CITY REGISTRAR'S REPORT.—Deaths for the week ending June 24, whites 18; colored 19. Total, 37. Six still-births are also reported.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Joseph Herndon and Major J. W. Avery, of Yorkville, S. C., have been summoned to Washington to testify before the Klux committee.

A WOMAN HURT.—An aged colored woman was severely injured in Wilson street yesterday morning by the fall of some scaffolding, near which she was sitting.

CRUMBS.—The Firemen's Band of Columbia left yesterday morning for Wofford College, Spartanburg, where they will assist in the commencement festivities.

THAT FETTERING HOLE on Pitt street, between Wentworth and Montague, still creates consternation in the whole neighborhood. Where is the street brigade? Where is Captain Jenks?

THE SOUTHERN MAGAZINE for July comes to us promptly as usual from Fogarty's. Among the contents is the conclusion of General Beauregard's report of the "Operations on Morris Island."

SOUTH CAROLINA RAILROAD.—The president, W. J. Magrath, Esq., having sailed for Europe in the Russia, on Wednesday last, on business connected with the company, Henry Gourdin, Esq., one of the directors, is now acting president of the road.

COUNTY TAXES.—The auditor, S. L. Bennett, gives notice that returns for personal and real property within the limits of Charleston County must be made and filed at his office by the 31st of July next. It is the duty of the auditor to add fifty per cent as a penalty when the law is not complied with.

THE CAROLINA LIGHT INFANTRY celebrate their first anniversary by a target excursion and picnic at Mount Pleasant to-day, and a supper this evening. The company was organized last spring, and by its efficient drilling and soldierly appearance has already taken its stand as one of the crack companies of the first colored regiment of militia.

RACES IN COLUMBIA.—There is to be a trotting match to two in Columbia, at the Congaree Race Course, on the Fourth of July, also several quarter races, for which suitable arrangements have been provided, $300 and $500 being already up. The Phoenix also hints that there may perhaps be a chicken fight or two on that interesting occasion.

THE CITY COUNCIL.—There was no meeting of the City Council last night, a quorum not being present. Notice having been taken that the election for a civil engineer would take place, a large number of lobbyists were present, and notwithstanding the heat of the weather, the electing went on in an excited manner, there being several candidates in the field.

A HORSE PISTOL GONE OFF.—We find the following item in the Columbia Union of yesterday: "Considerable excitement was occasioned yesterday by the accidental discharge of a fowling piece in front of Dr. Mies's apothecary store. It appears a person from the country hitched his horse to a post there, and placed his gun against the post. The horse kicked the gun down, sending the contents into the door jam. Luckily no one was passing at the time, or there might have been more serious consequences."

SALES OF REAL ESTATE.—The following lots were sold yesterday morning at public auction by Robert S. Pringle:
Lot No. 9, on the south side of George street, with buildings, 70 feet front on George street, 100 feet deep, for $3000; $4500 cash, and the balance in one and two years.
The lot of land on the north side of Hayne street, known formerly as the Charleston Fire Engine House, 22 feet front, by 80 feet deep, for $1000; one-half cash, and the balance in one and two years.

WARD MEETINGS.—The citizens of Wards 2, 3 and 4 are invited to assemble at their respective halls this evening for the purpose of electing delegates to the nominating convention, to be held on the 5th of July. The meetings, therefore, are of the utmost importance to each and every citizen, and it is hoped that they will be largely attended. The nomination is second only in importance to the election itself, and the wards should look to it that the delegates should be those who will be true exponents of the feelings and wishes of the wards they severally represent.

ROBBING A SCHOONER.—Sulpio Grant and Francis Nathan, two colored employes on board the schooner Elvira, were arrested yesterday afternoon by Officers Burke and Davis, charged with robbing the said schooner of a spy-glass, two oars, a clock and several articles of clothing. The Elvira was lying at South Commercial wharf, and the men had been left in charge of her. When the officers returned they found the men gone, and the cabin broken into, and rifled of everything of any value. The culprits have been turned over to a trial justice for prosecution.

FREEDMEN'S SAVINGS BANK.—We direct attention to the advertisement in another column, of the National Freedmen's Savings and Trust Company, the Charleston branch of which is located at No. 14 Broad street. This is an admirably managed institution, and holds out special inducements to the colored people to be frugal, economical, careful of their honest earnings, and lay by something "against a rainy day." The office in Broad street has undergone thorough repairs lately, and now presents a decidedly attractive appearance.

STRIKE OF THE ALANTHUS.—Ben Williams, Frank Malloy, Pat Salter and Paul Hansome, four of the employees on the steamer Alanthus, were brought before a trial justice yesterday morning, charged by Captain Brown, of the light-house service, with mutiny. They had been ordered to go to work and refused, and being consequently ordered to go ashore, refused to do this also. The prisoners claim that they had "struck" because they were ordered to do more than they had engaged to do. They were bound over by the trial justice to appear before the United States District Court in July.

CLUBS AND STARS.—Charles Dickens, (?) lodged for being drunk and unable to take care of himself on the street, was released.

Two bold street boys from the Citadel, found reclining on the sidewalk in Calhoun street, near Anson, were arrested for being drunk, and discharged on the plea of the first offence.

A gold watch, which had been stolen from Betty Dawsby by Washington Matthews, was recovered and restored to the owner.

A cow and calf found taking a family stroll in Market street were driven to the upper Guard-house, and delivered to the owner upon application.

GAMBLING AND FIGHTING.

Bill Sanders and another colored youth were engaged yesterday afternoon in tossing pennies, when a quarrel arose between the two, owing to the loser attempting to pocket the stakes (two cents in United States currency) and make off. The two closed, and while scuffling, James Brown, a brother of Bill's antagonist, came up, and taking up a large rock, struck Bill in the forehead. The latter fell like a log, with a severe gash over his left eye, and the other two made off. A policeman, in chase, and succeeded in capturing J. B. Brown, who, together with Bill, was taken to the Guard-house and locked up. They will be brought before the Mayor this morning.

EVACUATING A CHICKEN ROOST.—Charles Allison and Edward Robertson, in the wee sma' hours 'rand the morn, between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday morning, entered the premises of Mr. Louis Ortmann, on Meeting street, and succeeded in clearing his poultry-house in the most scientific manner without any alarm being given. Charles had been a walloper in the house some time, and had planned the way. The two effected their entrance by getting into the vacant lot adjoining Mr. Ortmann's house, and entered upon the scene of the robbery by crawling through a hole in the separating fence. When making off with their plunder, they were halted by a policeman in Market street, who took the whole party to the Guard-house. The fowls being identified, the Mayor turned the case over to Trial Justice Levy, on examination before whom the parties confessed their guilt, and were each sent up for a term of thirty days in Sheriff Moskey's Hotel.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.—An interesting case under this difficult branch of the law was argued and decided before Trial Justice Minott and Levy, on Monday last, at the City Hall. The proceedings were instituted under the old act of 1838, and were for the recovery of the possession of the land for the premises at the corner of King and George streets. The original lease had been given to a kinsman of the defendant's of the same name on the 1st of June, 1865, after whose death the defendant had continued to pay the rent pursuant to the terms of the said lease, and had taken possession of the premises. On the 1st of June, 1869, the rent was raised by notice in writing between the parties, and defendant continued to pay the increased rent until the 1st of May, 1871, when he was served with a month's notice to quit. Upon his refusal to comply the present suit was instituted. Defendant's attorney, B. C. Proulx, Esq., moved to quash the proceedings on the following ground: That the change of rent and holding over by the defendant in the absence of an agreement in writing, sufficient to constitute in law a renewal of the covenants of the lease, operated as a termination of said written lease, and as a substitution of a parole lease for a year, and as such, after the first year, tenancy from year to year, and as such, entitled the defendant to three months' notice, which had not in this case been given. This ground being fully established by the decisions of our courts, cited by the attorney, the court, after hearing arguments, and after mature deliberation, regarded the authorities as conclusive, and ordered the proceedings to be quashed.

THE TWENTY-EIGHTS.—There are few days in the annals of this State that are more memorable or deserve a better record in the history of the American Republic than the 28th of June. While in our swarming clothes we dared the ire of the Briton, and one of the results is chronicled in the famed battle of Fort Mifflin. The date of that memorable engagement is and always has been held sacred, and observed as a holiday second only to the Fourth of July. The late pleasantness and the momentary subjugation of the conquered took largely from this glorious usually occurring to the 28th. Happily times are changed, and though the pomp and panoply of glorious militia is not apparent, there is an earnest desire to make the celebration one worthy of the past. The Palmetto Guard and the Sumner Rifle Clubs, the first new organization, the second founded on an historic corps, have determined to unite in a joint parade on the 28th inst. Prizes have been prepared and will be offered by each corps to the best shot. Other prizes for centre shots, or any plan that the several clubs may suggest, will be contested for. The Palmetto Guard Rifle Club will carry their old banner and will offer as a prize the old company medal, together with a silver cup and other inducements for the corps to show their skill as marksmen. The Sumner Rifle Club has also in view their gifts, and fully expect their best shots to redeem the trust reposed in them. The two clubs will meet at Archer's Hall, at half-past 7 o'clock this morning, and after forming will march down King to Hasel, through Hasel to Meeting, thence to Broad street, and through that thoroughfare to East Bay, up East Bay to the ferry boat; then Mount Pleasant and the day's sport.

SPRING STREET METHODIST CHURCH SUNDAY-SCHOOL.—The annual celebration of the Sunday-school of this church came on on Sunday afternoon, in the presence of a numerous and deeply interested audience. The exercises of the occasion were opened with prayer by Bishop Wightman, which was followed by the singing of the anniversary hymn. The first address, being one of welcome to parents and guardians, was delivered by James Graham, and was replete with earnestness and truth. The style and manner of the youthful speaker gave promise of the future orator. The dialogue between ministers Harry Shiger and Henry Sifian, as the Sunday-school scholar and the skeptic, was forcibly executed and well received. The by-plays by the trio of little girls was touchingly rendered. The address by Arthur C. Wightman, the orator of the occasion, was listened to with interest and delight; by the crowded auditor. The address was prepared for the occasion by the father of the speaker. The dialogue between Masters Brooks Hampton and Wm. Melvin Buras, on the "Power of the Name of Jesus," was well rendered. The beautiful poetic address on "The Changed Cross," by Henry Lambly, closed that portion of the exercises. One of the most pleasing and attractive features of the occasion was the singing by the choir, joined by the whole school. Some half dozen pieces were sung with much life and effect. Miss Mary Burrows presided at the melodeon. The annual report of the superintendent, Mr. D. M. Buras, was presented, and showed the school to be in a vigorous and prosperous condition. The school was opened with fifty scholars, and it now numbers 221. The largest attendance was 197, and the smallest 21. The school consists of 22 classes, including a very interesting infant class of scholars. The library contains 500 volumes, 200 of which have been added during the present year. The collections for Sunday-school purposes from different sources amount to $153.09, of which $134.97 have been expended, leaving in the hands of the treasurer $18.12. Much interest has been added to the school by symbolic illustrations on the black-board by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Wightman.
