NEWS OF THE DAY.

-Gold closed in New York, on Saturday, at 12 a12}.

-Cotton closed strong; uplands 20% cents sales 3500 bales.

-In Liverpool cotton closed firm; uplands 81a81d, Orleans 8id; sales 20,000 bales.

The announcement is made that Manager J. Fisk, Jr., retires from all theatrical business at the close of the present season. -A marriage has been arranged between the Princess Thyra, of Denmark, and Prince Arthur, Duke of Edinburgh, second son of Queen Victoria. -It is pleasant, in these torrid days, to think that Captain Hall takes with him in his Arctic voyage a thermometer which will register 88 degrees below zero. -Prominent Communists have for years predicted the demolition of the Vendome Col-

Many of them did not live very long after it -The Agricultural Society of Breslau, Germany, offers a prize of $700 in gold for the steam plough apparatus which will work best at trials to be made on farms near that city

-Lord and Lady Lorne will shortly take up their residence in Lodon in a moderate-sized house, long occupied by the late Earl of Clarendon, in Grosvenor Crescent. It is understood that their establishment will be on a very moderate scale. -Divorce suits-a rare thing in Richmond Va., before the war-seem to be all the fashlon now, the chancery court rarely having a docket clear of them. Two new ones are now attracting attention, and in one case those who ask to be separated have not been joined together six months. -Rapid progress is being made with the works of the great tunnel under Mont Cenis. Communication from end to end has now been open for some little time, but there are still about seventy metres of the tunnel to complete in the centre and the permanent way to lay down. It is expected that the whote will be finished by the end of June.

-Some English optimists are finding food for congratulation in the fact that the national debt of England, which in April, 1868, amounted to £806,572,883, was by March, 1871, reduced to £788,804,155-a reduction of £17,768,-728. England, without her "national blessing," would hardly be recognized by her Majesty's subjects; but really, if the same ratio of reduction could be maintained for fifty or seventyfive years, England might be free at last of her

-In October, 1864, five different packages, containing the mutilated remains of a man, were found floating in New York harbor. A the murder of two comrades, contesses that they were the party who committed the murder in New York in 1864, and then concealed their guilt by newing the body to pieces and throwing it into the Hutson River. The victim was one Joseph Smith, a deserter from the Twentieth Connecticutt regiment, who had $300 upon his person, acquired by "bounty jumping." The confession appears to be rated by circumstantial evidence.

-The Shakers at Hancock, near Pittsfield, in Massachusetts, have had an unusual sensation in the elopement of their leading business, man, Ira Lawson, with one of the fairest of the demure Shakeresses. The eloping couple are about 35 years of age, and have been brought up in the community from childhood. Having shaken off their allegiance to the rules of the community, these devoted Shakers hastened to Albany, where they were duly married. 'Of course Brother Ira has rendered himself liable to be disciplined by the society, but he has rather the best of his bretaren, as he has been- York garrison, who had come down to Chesallowed to keep the bank account of the family in his own name, and neither the law of the Btate nor the bank knows the Shakers as a

-The association of German brewers in the United States has lately issued an address, in which the idea is broached that lager beer is one of the sources of the national strength of Germany, and points to the conquest of France in support of the hypothesis. It has been heretofore asserted that strong spirituous beverages, such as absinthe, were sappibg the mental and physical stamina of the French; and unlikely as the suggestion may seem at the first blush, a contemporary considers it not impossible that the convivial habits of the two races may really have had an important bearing upon their steadiness and power of endurance upon the field of battle, and that a portion of the madness which has been displayed by the Paris Communists may be traced to the flery sti nulants which have become the fashion in Paris.

-The new. Virginia jury system which allows jurors to be drawn from one county to serve in another, is not found to be "altogether lovely" in its operations. A few weeks ago a Richmond court sent to Alexandria for jurors, and besides occupying them for a number of days with the trial of the case, kept them locked up for an unusual period in an unsuccessful attempt to force them to agree upon a verdict. Alexandria has retailated in a way that provokes a wail from the City of Bichmond. The sergeant of the corporation court of the former city made his appearance on Wednesday, armed with a requisition for twenty-four jurors, and, making a ruld upon the business community, returned to Alexandria the same evening, having in charge two dozen of the leading business men of Righmond. The act appeared to the Enquirer designed to do as much harm as it could, and if it was prompted by a spirit of retaliation, that paper does hope "our authorities will not send to Alexandria hereafter."

-The Rabbinical Conference of Israelites the Jewish faith, which has been in session in Cincinnati, has pronounced in favor of several decided innovations upon the methods of worship that have been practiced by the Hebrews from the earliest ages. A committee was appointed to prepare and publish a prayer book for the use of congregations, in which all allusion to the return of the Jews to Jerusalem, an'l ideas of sacriff es and a personal Messian, are to be omitted; it is proposed that religious services shall be bargely in the vernacuar, Instead of the Hebrew language; measures were taken looking to the establishment of a Baobinical semmary, and other new measures were determined upon. A resolution provid- "ain to the American Phantations between ing for the reading if the five books of Moses '.1600-1700." The work will give the ages, during a period of three years, in a uniform old world residences, names manner, at divine service in reform congregations, on the motion of Dr. Wise was amended so as to provide that ministers should select only such portions as are adapted to spiritual wants, while those containing antiquated. laws should be omitted. The progressive or retorm party of Jews include some of the most learned and influential Rabbis in the -The New York World says: "Yesterday venerable gentleman disembarked from and no paper continued after the expiration of the West Point boat, and in atempting to cross West street, found his way impeded by an unending train of vehicles. He saw a policeman near by and beckoned him to approach. Reverence for age caused the policeman to obey and advance. The old gentleman inquired if he belonged to the army. 'No, sir, I am a peliceman,' was the answer. 'Exact ly,' responded the old man, 'you belong to Tammany. Can I ever get across this street? 'Certainly,' responded the policeman, 'I will conduct you across.' The old gentleman was soon safe on the other side. The policeman turned to go back, when the old gentleman called him and said, Mr. Policeman, do you know who you have just conducted across this street' 'The policeman repfled that he had not that pleasure. Well, sir, I will tell you; I am the father of President Grant.' The old gentleman then turned on his heel with dignity in the direction of the Long Branch boat."

The Crack of the Whip

Amusing, in their absurdity, and still more in their sublime impudence, are the recent utterances of the Radical organ in regard to the approaching city election. The ward meetings are savagely dismissed as "clique "movements;" we are told that it is much. too early to stir hand or foot in preparation umn, and that they should live to see it door. for the struggle of August; that, by and by, "a caucus of prominent men" will meet and save the people all further trouble in the matter of nominating a ticket; and, in word, we are given to understand that the Radical sheet has kindly taken charge of the election and of the subsequent fate of Charleston, and we are admonished-"kind-'ly, and yet firmly"-of all the terrible things to ensue in case any of us should hesitate to accept its services as the arbiter of our municipal destinies.

-Now everybody understands what all this means. The Radical sheet represents nobody. With all its airs, it leads no party or section of a party-not even a clique. It knows perfectly well that there will be a Radical ticket nominated, in spite of all it can say or do. And it also knows that it dare not oppose that ticket, even though it were composed of the most notoriously corrupt men of The Party of Corruption. It may prate of independence, but it is now, as | they denote preparation, not for an attack on it has always been, practically under the control of the black demagogues of Military

Its threats and cajolery will be alike unavailing. The people of Charleston will go right ahead and nominate a good ticket on the fifth of July. Nobody is simple enough to believe that the action of the citizens, in convention, will be supported by a sheet whose masters those citizens are striving to harl from power. And we say to that sheet that it is high time to have done with its flimsy disguises. It may as well run up its sent there by President Grant, to look after the United States Army at Yorkville, supposed to be similarly occupied. But when these troops arrived at their destinations there was no Ku-Kiax, nor anything of the sort. They only found peaceful country villages. So what are the troops to do? They get tired of drilling and must have recreation. In absence of real Ku-Klux some of these soldiers have conjured up imaginary bugaboos, and writter letters to the Tribune. treating that willing sheet to a horrible catalogue of atrocities. On last Saturday, we are pleased to record, they were engaged in more innocent amusement. The "best nine" of the garrison at Clester played a match game of base ball with the best nine of the ter for the express purpose. If the Com-mander-in-Chief has his great sport behind fast nags, "on the beach-at Long Branch," why should not Private A, B and C have their little sports with bat and ball at Chester? The Ku-Klux bill had to be passed to save The Party, and secure Grant's renomination. That done, the soldiers may play base ball, or do anything else. The object of their being at the South is accomplished

Railroad Matters in Seorgia.

We learn from the Savannah papers that it is proposed to unite the Atlantic and Savannah Railroad with the Western and Atlautic, with a view to extend the charter of the former through from Tennille to Savannah. It is claimed that this move will be a check on the movements of the Central and the Georgia Railroads, and that the measure, as a matter of expediency, is in great favor with the people of Middle Georgia. Three great powers are playing the game-the Central, the Georgia and State Railroadseach, of course, trying to get ahead of its rivals. Savannah will reap the whole advantage in case of the success of the first named corporation, and a good share of it in the event of either of the other two carrring the day.

Another New Railroad.

We learn from the Union Times that it is proposed to construct a railroad from Shelby. in Cleveland County, N. C., to some point on the Spartanburg and Union Railroad-at Union probably. The proposition comes from the North Carolina side of the line. and the people of Union County are, of course, quite pleased to have a good road into one of the richest grain sections of the representing the progressive congregations of old North State. This road would be of great service to Charleston, and we hope to see it built.

Whe's Who?

We see that a London publisher, who makes a specialty of various antiquarian works, announces a volume entitled: "The "Original Lists of Persons of Quality, Emi-"grants, Religious Exiles, Political Rebels, "Serving Men sold for a Term of Years, Ap-"prentices, Children Stolen, Maidens Press "ed, and others who went from Great Brit-osships a other interesting facts respecting the emi grants and extles. As the details have been compiled from the archives of the State of per department of the British public record office, they are of course authentic. The volume should afford endless material for personal and ancestral gossip, and will be likely to have a much larger sale in this country than in England.

IN THE death of Mr. Vallandigham-the South loses one of the staunchest,. most unselfish, and most intrepid of her champions among the public men of the North. Although a man of admitted ability and persuasive eloquence, he was too candid and consistent to have attained conspicuous success as a politician in times like these; yet Ohio has lost, in him, a son whose place it will be hard indeed to fill.

TEE Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, it is announced, has entered the arena of journalism. He has bought an interest in the Atlanta Sun, and will hereafter control its political course. Mr. Stephens's views will always be read with respect and interest by friends and foes alike.

Free-Love and Women's Rights.

From the Nation.] Woodhull & Claffin's Weekly, the New York organ of the woman movement, has plainly hoisted the black flag, for it insinuated last week that the hostllity of the Boston Association to the discussion of free leve and to the union of the love question with the suifrage question, was due to the inability of the members of that body to bear that searching examination of their domestic relations to which Mrs. Woodhull's own have been sublected by a hardened male magistrate and a prying public. Miss Tennie C. Claffin also has a strong and defiant article on the love ques tion, in which she maintains that where there is legal restraint there can be no love, and where there is love there need be no legal restraint, and that the right of each of us is to love one person as long as we can, and then love somebody else. An amendment to the Federal Constitution, giving every citizen also a right to some other cilizen's affection, would, we suggest to all the associations, be a pretty thing in the way of reform. At present every woman is, or ought to be, loved, and yet, under man-made laws, it is nobody's duty to love her, showing what a one-sided male affair our jurisprudence is, for, as Dr. Lieber says, "there is no right without a corresponding duty, and no duty without a corresponding right." We are sorry to say that one still hears the mending of armor and sharpening of spear-heads in all quarters of the Woman's Suffrage Camp-dismal sounds enough, for the common foe, but for mutual slaughter.

WHY DID HE NOT DIE? OR, THE CHILD FRO THE EBRAERGANG. After the German of Ad.
Von Volckhausen. By Mrs. A. L. Wister, translator of "The Old Mamselle's Secret," &c. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co Price. $1 75. Mrs. Wister has attained considerable reputation as a translator of the slighter sort of German fiction, and many of the books with which she has thus connected her name have already become popular favorites. She congratulates herself in the preface to the present volume that, while her aim has been to provide entertainment—no she has never offered for perusal "anything "that can be considered pernicious to the "youngest of her readers." Her books doubtless deserve this praise; and as a taste for ultra-domestic German literature can be acquired as well as any other, we have no doubt that the present volume, though to our taste a trifle dull, will find numerous readers. THE VIRGINIA TOURIST; A HANDBOOK OF TRA VEL IN VIRGINIA. By Edwd. A. Pollard, with maps and illustrations. Cheap edition: Price, $1. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott

Mr. Pollard has discovered a new world in transmontane Virginia, and has thrown around the record of his explorations therein the charm of a vigorous style and an enthusiastic sympathy. The volume abounds in anecdote and description, and will be found very entertaining.

These volumes may be had at Holmes's Bookhouse.
