DAY OF PRAYER FOR YOUTH .- It has been customary of late years in our community, as throughout the land, for certain of the religious denominations to observe the last Thursday in February as a day of united prayer for the young, and their schools, colleges and theological semigaries. Services in this behalf may be expected to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the lecture room of the Circular Church, and at night, at half-past 7 o'clock, at Zion Church, Giebe street. All are cordially invited.

VANDALISM. -On Sunday night one of the two Linden trees, which had been presented to the Freundschaftsbund by Captain Balleer, and which were growing flatly, was pulled up by some scoundrel and carried off. The trees had been imported from the Fatherland, and planted as they were in front of the entrance to the new hall just within the gate, were a pleasant me-mento to our German friends of Rome, Sweet Home." The deed is one which merits severe punishment whenever the culprit can be discovered. The thief effected his entrance to the premises by climbing over the ferce, as the front gate was securely looked.

THE TEMPLE OF HONOR. -Harrison Washington and Thomas Holmes, two colored visitors to the Fair of the Temple of Honor, now being held in the Military Hall, Wentworth street, began to quarrel there on Monday night, and in a few moments became engaged in an interesting pu-glistic encounter. A man with a star on his heart, who was there to preserve order, soon collared the two combatants, and before they could make it up and call it a joke they were lodged in the Guardhouse. An interview with the Mayor next morning resulted in a choice being allowed each of them of paying a fine of $5 or spending ten days in the House of Correction.

Washington, D. C., February 16.

Enter Republican—In response to the charge that I attempted to suborn a witness in the case of the United States vs. C. C. Bowen, I beg leave to state that I have never spoken to or communicated with the man Smith, who makes the charge, upon this or any other subject. In short, that I have never in my life exchanged a word with him. His action in this bold perjury is explained by the fact that he is C. C. Bowen's private secretary. He is well known as a volgar habitue of the vitest gambling houses of this city, and is a fit confederate of the gang of hired perjurers whom Judge Wylie denounced in fitting terms of indignation this morning. On hearing that a warrant was issued for mis, after Bowen's arrest to day, I appeared and was released on my own recognizance. * 5 mm Js SPOILING FOR A FIGHT .- John Haley, a soldier from the Citadel, entered the house of Sam june, in Elliott street, on Monday night, and, being very bellicose from the unuusal quantity o alcohol absorbed by him in the course of the evening, challenged anybody to a fight. Every one declined the polite invitation, when the man of war, more furious than ever. picked out the old gray-headed proprietor for his autagonist, and beg to return their sincere thanks to Professor gave him a crusher on the mouth. Sam recovered himself and responded with a right-hander, put in under the jaw, which doubled up the pugnacious warrior on the floor. The police were then called by Sam, who put his fuddled antagonist under their care. After a night in the Guardhouse, the prisoner was brought before the Mayor, and, having no witness in his favor, was sentenced to pay a fine of $10, or go to the House of Correction for twenty days. Not being overblessed with cash, he went.

THE ADAM'S RUN MURDER-LATEST DEVEL-OPMENTS OF THE HORRID MYSTERY .- Charles Brown and Andrew Poyle, colored, were arrested on a plantation near Adam's Run, and brought to this city yesterday evening by Lieutenant Philippl and Officers Burke and Davis of the detective force. All the parties believed to have been implicated in the fiendish murder of the unfortunate Daniel Driggers are now in custody, and the horried details of the crime are nearly complete. fixes the diabolical deed on Simon Jenkins, one of federate soldier who lost an arm in the war. the prisoners arrested at the Savannah and Charleston Railroad Depot last week by Sergeant Reed and Officer Nipson. Mechanic states that he, Jenkins, Prioleau, Charles Brown and Andrew Doyle formed the conspiracy to waylay the murdered man and rob him. On the day of the murder four of them took their stand near the white gate, on the avenue leading to Mr. Marshali's house, about five miles from Adam's Run. They laid here in a thick swamp, on the edge of the road just beyond a bridge, and waited their unconscions victim, while Prioleau, the fifth man, was stationed at the white gate to keep watch. While he was absent the four concluded to kill Driggers, who was now coming down the avenue, and rob him afterwards. As Driggers got abreast of the ambuscade the party rushed out, and two guns and a pistol, the armament of the baud, were fired at the unarmed man as he sat on the cart. He fell forward, and, as he reached the ground, Jenkins leaped on the body and said : "I killed him!" The murdered man was then robbed of everything vanuable and the body thrown in the ditch on the road side. It was merely covered with a coat, and no attempt made to bury it. The ill-gotten booty was then divided, and the band

separated, soon, however, to be brought together

by the avenging hand of Justice. The four men are in strict confinement and will probably be transferred to the Walterboro' jail, to await their trial at the next Court of General Sessions in that HOW GREENHORNS ARE TAKEN IN-SEEING A SHOW AND PAYING FOR IT .- On Monday evening, two country darkies might have been observed on King street, between George and Calhoun, gazing with widely disturbed eyes and mouths at the wonderful pictures so graphically depicted upon the curtains of an itinerant show. They were soon appreached by one of the proprietors of the show, who, with pleasantly deferential air, in quired if they would like to see the lion, tiger, guyascutis and other wonders, too numerous to mention. They said yes; and pocketing twentyfive cents from each with a patronizing air, the smartly dressed young man led the visitors behind the mystic curtain, and presented to their astonished vision a wild cat, three monkers, some pigeons and a pair of rabbits. They were be coming obstreperous at the deception during the performance, when the smart young man, laying his index finger beside his nose, produced a set of dice, and proposed a small game. Placing $25 on the table, he told the black ones from the country that, by jutting up the trivial sum of twenty-five cents, they might rake down the pile. The temptation to make a fortune and eschew cotton planting was too strong to be resisted, and both anted. In a short time one of the darkies was minus thirty-five dollars, and the other had his pockets relieved of ten dollars, and yet the twenty-five dollars had not been raked down. For the first time, their wits sharpened by their empty pockets, they commenced to sus pect their fair dealing friend, and beginning to make a fuss, they were turned out. They complained to an officer, and under a warrant from Trial Justice Schroder, officer Daly went up to the show. He found everything packed up, and as he entered the door the proprietors were seen making rapid exits over the fences at the back of the lot. Failing to arrest the swindlers, a war rant of attachment was issued against their property, and the cats, pigeons, rabbits, and all the paraphernalia of the show were taken into custody. The monkeys alone were discarded by the officer of the law, and were left at large in the room. The darkies will probably recover their five cents which they will hardly forget.

THE SENATORIAL ELECTION.—The commisnoners, Mesers, R. S. Bruns and N. Montgomery, (Sheriff Mackey being too weak to attend,) com nenced at 1 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, counting the votes cast in the recent election, and, before 5, had declared the result, namely: The election of S. E. Gaillard, the nominee of the convention, by a majority of 27 votes. In the city, notwithstanding the public-spirited speeches made at the convention in favor of supporting the regular nominee, Daddy Cain far outstripped cast in the city, including Rikersville, of which Daddy Cain received 1954, Gaillard 894, and Major Willoughby 334. In the gubernatorial contest in November last 10.993 votes were polled in the city, of which 5670 were in favor of the Hon. R. B. Carpenter. The provident Cain, probably in anticipation of his nomination by the convention, had his tickets printed and distributed at least a week' before the election, but the country voters were too much under the infuence of the league, and too loval to the convention to be tricked by his strategem, and went en masse for Gaillard. At the several precincts in Oak poll was opened the poll list was found in the the county there were 2245 votes cast, of which Gaillard received 1666, and Cain 579, the Major beinglieft out altogether. The total number of votes cast in the county amounts to 5427, a strange contrast with the 20,391 votes polled in Columbia last night, against the allowance of the the fall elections. Daddy Cain received 2533, S. votes in this box in the count. The precinct gave | E. Gaillard 2560, and Major Willoughby 334. In the fall election Edwin Bates, Esq., received 7007 votes, more than all the votes cast in this eleca majority of 177 votes. The Cain party have | tion by 1580 votes, and 4417 more than the number received by the candidate elected.

THE NEED OF A FENCE LAW.

Hints to Patriotic Legislators.

HOPKINS TURNOUT, S. C., February 1. TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEWS.

While our Legislature shows a commendable desire to protect the interest of the planter we would suggest a more important subject of legislation than usury and lien laws-one which is far more general and practical in its bearing, and which, I venture to say, will save to the agricultural community much more than the interest on borrowed capital invested. I allude to the "Fence Law." It would take a longer article than you could admit to discuss the subject fully, and I only desire, in this communication, to state some of the more prominent objections to the law as it now stands, hoping that some legislator, interested for the welfare of the Commonwealth, may recog nize its importance, and bring the matter before TO REDUCE STOCK, WE OFFER THE the General Assembly.

The revolution in our system of labor necessi tates a change also in many other features of our agricultural economy, and, while culling from the statute books of the Northern States, our Solons should not overlook the superiority of their laws regarding stock and enclosures.

Under the sweeping system of clearing lands pursued before the war, a majority of the planta tions in the more fertile parts of the State were left without timber enough to fence them, and where timber is plentiful the expense of construction and keeping up a "lawful fence" around a large field is almost prohibitory. The consequence is that very often lands of great fertility are allow ed to lie idle, because either the timber or the cap ital requisite to enclose them is lacking.

A law requiring every farmer to enclose his own stock would be advantageous in many ways. The products of the soil could then be planted wherever the land is best adapted, and farming expenses would be greatly diminished. The farmer would be compelled to bestow more attendon on his stock, and they would consequently improve in quality, while his own lands would receive the full benefit of their manure, and much that is now wasted would be made available.

But we must now expend three or four hundred dollars to enclose the crop, when half the sun could purchase all the scrub cattle which are liable to depredate. Their owners have the logal right to turn them estray, and woe is he who, not having a "lawful fence," dares to molest them.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, it is to be hoped that the Legis'ature will give this subject their attention at an early day; for the blazing fires in the woods and fields, which are incident to this season of the year, are fast sweeping away the rem nant of our fences, and we must soon cease planting or make the bulk yearing a bone of conten SPANN.

OXFORD, NEWTON COUNTY, GA.,
November, 1870.

GENTLEMEN—Tours of the 1st instant is received, asking my opinion with regard to the merit of the "EUREKA FERTILIZER." I applied about 200 pounds per acre, leaving a few rows without any. The "Eureka" rows made three times as much as those not manured. I had my land broken fine and deep, put the "Eureka" deep in the soil, running a sub-soil plough through the fertilizer to mix it with the soil before bedding upon it. My sandy land I had cultivated very shallow with sweeps set to run shallow, so as not to break the small roots of the cotton. My still land I gave it a deep ploughing when the cotton was small, afterwards cultivated very shallow. The "Eureka" has paid me a profit at present Price of cotton besides improving my land.
Our old lands, from long culture, have become so exhausted of the Phospha'es necessary to make good crops that we cannot succeed well in raising cotton without the use of commercial fertilizers. The "Eureka" has proved to be the very best fertilizer I have ever used.
Yours truly.
