GATHERING OF THE CLANS. THE TAXPAYERS' CONVENTION.

Large Attendance of Prominent Men—Conservative Tone Prevailing—The State Officers Anxious to Show their Books—No Reputation Talked of.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE NEWS.) COLUMBIA, Monday, May 8.

A large number of members have assembled. They comprise the most influential citizens of the State. The disposition is entirely conservative, the prevailing desire being to simply develop facts.

All the officials of the State intimate a willingness to expose the public accounts, and the Governor will by express letter invite investigation. The general expression in advance is to the effect that the credit of the State will be largely benefited by the action of the convention, no disposition being manifested to repudiate the bonds issued.

The choice of president lies between Porter, Chesnut and Gary. There is a caucus tonight discussing the preliminary organization. It is believed the utmost harmony will exist, and that the result will be more beneficial to an understanding between the two parties.

A special committee will be appointed to examine the books of Kilmington, Neagle and Parker. Kilmington is here. The Convention assembled at 11 o'clock in the Senate Chamber. The composition of the body is as follows:

Four ex-governors, two ex-lieutenant-governors, three ex-United States senators, five ex-congressmen, one ex-chancellor, one ex-secretary Confederate treasury, forty-three ex-members of the House of Representatives, sixteen State senators, eleven generals, and five bankers.

THE TAXPAYERS' CONVENTION.

Views of Governor Scott.

In reply to a letter from a number of the business men of Columbia soliciting his views on the Taxpayers' Convention, Governor Scott writes:

COLUMBIA, May 8, 1871. Gentlemen—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of this date, in which, referring to the Convention of Taxpayers to assemble in this city on the 9th instant, you take into consideration the degraded condition of the finances of the State, and write me to express my opinions on the subject. I concur with you most heartily in the hope that the convention will be successful in devising means for the redemption of the State from her financial embarrassments.

A fire occurred on Sunday, April 30, during the night of the plantation of Mr. F. B. Bates, destroying a large two-story dwelling and all its contents. The house was occupied by Charles Bates, an honest, industrious and frugal colored man, who lost his life in the fire. He was a native of the State, and had been in the service of the late Governor Pickens.

The following property was sold by the sheriff on sales-day last: Village lot of Dr. T. Lyon, plus lot of same, purchased by same, for $100; 151 acres estate Phares Martin, by T. C. Perrin, for $735; 207 acres estate Phares Martin, by John Harmon, for $125; 273 acres estate of John Harmon, by J. J. Gray, for $100; 100 acres estate of B. J. Gray, by J. J. Gray, for $500; 3 acres estate of Elizabeth Logan, by P. C. Martin, for $50.

The Southern tier following information from the railroad agents at this place: From Jan 1st to Jan 31st, 1871, the first of same year, received 337 tons guano, 28 tons lime. From the 1st January, 1871, to the 19th April, same year, 243 tons guano, 8 tons lime, 3 tons land plaster.

Edgely Items. Mrs. Eliza Bacon, widow of the late Edmund Bacon, died on her early womanhood. She was prominent in the social life and history of Edgely, died on Friday night last, at the unusually advanced age of ninety-eight.

On Monday last, at Major John A. Hughes' residence, in his carriage, accompanied by Mrs. Hughes, the horses took fright, and ran violently some distance, throwing Major H. from the carriage and causing him serious injuries.

A public meeting at Edgely held on Saturday night, three negroes attended, and were charged with the murder of a white man. The meeting was held at the residence of Mr. Allen, and was attended by a large number of the colored population.

The Advertiser learned on sales-day from the auctioneer that a large quantity of wheat and oats was looking exceedingly promising, although in some localities there were indications of rust in the wheat, but not sufficient as yet to give any apprehension of a failure in that crop.

Hotel Arrivals—May 8. Mr. C. and wife, Mrs. Barr, Michigan; George Gynn, South Carolina; R. G. Holmes, Miss Abbie M. Holmes, Beaufort.

CHARLESTON HOTEL. James D. Harlow, Oberlin and Salisbury Railroad; Ernest Wilz, Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, N. Va.; A. Mefferson, Florence, S. C.; H. Southall, Wilmington, N. C.

PAVILION HOTEL. Mrs. D. L. S. Johnson, Jr., T. Eady and lady, G. M. Harrison, Williamsburg; R. A. Sherwood, St. Augustine; C. Barling Parmer, Colleton.

I may be pardoned for thus even casually alluding to the political situation, as this must be recognized in the application of any practical remedy for the deranged condition of our finances, either real or supposed.

A MURDERESS CONVICTED.

CLOSE OF THE FAIR-CRITICIZEN TRIAL IN CALIFORNIA.

Incidents Before and After the Verdict—Appearance of the Prisoner—The Manner in which the Jury Conducted their Deliberations.

(From the San Francisco Chronicle.)

Laura D. Fair, the prisoner, was attended by her mother, Mrs. Lane, who sat on her right, and her daughter on her left. After Judge Dwinelle appeared, the jury was called and found present, and Mr. Byrne addressed the jury. Mrs. Fair then resumed her half-conscious position, and the jury retired to their deliberations.

MRS. FAIR'S LITTLE GIRL. The daughter acted precisely as if she were expected an unsophisticated child would act. She seemed entirely oblivious of anything that was going on around her, and her only interest was in her mother and her mother's mother.

MRS. LANE, THE MOTHER OF THE PRISONER, was perfectly composed throughout. To all intents and purposes she was a spectator, taking less interest in the proceedings than did the jury.

THE VERDICT. Those who anticipated a long deliberation in the jury-room, and made their calculations accordingly, were disappointed. The jury retired at 3 P. M., and after five minutes they had retired, the jury came into court and took their seats in the jury box.

THE UNITED STATES, AND FOR THE USE OF THE CANADIAN CANALS.

There are also provisions regulating the privilege of fishing in Canadian waters, but these have not been ascertained in sufficient accuracy to justify their statement.

The London Times of today mistakes in saying that the treaty must be ratified by both houses of Parliament. Its legislation will, however, be required to carry some of its provisions into effect.

The mixed Spanish commission consists of Otto, as arbitrator; Cushing, attorney on behalf of the United States; Polish arbitrator, and Carlisle, attorney on behalf of Spain.

The High Commission takes no cognizance of contracts between British subjects and the Confederate Government.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

QUIT DRUGGING—THIS IS NOW admitted by the medical profession as a fundamental principle of healing science.

It is wisely provided by the human economy that whenever anything is wrong in the physical system the natural forces of the body are brought to bear to expel the disease.

The patient who is wise enough to quit drugging and try the Bitters, soon feels as if he had taken a new lease of life, and, as he continues the use of the article, he is overjoyed to find the streams of health coursing through his frame.

It is prepared with great care, and its component parts are entirely vegetable. It is free from the objections so often urged against preparations of the kind.

As a medicinal agent, it has no equal while its pleasing flavor and healthful effects have made it a general favorite.

It is free from all properties calculated to impair the system, and is efficient. All who have used HOPKINSON'S STOMACH BITTERS attest its virtues and commend it.

Even those who are in the enjoyment of perfect health frequently have need to have recourse to tonics as preventives of disease.

It is never too well armed against the assaults of "the ill that flesh is heir to." In health or sickness this tonic cannot be taken regularly without giving vitality and elasticity to the system.

"Schnapps" is a remedy in chronic catarrhal complaints, &c.

I take great pleasure in bearing highly creditable testimony to its efficacy as a remedial agent in the diseases for which you recommend it.

Having a natural tendency to the mucous surfaces, with a slight degree of stimulation, I regard it as one of the most important remedies in chronic catarrhal affections, particularly those of the genito-urinary apparatus.

With much respect, your obedient servant.

No. 28 PINE STREET, N. Y., Nov. 21, 1867.

DOLPH WOLFE, Esq., Present. DEAR SIR: I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your "Scliedam Schnapps," with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixtures.

I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are sometimes employed in the adulteration of liquors.

I would not hesitate to use myself, nor to recommend to others, for medicinal purposes, the "Scliedam Schnapps" as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin.

Very respectfully yours, (Signed) CHAS. A. SEELY, Chemist.
