the corner of Elliott and Church streets. She was brought before the Mayor yesterday morning, and after an examination discharged on condition | Magrath. tional candidates for the "vacant chair" in the of leaving the city at once for Savannah and behaving herself in future.

An individual with a red face was struck by Jersey lightning on East Bay late Wednesday night. His nose, however, proved to be a good on luctor, and the electric current passed from his system near this point. He was taken to the Guardouse, and after a night of deep slumbers appeared before the Mayor, by whom he was discharged upon explaining the unusual occurrence and on making the assurance that lightning never trikes to keep order, but Middleton was just in a fighttwice in the same place.

John White, arrested on suspicion of stealing pocket of cotton from a boat at one of the wharves, after a preliminary hearing was remanded for further examination.

COLONEL THOMAS A. DODAMEAD, of Virginia who has just entered upon the duties of engineer and general superintendent of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad, is one of the most experienced and efficient railroad men in the United States. For thirty years he has been connected with railroads in Virginia, during this time having for in a few moments he was a prisoner on his had charge of the Richmend and Petersburg, way to the Stationhouse, by the side of his friend. Chesapeake and Ohto, Virginia and Tennessee, Richmond and York River, and Rich-mond and Danville Railroads, and early in the late war was sert West by the Confederate Government to take charge of the Memphis and Ohlo Railroad and the road from Bowling Green to Nashville, while General Albert Sidney Johnston was in command at the former place. He returned to Virginla after the fall of Fort Donaldson, to take charge of the Richmond and Danville line, which he has managed until his transfer to our own State. His thorough and practical knowledge in all the departments of engineering, construction, transportation, and machinery of railroads, has given Colonel Dodamead a deservedly high position in his profession, and there is no wonder that the Virginia papers speak with regretful terms of the loss of an officer so efficient, and a citizen so valuable. What is their loss, however, is our gain, and we congratulate the Greenville and Columbia Ratiroad on their excellent choice.

THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC. -After the criticism upon the domestic drams of Harry Watkins, entitled "Set in Gold, or the One Bright Spot," which was shortly to be overrun with circuses, and all was performed at the Academy last night, we in turn were made painfully aware of numerous were prepared for an unusually fine representation of character. It is scarcely necessary to add that no lover of good acting could last night have been disappointed. The play is not only novel and original, but in writing it, Mr. Watkins seems to have adapted it expressly to that peculiar talent which he possesses of throwing the whole force of the Irish character into the exhibition of an hour. The idea sought to be illustrated is that of avarice struggling with natural affection-of a miser weighing the attraction of gold against the love of a son, and the accomplished actor held his audience spell-bound from the beginning to the end of the performance. A more thrilling drama has not been put upon our stage for a long time, and one can readily understand how it.has added fresh laurels to the fame of the author actor. Mrs. Watkins as Biddy McNalty achieved another success, and received many a plaudit as tribute to the charming manner in which she sings her way into the people's heart. The "Adventures of a Love Letter" concluded the entertainment. To night Mrs. Rose Watkins will have a benefit. The play selected for the occasion is one which will draw a large and appreciative audience. Some how or other one likes to wibrate suddenly "from grave to gay, from lively to severe," and the Watkins have the wonderful art of bringing salt water to the eyes, and in a moment afterwards stretching mouths from ear to ear to catch the trickling tear-drop.

GRAND TOURNAMENT AT TIVERTON LAWN .-On the 19th of last mouth, the usual routine of country life at St. John's Berkeley, near Biggins Church, was varied by one of these handsome exhibitions, which display to so much advantage the graceful riding and skilful horsemanship of young men. The weather was fine, and at an early hour the knights assembled at the Lawn to the number of seventeen, attired in gorgeous costumes of every description, which spoke wonders for the romantic taste of the wearers. A large number of fair women, many gentlemen, a good sprinkling of boys and girls, and a black forest of Fifteenth amendments assembled to witness the "feats at arms." The lists, consisting of a smooth lawd with three ring; suspended at in ervals of thirty-three yards, had been already prepared, and, at the sound of the trumpet, each knight in turn ran a tilt at the rings. After three this to each unight, in which the most skilful liorsemanship and graceful riding was displayed. the first prize was awarded to the "Knight of the Lone Star," John O. Bradley, Jr., Esq., who, as the privilege of his prowess crowned Miss Alice Lloyd the Queen of Bove and Beauty. The second prize was awarded to the "Emight of the Stars," Samuel D. Avinger, Esq., who placed his wreath upon the brow of Miss Kabe Harvey as first maid "Knight of Banker Hill," Joseph A. Harvey, Esq., who placed his wreath upon the brow of Miss Bessie Clark as second maid of honor. The Southern Cross," Jacob Carson, Esq., who placed his wreath upon the brow of Miss Emma Brownconsisted of a tin sword, was won at last by the "Knight of"-well-"Charleston," who wore it After the tournament, the young people adjourned to the handsome mansion adjoining the lists, happy dancers whiled away the evening hours. Queens and princes, knights and maids of honor,

CRUMBS .- We have received from Messrs. Walker, Evans & Co. the proceedings of the annual convention of the South Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical Society, held in Columbia, S

C., in November last. The delay in the arrival of the Greenville train, at Columbia, on Tuesday, was caused by a run off

THE SAVANNAH RIVER RISING .- The rains of Tuesday and Tuesday night chosed the Savannah River to rise rapidly. At 4 P. M. on Wednesday the stream at Augusta measured twentyfour feer, and eight feet more would inundate THE SOUTH CAROLINA INSTITUTE. - The meet- the upper part of the city. At 1 o'clock the ing at the Board of Trade Rooms last night was impetuous force of the current bore away the entire cabin of the old steamer Hard Times, for several months past lying below the city limits, on the Carolina side, leaving nothing visible of the venerable and much disputed boat.

DISPOSING OF HIS ARMS .- Upon the complaint of Lieutenant Young, of the Comet Light Infantry, Company E, 1st Regiment of the N. G. S. C., James Richardson, a member of that com-Priday, the 10th instant, when a full statement of the assets and inabilities of the institute will be charge of disposing of —"credit posteri"—his charge of disposing of—'credit posteri"—his ride and accontrements. The prisoner had joined Mesers. Egan, Gage and Potter were appointed a the company in 1870, and been presented with a Remington ride and the necessary military accoutrements. These he had borne at several parades, &c., but lately having taken a review of the Eastern question, and seeing that the Franco German war was as good as ended, the soldier concluded that there was no use for arms in "these weak piping times of peace," and disposed of them. The State, however, whose property they were, put a veto upon these proceedings, and so the poor militiaman is arrested. His case will be examined to-day before Trial Justice

> FINISHING OFF A SPREE-A LIVELY FIGHT WITH THE POLICE.—At a late hour on Wednesday evening last, R. Middleton, a colored youth, entered Military Hall, in Wentworth street, where the fair of the Niagara Fire Company was being held, in a state of intextication, and mingling with the dense throng which covered the large hall, in his joliy humor soon contrived to raise a disturbance. A policeman present requested him ing mood, and becoming enraged at the insinua tion, pitched into the X. Y. L. in the most fero cir'is manner. Fortunately for the latter, reinforcements arrived quickly upon the scene, and after a lively scuffle, in which he fought like : Trojan until almost all his cicthing was torn of by his foes, Middleton was arrested and taken out. The cortege, on its way to the Guardhouse was overtaken in King street by one of the friends of the prisoner, named James Barnes, who caught hold of the police to stop them, and get his friend off. His overtures were badly received, way to the Stationhouse, by the side of his friend. They were both locked up, and yesterday morning made their appearance before the City Judisiary. After a hearing, in which their offences were clearly proved, they were sentenced, not with standing their numerous excuses, to pay a fine of $5 each, or go to the House of Correction for five days. They seemed to have spent all of their money at the fair, for with a sigh of resignation they wended their way to the House of Cortec tion, where they will put up for the next five

THE GERMAN ARTILLERY MASKED BALL .-Early last evening the entrance to the Hibernian Hall was thronged by a motley crowd of the curious watching eagerly for, and halling with cheers, the numerous grotesque characters as they ascended to the hall above. Notwithstanding the sullen aspect of the sky the Artillerists and their fair guests turned out in large numbers, and in a short time the spacious hall was crowded with merry beings. The large number of clowns, arrayed in all the glories of variegated paper cambric, gave carrency to the report that the city tering a welcome with sound slaps from their batons. The dominoes were out in force, and the dark eyes that flashed from beheath the provoking masks were tantaltzingly distracting. Knights and negresses, nans and negroes, peasant girls and peanut-venders-all mingled in the usual ill-assorted, mirth-inducing style. Here a sable woedsawyer pited his trade. overlooked in a suspicious, license-inquiring manner by one of "Whipper's Buildogs;" there a philanthropical dominic went offering his capacious box of spuff to the numerous gigantic flery nasal developments which shone in every direction. A band of merry fifteenth amendments, in all the glories of ebon faces and kinky hair, and led by a ce'ebrated "press-toe-dig-potato," attracted much attention and excited curiosity to the highest nitch. At half-past 11 o'clock the unmasking took place, and it was long before the numerous exclamations of surprise, and the hearty laughs at the discomfitures and mistakes, had subsided. A general sacrifice to her of the "many-twinkling feet" followed, and was enjoyed with all the spirit is "Molly Bawn," and we venture the prediction it of German festivities. At a late hour of the night, or rather an early one of the morning, the strains of softly-breathing music told that the dancers had not yet given o'er their fascinating amuse
