OUR PRICES CURRENT.—We especially invite the attention of our merchants to THE NEWS Prices Current, issued this morning. Made up with the utmost care, and handsomely printed with entirely new type, it forms, with the business card of the house forwarding it, the most attractive and welcome weekly commercial circular that can be used.

ELECTION ANNOUNCEMENTS intended for publication in THE NEWS, must, in all cases, be paid for in advance.

AN EAGLE was captured in Lexington, in this State, a few days ago, measuring seven feet from tip to tip across the wings.

THE EXHIBITION in aid of the Sunday school library of the Citadel Square Baptist Church will take place at 8 o'clock, at Holmes's Lyceum, on the evening of the 20th inst.

IT was requested to state that the announcement made in the Courier yesterday morning that the "Chloroform Case" will perform on the Battery—gratuitously—was not authorized.

COTTON BLOOM.—A correspondent (Mr. Wm. M. Bland) from Roadville, S. C., sends us a fine cotton bloom, which, he says, is not out of a stalk three inches high, having twenty-three flowers. The cotton was picked in March, without many of any kind, on poor land, and ginned out to about the end of April. The writer says he saw his first bloom on the 12th inst.—now he had many. The cotton crop generally in his section is poor, at least three weeks behind, and very much "in the grass." Very few will make over half a crop. Corn is very good, except in the low grounds where it is drowned out. The spring "as too wet, hence had stands of cotton.

After the meeting adjourned the club reassembled at the hall of the Carolina Dramatic Club, and, with their invited guests, passed a pleasant social evening.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

Meeting in Ward 1.

The citizens of this ward assembled at Hillman Hall last evening, in large numbers, to organize for the Municipal canvass. On motion of Captain Tecklenburg, Mr. Seth Spencer was called to the chair, and Mr. Henry J. O'Neill acted as secretary.

On motion of Mr. Thomas E. Ryan, a committee of five was appointed on permanent organization. In pursuance thereof the committee appointed that committee Messrs. F. Kessler, E. B. Stelling, James Riley, H. Buck and Wm. M. Sage.

The committee retired for consultation, and, after a short absence, reported the following permanent organization: Street, president; James Riley, Fehrenbach and Marlow Cochran, vice-presidents; J. O'Neill and Thomas E. Ryan, secretaries; W. K. Steadman, treasurer.

Present Street, on taking the chair, said that he had very little to say. The meeting was not a political one, and, as far as he was concerned, he would do all in his power to promote every movement that looked to the establishment of a good, efficient and intelligent government, as opposed to the present one which was to the contrary.

He announced the meeting ready for business. It was resolved that at which time it will go next Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock, to the next Wednesday, by ballot, for six delegates to attend the convention to be held on the 5th of July. The meeting then adjourned.

Meeting in Ward 5.

A numerous assembly of citizens at A. Arnold's Hall last evening evinced the great interest which this ward takes in the coming municipal election. The meeting was well attended by the most prominent business men and mechanics, among whom a large number of the most respectable colored citizens found a hearty welcome.

The meeting was called to order, Dr. J. H. Honour, Jr., being requested to act as chairman, and Mr. J. W. Kingman as secretary.

The following permanent officers having been nominated by a committee, were elected by acclamation: A. J. Crews, president; Frank Brown, vice-president; Henry Foster, secretary; C. A. Leongric, treasurer.

By a resolution, all the residents of the ward who were desirous of becoming members of the club and forwarding the objects it had in view, were requested to sign the roll, and nearly a hundred names were specially registered.

After a spirited discussion as to the propriety of immediately electing delegates to the nominating convention, or postponing the election to a subsequent meeting, the club adjourned to meet subject to the call of the president through the daily papers.

A GEORGIA OPINION OF A CHARLESTON FIRM.—The Farmer and Gardener, published in Augusta, Ga., speaks of our enterprising townsmen after this wise: Messrs. Kinsman & Howell, of Charleston, S. C., will be found to fill the great need long felt by shippers of fruit as reliable middlemen. Being well posted as to the peculiarities of the New York fruit market, their services in either forwarding fruits to responsible firms there or effecting sales of consignments are offered to fruit growers, and we trust that they will receive a liberal patronage.

A TRIANGULAR DIFFICULTY.—Alfred Jenkins, an Elliott street dandy, was brought before Trial Justice Magrath, this morning, on the charge of stealing a string of fish from a vendor, and spitting in the man's face when he asked her to vend them. After an examination, she was found guilty, and sentenced to five days in jail.

An officer was detailed to accompany her to prison, and, shortly after leaving the trial justice's office, she seized her escort by the coat collar and commenced pommeling him about the head. This aroused his official indignation, and he said in changing his prisoner in a few moments into "a bundle of writhing rags." She was taken back to the justice's office, and given in charge of two constables, who managed to get her to jail.

Congressman DeLarge, who was arrested on the charge of the light between the officer and the woman, had his sympathies declared in behalf of the latter, and immediately entered a complaint against the officer, who held for examination.

A CHARLESTON FEMALE SEMINARY.—The cornerstone of a new schoolhouse, to be known under the above name, was laid yesterday morning in the lot No. 50 St. Philip street, adjoining the residence of the principal of the school, Mrs. E. A. Kelly. The school, under the direction of one of the teachers, participated in the ceremony, and marched out into the yard to strain a note of a melodeon, played by one of their number.

The tin box placed in the corner stone contained the roll of the scholars (54) composing the school, several ornate and elegant pieces of china, the city papers, and photographs of the teachers. The children concluded the ceremonies by singing a hymn, and then returned to the school.

Those who will be obstructed by the architect, Mr. J. H. Devereux, according to the modern style of school architecture, will be three stories high, and furnished with all the latest improvements and conveniences. The principal, Miss Kelly, having but recently recovered from a severe illness, was represented in the exercises of the day by W. Alfred Kelly, Esq., who addressed the company assembled. This seminary was established in October last, and has an able corps of teachers, to wit: Miss E. A. Kelly, principal; Mrs. Isabella A. Smith, first assistant teacher; Miss Minnie E. Seymour, second assistant teacher; Miss Laura Kelly, third assistant teacher; Mr. J. L. Dubois, French department; Mr. F. Berkhan, vocal music.

It affords us great pleasure to chronicle the successful completion of this worthy enterprise, and we sincerely hope that Miss Kelly may continue to meet the encouragement on the part of the public which she so richly merits.

THE FIRE.—Between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday morning, a fire broke out in the kitchen attached to a residence of Mr. Martin, on the west side of Nassau street, between Columbus and King. The alarm was promptly given, and the firemen were quickly on the ground, but the combustible nature of the materials of which the houses were built, the flames raged fiercely and spread rapidly. There being no fire ladders in the neighborhood, sufficient water could not be had to work a steam fire engine. The little water that was had was some distance off, and the hand-engines had to form lines three deep, by which it required three engines to throw a single stream on the fire. The firemen worked with vigor, and did not relax their exertions until half-past 7 o'clock. Before the flames were subdued, four dwelling houses, with the outbuildings, were entirely destroyed. Two of the houses destroyed, consisting of two-story wooden dwellings and outbuildings, were occupied by Mr. Jacob P. Martin, engineer on the South Carolina Railroad, and Mrs. Charles W. Sylla. These buildings were owned by Mr. Breedenham, engineer of the German Steam Fire Company. This property was not insured. Mr. Martin only succeeded in saving a part of his furniture. One other was owned by Mr. Ross, the engineer of the Young America Fire Company, and was also uninsured. Mr. Ross also saved his furniture. The fourth house was owned by Alderman Martin, and was insured for $500 in the North British Mercantile Insurance Company, of which Mr. E. Sebring is agent.

As the fire is believed to have been the work of an incendiary, as Mr. Martin's family did not retire until after 12 o'clock, and had carefully extinguished the fire in the stove before they went to bed. Directly across the street from the fire was Mr. Eason's foundry, which escaped destruction only through the exertions of the firemen, a stream of water having been kept continually playing upon it.

About half-past 4 o'clock, when this fire had almost subsided, a man was communicated to the roof of an unoccupied house at the corner of Columbia street and the Mall. The engines quickly turned their attention to this point, and the flames were extinguished; but not before considerable damage had been done to the roof. This house is the property of Mrs. Margaret G. Oakes, and was lately occupied by Judge R. F. Graham. It was insured in the Richmond Bank and Insurance Company, Mr. J. L. Honour, agent, for $2500.

CHEWAS AND SALISBURY RAILROAD.

From a letter written from Charleston by Hon. W. M. Robbins, of North Carolina, to the Salisbury Examiner, we extract the following, showing gratifying progress in this important public work. Mr. Robbins is one of the directors of the Chewas and Salisbury Railroad, and was here recently in attendance on a meeting of the board. He says: "The Chewas and Salisbury Road is graded the greater part of the way from Chewas to Wadesboro, and contractors are now pushing that part forward rapidly. We have just made arrangements to get money to buy iron and other stock for that portion of the road, and through the energy and activity of Major B. D. Townsend, our president, who is certainly one of the most efficient men for such a task to be found in any part of the country, we confidently expect this road to be in operation as far as Wadesboro by the end of this year or thereabouts."

LOVE AND A STOMACH PUMP.—A young man attempted to kill himself Wednesday night by swallowing an ounce of laudanum. He was discovered in his room about 11 o'clock; by a friend who was attracted by his heavy and unnatural snoring. To this friend he acknowledged having taken the laudanum. Dr. Joseph Yates was immediately sent for, and on his arrival applied the stomach pump to the sufferer. The doctor then took him into the street and walked him to and fro, and he awoke yesterday morning, when he removed his charge to a vacant lot, and kept him working until 10 o'clock, dashing cold water into his face at intervals to keep him awake. He was then taken to the hospital, where every attention was bestowed upon him. At latest accounts he was doing well. This, we learn, is the second attempt he has made on his life. The immediate cause of this last attempt to put an end to his existence is said to have been that "his sweet heart danced with somebody else at the picnic."

FUNERAL OF DR. BENJ. JENKINS.—We mentioned, briefly a few weeks ago the death of Dr. Jenkins, in Shanghai, China. As he had many friends in Charleston, where he lived for a number of years, the following particulars by Rev. Young J. Allen, one of the Southern Methodist Missionaries in China, will be interesting: "Dr. Benjamin Jenkins died about 10 o'clock on the morning of the 13th March, of bronchitis, in the 6th year of his age. He was our first missionary to China, and together with Dr. Charles Taylor, his colleague, sailed from Boston in March or April, 1848. In 1852, in consequence of a wife's failing health, he was forced to return to America. His wife died on the passage, but he, after remaining about a year in the United States, returned again to China—arriving in 1854 with a reinforcement of new missionaries. He continued from that time till 1862 in connection with the mission, from which date he was connected with the United States consulate general here, as interpreter and vice-consul general, and also acted as American assessor in the mixed court, where both foreigners and Chinese are implicated. He was an exceedingly quiet man, a great student, and by his ability and general usefulness in the community had won the respect of all, both foreigners and Chinese. All the consular duties, respecting foreign nations, were lowered half-mast on the announcement of his death, and the funeral was pompously attended by the consular representatives here, the municipal officers, officers from the men-of-war in port, the volunteer corps and some Chinese mandarins in company. The services were held in the Methodist chapel, and were conducted by Rev. Robert Nelson, of Virginia, pastor of the American Protestant Episcopal Church in Shanghai."

ATTENTION IS RESPECTFULLY CALLED TO THE NEW NON-POISONOUS AND ODORLESS DISINFECTANT AND ANTISEPTIC. CHLORALUM. (Chloride of Aluminium, the Saline Antiseptic; harmless as common salt.)

The Lancet, August 27th, 1870, says of this preparation: "It is quite as potent as Chloride of Zinc or Carbolic Acid, and is at the same time non-poisonous and devoid of unpleasant smell of every kind. These qualities will, no doubt, insure its being extensively used, and at no distant date we may expect it to displace the antiseptics which are at present in vogue."

CHLORALUM is an astringent antiseptic, applied to foul ulcers by London surgeons, as a gargle in scarlet fever, diphtheria and common sore throat, and has been found invaluable in inflammation of the eyes, &c.

CHLORALUM can be relied on by Farmers in the treatment of Foot and Mouth Disease, and in carrying on disinfection in their homes, stables, cowbarns, pigsties and poultry-houses.

CHLORALUM for dog kennels can be used with great advantage and economy in keeping meat fresh for any length of time, in purifying the benches and yards, and completely removing the foul and sickening odor of dirty or ill-drained kennels.
